An interesting feature of the session of the physiotherapy congress in Berlin recently was a report on the excellent work done at the French Radium institute by Drs. Wickham and Degrais. They have discovered that X rays destroy the sweat glands, seal up the blood vessels and have a selective influence on cancer cells, causing their replacement with normal cells instead of destroying them absolutely.

In the section for electrotherapy Dr. Bergonie of Bordeaux discussed the action of high frequency electric currents on metabolism. He said the efficiency of food was much increased by these currents. Seventy per cent of the food which passed through the body undigested could be taken up by the tissues when the currents were applied. The currents also destroyed certain microbes, particularly those of malaria.

Dr. Kraft of Weisser Hirsch, near Dresden, in a speech which was warmly applauded said it would be well to extend instruction in the preparation of food to housewives. He declared that vegetables especially lost a tremendous portion of their nourishing qualities when they were prepared in the usual German fashion. Dr. Kraft asserted that mankind's knowledge of foodstuffs was only fragmentary and that the method of estimating value by calories was "useless and bungling."

BEQUEATHED LAND TO GOD.

In Unique Deed New Jersey Man Thwarted Land Sharks.

While making search of titles of property in Sullivan county, Pa., agents of the Marine Trust company in Atlantic City, N. J., unearthed a freak deed dated in 1864, the provisions of which still stand.

Peter E. Armstrong, disgusted by the fight among neighbors for land and the operations of land sharks, decided to remove nearly 700 acres of land from the temptation of everybody from then on. He and his wife duly executed a deed in which they conveyed the splendid property to "God and his heirs in Jesus Messiah."

A copy of the deed was exhibited by Treasurer Joseph McNamee of the Marine company. He says its discovery solves a situation that has been puzzling people living near the property for years.

WOULD IMMUNIZE THE RACE.

Dr. Friedmann Urges Treatment of Infants.

Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann took advantage of his inactivity in New York recently to impress upon those who called on him the point in his work which he considers the most vital. That is the property of his tuberculosis culture, by which, with its use, he says, he is able to make the coming generation immune from the white plague.

The specialist from Berlin becomes very enthusiastic when he talks about the value of his preparation to new born babies. He tells of the 350 which he treated in Berlin before they were three days old. This happened eighteen months or more ago, and in that time, he says, there have been no developments of disease or any ulterior effects from the injections.

ARABIC SPELLING SIMPLIFIED.

Professor Asserts Ancients Used Unique Form of Orthography.

That the Lord's Prayer was originally written in Arabic verse was the assertion by Professor C. C. Torry of Yale at a recent session of the American Oriental society at the University of Pennsylvania. To prove his statement Professor Torry recited a portion of the Arabic version.

Professor Maurice Bloomfield of Johns Hopkins university cited the Vedic concordance as his authority for a statement that the ancients used simplified spelling and that it was more simplified and sensible than that used by the moderns.

As an indication of blue blood and of legitimate birth the ancients used to swear on the thigh, according to Professor C. A. B. Brockwell of McGill university, Canada.

PAINTS CHRIST AS GIANT.

After fifty years' study of the life of Christ, Louis Ransom, a Boston artist, has painted what he considers the ideal physical Christ. He portrays the Saviour as a gigantic workman, brawny and of tremendous strength.

Although the artist has been severely criticised for depicting Christ as a muscular being, he defends his ideal on the ground that Christ was a carpenter, had wielded a broadax and engaged in manual labor for years.

"After many years of studying the life of Christ," said Mr. Ransom, "I went to work, and no sooner had I taken brush in hand then a vision of him came on my canvas. The vision I beheld is told in my painting."

Nightgown Is Her Shroud.

The will of Florence, daughter of the late William Ogle Hunt and widow of Luigi, marquis of Rocca Gradara, who died recently in Rome, directed that she should be buried in her nightgown and a white blanket with a red border which her husband used to have. The will had other odd details.

SULZER FOR REFORM OF ELECTIONS' LAWS

He Favors Direct Primaries, Shorter Ballot and Other Progressive Measures.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Albany, April 11.—Gov. Sulzer yesterday sent to the Legislature a message calling to the insistent demand of the people throughout the State for a reform of the election laws, for a more simple and shorter ballot and for direct statewide primaries. He renews his recommendations that the Legislature take up these very important questions without further delay and pass bills, before the adjournment, for their accomplishment. The Governor says that in his opinion the people of the State are in favor of nominating all candidates for elective office from Governor and United States Senators down to Constables.

With a view to securing a shorter ballot Gov. Sulzer recommends that election districts instead of assembly districts shall be made the unit of representation. He recommends the abolition of all committees designations; the prohibition of the party emblem on primary ballots; the removal of the party circle from the primary ballots; the prohibition of the use of party funds at primary elections and the establishment of a State committee membership of 150 or one for each assembly district.

NO LIGHT ON LYNCHING.

West Point, Miss., April 11.—That no light will be thrown on the most spectacular lynching that ever has taken place in Mississippi is the concensus of opinion here. The report of the investigating committee will be made to Governor Brewer to day. This committee was named by the Governor to ascertain, if possible, the names of the men responsible for the hanging of Henry Brown, a negro, within the walls of the county jail here. The lynching party dug a hole through the outside wall of the jail, hanged the negro to a stairway and got away without any alarm being given. In an attempt to escape the negro had attacked and seriously wounded the sheriff and one of his deputies. Friends of the officers are thought to have led the band that meted out summary punishment to the negro. While the investigating committee's sessions were held in secret, it is understood that no witness could be found who had any knowledge that would lead to the apprehension of those guilty.

MAIL CIRCLES GLOBE.

Portland, Ore., April 11.—A new transpacific steamship line from Portland to Japan and China is to be inaugurated tomorrow with the sailing of the steamship Harpagus from this port. For the present the new service is to be carried on by steamships of the Shire Line, which is owned by the Royal Mail Company, but later a fleet of 12,000 ton ships will be built for the transpacific trade.

HALF A CENTURY OF MARRIED LIFE

Mr. and Mrs. Kaspar Bosterle Are Wed Again on Fiftieth Anniversary.

THEIR SON OFFICIATES

The Venerable Couple Receive Congratulations and Presents From Many Friends Who Attend Reception in Their Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Kaspar Bolsterle, of Watchung avenue, North Plainfield celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding yesterday and last night a reception was given to them, the affair being arranged by their children. There were about seventy-five relatives and friends present, including a large representation of the local Masonic bodies of which Mr. Bolsterle is a member. The home was attractively decorated with spring flowers, the prevailing colors being yellow and white, and in addition there was a profusion of floral gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Bolsterle.

A feature of the affair was the performance of a marriage ceremony by Rev. George Bolsterle, son of the celebrating couple. This was very impressive. The couple received a large number of gifts, including many gold coins. There was a purse of gold from the local Masonic bodies, as well as other friends and relatives, and among the gifts was a gold clock and gold dishes.

During the evening refreshments were served and all seemed to join heartily in the spirit of the happy occasion. Mrs. Bolsterle, who has been an invalid for some time, appeared to thoroughly enjoy the celebration, as did also her husband. It was a great pleasure to the couple that their children were all able to be present.

Mr. Bolsterle was born at Luzerne, Switzerland, eighty-two years ago, and came to this country in 1854. He spent a year and a half in New York, after which he removed to Somerville, where he lived for seven years. He was married April 11, 1863, to Miss Anna Bird, who was born at Mt. Bethel. Rev. E. A. Day, who was then pastor of the First M. E. church, performed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents on Somerset street, the borough, which at that time was not much more than a lane. After spending two years in the west, the couple removed to Lebanon, Hunterdon county, where they lived for fifteen years, returning to Plainfield in 1881. They have lived here ever since.

Mr. Bolsterle is a tailor, having learned the trade at home, and throughout his life he has always been able to follow that trade with considerable success. Perhaps, in Masonic circles, Mr. Bolsterle is best known. He originally joined Solomon Lodge, F. and A. M., of Somerville, and afterward affiliated with Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., of this city. He is a 32d degree Mason, having taken all but

SILVER TROPHY FOR GEORGE W. WRISTON

P. H. S. Basketball Team so Honors Popular Coach at Captain's Reception.

Members of the Plainfield High School basketball team, together with athletes of various other branches of school endeavor as their guests, put a fitting finale to the triumphant court season just closed, with a reception tendered by Captain Edson Woodhull last night. The affair was conducted in the new garage erected by the Woodhull family at Union street and Stelle avenue and was one of the three held there during the past week, all of which have assumed the appearance of "house warmings." Reminiscenses of the basketball season were forthcoming on every hand at the gathering last night and Captain Woodhull acted as a most pleasing host on the occasion which brought the basketball team that represented P. H. S. during the seasons of 1912-13 together for the last time, many of the court stars being graduated in June.

Mrs. Floyd T. Woodhull was assisted in entertaining by Miss Caroline Slauson and Miss Marguerite Goodwin, of the Plainfield High School, and Miss Lillian Garretson, of Dunellen. Among those present were: Captain Edson Woodhull, Manager Arthur Grisley, Monroe Good, James Buckle, William Peacock, Albert Brynariski and John Heron, of the team, and Silas Guttridge, Joseph Carty, Valentine Goldsmith, Fred Krom, Harold McDowell, Felix Janke, Arthur VanZandt, Irving Martin, Fred Martin, James Cortwright, of Newark; Coach George W. Wriston, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd T. Woodhull.

One of the most pleasing features of the evening which was spent in playing cards, was the presentation of a silver loving cup to George W. Wriston, of the High School faculty, to whose untiring efforts the credit of the P. H. S. showing must be largely attributed. Captain Woodhull spoke in a complimentary way of the services rendered by Mr. Wriston, who responded with a short speech of acceptance in which he thanked the fellows for their hearty co-operation and expressed a desire that P. H. S. would have many similar quintets.

Following the social program, a dainty luncheon was served by Mrs. Woodhull and her assistants and toasts were offered by various members of the team. The favors added greatly to the occasion, they being miniature basketballs.

The new garage has been the scene of three social gatherings this week and has presented an appearance of gayety on every occasion. Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Woodhull was the host at a thimble party, twenty-two guests being present, and Thursday evening a supper was served with Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Woodhull as host and hostess, twenty-one members of the "500" club being the invited guests. Following the supper a card party was indulged in by those present.

TURERCULOSIS PREVENTION AS SUBJECT OF LECTURE

An interesting meeting at which will be discussed the general topic of "The Prevention of Tuberculosis" will be held at the Plainfield High School Auditorium, Monday night at 8:15 o'clock. Those who have taken the initiative in this movement say that every citizen is pleased when the tax rate goes down and that one of the best ways to reduce the rate is to forestall the necessity of building institutions for the care of the helpless sick.

All persons interested are urged to attend this meeting and hear Dr. Harvey Emerson, of New York, a specialist in the treatment and care of tuberculosis, and Dr. Linsley R. Williams, of New York, who has had a successful experience in the work of prevention through the establishment of open air schools. Plainfield is not behind the times in this work, so beneficial to all classes of society. An open air school for the benefit of children not equal to the strain of ordinary schooling will be opened next week in the pavilion formerly located on the hospital grounds, now removed to Muhlenberg place.

REV. FRED'K J. HUBACH DELIVERS A LECTURE

Before an interested audience in the Monroe Avenue M. E. church parlors last night, Rev. F. J. Hubach delivered the second of his lectures on "The Beginning of Human History" and repeated his success of the night before, holding the close attention of his listeners from start to finish. He outlined the Biblical stages of human life from the time of the crude stage until the present day, showing by means of beautifully colored stereopticon views and charts the various steps in the progress that has been made.

The lecture was taken from a review of the lessons taken up by the Sunday-school Bible class during the past term.

COLORED FOLK ENJOY EVENING ENTERTAINMENT

Under the chaperonage of Mrs. David H. Rowland and Mrs. G. Stuart Simons another of the weekly receptions for the colored folk was held in the auditorium of the Washington School last night and the affair was attended by about sixty guests. This reception was one of a series planned by the committee appointed by the local Board of Education.

A glee club will be organized among the Friday night attendance and it will make its first public appearnce before a Saturday night meeting a week from tonight. On May 2 a special program will be presented and an invitation will be extended to the local public to witness what is being done along these lines. The social committee in charge last night was composed of Mrs. J. F. Lawson, Mrs. William J. Douglas, Mrs. John Garret, Mrs. Frank Kelso and Mrs. C. J. McKoy.

John Schneider, of Martinsville, twenty-seven years old, who was arraigned Thursday on a charge of non-support preferred by his wife, Mrs. Aby K. Strader-Schneider, of 102 Central avenue, appeared before City Judge DeMeza this morning for sentence. SUBSCRIPTION DANCE AN ELABORATE AFFAIR

Some 200 Society Folk Enjoy Event at the Hartridge Auditorium.

The subscription dance given at the Hartridge Auditorium, last night, was one of the most popular society functions of the season. There were more than two hundred present. Prior to the dance there were a number of dinners given to out-of-town guests and many enjoyed the house parties arranged in connection with the function. The auditorium was elaborately decorated by Stanley, the florist, there being a profusion of palms, ferns and spring flowers. The chandeliers and clusters of electric lights were shaded with pink flowers, adding to the attractiveness of the scene.

The dancing began about 9 o'clock and continued until nearly 3 o'clock this morning. About midnight, supper was served by Mrs. Henry Johnson. A feature of the affair was the music, furnished by the "Black Sousa" orchestra. The program was a popular one, and the orchestra was very generous in responding to encores.

The patronesses were Mrs. Elliot T. Barrows, Mrs. Thomas M. Day, Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, Mrs. George Megrew, Mrs. George P. Mellick, Mrs. J. Hartley Mellick, Mrs. Walter L. RECEPTION FOR PASTOR AND WIFE AT GRACE M. E.

The members of Grace M. E. church gave a reception to their pastor, Rev. C. C. Cain and his wife, at the church, last night, following the return of Mr. Cain to the church for another year. There was a large attendance of members and friends and the reception accorded the pastor and his wife was a hearty one.

Addresses of welcome were made by Rev. Frederick J. Hubach, of the monroe Avenue M. E. church; Dr. H. K. Carroll, of the Scotch Plains M. E. church, and William J. Conroy, superintendent of the Sunday-school of Grace church. Following the addresses, Mr. Cain made an appropriate response on behalf of his wife and himself. Mr. Cain has now commenced his third year as pastor of Grace church. He came here from Oxford, this State. The rest of the program included soprano solos by Miss Helen Hall; piano selections by Miss Jane VanArsdale and recitations by Miss Alice Harris. During a social hour, refreshments were served by the Ladies' Aid Society.

STOLE UMBRELLAS.

Evidently having knowledge of the custom of a number of local commuters in leaving their umbrellas on the front porches of their homes following a rain instead of taking them into the house, a thief made a rich haul last night by making a tour of the vicinity of West First, Sixth and Seventh streets, taking over thirty of the rain protectors noticed.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE ON EUROPE'S CATHEDRALS

Miss May Alexander, of 1216 Evergreen avenue, entertained the Normal Training Class of the First Baptist church at her home last night. There were about thirty members present and all enjoyed the illustrated lecture by Miss Alexander on "The Cathedrals of Europe." The views shown were taken by Miss Alexander during the five months' trip she took abroad last summer. She explained interesting incidents about her trip. The views included pictures of the cathedrals at Paris, Antwerp, Colon, Milan and London.

The rest of the evening was devoted to playing games, after which refreshments were served. During a business session of the class, Howard Parry, the president, appointed a committee to look after the weekly supper which precedes the meeting of the class on Wednesday evening of each week.

JUDGE DEMEZA WARNS ALL PLAINFIELD "MASHERS"

Michael Comiskey, 19 years old, of Somerset street, was arrested last night by Patrolman Vanderweg on on the complaint of Miss Ethel Conroy, of 19 Fairview avenue, who claimed that he and other youths standing along the curb, made insulting remarks to her as she and her sister were passing. According to her testimony before City Judge DeMeza this morning when Comiskey was arraigned on the charge, she has been subjected to such insults repeatedly.

Comiskey told the judge that he had been drinking and was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or spend 40 days in the county jail. In passing sentence the court said he would deal harshly with every "masher" brought before him.

NO TAX ON LEGACY TO COUNCILMAN CLAY

An assessment of $714.17, levied by the State Comptroller, against a legacy of Mrs. Harriet E. Guion to her son-in-law, Councilman George S. Clay, of East Seventh street, has been set aside in an opinion filed by Justice Kalisch in the Supreme Court. The opinion construes the collateral inheritance tax law of this State in line with decisions in New York.

The whole question hinged upon the construction of the exemption clause in the act of 1909, which places in the exempt class the "husband of a daughter." Comptroller Edwards ruled that the language of the act did not include a legacy to a son-in-law, who was a widower, the facts in the present case being that Mrs. Guion's daughter had died and that Mr. Clay had remarried.

WALSH BUYS PROPERTY.

William M. Walsh, proprietor of the Central Pharmacy at Park and North avenue, has purchased from Frank H. Smith the building now occupied by the former. The structure, which is three story brick, has a frontage of about fifty feet on North avenue and a depth of ninety feet on Watchung avenue, including the store occupied by Thomas Timbo. The consideration is not given but is said to be about $25,000. Mr. Walsh contemplates extensive improvements later on. Mr. Smith has also sold his property at Watchung avenue and East Second street to Harry B. MacDonald for about $16,000.

A SURPRISE PARTY.

Friends of Churchill Robinson, of Dunellen, tendered him a surprise at his home on Greenbrook road, last night, meeting at the home of Guy Peck in North Plainfield, and making the trip to Dunellen by stage. Progressive games were played and prizes were awarded to the successful players in the form of jewelry. Louis Bennett won the first prize for the boys, and Miss Catherine Giddings took similar honors in the girls' competition, while Miss Edna Green was the proud recipient of the "booby" prize.

Leahy, who has been associated in the work for the prevention of tuberculosis in this city, has returned from Chicago, where she took the six weeks' course at the Municipal Tuberculosis Sanitorium. While in Chicago she visited the open-air schools and gained considerable knowledge as to the care and treatment of tuberculosis patients.

HERE'S NEW PLAN FOR THRIFTY ONES

Systematic Way of Saving Money Offered in the Small Bond Scheme.

A hustling financial institution of Plainfield is inaugurating a new plan by which it hopes to encourage thrift among the people of this city and vicinity and in an advertisement in today's paper the plan is clearly outlined. Every business man knows how valuable to the individual, to his community and to his dependents is the virtue of thrift and yet it is seldom that the way to thrifty habits is pointed out to those who get started in other directions and who would, if they but knew how, gladly turn back and climb the hill to independence.

This leads to the question, how can people save? Or to the question which is often heard, "How can I save when I am barely making enough to live?" The answer to this is that all saving may be reduced to a system. It is not the amount of money that one saves, but the fact that he has begun to save, that is the most important. Nothing so helps to fix the habit of thrift and saving as to have a definite rule set down for oneself.

These bonds are nothing more or less than a systematic way of saving money which has been wanted for years and years by young men and women. It is a way of providing for the future without speculation.

The bonds issued by the State Trust Company and which are now being sold, are in denomination from $1 to $25. One pays for the bonds in monthly payments, thirty-eight payments, in all and at the expiration of thirty-eight months all money paid in, together with interest at four per cent. will be paid over to the purchoser.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF MRS. LOTTIE ACKERMAN

The funeral service of Mrs. Lottie Ackerman was held yesterday afternoon at the home of her sister, Mrs. Edward A. Smith, on Summit avenue, the borough, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. There were many floral tributes. Rev. Dr. Charles M. Anderson, pastor of the First M. E. church, officiated.

The burial was in the Plainfield avenue cemetery and the pall-bearers were Frank Martin, John Thompson, Walter Manning, brothers-in-law, and Irving Mills, a nephew of Mrs Ackerman.

"THE NEW WAY OF LIFE."

Rev. Dr. Frederick Lynch, of New York, associate editor of the Congregationalist and the Evangelist, will occupy the pulpit of the Congregational church tomorrow morning. He will speak on "The New Way of Life," and the abolition of war. The qustion of local option will be submitted and enrollment cards will be distributed giving those present an opportunity to express their opinion on the subject.

LECTURE POSTPONED ONE WEEK

The talk which was to have been given at the Plainfield High School tonight by Miss Abbott, of Teachers' College, New York, on "Montessori and Kindergarten Methods of Teaching," has been postponed to Saturday night, April 19, at 8 o'clock. The lecture is to be given under the auspices of the Board of Education, and its announcement has aroused considerable interest.

BRIEF CATECHISM ON A COMMISSION

Questions and Answers About the Commission Form of Government.

EFFECT OF ADOPTION

What It Would Mean Should Plainfield Decide to Approve New Plan Which Has Proven a Success in 225 Cities.

For the benefit of those who wish information on the Commission Government plan for administration of a municipality's affairs, the following catechism is published:

What is Commission Government?

It is the placing of the municipal government in a board of five men, elected by the voters at large, instead of in a mayor and Council of 11 men elected from wards, with the Mayor not a member of the Council.

Who should be most interested in Commission Government?

The tax payers.

Who are the tax payers?

Everybody who eats, sleeps and lives in this city and pays his bills pays the taxes. The owner of the house in which you live pays the taxes to the city; he is directly responsible for same, but he gets his taxes from you—the tenant—in the form of rent.

The man who owns and rents the store in which you buy clothes, food, etc., has his taxes to raise, he must and does make a corresponding increase in the price of goods which he sells to you.

The owners of property are directly responsible for all taxes, but in the final analysis the people who eat food, wear clothes and pay rent are the real and heavy payers in the community—and so the origin of the old saw that "We are sure of death and taxes."

How many Commissioners are there?

Five.

What is the salary of the Commission?

Each of the four Commissioners receive $1,500 per year, and the member selected President or Mayor, $1,800.

For what term are they elected?

Four years.

What are the qualifications of a Commissioner?

He shall have been a citizen and resident of Plainfield for at least two years immediately preceding his election. The certificates of nomination must set forth that he is a qualified elector, of good moral character, and qualified for the duties of the office.

How many Commissioners make a quorum?

Three.

How shall the Mayor be selected?

One of the Commissioners, at the first meeting of the Board, shall be elected mayor.

What is the Mayor's duty?

To preside at all meetings and act as the general executive head of the city.

Can he vote?

Yes.

Can he veto a measure?

No.

Why has he no veto power?

That there can be no division of responsibility, and that any and every act of the Commissioners must be that of the majority.

Is it wise to have the Commissioners choose the Mayor?

Yes. If the Commissioners choose the Mayor, he is more likely to be in sympathy with his colleagues. Ordinarily, the dominating political parties select the best men available for candidates for Mayor. Under the present system one must be defeated at the polls. Under Commission Goernment both men may be elected and the city will then get the services of both as Commissioners.

Who does the legislating for the city?

The Commissioners. Every resolution and ordinance shall be passed by a yea and nay vote, and must be in writing and signed by three of the Commissioners, ordinances by four.

What are the powers of the Commissioners?

They have all the powers now exercised by the Mayor and the Common Council. They may reappoint or abolish any of the Boards or Commissions in the city such as Water, Police, Fire, Excise, Park, Assessors, etc. Exceptions are the Board of Education and the Board of Health which are not affected by the new act.

If the Commission abolished any of these Boards, how would their duties be performed?

By the proper department heads, reporting direct to the Commissioner in charge of that particular division of the city's business.

How shall the Board distribute their duties and powers?

The Board, at the first meeting, designates one of its members to head each of the five departments, as

STYLE AND RELIABILITY

Never Be Guided By 'Surface Looks'

The common eye is satisfied with the SURFACE on which it looks.

The wise eye knows its the INTERIOR that really counts. I ask you as a protection to yourself, not to buy your Spring Suit on mere "surface looks."

I ask you to go a bit further—to go into the "vitals" of the suit—to go into the matter of its construction.

The "surface look" disappears after the first hard wear, and then it's the garment that's made honestly and sincerely that alone stands up.

Spring Suits $10, $12, $15, $18 to $25

that comprise every new thought in Serges, Cheviots and Fancy Weaves—styled up to the minute. Today is a good time to come in!

At that time or during the session Assemblyman Griffin will reintroduce what was known as Assembly bill 648, calling for the election of small boards of freeholders in second-class counties of the State, which was vetoed by the Governor. Assemblyman Moore, of Mercer county, proposes to again offer his measure providing for payment of salary and expenses of the members of the small boards. The Moore bill was also vetoed by the Governor.

Regarding the election bill Mr. Griffin said: "I propose to reintroduce the same bill. It passed the House and was made unconstitutional in the Senate by the addition of an amendment eliminating Atlantic and Camden counties. The measure in its original form is constitutional, according to Attorney General Wilson's opinion requested by Governor Fielder before he vetoed the bill."

Regarding the salary bill former Prosecutor Wilson, counsel for the Union small board, stated that he was in communication with the proper officials to have the Moore bill come up during the special session. Mr. Wilson said: "The men feel that they have a legal right to be reimbursed for the expense they were put to in seeking election, and nothing has been shown to indicate that they did other than comply with the law. The law has been declared unconstitutional. That is a matter for which the Legislature is responsible and not an error on the part of the small board members."

Governor Fielder declared today that he would bring the small board matter before the Legislature at the special session.

"I have vetoed the Griffin bill," he said, "after hearing from the attorney general's department on it. I will bring the question before the Legislature at the special session and will expect proper legislation on it."

Assistant Attorney General Gaskill yesterday afternoon rendered an opinion to the Governor, ruling that there is a doubt with reference to the validity of such a classification as the Griffin bill contains following its amendment in the Senate.

$255,000 FOR PRINCETON IN THREE PRESENTS

Princeton, April 12.—More than a quarter of a million dollars in gifts was acknowledged by Princeton University Thursday at the Spring meeting of the Board of Trustees. At the same time plans were accepted for two new buildings for the university campus and Alexander Smith, Professor of Chemistry at Columbia University, was obtained to head the Chemistry Department of Princeton. The large cash gifts were received from three sources and follow closely on the Ferris-Thompson bequest of $3,000,000.

Among the plans submitted for new buildings is one providing a dormitory for students of wealth and moderate means alike. The plans which were accepted yesterday call for half of the rooms to be listed at no more than $75 a year, and the other half at the top prices of the campus.

The largest single gift yesterday was one of $125,000, which comes from an anonymous donor with no stipulations regarding its use. Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. Moore, of New York city, presented the university with $100,000, which is to endow a professorship in chemistry. The third cash gift, of $30,000, came from John D. Cadwalader, of New York city, a member of the Board of Trustees.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, APRIL 12, 1913.

The editorial columns of this paper are conducted on Saturdays by representative citizens who are free to express their own views. Fred W. Hand is the Contributing Editor for today.

Though an admirer of the Saturday contributed editorial idea of the The Daily Press under the new order of things, it is rather a hard task to place me before the public as a newspaper contributor. My only claim to such distinction is that my grandfather, the late Milton F. Cushing, a learned man, was one of the first to launch a newspaper in Plainfield, he being the editor and proprietor of the Plainfield Union, a publication well known in this section during and before the war of the Rebellion. My pen is a crowbar. To expect a truck driver to write a Saturday editorial is equivalent to expect him to preach the gospel of brotherly love to a Hottentot. However, here's my first attempt.

No better agitation could be inaugurated at the present time if Plainfield is to prosper than the widening of Somerset street and Madison and Park avenues. These thoroughfares now retard the town's growth, and make fictitious values of Front street property and present a bad impression to our visitors. It does seem that a city the size of Plainfield should be able to solve such problems, but those who are selected as councilmen seem to evade the question in some way, or at least side track the matter so that no action is definitely taken. The matter is, from time to time, brought to the attention of the public, but that is as far as it goes. It would be well for the town if a few positive men were chosen who would put an end to procrastination.

We hear a few people howling for municipal ownership of a water supply upon which thousands of dollars of the taxpayers' money have been wasted. We have good water and all we can use for about five cents a day to the average household. Why kick?

In the borough where little antique trolley cars shoot mountainward on our main street, we can boast of a cold storage plant labeled "Somerset School." This building we expect to use as a school house in 1915. There are several places on Somerset street where one must have a navigator's license to cross whenever a storm of ordinary dimensions occurs. This is another matter that seems almost impossible to understand. Our most urgent need is a good practical sewer system. If we had this and a good garbage disposal system, North Plainfield would grow. Public spirited men are needed in this community if the place is to keep pace with other towns. Communication with Stirling and all that part of the Passaic Valley as far as Bernardsville is demanded.

This territory has a large population especially in the summer and yet no effort is made to induce people to come to Plainfield. Sometimes it seems as if the native has been here too long. Opportunities he never sees. It takes a stranger to notice the values of property conditions. There is just as good opportunity to make money in Plainfield and North Plainfield today as there ever was.

Even with all the interference by those who should be urging on improvements, Plainfield will take a jump some day and spread out to be a city that will be a model one. Every business man should lend his support in helping to reach this goal.

FAVORS CIVIC BODY.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

I notice in your issue of 10th inst., an item to the effect that Mr. Jeffery plans to reorganize the Board of Trade, as he thinks that the Commerce Chamber has not proven a success, and that there is an urgent demand for a real civic body. In this latter conclusion I am in hearty accord with Mr. Jeffery. It is only through organization of those interested in the civic welfare and progress that results can be obtained. I would suggest, however, that all titles indicating an appeal to a limited class of our residents be avoided, and that instead of calling such an organization a Board of Trade, some such name as "Plainfield Civic Association" be slected. Such a name would in itself be an invitation to all to join in co-operation for the benefit of all the inhabitants of our city. Such names as Board of Trade or Commerce Chamber indicate that the main purpose of the organization is to promote the interests of those engaged in business, and while its scope may in fact be larger, the name repells many, or if it does not repell, fails to attract those having no immediate personal concern in business.

A civic organization which would take all of our municipal activities for its field could accomplish much both in bringing about an intelligent study of our needs and in bringing a healthful influence to bear upon our municipal government. I hope Mr. Jeffery will make his call a wide one.

WIDOW'S PENSIONS.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

The New Jersey State Charities Aid Association at its annual meeting at the Public Library in Newark on April 29, will hold a conference for the purpose of considering how best to use the new law providing for widows' pensions where there are dependent children to be cared for. This conference will be held in the morning, at which time a number of addresses will be delivered upon the subject. The State Board of Children's Guardians, which is required to supervise the families receiving the pension, will present the view of that body. The overseers of the poor will be present in considerable force to show the necessity for more adequte relief. Charity workers and people interested in any form of soccial activity relating to dependent families will likewise be invited.

It is hoped that through this conference a general method will be worked out that will accomplish the spirit of the law without causing too great a drain upon the treasuries of the counties.

C. L. STONAKER, Secretary, State Charities Aid Association.

A CORRECTION.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

The report concerning the auto accident which happened in Westfield in which Edwin Dahl, of Plainfield, and A. Stein, of Bound Brook, were injured, printed in last night's Press, is incorrect. Will you please have same rectified. The facts are as follows: In the car with E. Dahl were W. L. Whitney and E. T. Whitney, of Plainfield, and A. Steins, of Bound Brook, but no women as stated in the Press. They were driving along Kimball avenue toward Elm street at an early hour this morning and it being very dark and foggy they could not see very far ahead and thinking that Kimball avenue continued Elm street did not slacken up until right at the junction. Upon discovering his mistake E. Dahl applied foot and emergency brakes instantly which made the car skid broadside against the sidewalk, throwing the four men over the walk on to the lawn. W. L. and E. G. Whitney escaped with only slight injuries. Steins and Dahl were stunned by the shock but after regaining consciousness were found to have sustained no serious injuries.

IN TROUBLE AGAIN.

He pleaded ignorance of the law and sentence was suspended with a warning.

OLD SHIP NIAGARA IS TO SAIL AGAIN

Raised From Bottom of Erie Harbor.

SANK A CENTURY AGO.

Will Be Partly Rebuilt and Will Cruise Great Lakes This Summer as Feature of the Centennial Celebration of Commodore Perry's Victory, In Which She Figured Prominently.

Some time this summer the ship Niagara, famous as the flagship of the heroic Commodore Perry's squadron, will again sail the waters of Lake Erie, where she conquered a British fleet and at the bottom of which she has lain a hundred years.

By a feat of engineering which has no exact parallel the Niagara has been brought to the surface of the lake and prepared for towing to a nearby shipyard. When she has been repaired and partly rebuilt she will set sail on her last splendid cruise.

Gayly decorated and manned by a full crew, the old ship will call at all the principal ports of the great lakes. The cruise will be a feature of the forthcoming celebration of the great victory by which Commodore Perry stayed the fortunes of the United States a century ago.

To attempt to lift the hulk from the mud of Erie harbor was a daring idea from the start. To make the project fact required courage and perseverance of a high order. Many were the scoffers. It was said to the very last that the contractor had hold of an old canalboat, and not till the gun ports of the Niagara appeared above the surface of the lake did the great crowds ashore concede that Perry's ship was actually being raised.

Many Curio Seekers.

When the gun ports came in sight a throng of half frozen curio seekers was held back with difficulty. Once it became evident that the battered hulk was actually that of the Niagara the scoffers were eager to rush upon the wreck and tear her to pieces for souvenirs. Blinding snow and cracking ice seemed no deterrent to their frenzy.

Raising the vessel from the lake was a task of almost appalling difficulty. The work had to be done in winter in order to use spring to get the vessel in shape. Winter on the great lakes is such as to make a naturally delicate job of this sort well nigh impossible.

The interstate board of the centennial celebration had official charge of the work. To raise the hulk took just three months. The original contract called for the task to be done in thirty days, but bad weather knocked this schedule sky high.

It was planned at first to sink pontoons alongside the Niagara and pump them out, bringing the ship to the surface with them. Had the weather permitted this the salvage of the hulk would have been accomplished in contract time. Storms, however, threatened the undertaking almost every day, and the contractor dared not sink his pontoons lest he lose them. Therefore four pontoons were anchored on either side of where the sip would lie when raised verticaly to the lake's surface. Other pontoons were stationed over her bow and stern. Chains were made fast to the wreck by divers, and she was simply pulled up to the water's edge.

Work Was Dangerous.

Ice piled up six feet high about the pontoons. Workmen were in constant danger of losing their lives in the black and icy water. Several fell into air holes in thawing ice, but were rescued. The Niagara had to be raised through twenty feet of water.

The Niagara and Commodore Perry's flagship, the Lawrence, were the only two vessels in the American fleet of six ships that even in 1813 could have been called men-of-war. They were 500 tons burden each, and each carried twenty guns.

The Lawrence and the Niagara, which were twenty gun ships, carried two long twelve pounders and eighteen thirty-two-pounder carronades. The long range guns were the chief dependents of the Americans. To make his carronade fire effective Perry relied on grape and canister shot and the favorite American ammunition, langrage, which was made out of scraps of iron sewed up in leather bags.

Perry's force of men consisted of about 500 landsmen and sailors, many of whom had never seen salt water.

Congress voted Perry thanks, a medal and the rank of captain after his great victory of Sept. 13, 1813. The city of Boston presented him with a set of silver and other cities voted him thanks.

He assisted in the defense of Baltimore, and in the squadron that was sent to the Mediterranean in 1815 he commanded the frigate Java.

Has Attended 6,240 Births.

Dr. R. G. Johnson, a physician at Laurel, Miss., probably holds the world's record for officiating at childbirth. While testifying in a civil action in the Jones county circuit court Dr. Johnson said he had been practicing for forty years and that he had kept a record which showed that he had been the attending physician at 6,240 births. This is an average of thirteen births a month for the forty years.

Is it not possible for the Commissioners to jam through the passage of an ordinance or resolution appropriating money or ordering any street or sewer improvement, or authorizing the making of any contract, or granting franchises or the right to occupy or use the streets, highways, bridges or public places without the knowledge of the public? Are there no restrictions?

Under the Commission rule every ordinance or resolution appropriating money, ordering street improvements, making any contract, granting any franchise, or right to occupy public places, must be complete in the form in which it is finally passed and shall remain on file for public inspection for at least two weeks before the final passage, and every ordinance must in addition be published before being finally voted upon; must be approved by four of the five Commissioners; must remain on file 10 days after passage before it becomes effective, during which time a 15 per cent. petition will halt its operation or require its submission to a popular vote.

How are franchises or rights to occupy public places, streets, bridges, etc., granted or extended or renewed?

Only by ordinance and every ordinance must be published before passage, must be on file for public inspection two weeks, and must be approved by four of the five Commissioners.

Must every ordinance be published in the newspapers before passage and approval?

Yes. At least once in the newspapers.

Is there any protection against the Commissioners increasing the net bonded indebtedness of the city?

Yes. An ordinance increasing the net bonded indebtedness of the city, in excess of ten per cent. of the assessed valuation of city property, must be submitted to the citizens at a special election, and must receive a majority of votes actually cast at such election.

Who shall determine the class of work to be performed in each department and the persons who are to do the work in said department?

The Commissioners will have power to prescribe the duties of each department, and to moe any employe or officer from one department to another, when they deem it necessary to do so for the efficient government of the city.

How will this aid the accomplishment of an efficient and economical government of the city?

In the busy season of the tax department they can move clerks from another department to assist in the work of the tax department, and in the busy season in any department they can move clerks from another department.

Who appoints the officers or employes of the city?

The Commission.

Who can remove any officer or employe from office?

The Commission; but the Commission must assign a cause and give a public hearing and decide on the sufficiency of the cause for removal before such removal can take place.

Who shall set the salary of all officers or employes of the city?

The Commissioners. And the salary shall be payable monthly or a shorter period, as the Commissioners shall determine.

Who shall preside at the meetings of the Commissioners?

The Mayor.

Who shall be vice president?

The director of the department of Revenue and Finance, and in case of a vacancy in the office of Mayor he shall perform the duties of that office.

Can an elected officer or appointed officer or employe in the city have an interest in any contract, directly or indirectly, for work or materials for any person, firm or corporation, or for services to be furnished or performed for any person, firm or corporation, street railway, gas works, electric light power plant, heating plant, telegraph line or telephone exchange within the limits of said city?

No.

How can they be punished for this offence?

Such officer or employe so offending can be punished as now provided by the criminal law or ordinance.

Can any employe or officer of the city have free transportation?

No, except firemen and policemen in uniform.

How does the act affect policemen, firemen, war veterans?

This act would not in any way affect the term of office of any policeman, fireman, or any employe of a police or fire department, any war veteran or any employe now protected by any tenure of office act.

Do the public schools come under the control of the Commissioners?

The public schools are exempt.

Can a Commissioner or subordinate officer, elected or appointed, promise a position for political influence to aid him in his election or appointment?

No.

Who nominates the Commissioners to be voted for at the election?

The voters of the city.

How many voters does it take to nominate a Commissioner?

One-half of one per cent. of the number voting at the last general election.

Do the voters nominate by petition?

No. Each voter nominating a person must nominate on an individual certificate to be procured from the city clerk.

What is the advantage of this?

It prevents political rings or political bosses from standing in the way of the nomination of any citizen who would make a desirable Commissioner. Any person may thus be nominated for Commissioner.

How many nomination certicates can one person sign?

Only as many certificates as there are officers to be filled.

What is the advantage of this method of nomination?

It makes the nomination of any voter easy and possible and without expense and without the intervention of a local boss, ring or political machine or any organization seeking to control the primaries.

Who is likely to be nominated for Commissioner?

Any man who has the respect and confidence of his neighbors.

How are the voters of the city told of the nominations before the primary election?

The city clerk is compelled to publish for three successive days in all the daily newspapers of the city the names of the nominees.

After the nominations are made, what is the procedure?

The names of all the nominees are arranged alphabetically on the primary ballot, and at the primary election the voters vote for five.

How many names appear on the ballot for the regular election?

The ten names receiving the highest number of votes at the primary election are placed upon the regular ballot and the five of these receiving the highest number of votes are elected Commissioners.

Is the number of candidates for the Commission limited?

No.

Can the public learn the amount and source of an official's election expenses?

Yes. Every elective officer, within ten days after taking office, must file with the city clerk, and publish the same once in a newspaper, his sworn statement of all his election and campaign expenses, and the names of those who contributed to the fund. Should he fail to do so, he will be subjected to an indictment for crime, and also be subject to removal from office.

Recall.

Can we remove a Commissioner before his term expires?

Yes. One or all may be removed at any time after serving one year.

How?

If the voters are dissatisfied with the acts of any Commissioner, a special election is required to be called upon petition of 25 per cent. of the voters of the last preceding election. At this election the Commissioner upon whom the recall is being attempted is a candidate for re-election and any other candidates for his position appear on the ballot. If the Commissioner in office receives th ehigest number of votes, which is a vote of confidence, he retains his position; if not, any other candidate receiving the highest number of votes is elected in his place.

Is there any limit to the recall?

Yes. A Commissioner is subject to but one recall election during his term. If he succeeds himself at a recall election he is exempt from further recall during the balance of his term.

Is not this limited recall provision without value and would it not permit the passage of unpopular or even vicious ordinances and open the doors for graft by a vindicated Commissioner?

No. The limited recall provision provides all the moral effect necessary to keep the Commissioners on the lookout and anxious to meet the wishes of the public.

Also by the referendum and initiative the public have control of all legislation and can always force an importan tordinance to a popular vote at a special election. The Commission, under such conditions, will not turn a deaf ear to any public demand.

What has been the effect of the recall elsewhere?

Of the 225 cities or more now operating under Commission Government features but five cities have found it necessary to resort to this drastic means of holding the Commission responsive to the public demand.

Why was the recall limited to once during the term and only after the first year?

In order to give a new Commissioner an opportunity to fully establish his policy and methods in 12 months without hindrance and leave him free to continue his policy if vindicated at the special recall election.

Initiative.

What is the Initiative?

A plan by which the people may propose or initiate any ordinances and which requires the board to either pass them or submit said ordinances to the popular vote.

If the Commissioners refuse to pass laws the citizens want, what is the remedy?

The citizens can present an ordinance to the Commission by petition, which, if signed by fifteen per cent. of the voters at the last election requires a special election should the Board fail to pass it in 20 days. But preceding a regular election a petition of 10 per cent. forces the Board to adopt any proposed ordinance within 20 days or submit it to the voters at the regular election.

If the people should force the adoption of ordinances by a reluctant Board, could not the Board revoke them.

No. Any ordinance proposed by the people by petition, whether adopted by the Board or by vote of the people cannot be repealed or amended except by a vote of the people.

Referendum.

What is the Referendum?

A plan by which the people may protest against any law or ordinance and require the Commissioners to submit or refer any proposed ordinance to popular vote or abandon it.

How can any ordinance proposed by the Commissioners be blocked by the people?

A petition of 15 per cent. protesting against any proposed ordinance either requires the Board to reject the ordinance or submit it to popular vote.

Could not the Board rush through ordinances against the best interests of the people without giving time for the preparation and presentation of a referendum petition?

No. In the first place every meeting is public; secondly, every ordinance must be on file for public inspection two weeks before final passage; thirdly, no ordinance shall go into effect until 10 days after passage; consequently the public has at least 24 days' knowledge of the proposed ordinance and ample time to prepare the petition of protest against its passage.

In General.

What are the chief characteristics of our Commission law?

Centralizing responsibility upon a small number of elected officials.

Non-partisan elections.

Abolishment of ward lines.

Referendum.

Initiative.

Recall.

What are the chief results to be obtained?

Economy of administration, greater efficiency, application of business methods.

Is not the Commission plan new, novel and unamerican?

No. The idea of the people having a direct hand in the selection of their officials and direct control of their acts is as old as government itself. In New England for generations communities have been working under a simple democratic system, placing the entire management in the hands of a small body of selectmen, declared by Thomas Jefferson "the wisest invention ever devised by the wit of man for the perfect exercise of self-government and for its preservation."

When did this particular form of Commission Government begin?

In 1901, after the flood, Galveston came under the rule of a Commission and as a result of its success there Des Moines further developed the system, which is spreading, with slight modifications, throughout the country. In Texas practically all the cities, 23 in number, have followed Galveston's example with equal success.

Where has the Commission been tried?

Already nearly 225 cities in 29 States have adopted Commission Givernment features.

Has it ever been discarded?

No. No city that has tried Commission Government has ever returned to the old antiquated, cumbersome system.

METROPOLITAN OF THE GREEK CHURCH WHO WAS MURDERED

THE MOST REV CHRYSOSTOM METROPOLITAN OF SMYRNA

Four Greeks about to be hanged by the Turkish authorities at Smyrna were rescued while being taken to the gallows, according to the latest reports. The charge against the Greeks was that when the Greek forces took the Island of Mitylene they abused a young Turkish woman. It is alleged that the testimony against them was perjured. Protests made by the Greek Church and the Greek community of Smyrna were ignored.

Because of the interest taken on behalf of these men by the Greek Church the Turks murdered the Metropolitan of the Greek Church, the Most Reverend Chrysostom, a man of high education, who was formerly Metropolitan at Drama, Macedonia. He was transferred from that place because the Turks objected to his activities on behalf of the Christians living in Macedonia.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

BAKED BEANS.

WHEN baking beans why follow the old familiar style? Why not give variety to the dish by preparing the beans in one of the many different ways in which they may be baked?

Beans Cooked With Pork.

Baked Beans With Salt Pork.—Take a quart of navy beans and soak them overnight and parboil till tender. Place in a bean pot and cover with hot water. Add one tablespoonful of molasses, one tablespoonful of ketchup, one teaspoonful of salt and a pinch of soda. Have one-third of a pound of good salt pork and press it down into the beans. Bake in a slow oven six hours. One hour before serving remove lid from bean pot and let beans brown.

Two Novel Methods.

Baked Beans, New York Style.—Take a quart of pea or navy beans and soak overnight. In the morning pour off the water and put in cold water to boil. When they reach the boiling point drain. Cover again with boiling water and simmer till they begin to crack. Pour off the water and into a deep pan of granite ware or tin put a layer of the beans. Have ready three-quarters of a pound of mixed salt pork, score and put in the middle of the pan, rind side up. Mix together a tablespoonful of salt, a half teaspoonful of pepper and a saltspoonful of mustard, dissolved in a pint of hot water and pour over the beans. This should cover the pork all but the rind. Add hot water to cover and bake in a slow oven six or eight hours, adding more water as it boils away.

Baked Beans With Nut Butter.—Soak a pint of white beans over night. Simmer until tender in fresh water and season with a teaspoonful of salt when about half cooked. Let them be quite juicy when taken from the kettle. Add a tablespoonful of molasses, place in a deep crock and stir over two good tablespoonfuls of nut butter. Bake in a slow oven for two or three hours or until they assume a reddish brown tinge. Add some boiling water if they become too dry. Turn into a shallow dish and brown the top nicely before sending to the table.

Baked Bean Salad.—When cold baked beans are on hand they may be made up into a salad as follows: Take a pint of them, the juice of half a lemon, a finely chopped shallot, the white of a stick of celery, some stoned olives and mayonnaise. Put the baked beans into a salad bowl with the lemon juice, the shallot and the celery shredded. Add the mayonnaise and garnish with the stoned olives and slices of fresh tomatoes, if these are available.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

A play of truly remarkable interest and an exceptional timely twist is "A Man's Friends," now running at the Astor theate. Written by Ernest Poole one of the best-liked writers of fiction and special articles in the leading magazines, and a man who was right in the midst of the last political campaign, the situations of this play bear a peculiar analogy to the conditions existing in New York city today. Mr. Poole has developed a gripping story from the fight waged by the District Attorney against corrupt politics, and has gone even further than any of his predecessors in showing up the things that make graft possible and grafters safe.

The play is acted by a cast of exceptional strength. George Fawcett, late star of "The Great John Ganton," and fresh from a London triumph the like of which no American actor has scored in many years, plays the boss. Frederick Burton, who starred in Augustus Thomas' "The Member from Ozark," plays the District Attorney. Vincent Serrano, remembered as the original hero of "Arizona;" Lily Cahill, who first played the heroine in "Joseph and His Brethren;" Harold Russell, who was the grand duke in "The Man From Home;" and Roy Fairchild, who used to do such splendid work with Eleanor Robson, are the other important players.

LEVEE BREAKS.

Memphis, Tenn., April 12.—The main levee on the Arkansas River, protecting Lake Jefferson, fifty miles from the mouth of the river, broke at 1 o'clock this morning. Several towns, including Lake Village, Ark., will be under water by nightfall. The break gives no relief to the levees along the Mississippi.

PRESIDENT'S NOMINATIONS.

Washington, April 12.—President Wilson today sent to the Senate the following nominations: To be third assistant secretary of the State, Dudley Field Malone, of New York; to be counsellor of the department of State, John B. Moore, of New York.

William Brown, of Watchung avenue, who has been seriously ill for some time, is reported as being in a critical condition and his recovery is doubtful.

MOTHER OF TITANIC WAIFS IN POVERTY, SUES FOR $30,000 FOR THEIR SUPPORT

Another chapter of one of the most tragic incidents of the Titanic disaster was enacted when Mrs. Marcelle Navratil, mother of the two little waifs who were rescued and identified, recently filed a claim for $30,000 against the White Star line for the loss of her husband in the disaster.

Mrs. Navratil, who has been unable to obtain any of the relief fund disbursed in this country or of the $2,500,000 raised abroad, has been trying to support her regained children by working as a servant in Nice, France.

500 CLUB MET.

Mrs. John M. Lewin, of Watchung avenue, entertained the "500 club" at her home yesterday afternoon. Cards were placed at four tables after which refreshments were served. Prizes were awarded as follows: First, Mrs. C. G. Clark; second, Mrs. J. H. Snyder; third, Mrs. William Cochran; fourth, Mrs. Allen Coddington.

GIVES RARITAN BAD NAME.

John Sutton, 73 years old, was arraigned before City Judge DeMeza this morning on a charge of being intoxicated. He said he had always been temperate until he worked several months ago in Raritan, where he said there was no such thing as temperance. Upon his promise to be good and drink moderately in the future the court suspended sentence.

ROWDY RELEASED.

London, April 12.—Mrs. Pankhurst, leader of the militant suffragettes, was released from Holloway jail today after serving nine days of her sentence. The release was brought about by physical collapse caused by a hunger strike.

NO REASON FOR IT.

When Plainfield Citizens Show a Way.

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what a Plainfield citizen says:

Mrs. E. Dorflinger, 400 Clinton avenue, Plainfield, N. J., says: "The first symptom of kidney trouble in my case was a dull, heavy pain in my back and head. This was followed by a tired, languid feeling and I knew that my kidneys were gradually giving out. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and getting a box at Randolph's Drug Store, I began using them. Before long I improved and I continued until I was cured. I hold just as high an opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills now as when I gave my fromer testimonial. The cure they made has been permanent."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.—Advertisement.

"VOTES FOR WOMEN" SUPPORTERS BESIEGING CONGRESS.

SUFFRAGISTS MOUNTING THE STEPS OF THE CAPITOL TO PRESENT THEIR PETITIONS TO THEIR CONGRESSMEN. PHOTO. BY G. V. BUCK.

Five hundred woman suffragists, representing every Congressional district, armed with petitions demanding a constitutional amendment for votes for women, marched to the Capitol and delivered their demands in person to their Congressmen.

In marked contrast with the disorderly scenes which attended the suffrage pageant recently, when unruly crowds swamped the police, the marchers on this occasion moved over perfectly cleared streets and under a police

BREAKFAST GIVEN TO THE WIVES OF THE PRESIDENT, VICE PRESIDENT AND CABINET MEMBERS, A UNIQUE AFFAIR

MRS. W. J. BRYAN. PHOTO. BY TOWNSEND.

MRS. WOODROW WILSON COPYRIGHT 1912 BY MARCEAU, N.Y.

Society women of Washington to the number of 350 welcomed the wives of President Wilson, Vice President Marshall and the members of the Wilson Cabinet at a formal breakfast in the capital.

The elimination of wine from the menu was the result of a campaign which caused feeling to run high. Members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, who occupied one of the tables at the affair, were active in the campaign. While 350 women were satisfied because they were invited to the breakfast, at least that many more not invited are to-day in a rather disturbed frame of mind.

Another innovation was the total absence of speeches. Not even an address of welcome to Mrs. Wilson graced the programme. Instead, an illustrated lecture on White House furniture by Mrs. Abbie Gunn Baker followed the breakfast.

PROPOSALS FOR COAL.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Board of Education of the City of Plainfield, N. J., at a meeting held April [illegible], 1913, notice is hereby given that the Board of Education will meet on Wednesday, April 23, 1913, at 8 p. m., at the Board room in the High School building, corner Ninth Street and Arlington avenue, in the City of Plainfield, at which time and place said Board of Education will receive sealed proposals for furnishing eight hundred tons (more or less) of the best anthracite coal for steaming and hot-air purposes; in the different sizes. Bids to specify whether long or short tons.

Payment for all coal contracted for to be made after July 1, 1913.

All proposals to be endorsed "Proposals for Coal," and addressed to the Secretary of the Board.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Board will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding, or their agents, provided such parties or their agents choose to be then and there present; and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Board.

No bids will be received until the day and hour above named, and none thereafter.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

THE BULL IS SAFE AS FAR AS SCOOP IS CONCERNED

"MAC" SAYS

Jupiter Pluvius!

Rain! The old standby, "Game called on account of wet grounds," will sound on many diamonds this afternoon.

Plainfield now has a trio of its baseball artists on the Winston-Salem team of the Carolina League. Tommy Mullin left yesterday to join Slocum and Frederickson, who, from all reports, have been making good.

The postponment of the Somerville-North Plainfield High School game, booked for this afternoon, brings to mind that game as it was played last year. In that contest N. P. H. S. lost by a score of 13 to 8 after scoring five runs in the first two innings and holding the Somervillians scoreless until the fourth. In that game Dunning cracked out a home run, and Bill Taylor got three of his team's nine hits, two three baggers and a double.

A summary of the Nonpareil girls' basketball team brings up more remembrances of the past. This is practically the same team that went through the N. P. H. S. schedule of twenty-one games with but three defeats last season. This makes twenty-eight games won out of a possible thirty-two in the last two years.

As was the case last year, Miss Helen Hummel was the high scorer. In the twenty-one games played she tallied 491 points for an average of twenty-three points a game, two points better that this season.

Something new along the line of athletic competition was introduced to local sportdom last night when a silver cup was awarded to Bert Hansen for efficiency in diving at Proctor's treatre. Hansen's work was beyond question, the best exhibited (either by the "mermaids" or the other contenders).

Plainfield High School will stay home from Passaic today and Leals will have to postpone their trip to Hackensack.

A number of sport followers went to Proctor's to witness the fancy diving contest last night, expecting to see certain persons take part in the event who were nowhere to be found when the curtain rose. Many of those who heralded their entries, backed out when the crucial moment arrived, and still others—well you know what they hesitated for.

Querie—What has become of Jack Ritter, who signed up with Connie Mack's athletics early in the season? A Philadelphia paper says: "Mack will keep all of his pitchers, he now has Bender, Plank, Coombs, Houck, Brown, Pennock, Taft, Cottrell, Bush, Wyckoff and Durining." There is nothing there that could be taken for "Ritter."

Jack Martin's pale seem to be laboring under a jinx.

Roy Hartzell, the third baseman, discovered a fire in his apartment last night and before the firemen could quell the blaze it done $200 worth of damage to the ball player's belongings. Mice started the fire.

WITH THE BOXERS

A French promoter offers a $9,000 purse for a clash between Frank Klaus and Jeff Smith.

Tom O'Rourke, manager of Al Palzer, is trying to arrange a match between Palzer and "Gunboat" Smith.

Tony Caponi has signed to box Art Allard, the Michigan middleweight, at Hancock, Mich., April 22.

Mack Digs Up Some Waddell Records.

Pitcher Rube Waddell in 1904, when a member of the Philadelphia Athletics, struck out 343 men in 277 innings. He registered 16 against New York, 12 against Detroit, 11 against Chicago, 13 against Detroit, 14 against Cleveland and 13 against Washington as his best efforts, according to Manager Connie Mack's records.

TEAM AND INDIVIDUAL RECORDS OF NONPAREIL GIRLS' BASKETBALL FIVE

Playing eleven contests on neutral courts, the Nonpareil girls' basketball team, of this city, managed to win ten out of the eleven games played during the past season, and defeated the team that administered the lone beating so decisively in the second meeting that the local team's superiority was established beyond question. High scores have been the rule in every game, the Nonpareils always annexing their victories decisively by a large margin, and this fact enabled them to roll up a total of 353 points during the season against their opponents' 123. Thus, the year of basketball ended with a compiled score of 353 points in favor of the Nonpareils, against the 123 totaled up by their opponents.

Everyone of the contests was played on a court of a rival team, and this fact makes their long string of victories doubly creditable, their opponents on each occasion being familiar with the court on which the game was to be played. There yet remains one game to be played and that one is heralded as the most important of all by both aggregations interested, for upon it depends the awarding of the 1913 New Jersey State Feminine title. The rival team is the Trenton Y. W. C. A. and as each contender has now won one game, the third is looked forward to with no little amount of interest by all concerned. Each team has its loyal band of cohorts and if the deciding game can be arranged it will no doubt establish a precedent in enthusiasm over a girls' contest. If the play-off should fail to materialize a composite score would probably be taken to award the title, adding up the respective scores for the two games. By this method the Nonpareils would be the winners by a count of 44 to 33.

A total point score shows that the Nonpareils have displayed a stronger shooting game in the first half than in the second, a feature that has been characteristic of their play all season because of the rush started at the moment every contest was sent under way. A tally of 193 has been rung up in the initial period against 160 in the closing half. The Nonpareils have scored 193 points against their opponents' 47 in the opening period, and in the second 160 to 76, bearing out the statement to the effect that the team was stronger in every department in the first half of play.

An undisputed claim to the city championship rests in the possession of the Nonpareil team, they having defeated every other quintet of any importance in Plainfield and North Plainfield, including an all star cast made up of Westfield, Plainfield, Scotch Plains and North Plainfield players. Every barrier has been hurdled successfully and their claims to the inter-city title are conceded without disqute.

As far as the team itself is concerned, the presence and assistance of Miss Helen Hummel at the helm in everyone of the eleven games has in itself meant victory. Miss Hummel, as captain, has been the leading factor in every victory because of her ability to cage field goals and penalty throws. Her record of 225 points is one that is seldom, if ever, equalled during the course of a season by any feminine player, and the mark is still more creditable when the fact that all of her points were tallied in unfamiliar goals is taken into account. A total of seventy-seven field goals and six less fouls were scored by this versatile player during the season, for a record of 22.4 points per game, or enough to win every contest single handed. Her mark was more than that of all of the other feminine players in this city taken together, and there are no less than forty girls actively engaged in the court game hereabouts.

Miss Ida Hummel, a sister of the captain, has firmly embedded herself in second place, having tallied an even 100 points during the season, every one made on field goals, caged in her characteristic overhead style that has made her playing little short of sensational. Her average is nine points per game, which is by no means a low one. As guards, the Misses Smith and McAuliffe, are unequalled in local circles, having shown their calibre in various stiff contests against fast and lithe opponents. Miss Smith demonstrated her ability to "stick" when she held the State famous Miss "Dot" Hayes scoreless in the recent Trenton game. This was the first time that the Trentonian has been treated in this fashion since she started playing the game and in every other contest her long list of field goals has been a conspicuous feature of the box score. Miss Debele has done her share unrelenting, and has proven a capable running mate to Miss Smith.

Although the Misses McAuliffe Burtis and Douglas have not been participants in all of the games, the ones in which they took part were characterized by the quality of their work in their respective positions and each has made herself a valuable asset whenever called upon to enter the fray.

PRESIDENT WILSON OPENING SEASON IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE AT WASHINGTON

PRESIDENT WILSON THROWING IN FIRST BALL

President Wilson was present at the opening game of the American League, between New York and Washington, played at Washington. A monster crowd had gathered to see the first game and, amid loud cheering by thousands, the President threw the first ball in the game.

BASEBALL NOTES

Connie Mack's young pitchers have been performing in genuine big show fashion.

Marty O'Toole was touched for a large diamond Elk pin during the Pirates' stay at Hot Springs, Ark.

"Dutch" Leonard, Janvrin and Foster look to be the only rookies strong enough to stick with the champion Red Sox.

Charlie Dooin's Phillies played like a bunch of wops in their anteseason games with Washington and the Athletics.

Those who have seeen him work this season say that George Mogridge, the southpaw, is the most likely youngster among the White Sox recruits.

Manager Smith, of the Newark team, is trying to put over a dicker for Enos Kirkpatrick, now with Brooklyn. Enos was with the Redskins last season.

Pitcher Noyes, who starred in the Northwestern League last season, has finished his examinations at Northwestern University and joined the Boston Braves.

Florida is fast gaining favor among the big league moguls as a training ground. Next Spring the Athletics will train at Jacksonville, the Cubs at Tampa and the Naps at Pensacola.

Perry Werden, who played ball in the Mound Builders' League, or some other early organization, is to take another fling at the game, this time as an umpire in the New Northern League.

A time clock has been installed at Sportsman's Park, St. Louis, in order to keep tabs on when the Browns report for morning practice. And they say that ball playing like box fighting is no business.

Looks as if Manager Charlie Carr, of the Kansas City Blues, has picked up a fancy flinger in Pitcher Ragan. The youngster stood the Chicago Cubs on their heads the other day, Mike Mitchell being the only one to nick him for a hit.

Boston fans have not yet fully recovered from the shock caused by the Braves piling up eight runs in the ninth inning and beating Washington 8 to 7. As a historical fact this stunt of the Braves makes the Boston Tea Party look a laugh.

When Red Murray, of the Giants, complained about the "high sky that made fly balls hard to judge" in Knoxville recently Josh Devore kicked in with this: "They have that high sky here all the time," said Josh, "it has to be high or else they couldn't get these mountains under it."

BERT HANSEN WON DIVING CONTEST

Six Contestants Try for Honors with "Mermaida" Acting as Judge.

Spurred on by the sympathetic coaxing of "Mermaida" and her diving girls, six Plainfield amphibians, gathered together sufficient courage to compete for the handsome silver loving cup offered for the best exhibition of springboard diving by local talent. Bert Hansen, the husky German turner, had the other entrants "beaten to a frazzel" forty-nine different ways and even the talented "Mermaida" marveled at the local athlete's ability. While Hansen totaled up but twenty out of a possible thirty points, he displayed his unfamiliarity with the springboard, a handicap that was hard for him to overcome. His best dive came in the second attempt when he let his burly body drop lightly into the three feet of water after doing a handstand on the high springboard. For this performance he received nine points, a perfect score of ten, being made impossible by his failure to keep his legs together in the fall.

The event has been a popular subject of discussion here for the past two weeks and many of those who drew their friends to Plainfield's popular playhouse last night by their assertion to the effect that they were entered in the event, lost courage at the last moment and backed out despite earnest entreaties on every hand. A large amount of fun was garnered at the expense of the five unsuccessful contestants, although several of them showed marked ability in one out of the three dives they took. Harry Miller, who was the leader off in the cast, showed his nerve by entering and competing in the event, having no knowledge of swimming. His friends spurred him on to courageous efforts, however, and the human "gafuelt-de-fish" was loudly applauded for his efforts. Bert Trotter was an easy runner up in the event, although his point score did not approach that of Hansen. George Angerbauer also did good work. "Mermaida" acted as judge last night and in making the cup presentation to Hansen, she made the burly athlete blush from ear to ear by her complimentary approval of his work. She will make her last appearance before a Plainfield audience this afternoon and evening.

LEAGUE COMMITTEE COMPLETES DETAILS

Constitutions and Other Side Regulations Will Be Presented to the Board.

A final meeting of the committee appointed to bring about the organization of the Sunday-school baseball league for the coming season was held at the home of Chairman Fred Lounsbury, on Plainfield avenue, last night and everything was arranged for official presentation to the governing board which will convene Friday night, April 25. At that time the board will pass on the six applications received to date for admittance into the oganization and the commitee will offer them a copy of the constitution, by-laws and rules for official ratification.

Every Sunday-school that has filed application to date will be sent a copy of the constitution, by-laws and rules together with a letter of instruction, advising them to have a representative on hand at the meeting April 25. This delegate must be supplied with the proper credentials of representation and they will compose the governing body. This body will include one representative from each entrant in the league, who must be appointed by the Sunday-school superintendent and must be over twenty-five years of age and must not be connected with any team either as a player or manager.

Trinity church filed application for a franchise last night bringing the total up to six, and it is said that Temple Baptist is contemplating entering before the next meeting is called. The six teams are Park Avenue, Hope chapel, Monroe M. E., First Baptist, First Presbyterian and Trinity. All were represented at last night's meeting.

An eligibility rule was agreed on by the committee with the following poevision: Playrrs must be members of the Sunday-school they represent in good standing with a school attendance of fifty per cent. from April 1. This makes it impossible for any candidate playing in the league who joins the school after the middle of April.

MORGAN HELD FINANCIAL SCEPTER RECORD TIME

He Was a Power In Banking Circles For More Than a Third of a Century.

His Son, J. P. Morgan, Jr., Will Take His Place as Head of Firm.

FINANCIAL circles are interested in the question of who will take the place of J. Pierpont Morgan in railroad and business affairs. His son, who has long been associated with him in business, will become head of the Morgan firm, but this does not necessarily mean that he will ever have his father's power. No one man stands out at this time as pre-eminently the leader. George F. Baker, head of the First National bank of New York and identified with fifty-eight big corporations, might fill the dead banker's shoes but for the fact he is seventy-two years old and is planning to retire soon.

"Banking is my business," was the answer given by J. Pierpont Morgan when questioned as to his vocation in various court proceedings.

He was an organizer of great industrial corporations, one of them the largest company in the world; he was the reorganizer of important railroads and dictated the financial policy of more than half the railroads of the country.

His prominence as a banker began with the syndicate which enabled the government to resume specie payments in 1879 and increased steadily from that time until his death.

His prominence in finance and in corporate management or control was of much longer duration than that of any of his predecessors or any of his prominent contemporaries and associates. A dozen years was the measure of Jay Gould's control over security markets and railroads. After no longer a time William H. Vanderbilt collapsed under the strain of extending the New York Central system and blocking the designs of his opponents. E. H. Harriman built up the most powerful railroad organization in the country's history until he came to be the dominating figure in railroad affairs, did all this work in ten years and was gone. Mr. Morgan was forty when he came to be regarded as a man of force and ability in finance, and he steadily strengthened his position for more than thirty years without weakening under the strain.

Had Many Interests.

From these and other men active in Wall street since the civil war Mr. Morgan differed widely in that his financial interests were not his only interests. In yachting, art, literature and travel he spent time that to many of his contemporaries must have seemed wasteful.

His father was a banker before him, and he was trained in the business here and abroad. The father, Junius Spencer Morgan, lived in Hartford with his father, Joseph Morgan, at the time in 1838 when New York city was devastated by its most disastrous fire. The old Aetna Fire Insurance company of Hartford encountered embarrassing losses in the fire, and Joseph Morgan, then proprietor of the City hotel, took hold of the company, reorganized it, saw it through its troubles and eventually realized a profit of $150,000. With a third of the amount he started the son in the mercantile business in Boston.

The Boston enterprise, prospering, attracted the attention of George Peabody, the noted London banker and philanthropist. In the early fifties Mr. Peabody persuaded Junius Spencer Morgan to join him in London, and there was established the banking house of J. S. Morgan & Co., in which Mr. Peabody consented to act as junior partner. The house is still in existence with name unchanged, and it has long been the London house of J. P. Morgan & Co., New York. For several years J. P. Morgan, Jr., has been the senior partner.

Educated In Europe.

A few years before he started business in Boston Junius Spencer Morgan married a daughter of the Rev. John Pierpont, a lineal descendant of the Rev. James Pierpont, who was a contemporary of Elihu Yale and associated with him in founding Yale college. Their only son, John Pierpont Morgan, was born in Hartford, April 17, 1837, and was finishing his course in East high school of Boston as Pip Morgan, a none too brilliant student, when the London banking house was established and the family moved abroad. The son was graduated from the University of Goettingen in 1857.

From the university young Morgan went into the London banking house for two years. He then came to New York and entered the employ of Duncan, Sherman & Co. In the year of the outbreak of the civil war he helped to organize and became a member of the firm of Dabney, Morgan & Co. With this firm he remained until 1869.

After nine years of hiding his light under a bushel Mr. Morgan emerged in 1869 as an antagonist of Jay Gould and James Fisk, who at the zenith of their power were busily engaged in exploiting the Erie. As a tributary to the trunk line they went after the Albany and Susquehanna, a road in bad financial condition then, with its stock selling at 25 cents on the dollar, but as events proved—for in 1909 it paid an extra dividend of $30 a share—a road of great intrinsic value. Mr. Morgan had studied its possibilities as had they. He turned up at the stockholders' meeting with stock control, though not until the time of the meeting had it occurred to Mr. Gould and Mr. Fisk that their operation was opposed, least of all by young Morgan.

One Long Legal Fight.

There followed a legal fight, but if Mr. Gould had no trouble in securing appointment of a receiver from the Tweed judges Morgan and his associates were equally successful in getting their own receiver named by an up state judge. What was more to the point, the Morgan people persuaded Governor Hoffman to protect their receiver by calling out the militia.

During part of the contest the stock transfer books were hidden in an empty tomb in an Albany cemetery. There were as many as twenty-five lawsuits, but in the end the Morgan party triumphed, leased the road to the Delaware and Hudson, which still controls it, and soon saw stock they had bought at 25 cents a share go above par.

The Drexels of Philadelphia had no New York house, and the financial primacy of Philadelphia, which waned with the decline of Jay Cooke, had already passed to New York. They were impressed with Mr. Morgan's achievement in Albany and Susquehanna, took him in as a partner and placed him in charge of the New York house of the reorganized firm of Drexel, Morgan & Co. Mr. Morgan did business under this firm name until 1895, although two years before he had become senior partner. In 1895 the firm was reorganized as J. P. Morgan & Co., and the Philadelphia business left to the Drexels alone. In that house, the house of J. S. Morgan & Co., London, and Morgan, Harjes & Co., Paris, Mr. Morgan did his business until his death.

"Doctor of Wall Street" In '93.

It was in the panic of 1893 and in the two or three years following that the Morgan office became known as the hospital for crippled railroads. Chauncey M. Depew dubbed Mr. Morgan the "doctor of Wall street," and the name stuck for several years or until the patients were all out of Mr. Morgan's care. Many of them Mr. Morgan refused to discharge from the hospital with clean bills of health for several years. These cases were those in which it was deemed necessary for the bankers supplying the money to retain control of the properties so as to see how the money was spent. There originated in this way the voting trust method of control.

The organization of the United States Steel corporation, with its capitalization of $1,300,000,000, then as now, the biggest company in the world, was the greatest of Mr. Morgan's achievements, yet the negotiations, tremendously difficult and complicated though they were, were carried through with unexampled speed.

Criticism Wounded Him.

To the United States Steel corporation from the time of its organization up to the time of his death Mr. Morgan gave more of his time than to any other business matter. When the corporation was launched he was very bitterly criticised for the extravagance of its capitalization. It was charged that the common stock of $500,000,000 was all water, that it represented nothing and that sale of common stock was nothing more or less than getting something for nothing. When in the depression of 1903 the company was obliged to pass dividends on its common stock and the stock sold down to 8 after having been launched at 50 the criticisms became extremely bitter and spread all over the world.

There is no doubt that Mr. Morgan felt these criticisms more keenly than he did any other attack ever made upon him, even in the period of bitterness and misunderstanding following the Cleveland bond issues. It was accordingly one of the happiest days of Mr. Morgan's life when in 1906 the company was able to resume dividends on its common stock and resume them under such conditions as to give good assurance of permanency.

In the two years when no dividend was paid the company had appropriated from earnings very large sums for new construction, and long before Mr. Morgan's death was able to show that it had put into new construction at least $350,000,000, representing actual fixed value for the common stock in addition to what it had at the time of the company's organization.

Mr. Morgan was the first American banker to handle a foreign loan, refunding the Mexican government's debt of $110,000,000 in 1899. Since that time few foreign loans had been placed here until the last year. Now all the international banking houses consider it as important from the standpoint of the country's prosperity to place American money abroad as to have foreign money here.

How Much Was He Worth?

Many estimates of Mr. Morgan's wealth have been made. It has never been suggested that it was as great as John D. Rockefeller's, whose fortune is often appraised at a billion. The average guess on the Morgan fortune is $500,000,000. Others range all the way from $250,000,000 to $750,000,000. One guess is probably as good as another.

People who go into statistics have liked to compile tables showing the Morgan resources. One of them recently demonstrated to his satisfaction that Mr. Morgan controlled financial institutions and corporations with resources of $14,000,000,000. The table was imposing, but the so called table of resources was a table of capitalization of all companies in which Mr. Morgan had influence.

Mr. Morgan himself was a director in but three important railroad systems, New York Central, New York, New Haven and Hartford and Erie. Erie was under his control, but the New Haven had Kuhn, Loeb & Co. as fiscal agents and it was only as fiscal agent of the Central and through association with the Vanderbilts that Morgan's influence was important there. He was not a railroad manager. He knew "nothing about traffic," he once testified, but exercised influence in railroading simply as a banker.

His Railroad Interests.

The Morgan firm was in control of the Southern Railway and was influential in the Northern Pacific, the Burlington and the Atchison. Mr. Morgan was also regarded as the most influential person in the Reading, Lehigh Valley and Jersey Central, and in the anthracite trade generally. He assisted in the financing of various transit and tunnel lines in New York city.

The only other important Morgan transportation company is International Mercantile Marine, one of the less successful of the Morgan promotions. The British government at the start dealt the combination a hard blow by subsidizing the Cunard line and thus keeping it out of the combine.

His Son the Boss Now.

J. P. Morgan, Jr.—Jack Morgan or Young J. P., as he has long been called—is by no means a young man or an inexperienced one. He is well along toward fifty and has been engaged in business with his father since his graduation from Harvard. For many years he has been head of the firm's London house. But ordinarily when his father was abroad the son had general charge of the business here, subject to the daily cables constantly passing between the elder Morgan and his firm. He is the senior member of the house now and, as was his father, is the boss.

The new head of the firm resembles his father in appearance and in the direct and incisive manner of his work. He is a "yes and no" man, of few words, but of sure and prompt decision. Like his father, he gained his earlier training in banking abroad and supplemented it with long experience here. Between the two men the only observable difference has been that the younger is smoother or more suave. He has little of the brusqueness which the father was wont to show in moments of impatience.

Philanthropy Hidden In Ledger.

Mr. Morgan's gifts and benefactions, though incomparable with those of Andrew Carnegie and John D. Rockefeller, were more numerous than has been generally known. He was as reticent regarding them as on any other personal or trusiness matter. A great many of his gifts never will be known unless the knowledge can be extorted from the keeper of a private ledger in which these accounts were kept.

Mr. Morgan's gifts to literature and art, which were the most costly of his public benefactions, are well known. The largest single gift was $4,500,000 for the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. The next was $1,350,000 for the establishment of the lying-in hospital near his favorite St. George's church, of which he was long a warden. For a new parish house and rectory for St. George's church he gave $300,000 and numerous smaller sums like $100,000 to the Young Men's Christian association.

In 1861 Mr. Morgan married Miss Amelia Sturgis. She died the following year. In 1865 he married Miss Frances Tracy, who survives. They had four children, a son, J. P. Morgan, Jr., and three daughters, Mrs. Herbert L. Satterlee, Mrs. William Pierson Hamilton and Miss Anne T. Morgan.

ADVERTISE All Your Wants, To Let, For Sale, Boards, Personals, etc., in The DAILY PRESS. 1c A WORD

HOME

The average man spends half his life at Home. That takes into account the nights at the club, at lodge, at the theatre, or sitting up with a sick friend. It also takes into account the fellow who sees home often enough only to establish a voting residence. He is balanced off in averaging up by the man who spends a good deal more than half his life at Home. The Newark Sunday Call has figured this all out and says that the statement that more than half of life is spent at Home cannot be disputed. If there is any doubt about it, keep a time schedule for a week or so. The Average Women? Bless you, three-quarters of her life is spent at Home! And that includes the working woman, too, the real NEW WOMAN.

Home shapes up as a pretty big proposition, considering all that. The world realizes it, too, for most of the world's efforts go toward providing homes. Right down at the bottom of things, you come up against that great big reason for it all—"Home."

There was a poet who said that Home was not merely four square walls. That was the absolute truth. Home is what you make it, whether you call it palace, villa, flat, cottage or hut. Some people can make a hall bed-room more homey than others can with a $300,000 marble mansion. It is wholly up to the individual. But as half a life time is to be spent at Home, it is worth trying to make it a success. A real homey Home is life's biggest success.

The poet's four square walls idea, however, should not be taken wholly at its face value. Most truths should not. There is always that little exception to the rule lurking in the background. Accept the truth, but also dig out that little exception and digest its meaning. Then you will get the full value out of the truth. Four square walls do not make a Home. But they help. The better those same walls are the better chance of making a successful Home. Be careful in choosing a setting for the jewel—the home jewel. Remember that you must use that setting half your life. Pick some thing that will wear. See that it is good. That means be careful in choosing your abode. Whether it be a house, a flat or a room, choose it carefully. Whether you buy or rent, remember you are selecting a setting for the biggest thing in life—Home.

The Plainfield Daily Press

thinks a lot about Home. That is natural, for Homes form its destination when it leaves the presses ready for distribution among its thousands of readers. The Daily Press likes to take part in home making and it does all it can to further that end in what it prints. It can aid you in selecting your setting for your Home—the dwelling, whatever form it may take.

The owner of a house who wishes to sell or rent the house goes to an agent—if he be wise and wants results. The agent gives publicity to the owner's desire, attends to the troublesome incidental business, and accomplishes the desired results.

The agent has the assistance of another agent—a very powerful agent for this sort of work. This other agent is the RELIABLE NEWSPAPER, the newspaper that reaches the kind of people the owner would want to sell or rent to. The DAILY PRESS is such an agent. It reaches this desirable clientage and is used by responsible agents. Look at the names of the agents who advertise real estate for sale or to let and note the high character of these advertisers. their agent because it reaches the kind of people They, in turn, have chosen the DAILY PRESS as they want for clients.

Choose your home setting carefully. Study the For Sale and To Let advertisements in the DAILY PRESS. Make notes of what appeals to you, write to the agent or the owner, and inspect the property. You are dealing with established business concerns who can aid you in this big work of Home-Making. They, the agents, are seeking your patronage because you are the kind they want dealings with—the kind who can be reached through the DAILY PRESS.

Copy for These Classified Advertisements is received until 1:30 each afternoon. Minimum charge is 10c.

WOMAN IS SHOT SAVING HUSBAND

Bullet Meant for Assailant's Brother Lodges in Her Sister-in-law.

VICTIM WILL RECOVER

Family Quarrel Among Local Italians Cause of Crime—Prisoner to Be Arranged This Afternoon in City Court.

Frustrating an alleged attempt to murder her husband early this morning, Mrs. Angelina Princippati, of 431 West Third street, was shot in the back and is in Muhlenberg Hospital in a serious condition. Mrs. Maria Foruri, 24 years old, of the same address, was arrested by Roundsman Charles Flynn, charged with the crime. She confessed and is being held on a charge of attrocious assault with intent to kill. The prisoner will be arraigned before Judge DeMeza late this afternoon. Tony Princippati, the man for whom the bullet was intended, is held at headquarters as a material witness. He is a brother of the accused.

Mrs. Feruri fired three shots, using a 32 calibre revolver. Two went astray and were imbedded in the walls of the bedroom of the Princippati apartment where the shooting occurred. The third shot took effect.

The origin of the trouble dates back to Friday, April 11, when Mr. and Mrs. Foruri quarrelled because the latter had loaned her brother, Tony Princippatti, $12 and a mattress. For this Mrs. Foruri said her husband had severely beaten her. This morning shortly after 6 o'clock, according to the police, Mrs. Foruri went to her brother's apartment on the first floor, and demanded that he return the loaned articles. This so enraged Princippatti that he jumped from his bed, grabbed his sister by the throat and a lively hand-to-hand fight took place. Screaming Mrs. Foruri ran to her room on the second floor and secured a revolver. Mrs. Princippati, attracted by the noise made by the brother and sister in their scuffle, arrived on the scene just as the enraged Mrs. Foruri came running down the stairs brandishing a gun.

As she neared the door leading to the Princippati apartment, the Foruri woman opened fire. Mrs. Princippati, with a wild scream, ran between her husband and the armed woman, and slammed the door shut. As the door was shut the third shot rang out. Traveling through the door panel, the bullet lodged in Mrs. Princippati's back.

A colored man, whose name could not be learned, informed Roundsman Charles Flynn who was several blocks away that he had heard revolver shots at the West Third street address. Flynn went post haste to the scene of the shooting and placed Mrs. Foruri under arrest, and telephoned for the ambulance.

At the sight of the policeman the assailant ran from the room but was caught in the hallway.

This afternoon at the hospital it was said the victim would probably recover.

TO GIVE JEWISH PLAY.

Members of the Jehurda-Helevi Camp 57, O. S. of Z., made arrangements at their meeting held in the lodge rooms last night to present a play in Jewish, something that has never before been attempted in this city. The affair will be given in the Reform Hall, Wednesday evening, April 23, and will be staged by local talent. Officers were elected by the camp at this meeting as follows: President, Harry Katz; vice president, Z. Kuirthy; treasurer, Samuel Goldson; financial secretary, S. Seigel; recording secretary, Henry Rosenbaum; and sergeant-at-arms, E. Madler.

FAMOUS DEGREE TEAM COMING.

The widely-known degree team of the South Hudson Council, Royal Arcanum, will visit Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, Thursday evening, April 24, for the purpose of exemplifying the ritualistic ceremonies upon a class of several applicants for membership. The degree team will bring its own paraphernalia and will be accompanied by a large delegation of members from Bayonne and vicinity.

NO OUTSTANDING DEBT.

The annual report of Samuel Bingaman, treasurer, of the First M. E. church, as announced in the weekly calendar yesterday, shows that the church has no outstanding indebtedness. The total receipts for the year were $8,311.30, and the expenditures, $8,302.97, leaving a balance of $8.33. The expenditures include salaries of pastor, sexton, rent of parsonage, current repairs and supplies.

W. R. HEARST BITTERLY ATTACKS PRESIDENT

Senatorial Aspirant Assails Wilson Calling Him British Free Trader.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, April 14.—A profound sensation among Democrats has been caused by the publication here of a letter from William R. Hearst attacking President Wilson as a British free trader and a leader with Federalistic and undemocratic tendencies. The immediate effect of the publication is expected to be further widening of the schism between the moderate tariff revisionists in the Senate and the radical low tariff men. It is the first note of open dissension in the Democratic party although the murmurings have been echoing for some time.

Mr. Hearst is understood here to desire to be Senator from New York to succeed Root. His challenge is Wilson is expected to align the conservative and radical tariff revisionists of the Senate. For the present the administration is having its own way in the House and Chairman Underwood is holding his lines invincible against all attacks.

A struggle over free wool is expected in the caucus but the upholding of the administration rates on sugar is a straw indicating probable similar action as to wool.

SIMPLE SERVICE MARKS J. P. MORGAN'S FUNERAL

New York, April 14.—At exactly 10 o'clock the coffin containing the body of J. P. Morgan was brought into St. George's church, in Stuyvesant Square, within one block of the Maternity Hospital, which Mr. Morgan founded and endowed.

The arrival of the hearse and of the coaches, containing the members of the Morgan family, was marked by extreme simplicity. The hearse was without special adornment. The police arrangement was all that could be desired. Stuyvesant Park was filled by a crowd of onlookers. Streets leading to the church were kept clear by the police who demanded special permits of any person entering from within two blocks of the church edifice.

The funeral service lasted about one hour and at 1 o'clock the coffin was removed from the church to the hearse and the procession started for the Grand Central Terminal, where the body was put on board a train for Hartford, Conn. The funeral services were without incident.

BROOKLYN CLERGYMAN PREACHES TWO SERMONS

Two highly interesting sermons were preached in the Park Avenue Baptist church yesterday by Rev. Joel Slocum, pastor of the Greenwood Avenue Baptist church, of Brooklyn. In the morning he took for his text the testimony of Paul, "I know in whom I have believed, and am presuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day." He strongly impressed upon his hearers the lesson of perfect trust and confidence in God, a faith like unto the Rock of Gibraltar that cannot be shaken. The possibilities of such a life, the speaker said, are without limit, for God can accomplish great things through a life that trusts implicitly in Him.

In the evening Dr. Slocum preached on the subject "What is Man?" and held the close attention of his congregation in his reference to the wonderful achievements of man in the business world, in the construction of gigantic bridges, in architecture, in electricity, particularly during the past twenty-five years. The speaker said he had no sympathy with the idea that man is mere nothing; on the contrary, man was made a little lower than the Angels—yes, and reverently too, a little lower than God, and there is no reason why we should not look for even greater results in the material world as time goes on.

TO APPEAR HERE.

Miss Lillian Snyder, daughter of Samuel Snyder, a local sign painter, will make her first appearance in vaudeville in Plainfield at Proctor's theatre, Friday night, in a musical skit. The young woman has been living in Brooklyn, where she is known as "The Little Mascot." Her act is known as the "Three In One," being musical, vocal and comedy. She plays the violin, sings popular and operatic selections and gives a pretty dance. Wherever Miss Snyder has appeared she has been well received.

RECORD FOR MARCH AT LOCAL HOSPITAL

During Month 146 Were Admitted to Institution; 118 Treated in Dispensary.

The statistical report of the work at Muhlenberg Hospital for the month of March is indicative of active service, although it did not equal the record-breaking report of the previous month. The detailed statistics for March follow:

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR FRED'K WESTPHAL HELD

The funeral service of Frederick Westphal, formerly of this city, but more recently of Newark, was held at 402 Park avenue, yesterday afternoon, and was in charge of Central Lodge, No. 48, A. O. U. W., of which Mr. Westphal was a member for many years. There was a large attendance of the lodge members, as well as relatives and old friends. There were many floral tributes, including one from Central Lodge.

Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of the First M. E. church, conducted the religious service, and the lodge conducted its ritualistic service, the principal parts being taken by William Newcorn as past master workman and L. J. Spicer as master workman. The burial was in Hillside cemetery and the pall-bearers were Charles H. Randolph, David Ryno, Joseph Kingston, Edwin A. Lewis, W. H. Lunger, and Edward Mosher, of Central Lodge.

REV. DR. STRONG'S SERMON AT 1ST BAPTIST CHURCH

"Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever," was Dr. Philip B. Strong's theme yesterday morning at the First Baptist church. "How absurd it would sound if one were to substitute any other name than that of deity in the place of the name of Christ in this statement. Notice that the essertion is not 'Jesus Christ was the same yesterday as He is today, and will be forever.' But He is, yesterday, today and always. With God there is no past, present and future, but He holds eternity in His hands. 'Before Abraham was, I am,' not was. And because Jesus was deity, He is unchanging.

"We should scarcely admire a human being who would say 'I am the same today that I was yesterday, and I shall be forever.' We expect advancement on the part of imperfect, finite creatures. They should not be the same at any time that they were at a previous time. But deity could not be deity and be vacillating. He must ever be the same, in knowledge, in power, in loving kindness and compassion. If it were not so, He would be an imperfect God.

"As Jesus Christ was in character when here in the flesh, He is now. If He was tender and loving, if He cared for the sorrows of others, if He delighted in little children then, He does also now. Up from Mt. Olivet went a glorified man, and though you may think you cannot understand God the Father, you cannot fail to grasp God the Son, our Kinsman-Redeemer, who was the revelation of the Father.

TITSWORTH'S CHANGE.

The Engineering Record in its current issue has the following item of interest: "Ralph B. Titsworth, formerly of Plainfield, who was contract manager for the McClintoc, Marshall Steel Construction Company, of Pittsburg, Pa., with offices in Pittsburg, has associated himself with the Detroit Bridge & Steel Company, as vice president, with offices in Detroit." Mr. Titsworth is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Titsworth, of this city.

ASTHMA WAS FATAL TO MRS. BUCHANAN

Died in New York on Returning From Texas, Where She Sought Relief.

The funeral service of Mrs. Lillian B. Buchanan, aged 33 years, wife of Walter H. Buchanan, will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the home of her brother, Clarence Thorn, 105 Grandview avenue, the borough. Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of the First M. E. church, will officiate, and the burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

Mrs. Buchanan, who was the youngest daughter of Guillermo Thorn, was born in this city, where she lived until her marriage eight years ago. The couple removed to New York, where Mr. Buchanan was employed as an engraver for the American Bank Note Company. Prior to coming to this country Mr. Buchanan, a Canadian by birth, served throughout the Boer War with a Canadian regiment.

Mrs. Buchanan had been suffering from asthma and two months ago went to San Antonio, Texas, hoping that the change would be beneficial. She failed to improve and decided to return home. En route it was necessary to take her off the train at St. Louis for treatment. The journey was resumed and she arrived in New York on Friday night, and was removed to the City Hospital there where she died Saturday afternoon. She is survived by her father, Guillermo Thorn, a sister, Mrs. A. C. Wyckoff, and two brothers, Clarence Thorn, and William H. Thorn, the latter being a clerk at the Plainfield postoffice.

DINNER AND DANCE AT THE PARK CLUB

Unity Circle, City Union of the King's Daughters, Holds Successful Event.

The dinner-dance at the Park Club, Saturday night, under the auspices of Unity Circle of The King's Daughters, was one of the most successful, as well as popular affairs, ever given by that energetic organization of young women. There were nearly two hundred guests at the dinner, whole many additional ones came for the dance which followed.

The club auditorium was elaborately decorated for the occasion, the prevailing colors being yellow, pale pink and lavendar. There was a profusion of southern smilax and spring flowers, attractively arranged by the young women. Dinner was served at twenty-two tables, by the Misses Ruth Timpson, Alverda Holland, Anna Scott Yerkes, Marion Snyder, Alice Smith, Mary Barlow, Mary Rushmore, Gwendolyn Gough, Sylvia Curtis, Marjorie Harris, Beatrice Hedges, Audrey Gernon, Bessie Alpaugh, Gertrude Bowlby, Helen Hyde, Marjorie Brown, Eleanore DeGraff, Kate Barlow, Barbara Fleming, Helen Bryce, Mrs. Harold Underhill and Mrs. George English. The menu, an excellent one, was prepared by Mrs. Henry Johnson.

SCHOOL RECEPTION LARGELY ATTENDED

Hereafter the Receptions Will Be Limited to a Social Dance.

Although many were prevented from attending the weekly reception held in the Washington School Saturday night by the inclement weather, those who braved the rain thoroughly enjoyed the social program arranged by the committee of women in charge including Mrs. Champlain L. Riley, Mrs. O. H. Smith and Mrs. Joseph Smith. Dancing took a prominent place in the evening's entertainment. Aaron Hirsh, a local school boy, furnished the terpischore music.

Emerson E. Parvin, who started a lecture on the "Building of Steamboats," at the last meeting, took up the subject again Saturday night from the point where he left off and his talk proved to be a most interesting one. He described the mannish steamboats of today and contrasted them with the sea faring craft of ages gone by. He also showed how the steamships of today compared in usefulness with their predecessors and the many uses to which they may be put at the present time. It has been decided by the committee in charge of the promotion of this reception work, to limit the Saturday evening affairs to a social dance and hereafter no lecture program will be included.

PETTY THIEVES STOLE CHILDREN'S OFFERINGS

Petty thieves broke into the chapel of the First Presbyterian church last night and opening the superintendent's desk by forcing the cover, took the contents of a "mite" box containing the donations of children. While the amount stolen was only about a dollar, the officers of the church have become greatly incensed as this is the third time within the last few years that the chapel has been entered with intent to loot.

The culprit, or culprits, as the case may be, used a candle in his depredations and the idea of anyone prowling around in the night with a light of any kind lends considerable seriousness to the incident as there is a large amount of inflamable material around where the thieves operated and in their haste they might have set fire to the chapel doing considerable damage.

While no arrests have been made the authorities are watching several suspects and the offender will be dealt with severely in the case he is caught, according to statements made by church officers today.

DISPUTE OVER $1 CAUSE OF KILLING

Mateio Papaillo in Row Fatally Stabs Thomas Deer, a Colored Man.

ASSAILANT CAPTURED

On Death Bed Victim Identifies His Slayer—Prisoner is Held Without Bail to Await Grand Jury Action on Charge of Murder.

Stabbed twice in the abdomen by an Italian named Mateio Papalillo, 29 years old, of 213 West Third street, Thomas Deers, colored, 35 years old, of 217 West Third street, died in Muhlenberg Hospital at 10 o'clock Saturday night, four hours after being attacked. The murder was the result of a quarrel over house rents involving a matter of $1.00. Papalillo, who committed the crime, was arrested by Sergeant John Flynn and when arraigned before City Judge DeMeza at 2 o'clock this afternoon, charged with murder, was held without bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

William F. Allen, of 158 Somerset street, was an eye-witness to the stabbing affray. Involved in the quarrel and being held in $1,000 bail as material witnesses are: Galtano Doranzo and Mario Doranzo, of 670 West 187th street, New York, owners of the row of houses at 213 to 217 West Third street; Salvatore Valarde, of No. 217 West Third street; Francisco Pappe, of 423 Cottage place, and Francisco Paridison, of 829 Richmond street.

According to the police, the two Doranzos came out from New York late Saturday afternoon to collect rents due from their various tenants. Deers met them in front of his home and protested that he was paying $8 per month for his apartment, whereas all other tenants were charged only $7. This caused a heated debate, in which several other Italians and colored men took sides with the men of their respective race. During the discussion, Mateio Papalillo called Deers vile names and they engaged in a fight. Blows were exchanged, when Paplillo drew an ugly looking dirk, which had been concealed on his person with blade drawn. Shouting curses in Italian, he launched the blade into the colored man's abdomen. With a groan, Deers realed over, clutching his stomach. Bending over his victim, Papalillo again thrust the knife in Deers' body. This time the blade sunk deep into his antagonist's solar plexus. An autopsy performed by County Physician Dr. F. W. Westcott, revealed that this thrust subsequently caused death, by severing several intestines. At the sight of the bloody knife in the assassin's hand and Deers' prostrate body lying on the ground, the crowd dispersed.

The wounded man was carried by his wife and several men into his room. Mrs. Deers, after recovering from her excitement, but ignorant that her husband was near death, hurried to police headquarters and notified Chief Kiely. Detective-Sergeant Flynn and several patrolmen were rushed to the scene of the affray, and at the same time the hospital ambulance was summoned.

Flynn found Deers in his room, gasping for breath, but dressing his wounds with his own hands. Search was instituted for Papalillo and he was caught while leaving his house with his wife, evidently bent on making his escape. Dr. James F. Lawson, of East Third street, who was summoned, was first to examine the wounded man. At the hospital he was immediately placed on the operating table in an effort to save his life. City Physician Dr. Norman W. Currie and Dr. William Murray were in charge.

Shortly after 8 o'clock it was seen that despite all efforts, Deers would die and Chief Kiely was notified to that effect. Accompanied by Flynn, he took the prisoner to the bedside to secure a ante-mortem statement. A tragic scene was witnessed when Deers was asked to identify the man who stabbed him. Raising himself on his left elbow with feeble effort, Deers faced the handcuffed Papalillo, and with trembling voice and pointing an accusing finger at the Italian said: "There's the man who stabbed me." With a groan he fell back on the pillows of the hospital cot. Papalillo was led from the room and later lodged again in a cell at headquarters, where he is being closely guarded.

When the hearing began at 2 o'clock this afternoon the court room was cleared of a curious crowd. This precaution was taken to prevent any action of vengeance by the dead man's friends. Extra policemen were detailed in the neighborhood as it is expected that other quarrels will result from the killing.

Prosecutor Alfred A. Stein and Assistant Prosecutor John R. O'Connor came up from Elizabeth yesterday afternoon and conducted an investigation. They were also present at today's hearing.

Lexington, Ky., April 14.—The one hundred and thirty-sixth birthday anniversary of Henry Clay, the famous Kentucky statesman, was celebrated Saturday with interesting exercises conducted under the auspices of the Lincoln School of this city. The address of the day was delivered by Henry Clay McDowell, a great-great-grandson of the statesman.

STYLISH — RELIABLE

There Would Be Fewer Failures

If there were fewer men blocking the way to their own success.

Success is exclusive—it keeps itself scarce; but whenever you see it, it is well dressed!

"Hard luck" says "I can't afford to dress well."

Success says "I can't afford NOT to dress well."

Dressing well is no longer a matter of money—it's a matter of desire.

And if any man refuses NOW to show himself to the world a this best, it is his own fault, because,

takes in Serges, Cheviots and Fancy Mixtures; it is a garment that is grander than anything priced so low as $15.

Other suits are priced at low as $10, and as high as $30; but if $15 is your price for a suit, just ask to see the "special" and you'll be amazed.

L. BAMBERGER & CO. NEWARK, N. J.

CORNISH IS IDEAL SUMMER CAPITAL

President's Family Will Find Quiet There.

BEAUTIFUL SCENERY NEAR.

Churchill Home, Harlakenden, the Summer White House, Is In New Hampshire, but Executive Offices Will Be at Windsor, Vt., Three Miles Away.

President Wilson and his family will find an ideal summer residence in Harlakenden, Winston Churchill's country estate at Cornish, N. H., which has been selected as the summer White House. A magnificent house, beautiful surroundings and a location which insures peace and quiet combine to make Harlarkenden all that could be desired in a place to while away the summer months.

The mansion, which is of unusual design, sits back from the turnpike that runs from Windsor, Vt., to Meriden, N. H., is well hidden from the eyes of travelers and commands a splendid view of the Connecticut river and valley.

The estate of 700 acres is in the heart of one of the most exclusive summer colonies in the north country and is the largest in the township of Cornish. Its seclusion cannot fail to provide the desired peace and quiet for the president and his family. The mansion stands within seventy-five yards of the river banks and in the midst of a heavily wooded forest of oak and pine.

A Colonial Mansion.

The house is of brick, two stories high. Its front overlooks the river, while two approaches from the main roadway lead to its rear entrance in the center of two wings. In its stern simplicity the house bears out the spirit of the colonial days.

Cornish village, the town seat, is six miles away in the direction of Plainfield, which bounds it on the north. It is a typical New England village. Its area is large, covering many extensive farms, and has a permanent population of 2,000. The influx of summer colonists, however, nearly doubles this number.

Windsor, Vt., is only three miles from the summer White House and will be the seat of the executive offices. The postoffice and telegraph station there will be enlarged to meet the additional business.

The president's family will do their shopping in the Vermont town. It is reached over a toll bridge which tradition says is more than 100 years old. The charge is 2 cents for a pedestrian. The road to Windsor affords a delightful drive.

The president will have as neighbors many who have attained more or less celebrity in arts and letters, including Maxfield Parrish, Stephen Parrish, Louis Shipman, Kenyon Cox, Mrs. Augustus St. Gaudens, Dr. Fred Peterson, Norman Hapgood, Percy Mackaye and H. D. Croly. The summer colony extends over an area of several miles on either side of Harlakenden.

View of Pretty Valley.

The mansion of Harlakenden contains about thirty rooms, sixteen of which are sleeping chambers on the upper floors. Three sides of the mansion form a wide court, the approach being on the side away from the river. South of the mansion is a semicircular terrace overlooking the Connecticut river, accessible only by passing through the house. Two pergola-like porches flank the terrace, and one of them forms an ideal outdoor dining room.

There is no church of the Presbyterian denomination in Cornish. The nearest is at Windsor, where the president and his family will probably attend services. The Universalist church, which draws the largest congregation, is attended by the majority of the summer colonists. It is believed that the Wilsons will divide their worship between the Presbyterian and Universalist churches during the coming season.

Harlakenden is nearly a quarter of a mile from the pike and is hidden from view by a grove of handsome pine trees. It has a site on a bluff halfway down the slope to the river.

In the center of the semicircular driveway leading to the rear of the house are a children's playground, a vegetable garden and an excellent tennis court. A pleasing shade for the playground is provided by pine and poplar trees.

Another road which branches from that by which entrance is gained to the estate leads down to the river drive. The drive starts at this point and follows the river bank for three miles to Pierce's Falls, the termination of the estate boundary line. There is a dense forest on either side of the road. Among the townspeople it is considered one of the beauty spots of the village.

Cornell Has Champion Hen.

Professor James E. Rice of the poultry department at Cornell is proud of the remarkable egg laying record of Cornell Supreme, the prize hen in the poultry department at the State College of Agriculture. She has laid 660 eggs in three years, the highest sustained yield, Professor Price says, for three years, so far as he knows. The 660 eggs weighed 86.19 pounds, or 25.82 times the weight of the hen.

SOME STARTLING FIGURES.

Some rather startling facts and figures of a year's work in the Department of Weights and Measures are to be found in the first annual report of State Superintendent William L. Waldron, which has just been issued in pamphlet form. Particularly interesting is the summary of tests made during the past year in Union county by that efficient district superintendent, Augustus W. Schwartz. The equipment tested included weighing machines, capacity and lineal measures and weights.

Schwartz's examination of dry measures, it is stated, numbered 922, and of these ninety were faulty. This was a small percentage compared with the liquid measures, 116 out of 505 falling short of the requirement. Among the 3,057 weights he investigated, 483 were short. As for the lineal measures, counter tacks alone revealed that eighty-one out of 350 were less than the length the storekeepers claimed for them. Nearly one-third of the counter scales were condemned, for of some 734, 211 were short weight. These are but a few of the items in the report, but they are sufficient to show that the housewife should always be on her guard against the unscrupulous or neglectful shopkeeper notwithstanding the vigilance of the authorities. And there is but one satisfactory way to be protected. Get for the kitchen a good scale and a set of accurate dry and liquid measures, but before using them ask Mr. Schwartz to test them for accuracy.

Hoboken votes on the Walsh act tomorrow, but the agitation there is not so healthy as in Plainfield for in the Hudson county city party politics and not the merits of the question will likely decide the issue. The Republicans favor the proposed change while the Democrats and Socialists are opposed to it. Here in Plainfield politics cuts no figure in the discussion of the matter, Republicans, Democrats and Progressives alike favoring the adoption of the commission plan. For instance, Percy H. Stewart, a Democrat, and his two predecessors, G. W. V. Moy, a Progressive, and Charles J. Fisk, a Republican, are all strongly in favor of the commission rule. The same may be said of many of the present officeholders, including councilmen and heads of departments. This is as it should be, and it is most unfortunate that the Hoboken campaign is in such a shape.

A subject of vital interest to humanity will be discussed at the Plainfield High School auditorium on Monday night, April 28, for the theme will be "The Prevention of Tuberculosis." The purpose of the meeting will be to arouse interest in the Plainfield Anti-Tubeculosis Society's open air day school work. Specialists in the treatment of the great white plague will tell of the most advanced methods of staying the progress of the disease and or curing the patient during the incipient stage of the disease. This is a problem which should interest all in the community and it should be considered a matter of duty to attend.

Something should be done, and done now, to put an end to the disgraceful condition along Front street and Park avenue, in the business section, on Sundays. Paper and other waste litter up these two thoroughfares and no attempt is made to have it cleaned up. Has the Councilmanic street committee ever heard of that slogan, "Plainfield, the City Beautiful"?

Professor Taft has chosen as his subject for a series of nine lectures to be delivered at Yale, "Questions of Modern Government." He should not neglect to explain how a Republican form of government can be conducted successfully when a President is surrounded by Penroses, Lorimers, Barnes and their like.

The recently enacted law providing that there shall be not more than one retail liquor license for every 500 population, it may be recalled, was among the recommendations of the State Excise Commission's report, former Mayor Fisk being the president of that body.

For next Saturday's issue, the contributing editor will be a man known as an authority on maritime affairs. Contributed editors by local residents are a regular Saturday feature of this paper.

The idea of the commission plan is to better the system of government. It is the last word in the correct method of administering the affairs of a municipality.

Add to the list of "of the meanest thief," the one who stole a children's offering at the First Presbyterian church yesterday.

R. C. CHURCH DESTROYED.

New York, April 14.—The Roman Catholic Church of St. Thomas of the Apostles, one of the finest in New York city, was destroyed by fire this morning. The loss is more. than $200,000. The edifice was located at 118th street and St. Nicholas avenue.

—Neuman Bros. will have for tomorrow's trade a large assortment of fresh vegetables, including asparagus, cauliflower, green peas, green and wax beans, beets and new potatoes. **

YOUTH DISAPPEARS; MOTHER IS WORRIED

Wallace Reed Absent Since Saturday and Police Send out An Alarm.

Wallace Reed, aged 16 years, of Westfield avenue, Westfield, who has been employed by J. W. Gavett, the West Front street china merchant, for the past two months, has disappeared and today Mrs. David Reed, called at police headquarters and requested that a general alarm be sent out in the hope of finding her son. The last time she saw him was Saturday morning when he left home to go to work, and Mr. Gavett has not seen the boy since he quit work Saturday night.

The boy is not strong physically, being rather sickly and his mother fears that he may have wandered off somewhere and being taken ill has not been able to return home. The first intimation that Mr. Gavett had that the boy had disappeared came this morning when he failed to report for work and a little later he received a telephone message from Mrs. Reed inquiring about her boy.

MAY REINSTATE CADETS.

West Point, N. Y., April 14.—In compliance with the recent order of Secretary of War Garrison and in conformity with an act of the recent Congress, the general court-martial which expelled four West Point cadets from the service more than a year ago for alleged intoxication reconvened at the academy here today to reconsider the cases. Captain Thomas N. Darrah, 29th Infantry, is president of the court, and Lieut. David McKell, C. A. C., is judge advocate. After full consideration of each case on its merits the court will report to the War Department its judgment as to whether the original sentences should be allowed to stand or whether they should be modified.

INSTALLED AS ELDER.

Prior to the sermon at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, yesterday morning, Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, pastor of the church, installed James E. Kimball as an elder of the church, he being elected as the tenth member of the board at the annual meeting of the church Wednesday night.

CONGREGATIONAL ANNUAL.

CLEVER CARTOONIST DRAWS FOR "HELP WANTED" SHOW

The Probasco Bible class, in advertising its annual play to be given at the Park Club on Thursday evening, is making use of several posters in local drug store windows drawn by Clare Victor Dwiggins, of Woodland avenue, the cartoonist who created the comic character "Ophelia." Dr. Dwiggins is a member of the class. Dress rehearsals for the play, "Help Wanted," will be held tomorrow and Wednesday. The cast includes four young men who were in last year's show, two new players and the writer of the play.

Sidney Mackey is cast for a prominent part, that of William Thompson, an independent manufacturer confronted with a serious business problem and other complications that temporarily upset his home life. Harold Robins impersonates Thompson's nephew, a good natured, care-free young man, who finds that he must become self-supporting before he can wed the girl with whom he is in love. The girl in the case is played by W. Herbert Hillman, whose work last year in a feminine part was one of the features of the class production of "The Snowball."

Carleton Smith does a clever piece of work in the part of William Thompson, Jr., whose jealousy is greater than his honesty. The part of Tom Weatherby, an idle son of a rich man, with a tendency for English affection, was originally given to Arthur Titsworth, whose removal to Allentown recently has necessitated the part to be filled by F. K. Anderson, the author of the play. Athol Newman, who played a feminine part last year, is a negro servant in this year's play, and has both an important and a difficult part to portray.

Two new members have been added to the cast this year. Howard Parry plays the part of an aggressive advertising man, whose services to Thompson are of immense importance, and Fred Doizeaux gives a very creditable performance as a clerk in Thompson's office.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

In chronicling musical comedy success of the season, the fact must not be overlooked that S. H. Dudley and the famous "Smart Set" Company are coming to town Saturday afternoon and night, April 19, at the Plainfield theatre. Mr. Dudley is a performer of class as well as calibre. He is a natural born comedian, so to speak, and an artist whose reputation is growing every year. One might count the real negro funmakers on the fingers of the right hand, but you will always find the leader of the "Smart Set" Company foremost among the chosen few. The vehicle used is "Doctor Beans From Boston." It is now in its second year and if indications count for anything it could continue indefinitely so pronounced is its success. The locale of the piece is a watering place in Virginia called Buckroe Beach. "Doctor Beans" is one of those inpecunious individuals who lives off the gulle of his fellowmen. He purchases an established drug store and for a time succeeds in pulling the wool over the eyes of the unsuspecting. He is what one may call in the vernacular a "faker." In the first place he does not understand the first rudiments of medicine, but he has an artless and subtle way about him and consequently is able to tide himself along until the explosion comes then his undoing is brought about and everything ends happily save for him. Fifteen original song numbers and ensembles are introduced. The music is not of the machine made variety but is described as pretty, tuneful and catchy. The humor is of the unctious, endurable kind, fun being on tap from curtain to curtain. Dudley will have the assistance of forth talented people who excel in the art of terpsichore and harmony. An elaborate scenic equipment has been provided along with a private traveling car and other essential accessories. Among those who contribute to the merit of the performance are James Burris, Henry Troy, Lottie Grady's and Alberta Ormes.

It is not a small thing to be nominated and elected a real genuine "Queen of Vaudeville." Nevertheless this distinction has been the lot of Miss Leila McIntyre, the remarkable comedienne, who once appeared in a sketch called "The Quakeress," assisted by her husband, John Hyams. These two clever people are now being starred by Jos. M. Gaites in the successful musical play "The Girl of My Dreams," which will be seen at the Plainfield theatre Saturday afternoon and evening, April 26. The supporting company playing in "The Girl of My Dreams" is really a splendid one including Alice Hills, Irving Brooks, Francis Gaillard, Della Niven, Neil Burns, Silvia De Frankie and Frank McEwen to say nothing of a handsome dancing and singing chorus. The piece was written by Wilbur D. Nesbit and Otto Hauerbach, with music by Karl Hoschna, composer of those successes, "Three Twins," "Bright Eyes," and "Madame Sherry." The story which has so fine a musical setting is said to possess absorbing interest, and humor and wit are the chief elements of the piece with touches of romance and adventure.

WIRELESS FOR CANAL ZONE.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—Bids were opened at the Navy Department Saturday for the construction of the towers and buildings for the great wireless plant which the Government purposes to erect in the Canal Zone. The plant will be a duplicate of the one recently completed at Arlington. It will be located on the San Pablo site, at the station of Caimito, on the relocated line of the Panama Railroad, about midway between the terminals. There will be three 600-foot steel towers and the station will be equipped with a 100-kilowatt radio set. It is calculated that the new station will be able to communicate easily with similar high-power stations to be erected by the navy in the Hawaiian Islands, Samoa, Guam and in the Philippines.

TARIFF THE ISSUE.

Boston, Mass, April 14.—Politicians of all parties are keenly interested in the special election to be held in the Thirteenth congressional district tomorrow to choose a successor to John W. Weeks, who resigned his seat in the House to accept the United States Senatorship. The election is regarded as important because it is the first to occur in any part of the country since Mr. Wilson became President. Furthermore, the contest among the candidates has been made on the tariff issue, and the result is expected to show the attitude of Massachusetts toward tariff revision.

FROM FOUNDRY TO PULPIT.

New York, April 14.—The Rev. Dr. William H. Morgan, until recently pastor of the Central Methodist Episcopal church in Newark, preached his first sermon yesterday as pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal church in this city, which is the largest Methodist congregation under one roof in the world. Dr. Morgan has one of the most striking records of any man in an American pulpit. From a puddler in an iron mill for eleven years he has risen to the position of pastor of one of the leading Methodist churches in the United States. Up to the age of 23 Dr. Morgan could not read or write.

Never treeps indoors when the sentinel on guard is a Square Pot Furnace. These embody principles and improvements that give complete fuel consumption without heat waste. The firepot of these furnaces is square and corrugated—a form that throws off more heat than a round firepot. Also, this square pot never retains an ash accumulation large enough to prevent free burning. Big fire or little fire, driven hard or checked down, a Square Pot Furnace gives you back a full return for fuel expended. The full story of Square Pot Furnaces is interesting—get it from one of our dealers.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

VEGETABLES AU GRATIN.

PLACED in a baking dish, covered with cheese or breadcrumbs and browned in the oven, vegetables of almost any kind take a specially delicate flavor. This is also an attractive way of serving them, and when they have been cooked they may be sent to the table without further trouble. If your baking dish is not as handsome as it might be its appearance may be concealed by setting it in a slightly larger dish.

Delicious Fare.

Cauliflower au Gratin.—Take a medium sized cauliflower and boil until tender. Put in the frying pan a tablespoonful of butter and when melted add a tablespoonful of flour. Stir until smooth and add a half pint of milk. Keep stirring until it boils, then add a half teaspoonful of salt and four tablespoonfuls of grated cheese. Pour over the cauliflower and serve.

Mushrooms au Gratin.—Take some medium sized mushrooms. Remove the stalks. Wash them and dry. Set them on a dish and season them. Sprinkle with a few drops of olive oil, then put them in the oven for five minutes. Sprinkle the surface with grated cheese and a few drops of oil or melted butter and set them in a hot oven.

Simple Yet Tasty.

Potatoes au Gratin.—Take cold baked potatoes which you have peeled rather fine, chop them and mix with about three-quarters of a cupful of grated cheese. Season with salt and pepper and put into a buttered baking dish. Add milk just to cover and bake slowly for three-quarters of an hour. Then cover the top with about one-quarter of a cupful of grated cheese and return to the oven for fifteen minutes to brown. Do not have the oven at full heat for the last quarter hour.

Cabbage au Gratin.—Take a quart of shredded cabbage and cook for twenty minutes in salted boiling water and then drain. Make a cream sauce by cooking one tablespoonful of butter and a tablespoonful of flour, saltspoonful of salt and dash of pepper, and stirring into it a cupful of milk until it thickens. Put alternate layers of the cabbage, cream sauce and grated cheese in a baking dish, having cheese and grated breadcrumbs over the top. Bake a light brown and you will be delighted with this dish.

FASHION HINT

By JUDIC CHOLLET

Particularly attractive for summer wear is the blouse of tucked lingerie material. This one is exceptionally dainty, for it is embroidered below the tucks in the prettiest design. The blouse means a good many possibilities, however, and in place of being treated just as illustrated the neck can be cut off to form a square and the sleeves cut off at the elbows.

For a plain blouse the embroidery can be omitted. Strips of insertion are arranged between the tucks, and altogether the design is most attractive.

For the sixteen-year-old size two and a quarter yards of material twenty-seven inches wide, with five yards of banding, will be required.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes for girls of fourteen, sixteen and eighteen years of age and for small women. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7803, for blouse and 25 for the embroidery design, and they will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

WHITE MOURNING.

Fetching Veil For Pretty Young Widow.

UP TO DATE TOQUE AND VEIL DESIGNED BY ORA UNE

There are grace and becomingness about white mourning which make it anything but somber and gloomy in suggestion. This mourning is particularly fetching when worn by a pretty young widow. Mrs. John Jacob Astor, whose husband was one of the victims of the Titanic disaster, is wearing this new mourning.

The mourning veil pictured is of white net deeply bordered with white crape and is worn over a toque of the white crape.

Inventions Credited to Women.

It is sometimes stated that women lack creative ability, and it will surprise a great many people to learn that feminine skill and ingenuity have played an honorable part in supplying the world with the useful inventions that have contributed so largely to its material progress.

A remarkable versatility in talent is shown in the case of Harriet Hosmer. She is noted as the sculptor of the "Sleeping Faun" and also as the inventor of the permanent magnet as a motive power for lifting large masses of metal and of a novel method of changing lime into marble.

The ice cream freezer was invented by Mrs. Nancy M. Johnson. The science of anatomy is indebted to Mme de Condray for the manikin, while Jeanette Powers is the author of the aquarium.

Miss Mary Walton of New York has contributed to the comfort of mankind a device for deadening the sound on elevated railroads and also a successful smoke consumer.

In 1871 Margaret Knight of Boston invented a machine for making paper bags, and a Washington woman has given her name to the Coston light, so valuable in maritime signaling. Frances Dunham is responsible for the comb foundation for beehives.

Child's Frock In Sampler Style.

Prim little blossoms embroidered in sampler style in color are quite the most distinguished thing now on children's frocks. This little dress of white wash cotton crape is embroidered with pink and green flowers, and neck and sleeves are finished with a crocheted edge in pink. The sash is of pink velvet.

OF WHITE COTTON CRAPE.

That Bulgarian Note.

One sees it in dress trimmings—rich and beautiful.

Wide and narrow bands of sheer black net have the Bulgarian reds, blues, greens and yellows cleverly combined in effective embroidered designs.

And there are all over embroideries which are used to trim blouses and gowns.

In the neckwear shops are chemisettes, guimpes, socks and jabots of sheer white or cream colored net, with designs embroidered in the prescribed hues and designs.

New Asparagus Dish.

A delicious variation for asparagus is to bake it in a cream sauce. Cook in salted water until tender, drain, put in a butter baking dish and pour enough cream sauce over to cover. Sprinkle with grated Swiss or Parmesan cheese and a few bits of butter and brown in the oven.

GOOD COURT GAME AT HOPE CHAPEL

Y. W. C. A. Will Act as Opponents in Clash Tonight—Both Teams Fast.

Basketball still lingers in Plainfield, especially among the fair sex, and a game will be played on the Hope Chapel court tonight when the Y. W. C. A. maidens and the Hope Chapel girls, with two reinforcements. Ordinarily, at this period of the year, the weather is too warm to permit the kind of exertion brought forward in a basketball contest, but winter has lingered with us long enough to allow the feminine sex to play off this post-season game.

Both of the teams acting as contestants in tonight's fray have formidable players enrolled among their number and the game should prove an interesting one from both a playing and spectator's point of view. The Hope contingent will be strengthened to some extent by the appearance of Miss Clara Smith at guard, and Miss Lucy Douglas at forward. Both of these players are among the best in the city and should add materially to the playing ability of the Chapel quintet. The rival teams will face each other as follows:

HOPE CHAPEL.

Miss Clara Weber	centre
Miss Clara Smith	guard
Miss Jessie Duncan	guard

"MAC" SAYS

There was nothing doing along the baseball line here Saturday afternoon and for a wonder the basketball cranks took a rest. This was the first Saturday night in many months that there was no basketball game schedule.

Manager Dorflinger is making preparations for his opening tryout next Saturday afternoon at Crescent Oval. Local talent will get a chance to show what Plainfield has to offer in the way of baseball stars.

Track athletics will also be ushered in next Saturday afternoon. The four Plainfield High School classes will conduct a track meet at Parker Field.

Basketball once more—Tonight at Hope chapel the Y. W. C. A. will lineup against the Hope chapel girls. No, this is not the opening game of the 1914 season.

The gentle rain of Springtime has put a serious crimp in the major league baseball schedules, which means that later on baseball fans will have all the double-headers they can comfortably stand. The opening week in the two leagues was very disastrous both in the treatment of the leading teams and also in the treatment from the weather.

New York will have another baseball opening, with all the trills and decorations, on Thursday, when the Yankees will make their first home appearance at the Polo Grounds against Washington. This will be a big occasion, for it will be New York's official welcoming of Frank Leroy Chance as manager of the New York Americans.

NEW LEAGUE STILL EXISTS.

At the monthly meeting of the New Jersey Interscholastic Athletic Association, held Thursday at Barringer High School, Newark, the newly formulated constitution was accepted without change. The intention of holding a one-mile relay in the field day will probably be abandoned, and a junior broad jump substituted in its place.

EAST MEETS WEST IN PENN RELAYS

New Brunswick High School one of the New Jersey Scholastic Teams.

Pennsylvania's relay races will bring together the East and the West more aggressively this year than ever before. Practically every Western athlete east of the Rocky Mountains will be at the relays to make trial of strength, or speed with the pick of the Eastern men. Michigan will be the most prominent of the Western colleges, though Illinois, Missouri and Notre Dame will also have some very good athletes on hand. Ohio State, Brigham Young University of Utah, Ohio, Wesleyan, Chicago and Northwestern are the other colleges whose star men will be seen here a week from next Saturday. As time passes Michigan looms up more prominently as a probable contender for first honors at the intercollegiate championships, and their work here on relay day will give a very good line on what may be expected later on.

Michigan will have teams in the one and the two-mile college relay championships and in the freshman relay championship. In all three the Wolverines have sterling teams. They are especially enthusiastic over their one-mile team, as they consider Haff, Craig, Baier and Plummer a quartet better than any that has ever represented the West. Last year both both Craig and Haff beat 50 seconds in their relays, and it is said that Baier is pushing both of them hard. Plummer is also a good man, so there is reason for their confidence. Haimbaugh, Carver, Brown and Jansen are the two-mile men, and Michigan advices state that it will take 8 minutes or better to beat them.

Though Michigan will show up most prominently for the West, Illinois, Chicago, Missouri and Northwestern are all counting on being in the running. Illinois is the favorite for the one-mile relay championship, though it is hard to find much in their favor over either the Michigan or the Pennsylvania quartet. On last year's form, however, Illinois deserves to be favorite. They then finished a close second to Syracuse in one of the best one-mile races ever run at Pennsylvania's famous sports. They have not lost a man from this team, and in Henderson have another quarter-miler, who is said to be a fifty-second man.

Chicago will as usual be represented in the one-mile championship. The West will be represented by two four-mile teams this year from Ohio State and Northwestern respectively. The latter team is said to be fast, as in Thorsen and Osborn they have two men who can beat 4 minutes and 30 seconds. Their real ability will not be known until they are tried here against Pennsylvania, Princeton, and the other teams in the race.

In the interscholastic events New Brunswick High School, Pingry High School and Battin High School, of Elizabeth, will have teams entered.

P. H. S. SOPHS GET MEDALS.

Bronze medals, to be distributed among the members of the Plainfield High School class basketball champions of the P. H. S. interclass league, have arrived and will be awarded at the assembly exercises tomorrow morning to the following players: LeRoy LaRue, Morris Mann, Daniel McNamee, Edward Ryder, Morris Cantor and Benjamin Rosenson.

ATHLETES' RECEPTION.

Members of the Young Men's Association baseball team will tender a dance and reception to their friends in the Company K armory, Thursday night of this week. An enjoyable program has been arranged by those in charge and the affair promises to be one of the biggest of its kind ever held in this city.

CHANGES MADE IN BALTUSROL LINKS

A Handicap Against Bogey Will Be Held Saturday, May 3.

The schedule of competitive play on the links of the Baltusrol Golf Club during the season now beginning has just been issued. The first event, a handicap against bogey, for first and second prizes, is set down for Saturday, May 3. At the same time the club team will play against Yale University on the course at Baltusrol.

The members will then find that some radical changes have been made in the course. They are now under way and are designed to give the short drives a fair chance to improve their scores, without impairing the course from the viewpoint of the more expert players. Heretofore the middle-aged men have usually had to make a short second shot on the first hole and go over the bunker on the third. Now two-thirds of the bunker and the sand trap in front of it will be removed. The one-third that is to remain is on the right-hand side. Just beyond the bunker a series of sand traps will run diagonally to the traps already existing on the right-hand side of the fair green. The dub will then try to land short of these new traps on his second shot and go to the green on his third, whereas the long driver will aim to carry them with his brassey second. To use the parlance of the game, each will bite off as much as he pleases—or can.

On the second hole a like change is now being made. The first bunker, with its sand traps, is being removed, and three or four traps are to run diagonally from the right-hand end of the bunker to the sand traps which now catch the pulled ball on the left-hand side of the fair green. When this is done the man with a big handicap will drive short of the new traps, and the long driver, anxious for more distance, will try to carry them.

Already the bunker guarding the fifth green has been removed, and a big trap has been dug where the right half of it stood. By making a long drive to the left side of the fair green a player will have a clear course to the hole; but it will have to be a long one, for mounds have been placed on that side just short of the present sand traps there.

It was said recently that a trap had been placed on the left side of the green of the ninth hole, but this was an error. On the contrary the green has been widened on that side, so that the danger of rolling off the green there has been lessened.

On Saturday, May 10, there will be the semi-annual qualifying round for the Baltusrol cup, and the match play will follow on the four succeeding Saturdays. On May 17 the Princeton team will visit Baltursol to play against the home team. On May 30 there will be a medal play handicap, 18 holes, in the morning, and best-ball foursomes in the afternoon. From June 5 to 7 the championship tournament of the New Jersey Golf Association is to be held on the course. There will be other events in June. The club championship will not be decided until October.

PICTURE AND MEDALS.

Members of the Y. M. C. A. Ajax basketball team were "mugged" at Stone's picture gallery yesterday afternoon and were presented with the medals they won by defeating Hope chapel, two out of three games, in the inter-team schedule. The medals are gold with a raised basketball on the front and are suitably inscribed on the reverse side. Those who were in the picture and received the awards are Albert Brynarski, Andrew Hetfield, William Peacock, Myrton Glover, James Buckle and James McNamee.

PARCEL POST A BOON.

Canyon, Texas, April 14.—That the parcel post is proving a boon to the country editor was emphasized here Saturday at the annual meeting of the Panhandle Press Association. R. H. Rowan, of Demmitt, led in a discussion that showed that thousands of lines of additional advertising had been placed in the country papers of the Panhandle section of Texas since the parcel post system came into operation.

—A great deal of today's "Good luck" is going to attach itself to those who read and investigate Press want ads.

N. P. H. S. DEFEAT NOT RECOGNIZED

Battin Manager Eliminates Local Fives in Season's Resume.

Managers of Battin High School basketball teams appear to be using Plainfield quintets as "reputation swellers" in the final compilation of their season's schedules, for both the girls' and boys' pilots have entirely ignored contests lost to Plainfield teams in issuing a final report for the season just closed. Following the example of Manager Woolsey, of the boys' five, who neglected to include a defeat administered by the Y. M. C. A. Ajax, of this city, in his final reckoning, turning the game into a victory for the Battin boys, Miss Bird, manager of the feminine representatives of Battin, has also left out a contest lost to the North Plainfield girls at Saengerbund Hall, February 7.

Why the Elizabeth game bookers should chose teams from the same city to boost their reputation is hard to conceive, but they have evidently gotten their heads together in the matter and the result is that N. P. H. S. was entirely omitted from the season's resume, as far as the game played in the borough was concerned, and the Ajax's victory over the Elizabethians was reversed to look like a Battin victory. A peculiar feature of the Battin girls' record is the fact that the game played at Battin High School, in which the home team was victorious by a count of 13 to 9, is included by Miss Bird, but the decisive beating administered by the boroughites in Saengerbund Hall, when they rolled up a count of 12 to 8, is entirely obliterated. The Battin record as compiled by Miss Bird is published as follows:

CENTRAL LEAGUERS TO MEET TOMORROW

Committee Appointed to Arrange Schedule Expected to Report at That Time.

Another meeting of the Central New Jersey Baseball League will be held in the Frost building tomorrow night, when the committee appointed a week ago to draft the schedule will present its report. There is yet some doubt existing as to whether or not the Bound Brook club will be represented in the league by a team this year as Manager Hoagland stated at the last meeting that he had not as yet secured suitable playing grounds and could do nothing definite until he had settled this question. It is understood that he has been doing considerable scouting during the intervening time, however, and a favorable report will probably be submitted by him tomorrow night.

A similar decision is expected from the Westfield team, but it is considered very doubtful whether or not that town will turn out a team of league calibre this spring. The Brunswick stars is another holdout aggregation and the representative from that town will be another one to submit a report tomorrow night. If neither Bound Brook nor Westfield finds it possible to enter, the Brunswick aggregation will be allowed to come in as a traveling aggregation playing games in other towns only. The four teams most likely to form the organization at the present time are Plainfield, Dunellen, Somerville and High Bridge.

DORFLINGER'S CREW TO HOLD PRACTISE

A Tryout for Positions Will Be Conducted Next Saturday Afternoon.

Something new in the line of baseball tryouts will be given a trial by Manager Ernest Dorflinger, of the Plainfield Baseball Club, at Crescent Oval next Saturday afternoon, when he will give all players reporting to him at that time, an opportunity to show what they can do. It is the local manager's plan to have as much home talent as possible on the Plainfield team this season, a feature that has provoked much criticism by its absence in other years, and an invitation is issued to all prospective players, no matter what position they play, to be on deck at the initial call next Saturday afternoon.

By this method Dorflinger hopes to get a line on the available material and if possible draft a number for his team this summer. The opening of the season is still some distance off but plenty of time is needed to tryout green material. Players galore, of every degree and calibr, have signified their intention of trying for berths on the local combination and it would not be a great surprise to find that many stars had been unearthed before the season opens.

NETHERWOOD A. C. WINS CLOSE GAME

Amid Unfavorable Weather Conditions, the Visitors Put it Over Primrose.

With weather conditions more favorable to Arctic exploration than to baseball, and with Jupiter Pluvius reigning with dire threats, the Netherwood A. C. baseball team, opened its diamond season auspiciously yesterday afternoon with a victory over the Primorse A. C. nine at the latter's home rendezvous near New Market, the final tally card being 10 to 9. Four runs in the ninth inning almost brought the Primrose players up to a par with the Netherwood sluggers, and but for the aid of a run pushed across the rubber in their half of the ninth, the visitors would have been forced to go for extra innings in earning a decision.

Denny occupied the mound for the victors and his twirling was of the gilt edged variety, although the cold weather was a handicap to both hillmen. The best the Primrose aggregation could do was to garner five hits from his delivery, while the Netherwoods touched Frolic up for a beautiful array of safe bingles, coming at the proper time when hits meant runs. Garison's work at the receiving end of the Netherwood battery was a feature of the game, and he held Denny up in grand style. Malange was another conspicuous figure in the contest, his hitting being a valuable asset in swelling the run count. For the losers, Hannon and Johnson were the star performers.

The score by innings:

Primrose A. C.	1 0 1 1 0 0 2 0 4 — 9
Net'erwo'd A. C.	2 0 1 0 2 3 0 1 1 — 10

REV. DR. FRED'K LYNCH AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Rev. Dr. Frederick Lynch, formerly a Congregational minister in New York and now secretary of the Peace Conference, occupied the pulpit of the Congregational church yesterday morning. His discourse was largely along the line of explaining the development of Christianity, both in the individual and in the nation. Referring to The Hague conference last year, he remarked that it was the first time in the history of the world that all the nations of the earth, through their representatives, had met under one roof.

Dr. Lynch then spoke on Christianity in the individual, the brotherhood of man, the social gospel, in which he predicted that the young people were destined to preserve the brotherhood of the nation. He declared that it was not possible to have the brotherhood of man without brotherhood of groups of men and nations.

The speaker said that during the Boer War, while the fathers were fighting for Great Britain, there was a remarkable increase of crime among the young people throughout the British Isles. The idea seemed to be that if a strong nation could oppress a small nation, why not a strong corporation or individual oppress a small and weaker one.

Dr. Lynch is planning to attend The Hague conference to be held in July.

SIX AIR MEN PLAN OCEANIC FLIGHTS

To Try For $50,000 Prize of London Paper.

EARLY SUCCESS PREDICTED

Brown and Law, England, Herr Rumpler, Bleriot and Colonel Cody Will Make Attempt—Dr. Bell Believes Feat Possible With Course In Rarefied Atmosphere.

Six air men of leading importance in the profession have undertaken preparations to cross the Atlantic ocean in hydroaeroplanes to win the $50,000 offered as a prize by the London Daily Mail. The men are Henry Brown and Rodman Law, Americans, forming a team; Gordon England, a British air man; Herr Rumpler, a German inventor; Bleriot, inventor of the monoplane of his name, and Colonel Cody, formerly an American, but now a British subject.

The Mail offers its great prize on the condition that the flight shall be accomplished inside of seventy-two hours of continuous flying. There is no restriction against the machine alighting on water and replenishing its fuel from ships.

All those who contemplate making the attempt declare they will do so within a few months. They see no great obstacle to the feat. The German aeronautical experts, however, whose attention has been mostly concerned with rigid dirigibles, say the trip will not be made for several years; that it will cost $150,000 and will require a vastly far advanced machine.

Dr. Bell Enthusiastic.

Dr. A. Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone and a pioneer in the use of heavier than air flying machines, enthusiastically discussed recently Lord Northcliffe's offer of $50,000 for the first flight across the Atlantic in a hydroaeroplane within seventy-two consecutive hours. While certain modifications in existing machines ought to be effected, Dr. Bell repeatedly said that as aerial science stood today the English publisher's offer is a good sporting chance for air men.

"There are machines existing today," said Dr. Bell, "which, if they can continue doing for twenty hours what they have done already for shorter periods, will make the flight possible in a single day. The seventy-two hours is a much longer time than will be needed. If the ocean is to be traversed in an airship at all it will be in far less time than Lord Northcliffe allows.

"If I were to make the flight," went on the veteran inventor with boyish enthusiasm, "I wouldn't make any allowances for alighting at sea and replenishing my fuel. To make the trip at all it ought to be done in a single spurt. While hydroaeroplanes can take to the water and arise again into the air, their chances are against their doing anything of the sort. There is also very little likelihood of their finding the supply ship from which to replenish their tanks. Even if the wings of the airship are not injured by the descent the chances are that once on the water it would remain there until picked up or until, under the buffetings of the sea, it went lower still and disappeared."

Would Fly In Rarefied Air.

Dr. Bell's idea, based on his investigations then made with Mr. Baldwin, is that the greatest service will be got from the aeroplanes flying at great heights. Mr. Baldwin advanced the idea, which Dr. Bell at once accepted, that the resistance to the forward rush of an airship diminished in exact ratio with the density of the air. He found that life could be sustained at a height of five miles and that at that height the density of the air was one-third the normal density at sea level.

Therefore at that height a machine capable, with sufficient propeller revolutions, of driving forty miles an hour at sea level—and much greater speeds had actually been attained—would go at a rate of 120 miles an hour.

"Mr. Baldwin saw in his plan," said Dr. Bell, "the objection that the suffering of the aviator for want of air would be too great at this altitude for any prolonged effort." But Dr. Bell at once met the objection by saying that obviously, even if the atmosphere were thinned to one-third its normal density, a speed of three times the normal rate would project the aviator against exactly the same number of particles of oxygen as if he went forty miles an hour on sea level. In other words, the onward rush of the machine, increasing in precise ratio with the diminishing density of the air, would automatically condense the air and preserve a normal atmosphere. At the same time the higher speed would give the lighter air precisely the supporting power of heavier air at sea level with the lower speed that would be the best attainable in that density.

"Go up as high as you like," said Dr. Bell, "and your speed will go up with you. We used to think a balloon or dirigible the best for high flying. But now we know that is not true. A balloon in the rare atmosphere of the high skies would need to be expanded to triple its size to carry the weight with which it started. And, once aloft, it could not descend without letting off gas. The airship adjusts all this automatically by varying its speed."

OMAHA KNOWN AS THE GATE CITY OF THE WEST.

Metropolis Struck by Cyclone Has Many Fine Industries.

Omaha has claimed the sobriquet of Gate City ever since before 1864, when the Union Pacific was begun and when it was the most northerly outfitting point for overland wagon trains to the "far west."

It stands on the west bank of the Missouri, opposite Council Bluffs, Ia., 492 miles southwest of Chicago on the Union Pacific and the Missouri Pacific, and occupies a site of over twenty-four square miles on an elevation 1,030 feet above sea level and eighty feet above the river, crossed at this point by several bridges.

The superior location of the Gate City has caused it to become the home of many prosperous industries, and prosperity has resulted in the establishment of many educational institutions, buildings attractive for their architecture. Omaha is a city of churches. Among its industries are those of packing cattle, hogs and sheep. Omaha ranks third among cities of the United States in packing. There is a good deal of silver smelting, as well as distilling, brewing and manufacture of steam engines.

Important among the buildings are the courthouse, city hall, public library, containing 60,000 volumes; the federal building, Coliseum hall, seating 12,000; Roman Catholic and Protestant Episcopal cathedrals, hospitals, state institution for the deaf and dumb, the New York Life building and the office of the Omaha Bee.

Omaha has a city university and is the seat of Creighton university, the Academy of the Sacred Heart, Brownell hall, St. Catherine's academy, the Presbyterian Theological seminary, the Omaha Medical college and the Creighton Medical college. It has a magnificent high school building.

In maintenance and operation the city has been spending annually nearly $1,500,000, the principal items of the budget being about $375,000 for schools, $295,000 for debt interests, $120,000 for the fire department, $80,000 for the police department and $80,000 for municipal lighting.

Historically the site of Omaha figures as the place where Lewis and Clark in 1804 held a council with the Indians. J. B. Royce in 1825 built a stockade and trading station there. The first permanent settlement was made in 1854. The growth of the city has greatly increased since the Pacific railroad was completed. The population is 130,000, making it Nebraska's metropolis. The name Omaha was taken from a tribe of the Dakotas that inhabited the region.

CO-EDS IN "DON'T WED" CLUB.

Students of Wellesley Form Odd Organization.

Students of Wellesley college have started a club the object of which will be to prevent a member from marrying until at least three years after her graduation and then only to a man with an income of $5,000 or more.

The club is to be known as the Wellesley Marriage club. It has been organized by the daughter of a Chicago business man, who says that it is the beginning of a chain of similar clubs to be started shortly in all of the large women's colleges. Many of the smaller schools, she said, were planning such clubs.

The election of officers for the Wellesley club is to be held as soon as the membership reaches 100.

HORSE BOOSTERS ORGANIZED.

Wealthy Men Form Body to Advance Interests of Equines.

The horse is to have a boosters' association.

August Belmont, Harry Payne Whitney and a number of the wealthiest and most prominent horse lovers in the country have entered an organization to promote everything "horsy."

Headquarters of the association will be maintained in New York and Providence, R. I. A campaign of horse promotion has been mapped out that would appear boastful if it were not for the bigness of the names that are behind the project.

The name of the association will be the National Association of Allied Interests Pertaining to the Horse.

UNCLE SAM AS A DEALER IN LUMBER

Forest Service Advertises Lot of Timber.

SUPPLY IN RAINIER FOREST

Government Seeks Benefit of Public, Not Profit, and Prices Are Put at Low Figure—System Is Highly Developed. Fifty-two Million Feet of Lumber Now Offered.

The forest service has just begun to advertise the twelfth large lot of national forest timber offered for sale within the past nine months. Altogether it has advertised since July 1, 1912, the beginning of the present fiscal year, about 2,500,000,000 feet and has closed contracts for the sale of 1,700,000,000 feet. The latest advertised sale is of approximately 52,000,000 feet of saw timber in the Rainier national forest, about thirty-five miles from Tacoma.

In offering national forest timber for sale the government first makes an estimate of the quantity of timber on an area which would naturally form a single logging unit and which offers attractive opportunities for the lumbermen. The probable cost of logging and manufacturing by a capable lumberman is then estimated. On the basis of these estimates, combined with the figures for market values and freight charges, the timber is appraised and then advertised for sale, with the appraised value as a minimum price.

Low Price 50 Cents Per Thousand.

The minimum prices set for the Rainier timber vary from 50 cents to $1.50 per thousand feet, according to the kind of timber. These are stumpage prices—that is, the purchaser buys the trees on the stump and does all the logging, but pays according to the board foot measure of the logs. The government aims to allow the manufacturer a liberal profit on the basis that lumbering involves a good deal of business risk, and the minimum stumpage prices are fixed accordingly. Often, however, competitive bids raise the price above the advertised minimum.

One of the provisions of the contract which the successful bidder for the Rainier timber will enter into will be that if market prices advance materially the government's chief forester may, after the sale has run three years, require a reasonable readjustment of the stumpage prices up to an added 50 cents per 1,000.

To Prevent Loss to Government.

The object of this stipulation is to prevent loss to the government—that is, to the public—and an undue profit to the purchaser through long term contracts entered into on a rising market. Provision against such speculative profits is regarded as especially necessary in view of the long term sales now sometimes made to get purchasers for large bodies of inaccessible timber.

For the Rainier sale the cutting period allowed is only five years, since the quantity of timber involved—approximately 52,000,000 board feet—does not call for an extended operation. One national forest sale made this year was for 800,000,000 board feet, and the purchasers were allowed a cutting period of twenty-two years, besides a preliminary two years in which to build a railroad. Usually purchasers must begin operating the year of purchase and cut a stipulated amount each year.

Benefit to Public the Object.

The latter provision is simply an example of a fundamental principle that is applied in all national forest timber sales. The primary object is described as being not profit for the government, but benefit to the public. Nowhere is the policy a strictly commercial one. The conditions of cutting are carefully prescribed from the standpoint of present as well as future needs.

The highest bid for the contract may be rejected and is rejected if it appears that to give the bidder the contract would tend to facilitate timber monopoly and so subject the consumer to a hardship. In other words, the government foresters consider that they should not only make the forests grow as fast as possible, but also make them as useful as possible to the public.

DANCING IN DARK NOW VOGUE

Washington Society Has an Unusual Thrill.

Dancing in the dark, the feature number of the Edson Bradley cotillion, was the latest terpsichorean sensation to startle Washington society recently and set the gossips' tongues a-wagging. This star number of the Bradley function was performed shortly before dawn.

All lights were extinguished, and the only visible sign of the dancers on the floor was the flicker of little red electric flashlights carried by each couple. The cotillion lasted until daylight, when the guests assembled for a breakfast of scrambled eggs and sausages.

Grows Big Carnation.

Herman Rath, a West Lafayette (Ind.) florist, has grown a carnation measuring five inches in diameter. It is bright red, with a stem thirty-six to forty-eight inches long. There are only 200 of the carnations in existence, and they are valued highly.

HOME

The average man spends half his life at Home. That takes into account the nights at the club, at lodge, at the theatre, or sitting up with a sick friend. It also takes into account the fellow who sees home often enough only to establish a voting residence. He is balanced off in averaging up by the man who spends a good deal more than half his life at Home. The Newark Sunday Call has figured this all out and says that the statement that more than half of life is spent at Home cannot be disputed. If there is any doubt about it, keep a time schedule for a week or so. The Average Women? Bless you, three-quarters of her life is spent at Home! And that includes the working woman, too, the real NEW WOMAN.

Home shapes up as a pretty big proposition, considering all that. The world realizes it, too, for most of the world's efforts go toward providing homes. Right down at the bottom of things, you come up against that great big reason for it all—"Home."

There was a poet who said that Home was not merely four square walls. That was the absolute truth. Home is what you make it, whether you call it palace, villa, flat, cottage or hut. Some people can make a hall bed-room more homey than others can with a $300,000 marble mansion. It is wholly up to the individual. But as half a life time is to be spent at Home, it is worth trying to make it a success. A real homey Home is life's biggest success.

The poet's four square walls idea, however, should not be taken wholly at its face value. Most truths should not. There is always that little exception to the rule lurking in the background. Accept the truth, but also dig out that little exception and digest its meaning. Then you will get the full value out of the truth. Four square walls do not make a Home. But they help. The better those same walls are the better chance of making a successful Home. Be careful in choosing a setting for the jewel—the home jewel. Remember that you must use that setting half your life. Pick some thing that will wear. See that it is good. That means be careful in choosing your abode. Whether it be a house, a flat or a room, choose it carefully. Whether you buy or rent, remember you are selecting a setting for the biggest thing in life—Home.

The Plainfield Daily Press

thinks a lot about Home. That is natural, for Homes form its destination when it leaves the presses ready for distribution among its thousands of readers. The Daily Press likes to take part in home making and it does all it can to further that end in what it prints. It can aid you in selecting your setting for your Home—the dwelling, whatever form it may take.

The owner of a house who wishes to sell or rent the house goes to an agent—if he be wise and wants results. The agent gives publicity to the owner's desire, attends to the troublesome incidental business, and accomplishes the desired results.

The agent has the assistance of another agent—a very powerful agent for this sort of work. This other agent is the RELIABLE NEWSPAPER, the newspaper that reaches the kind of people the owner would want to sell or rent to. The DAILY PRESS is such an agent. It reaches this desirable clientage and is used by responsible agents. Look at the names of the agents who advertise real estate for sale or to let and note the high character of these advertisers. their agent because it reaches the kind of people They, in turn, have chosen the DAILY PRESS as they want for clients.

WORK BEING DONE BY 'T.-B.' SOCIETY

Opening of 'Bonnie Burn' Did Not Lessen Activities of Local Organization.

THE OPEN-AIR SCHOOL

Teacher Engaged and When Sessions Are Begun in the Next Few Days There Will be Twenty-four Pupils.

A public meeting will be held by the Anti-Tuberculosis League of Plainfield and North Plainfield at the High School Auditorium, Monday night, April 28, at 8 o'clock. Dr. Haven Emerson and Dr. Linsley R. Williams, of New York, will address the meeting, and the president of the League, William S. Tyler, will give a brief statement of the scope of the work in Plainfield.

The League was incorporated in January, 1910, having been active for several years before that as an unincorporated society.

The Tuberculosis Pavilion, as it was known, was maintained on the grounds of Muhlenberg Hospital from December 1, 1909, until last fall, when the opening of "Bonnie Burn" County Sanitorium, relieved the League of the need of maintaining such a sanitorium at local expense.

The pavilion has been removed this winter to the old hospital grounds in Muhlenberg place, between Second and Third streets, west of Plainfield avenue, and will be used for an "open-air school," which the League decided to make its chief work for the next few months or years, as the case may be, until such schools may be established by the Board of Education.

The League has been fortunate enough both in the large number of its volunteer workers and in the personnel of those having charge of its various departments.

There is the committee having charge of the open-air school, Dr. Clara D. Krans, chairman, which is

Those who were chosen as associate members were: J. Hartley Mellick, H. C. Krebs, W. H. Williams, C. A. Rice, Arthur M. Harris, Leslie R. Fort, Harold W. Underhill, Dr. George W. Endicott, Dr. Norman H. Probasco, Champlain L. Riley, Howard Fleming, Miss Imogen B. Bass, Mrs. Alice W. Gleason, Mrs. E. L. Finch, Miss Roberta L. Bass, Miss Dorothy Fleming, Mrs. Frederick G. Mead and Mrs. W. A. Conner.

There will be one more opportunity presented to become associate members of the club before the presentation of "Her Lord and Master," for the executive committee will meet on Monday, April 21, to consider applications. Associate members in return for their annual dues of $5 will be allowed two tickets for the annual performance, and these may be chosen in advance of the public sale of tickets. Persons wishing to become an associate member can hand their applications to any active member of the club prior to next Monday night.

The public sale of tickets for the performance will begin on Saturday, May 3, at 2 p. m., at the Plainfield theatre.

FIRST PUBLIC ASSIGNMENT FOR PLAINFIELD BOY SCOUTS

All boy scout troops in this city are invited to attend a costume Indian dance as guests of troop five in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church this evening at 7 o'clock. At that time they will receive the commissions for participation in the first civic scout assignment which will be conducted in connection with the movement recently started by the local Board of Health to wipe out the fly nuisance. The whole city will be patroled by scouts next Saturday morning on a tour of inspection and 120 scouts in uniform are needed to assist in the work. All of the participants will receive arm bands from district captains at appointed places of meeting Saturday morning and the scouts will be required to appoint two commissioners in person.

FORURI WOMAN TELLS POLICE HER STORY

Woman Who Shot Sister-in-law Says the Shot Was Fired in Self Defense.

Charged with atrocious assault with intent to kill, Mrs. Maria Foruri, of 431 West Third street, who yesterday morning shot Mrs. Angelina Princippati, of the same address, while firing at her brother in an alleged attempt to take his life, was taken last night to the county jail to await the action of the Grand Jury. When arraigned yesterday before City Judge DeMeza she was held without bail.

In a statement to the police, the prisoner said her brother, Tony Princippati, husband of the victim, brutally beat her and tried to choke her, and in consequence he was arrested and charged with assault. He was taken to the jail last night in company with his sister-in-law.

Mrs. Principatti, who was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital with a bullet wound in the back, will recover. The missile has been extracted. Mrs. Princippati, as related in yesterday's papers, risked her life while attempting to protect her husband from the murderous assault of the Foruri woman, who, it is alleged, sought the life of her brother because he refused to return $12 and a mattress which she loanel him and for which her husband had quarrelled and beaten her for. After going to his bedroom and demanding the articles, Mr. Princippati, it is said, assaulted her. In a rage she secured a .32 calibre revolver and returned to the room. She fired three times. The first pair of bullets went wild. The third one struck Mrs. Princippati when she ran between the armed woman and her husband, and closed the hall door leading into the room.

PUBLIC HEARING ON AIR-DROME PETITIONS

No Favorable Sentiment Shown for Allowing Open Air Amusement Places.

Mayor Percy H. Stewart having received several applications for licenses to establish air-dromes and moving picture theatres in this city, and not wishing to act on the same without securing an expression of public opinion, at his request the Common Council at its meeting last night granted a public hearing for that purpose. The lack of general public interest in the matter was shown by the fact that there were only two persons who addressed the Council, one favoring the proposition and the other speaking against it. There were several persons in the lobby who were there in the interest of the amusement question, including Miss Ball, the truant officer, but they had nothing to say.

U. B. Crane, representing a client, who wants to erect an air-drome on Watchung avenue near Fourth street, urged favorable action, claiming that it was proposed to put up an attractive structure, one that would not be objectionable in any way, and that all of the provisions of the building code would be compiled with. Further, he said, it was proposed to conduct a high-class show.

Councilman Leighton Calkins presented a communication sent to him by the Men's Bible class of the Congregational church, stating that at a meeting of the class on Sunday, every member voted unanimously against licensing the open-air amusement places. This was referred to Mayor Stewart.

Speaking in protest, R. W. Osland, of 321 East Front street, said that he had visited a number of cities where air-dromes are in operation, and he noticed that the board fences surrounding them were covered with advertisements, some of them objectionable. He thought that such might be the case here and as for moving picture entertainments he thought the city is very well provided for at the present time.

DOG HAD THE RABIES AND BIT TWO CHILDREN

A dog belonging to T. C. Overton, of 31 Rockview avenue, which about a weeks ago bit his four-year-old daughter, as well as Marjorie Rushmore, the three-year-old child of Councilman Edmund Rushmore, was suffering with the rabies at the time he inflicted the wrounds, according to a report of the State Board of Health in Trenton, which inspected the carcass after the animal died. Mr. Overton and Councilman Rushmore are having their children submitted to Pasteur treatment by Dr. Norman H. Probasco.

MRS. RILEY HEADS SUFFRAGE ASSN.

Officers Elected and Work of Year Reviewed by the Local Association.

PLANS FOR THE FUTURE

Plainfield Daily Press Given Vote of Thanks For Its Support of Movement—Mrs. Schwed's Report Interesting.

The presentation of reports, the election of officers and a resume of the year's work were the features of the annual meeting of the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield, held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Champlain L. Riley on Myrtle avenue, the borough.

Mrs. Allan Cowperthwaite, the treasurer, reported receipts of $215 and expenditures of $200 for the past year, of which $122 was contributed to State work and the balance to local needs. Mrs. Isaac Schwed, recording secretary, gave an interesting review of the year's work and various meetings ten regular and four special. Among those who addressed the league during the year were Miss Alice Carpenter Mrs. Frank Pattison, Miss Ella Powell, Miss Mary Wood, Dr. Howard Kelley, Rev. James G. Mythen, Miss Janet Richards, Miss Rosalie Jones, William L. Saunders, G. W. V. Moy, Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, Miss Harriet Daniels Miss Mabelle Phillips, Mrs. Edward F. Feickert, Mrs. Frances Bjorkman, Mrs. Champlain L. Riley, former State Senator William Gebhardt, Miss Eleanor Gebhardt and Mrs. Minnie J. Reynolds.

These officers were elected:

President, Mrs. Champlain L. Riley; vice presidents, Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson, Mrs. Kathleen Ryder and Mrs. Edward F. Feickert; recording secretary, Mrs. Russell Dorr; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. C. Wells; treasurer, Mrs. F. O. Ball; auditors, Mrs. Maxwell Perkins and Mrs. Allan Cowperthwaite. Mrs. Riley announced these heads of committees: Program, Mrs. Francis deLacy Hyde; press, Mrs. Russell Dorr; entertainment, Miss Harriet French; ways and means, Mrs. Henry C. White; enrollment, Mrs. A. B. Jones. These were all ratified by the league.

Mrs. Russell R. Dorr, chairman of the program commitee, stated that the increasing interest and success of the year's work was largely due to the ability and effort of Mrs. Francis deLacy Hyde, to whom a vote of thanks was given. Mrs. Feickert of the enrollment committee, reported fifty new paying members and fifty (non-dues paying) enrollments.

Mrs. Riley called the attention of the members to the column of suffrage news that is prepared by her committee and published each week in the Plainfield Daily Press, and a vote of thanks was given to the newspaper for courteous and generous treatment.

The question of changing the dues by an amendment of the constitution, was finally decided when it was voted to establish three classes of members: Active, dues fifty cents; contributing, dues $1 and sustaining, $5 a year. Several new memberships of all classes were pledged.

An interesting bulletin of the State association, giving an account of the great mass meeting held in Newark recently at which over $1,400 was subscribed for the State work, was read by Mrs. Riley. Attention was also called to the parade to be held in New York city on the afternoon of May 3 in which New Jersey women are invited to take part. It was decided that a special yellow sash, made of cheese cloth, should be draped across the shoulder of each New Jersey woman, and if possible a uniform hat and white dress should be worn; this, however is not obligatory. Announcement was made that Dr. Thomas C. Hall, professor of Christian ethics at Union Theological Seminary, will speak on "Woman's Suffrage," at the Plainfield High School, Friday evening, May 2, and that a luncheon will be given Wednesday afternoon, May 14, in honor of Mrs. Everett Colby, and that a mass meeting in the interest of equal suffrage is being arranged by the Men's Suffrage League, the date of which will be announced soon.

OPEN BIDS FOR HIGH SCHOOL'S ADDITION

Many Compete for Contracts Which Will Likely Be Awarded Tonight.

Bids received at the regular monthly meeting of the Plainfield Board of Education last night, were well within the appropriation set for the erection of a huge addition to the present High School building and that Plainfield will have a structure that will meet the present and future demands is now an assured fact. All of the bids were turned over to the building committee, which held a lengthy session following the Board meeting. The awards will probably be announced tonight. The bids follow:

LIABILITY ACT NOT APPLICABLE TO CITY

Corporation Counsel So Advises City Fathers When Claim is Filed.

On the ground that in his opinion the Employers' Liability Act does not apply to municipalities, Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed advised the Common Council at its meeting last night not to recognize the claim of Mrs. Adam Angerbauer for damages in connection with the death of her husband as the result of injuries received while working for the city. Mr. Reed stated that he knew of no case where there had been a recovery of damages under similar conditions.

At to the question raised by Councilman P. J. Reville and Fred Endress about the payment of a yearly rental of $45 to Patterson Brothers for the use of a right of way adjoining the West Second street fire house, Mr. Reed said that the city had used this right of way for twenty-five years at that rental and returned the bill as correct.

In another opinion regarding the question of turning the money from the sale of fire horses over to the Firemen's Pension Fund, Mr. Reed advised that this be done. He said that the law provides that all fees from permits and the sale of all property of the city, other than real estate, shall be given to this fund. The proceeds in question were from the sale of three horses, as well as old harness, etc.

Through a resolution offered by Councilman C. C. Randolph, the Council proposed to refund to certain taxpayers amounts levied in excess of the revised assessment for sanitary sewers made by Howard C. Tracy, Edward A. Laing and Harry B. MacDonald, but Mr. Mygatt raised the question as to whether the city should refund this money to taxpayers who had made no protest, it being presumed that they were satisfied with the assessment.

Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed had prepared the resolution providing for the refund but when Mr. Mygatt raised the above question, it was agreed that Mr. Reed should take the matter up furher and the resolution was referred back to him. Owing to a number of protests the sewer assessment was revised and under the revision a number of property-owners were assessed at a lower figure than originally, and it was this excess amount that it was proposed to refund.

WILL CELEBRATE THEIR 25TH YEAR

Members of Monday Afternoon Club to Observe Silver Anniversary.

ITS RECORD NOTABLE

Organization Will Hold Demonstration on Thursday Afternoon, April 24—Started With Twenty Members.

After twenty-five years' successful effort aimed at bettering the social life in Plainfield and educating the general public in literary matters, the Monday Afternoon Club is planning to celebrate its silver anniversary on Thursday afternoon, April 24, with a luncheon in the Park Club. The occasion promises to mark a notable gathering of prominent club women from all parts of the State. The Fuller Sisters, of England, who have delighted large audiences in Boston and New York, have been engaged to furnish a program of entertainment, which will include English, Scottish and Irish folk songs.

The Monday Afternoon Club embarked on its notable career on April 24, 1888. The organization took place in the parlors of the Seminary and was attended by these women who were pioneers of the movement: Miss Elvira E. Kenyon, Mrs. Dexter Tiffany, Mrs. Henry B. Opdyke, Mrs. John Erskine, Mrs. P. W. Field, Mrs. Rowland Cox, Mrs. J. Evarts Tracy, Mrs. Charles D. Wadsworth, Mrs. Hugh F. Hastings, Mrs. J. K. Maxson, Mrs. J. E. Corlies, Mrs. Charles Lawson, Mrs. S. A. Ginna, Mrs. Charles E. Brooks, Mrs. G. P. Mellick, Mrs. R. U. R. Schuyler and the Misses F. F. Clark, Isabelle Arnold, Katherine Erskine and Emily B. Tracy. Starting with these twenty members, within a year the club's roster grew to seventy-five. The constitution and by-laws were adopted May 7, 1888, and incorporation papers were taken out, May, 1889.

The first officers were: President, Miss Kenyon; vice president, Mrs. Dexter Tiffany, Mrs. Henry B. Opdyke and Mrs. Charles D. Wadsworth; corresponding secretary, Miss Katherine Erskine; recording secretary, Miss Emily Tracy, and treasurer, Mrs. Charles E. Brooks. Other presidents followed in the order named: Mrs. David P. Hall, Mrs. Isaac L. Miller, Mrs. William H. Sterling, Mrs. Edward C. Perkins, Mrs. John M. Whiton, Mrs. Edward W. Conklin, Mrs. Robert Lowry, Mrs. Frank Herring, Mrs. Henry M. Maxson, Mrs. Eugene H. Hatch and Mrs. Hugh F. Fox, who is the present head of the club. Her term expires Monday, May 5, when the annual election of officers will take place.

The honorary members are George Wharton Edwards, Mrs. Emma Louise Adams, Alexander Gilbert, Albert N. Atterbury, William L. Saunders and Mrs. David P. Hall.

During the existence of the Monday Afternoon Club many prominent lecturers and famous men have come to Plainfield under the club's auspices and delivered highly entertaining as well as instructive discourses. The subjects included social problems, literature, art, science, civics and politics. When the club was in its infancy, interesting addresses were heard on Socialism, as at that time expounded in England and France, but which was little known of on this side of the Atlantic ocean.

The lectures have always been open to the public for a nominal sum and in this way Plainfielders have heard such prominent people as Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, F. Hopkinson Smith, Bliss Carman, Henry Van Dyke, Prof. Stockton Axson, professor of English literature at Princeton, and brother-in-law of President Woodrow Wilson; Bliss Perry, George W. Cable, Hamilton Mabie, Dr. Richard Cabot, Dr. Simon Flexner, of Rockefeller Institute, and Kenyon Cox, the artist.

The club is at present enjoying a membership of 150. Seven lectures are being arranged for, for 1913 when men eminent in literary, art, scientific and civic subjects will furnish the oratorical talent.

CIVIC ASSOCIATION MEETS.

Matters pertaining to the development of the West End such as the oiling of streets, equalization of taxes, and additional street lights, were discussed at the meeting of the West End Civic Association at the Washington School, last night. They were referred to the proper committees with instructions to take them up with the committees from the Common Council. An invitation was received from the Chamber of Commerce to send a representative to the next meeting of the chamber, in accordance with a movement to have all civic bodies interested in this organization.

EXPECTING TO SEND HIM TO THE CHAIR

Asst. Prosecutor Anticipates No Trouble in Convicting Papalillo of Murder.

Matelo Papalillo, an Italian, arrested on a charge of murdering Thomas Deers, colored, on Saturday night, was taken to the conuty jail last night, following his arraignment before City Judge W. G. DeMeza, in the afternoon, when he was held without bail for the action of the Grand Jury. Assistant Prosecutor Martin O'Connor, who was in charge of the hearing, expressed an opinion yesterday that there would be no trouble in convicting Papalillo of murder in the first degree. The prisoner is represented by John P. Owens.

Councilman Francis J. Blatz represents the five material witnesses who are being held in $1,000 bail each. They are: Galtano Doranzo, Marie Doranzo, of 670 West 17th street, New York, owners of the property at 213 to 217 West Third street; Salvatore Valarde, of 217 West Third street; Francisco Pappe, of 423 Cottage place, and Francisco Paridison, of 829 Richmond street.

Prosecutor Stine, to whom will fall the duty of attempting to send Papalillo to prison for life or to death in the electric chair, complimented Detective-Sergeant Flynn for his excellent work. Notified of the stabbing affray, which took place in front of the victim's home, he not only succeeded in capturing the assailant as he was atempting to escape with his wife, but rounded up the witnesses, who will aid materially in strengthening the prosecution of the case.

DON'T WANT PUPILS SENT TO THE P. H. S.

Borough Education Board Members Attack Special Committee's Findings.

Members of the North Plainfield Board of Education again voiced protests against the proposition of sending the borough High School pupils to the city institution, at a special meeting held last night in the Somerset School. The report of the special finance committee, of which George T. Rogers was chairman, and which charged the Board with extravagance, was again attacked and claims were made that the committeemen were biased in their oninions.

Regarding the plan to transfer the High School pupils to the Plainfield institution, Newton B. Smalley said he was open at any time to receive arguments on the matter. "I have heard a lot of discussion on the matter," he said, "but up to the present time I have not heard one sound argument that would warrant the abolition of the borough High School." Others emphasized the claim that regardless of the disposition of the matter, no class rooms would be saved. If the High School was left out of the borough educational system, the Board members assert, the vacated rooms would have to be remodeled before they could be used for the purpose of relieving the over-crowded grammar grade rooms, and if the remodeling was started, they say, the State would compel them to make such radical alterations in order to comply with the building laws that these rooms would systematically be dissolved into fireproof- stair-cases, etc.

These pupils were granted working papers: John Evers, Arthur Brown, Jeremiah Heffron, Russell Vroom, John Harper and George Walsh.

BURGLARS TAKE CHURCH'S MONEY

Sunday Service Offerings Taken From Desk in 1st Baptist Edifice Study.

LOOT ONLY ABOUT $80

Guilty Ones Familiar With Conditions—First Presbyterian Church Also Entered Sunday Night, But only One Dollar Was Taken.

Thieves visited the First Baptist church, some time between the close of the service on Sunday night and this morning, and going to the pastor's study in the rear of the edifice, broke open a desk in which was about $80 in cash, and got away with it. The money represented a portion of the Sunday collections and was in envelopes. When the burglary was discovered, the empty envelopes were found scattered about the room.

Entrance to the edifice was effected through a window in the rear of the church back of the Sunday-school room which made entrance to the study very easy. The circumstances surrounding the burglary would indicate that the guilty parties are persons who are familiar with conditions about the church edifice and had knowledge that the money had been left in the envelopes in the desk. The matter will be fully investigated.

Another burglary was reported at the First Presbyterian church Sunday night, when about $1 in cash was taken from the superintendent's desk in the Sunday-school room. In that case entrance was effected through a window.

What Mrs. K___ Told Me This Morning

I was complimenting one of the neighbors this morning on how fine her house looked with all the nice new furniture she had, and told her it was a pretty good indication that her hsband must be getting along well in his business. But what do you think she told me?

It's not that, Mrs. Jones. Mr. K is not making any more than he was when we moved here. I have gotten all those new things myself by dealing with Larkin Co. For nearly three years I have bought my tea, soaps, spices, foodstuffs, notions, and other household supplies from them, and have gotten the furniture you speak of as Premiums.

"The Larkin Products are fine and cost the same as you would pay for the self-same things at the store, only when you buy from Larkin Co. you get Products that are perfectly fresh and Premiums with them without extra cost. You can see what I have obtained already. Now, isn't that a sensible way to deal?"

When Mrs. K went, I sat right down at my desk and wrote a postal to Larkin Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and asked them for their Catalog D 24. Why don't you do it, too? Mrs. K. says that the Larkin Catalog tells you all about their method of dealing, how to order, and everything else, and I know that no one would willingly let such an opportunity to save go by.

STYLISH — RELIABLE

There Would Be Fewer Failures

If there were fewer men blocking the way to their own success.

Success is exclusive—it keeps itself scarce; but whenever you see it, it is well dressed!

"Hard luck" says "I can't afford to dress well."

Success says "I can't afford NOT to dress well."

Dressing well is no longer a matter of money—it's a matter of desire.

Rothberg's $15 Special

takes in Serges, Cheviots and Fancy Mixtures; it is a garment that is grander than anything priced so low as $15.

Other suits are priced at low as $10, and as high as $30; but if $15 is your price for a suit, just ask to see the "special" and you'll be amazed.

HEADQUARTERS OF STATE ROAD DEPT.

Plainfield to Be Seat of One of Three Divisions in the Future.

TO DEVELOP HIGHWAYS

Col. E. A. Stevens, the State Commissioner of Roads, Reviews New Legislation—Convict Labor to be a Factor.

Having in mind the advanced position New Jersey is to take in its new state highway system connecting all parts of the State with State-wide and operated roads, the following statement from Colonel Edwin A. Stevens, State road commissioner, is highly important. He speaks of what can be done under the new laws passed by the Legislature which has ended, and says:

"The road legislation of 1913 corrected defects in the State aid law and the State highway law of 1912, extended the Delaware river drive to Cape May, amended the acts under which convicts can be assigned to road work, directed the immediate taking over of 500 miles of State highways and made appropriation for carrying out this work.

"The 1912 legislation was passed during the last days of the session and very unexpectedly. It had been thought, up to a short time before the passage of these acts, that they would fail entirely. They had been corrected and changed in many respects while in committee and on the floor. These changes contained a number of inconsistencies and oversights which it was necessary to correct, especially in the case of the State highway law.

"The extension of the Delaware river drive to Cape May seems but the logical consequence of the legislation of 1911 and 1912 on this subject. The present legislation, however, is only accompanied with an appropriation for the survey of the route, leaving nothing available for construction.

"The convict labor law made no adequate provision releasing the keeper of the State prison from responsibility for the custody of prisoners while laboring on roads. It also made no provisions for the pay of guards or others assigned to watching prisoners. It is necessary that these defects should be remedied before convict labor could be used to any great extent upon the roads.

"The taking over of the State highways will involvve a great deal of organization work. As usual in State matters, the uncertainty as to the amount of appropriation and as to the character of the legislation to be enacted, which uncertainty is not removed until the last hours of the Legislature, has delayed the preliminary work of organization for the taking over of the State highways. I have recommended in the past to the highway commission that these roads as taken over should be surveyed and the State placed in possession of accurate data in reference thereto. This data we have as to a few of the more recently improved roads only and it will be necessary to secure it as to all the others. With this object in view, I had a meeting of the county engineers on Monday last and arranged the preliminaries of the survey. The arrangement with these engineers has to be approved by their employers, the Board of Chosen Freeholders, and by the State Highway Commission before the actual work can be begun. The amount of road to be surveyed will be in the neighborhood of 500 miles. The roads will be treated exactly like a piece of property that is being bought and sold; in other words, the legal description of the property to be looked up and plotted and compared wih the actual data of the survey to see how far they may agree or disagree. It is well known that in this State, in many instances, there are wide divergencies between the roads as described and as actually used. There are also many encroachments in the road. All of these matters should be dealt with in a regular and systematic manner. This would be impossible without the information furnished by careful and accurate surveys. The appropriations by the Legislature have been larger than heretofore and a proper expenditure will involve a careful laying out of the work.

"The requirement of Senate bill 347 that the State should take over 500 miles of State highway at once, while in my opinion desirable legislation, will, together with the amount of money appropriated for road purposes, affect the administration of this department. It will be necessary to at once organize a very considerable road force to set aside the money necessary for its proper maintenance and for the care of the roads while, at the same time, provide that these very roads shall be properly cared for until the State can get together the force necessary to handle it. The counties will naturally feel that as they are about to be released of the expense of caring for these roads they need do no further work on them and can spend their money on the roads which will continue under their jurisdiction. This can, of course, be met but will require consideration.

"For the purposes of administration, the State has already been diided into three divisions, the northern, comprising the counties of Sussex, Passaic, Bergen, Hudson, Essex, Union, Morris and Warren, under E. M. Vail, as division engineer; the central, comprising the counties of Middlesex, Monmouth, Ocean, Mercer, Somerset and Hunterdon, under E. E. Reed, and the southern, comprising the counties of Burlington, Atlantic, Cape May, Cumberland, Salem, Gloucester and Camden, under M. H. Weeks. Each of these divisions will have headquarters located at Plainfield, Trenton and Collingswood respectively. The division engineer in charge will be held responsible for the condition of the roads in his division a convict labor party who will be kept continuously at work on repair work within the division.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER.

Rockville, Md., April 15.—What promises to be one of the most notable criminal trials that has taken place here in a long time was begun this morning, when Norman Bruce McCleary was arraigned in court to be tried for the alleged murder of Mrs. Nannie B. Henry, of Hagerstown, mother of his former sweetheart, Miss Lupah Henry. The case was brought here on change of venue from Washington county. Mrs. Henry was choked to death about the fifteenth day of last August, and several days later her body was found lying across a bed in her home at Hagerstown. At the request of the Hagerstown authorities McCleary, a young man of good family, but a "little wild," was arrested in Washington, D. C., two days after the discovery of the murder. McCleary is said to have been a suitor for the hand of Miss Lupah Henry, daughter of the murdered woman and a stenographer in the office of the Hagerstown municipal electric light plant. Miss Henry, it is said, did not look upon him with favor, and August 15 left Hagerstown on a vacation and in order to escape the alleged unwelcome attentions of McCleary. It is understood that the accused young man intends to maintain that he is guiltless of the crime charged against him, notwithstanding that he is said to have signed a confession drawn up by the State's Attorney a few days after his arrest, in which he admitted that he had choked Mrs. Henry. Two of the leading law firms of Hagerstown and Rockville have been engaged to conduct the defense.

SUFFRAGE SPELLS PROGRESS.

Jackson, Miss., April 15.—In her address opening the annual convention of the Mississippi Woman Suffrage Association here today Mrs. Lily Wilkinson Thompson declared that "in the order in which the States recognize the right of women to vote, in that same order may they be classied as to progressiveness." Prominent leaders of the suffrage movement from many States are attending the convention, which will continue until Thursday.

DIAMOND KING DAUGHTER WEDS

Washington, D. C., April 15.—The wedding of Miss Dorothy Gardner Williams, daughter of Gardner F. Williams, who is known as the South African diamond king, and Monroe Eyre Pinckard, of San Francisco, took place today in the fashionable St. John's Episcopal church. A small reception followed the church ceremony. Among the bridal attendants were the Misses Julia and Alice Meyer, daughters of the former Secretary of the Navy. Harold Vanderbilt, of New York, was one of the ushers.

A DIRE NEED.

When the Jewett mansion was destroyed a few days since, it became apparent to all who witnessed the blaze that the city of Plainfield is lacking in proper fire apparatus and general equipment. For some years the responsibility for the condition of affairs has been put upon the local water company and those who have not thoroughly investigated the matter have been inclined to give credit to the rumors and place the blame there. As a matter of fact, the water company is and has been living up to the contract as to the required water pressure. The fault has been simply one of insufficient apparatus and appliances. As it was in the vicinity of the Jewett residence so it is in many other parts of the city, the number of fire hydrants being entirely too few; they are too far apart for the firemen to render proper service. Then again, there is urgent need for a water tower or for some of the patent appliances for hoisting the hose with ladders.

Automobile fire fighting apparatus is also wanted, particularly at the East End fire house. It is a matter of common knowledge that it is the hardest kind of a pull for the horses to haul the apparatus up the hills in the Netherwood section and this is especially true of Rahway road. The people in that section of the city are entitled to adequate fire protection. They have not got it at present and will not have it until automobile apparatus is installed at Fire House, No. 4.

There is a saying about the uselessness of locking the stable door after the horse is stolen. It is applicable to the situation in the Plainfield fire department.

WRONG IN PRINCIPLE.

As in many other States, there is a well defined sentiment in New Jersey, particularly among the farmers, against the Government's policy of making free seed distribution through the Congressmen. Our own criticism, as we have stated it previously, is that it savors too much of a form for the Congressmen to make themselves solid with constituents at the expense of the Government revenue. This view is shared by the Elizabeth Journal, which very rightly says: "If anything is labeled special privilege, this seed proposition is. Regardless of whether the seed is good, bad or indifferent, the distribution smacks of campaign cigars and other decoys of the coy and elusive vote and ought to be abolished." So long as the Federal statute continues in force, none can blame the Congressmen for their practice of sending huge quantities of these seeds broadcast through the mails to "the folks back home," for they are beseiged by armies of constituents with requests for these special favors. The actual expense to the government annually is enormous and one of the biggest items of cost is that due to the use of the mails for the purpose.

Recently, Elmer Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, of this State, sent a protest to Senator Martine voicing this objection to the custom:

"It is the practice of our Congressmen to send free seeds to our grange and to us individually, notwithstanding the fact that we have mildly expressed ourselves as being opposed to that practice. The seeds are, as experience has taught us, generally not true to name and are of the cheapest and most common varieties, not to speak of their age.

"As farmers, we think it would be much better if the money heretofore expended on this free seed distribution be apportioned among the several State Experimental Stations for advancement of agricultural work."

The original purpose was to thus encourage the cultivation of varieties of seeds not generally used by the farmers, but as the Union county farmers' association recorded at a recent meeting, that idea has been lost sight of and now only the commonest and cheapest varieties are distributed. Here is an instance where the Government can save approximately half a million dollars a year. Surely that sum can be spent to better advantage for the good of all the people and not as at present for a particular class.

THANK YOU, GOVERNOR.

Following a public hearing yesterday afternoon, Governor Fielder promptly stamped his veto on the bill of Senator Wheaton amending the Walsh commission government act so as to provide that the election for the adoption of the act in any city should be held at the general election in November. The effect of this measure would have been to prevent a special election on the commission government plan and thereby practically defeat the purposes of the Walsh act itself. Experience here and generally throughout the State has demonstrated that at a general election the voters lose sight of such local issues. This was the case when the water question was first put before the people, it being lost because there was not a sufficient proportion of the vote cast.

It was plainly evident that the real, but hidden, purpose of the Wheaton bill was an attack on commission government, but as Governor Fielder is as an enthusiastic supporter of the plan as is President Wilson, his veto was naturally to be expected. In thus disposing of the measure he has done a genuine public service.

THE TITANIC.

One year ago today, in the cold, gray dawn of the morning of April 15, the White Star liner Titanic, the largest vessel in the world, foundered in mid-ocean after striking an iceberg. More than fifteen hundred lives were lost in the disaster, which was the greatest of its kind in the world's history.

The Titanic was bound for New York. On the night of Sunday, April 14, the great liner, steaming along under a star decked sky, struck the submerged spur of an iceberg, which ripped a seam in her side below the water line.

Tales told by the rescued of the heroism of many who went to their death are still fresh in the minds of men. But none was more splendid than the act of the ship's musicians as the "unsinkable ship" was sinking in giving solace to the dying by playing "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

JAPS SERVE NOTICE ON OUR GOVERNMENT

Ambassador Tells Wilson California's Action is Considered a Slap.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—Armed with a formal demand from Japan that the United States government take further steps to prevent the passage by the California Legislature of any bill detrimental to the interests of Japan, Count Chinda, the Japanese ambassador, called on President Wilson after the Cabinet meeting held today.

The Japanese representatives told the Chief Executive that Tokio regarded the alien land bill now under consideration in California as a direct slap at Japan, and intimated that it would be dangerous to the diplomatic entente of the two countries to permit the bill to become a law. Courteously the President pointed out to the Ambsssador that the Constitution of the United States forbids the Federal government to meddle in State legislation. The President promised that everything would be done by himself and the State department to prevent the passage of any law which might be considered as antagonistic to Japanese interests or transgressing any existing treaty.

The President further intimated that the matter might be taken up by the Supreme Court of the United States should the California Legislature pass a bill against which Japan may enter formal protests after its passage in order to obtain the highest possible ruling relative to the right of a single State to make laws which conflict with the treaty making rights of the Federal government and the foreign treaty policy thereof. The question is one which seriously involves the Democratic State right idea, in addition to threatening serious complications abroad.

FRED STOVER THE GUEST OF HONOR AT A PARTY

Fred Stover, son of George W. Stover, of Oak Tree, who formerly lived here, but who now resides at New Meadows, Idaho, returned west today, after spending a few days at his old home. He arrived here on Friday, and intended making a longer visit, but was unexpectedly called home. Last night, the Misses Fanny and Nettie Stover arranged a party at their home in Oak Tree in honor of their brother and about forty young people, former acquaintances were present to enjoy a pleasant evening. Mr. Stover entertained the guests with a graphic description of the country where he resides.

Mr. Stover is assistant treasurer of the Pacific and Idaho Northern Railroad and private secretary to the president of the company. He has been in the west several years and has been very successful. His many friends regretted his inability to prolong his visit in Plainfield.

AFTER STRAY DOGS.

An active campaign against the stray dog nuisance has been begun in North Plainfield and steps are being taken to rid the borough of all canines found roaming the streets without the necessary license tags. A dog pound will be provided and a dog catcher has been engaged to carry on the work. All unmuzzled dogs will be turned over to the pound master and unless redeemed within the specified length of time will be destroyed. Owners of unmuzzled and unlicensed animals will be dealt with in accordance with the law if the recently issued ordinance is not strictly adherred to.

ANOTHER NEW LAW.

Among the bills signed yesterday by Governor Fielder was Senate substitute for Assembly bill 338, creating a new department in the office of the commissioner of labor, for the examination and licensing of stationary engineers and firemen throughout the State. Locomotive and marine boilers and those used exclusively for heating purposes are exempt. The new law is expected to greatly increase the efficiency of engineers, and is in line with similar laws in other States. There are a large number of men in this city who will be benefited by the law.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

New York, April 15.—The time for the ling of claims for loss by death or damage to property or cargo against the Oceanic Steam Navigation Company, owners of the Titanic vessel, caused by the loss of that ship expired today. He granted an order giving all claimants two weeks time in which to file answers as to their claims. The total claims filed up to date amount to $11,774,604.

TO CONFER ON HIGH SCHOOL.

Belford, April 15.—The newly elected Board of Education for Middletown Township will meet in the new High School next Friday to consider the representations of the building committee that the structure is not complete and in accordance with specifications. The contractor, an official of the company that installed the heating plant, and the architect have been asked to be present. The building committee has refused to sanction the paying of the final amount due the contractor and architect until the matters complained of are remedied. The principal objection made was the leakage of cold air around the windows and doors and the alleged defective heating plant installed. The new board elected the following officers for the coming year: President, Melvin A. Rice; vice president, Joseph Thompson, district clerk, Frank E. Seih; custodian of school mney, John N. Johnson, Jr. The salary of the custodian was placed by the board at $150 per annum, an increase of $50 over the last year. President Rice was instructed to spend $250 in the purchase of new books for the reference library in the High School. Painting of the cement floors in the gymnasium of the High School were ordered done with a patent dustless paint, at an expense of $80.

LOCAL S. S. SUPERINTENDENTS HEAR TALK; DISCUSS PLANS

Instruction in "Self Culture and Professional Training for Sunday-school Teacher," was given last night in the Seventh-Day Baptist church by Isaac B. The session was opened with a banquet and was followed by a business meeting during which the scheme for a Sunday-school parade in this city some time in the coming fall was discussed. It was also proposed to take a census of the local schools.

RESUME NEW BRAKE TESTS.

Atlantic City, April 15.—Tests of a new electrical brake which have been in progress on the Pennsylvania Railroad between Absecon and Egg Harbor City since February 10, but which were discontinued for two weeks ago to permit repairs to be made to the equipment, have been resumed. The two engineers and the larger force of experts have nearly completed their labors with the new device, and a final report of their findings is being prepared for submission to the railroad lines interested in the experiments. The brake is the invention of an employe of the Westinghouse Electric Company, and if it fulfills the predictions made for it, rear-end collisions and many accidents of a similar character will soon be entirely eliminated. Not only does the brake bring trains traveling at high speed to a sudden stop, but the braking power is so evenly distributed that the jar to passenger will be reduced to a minimum, it is said.

THE FORUM.

OBJECTS TO DANCING.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

The following news item appeared in last Friday's issue of your valued paper: "There was a unanimous expression of opinion in favor of opening the schools for social and educational purposes, as well as introducing the lunch counters, and plans are now being arranged for a dance for the children and teachers of the eighth grade of the Jefferson School to be held in the near future."

The opening of our public schools for social and education purposes will doubtless prove beneficial in more ways. A broad field for social service is thus opened, and the movement should receive the support of all citizens and taxpayers. May I humbly suggest, however, that one of the proposed features be omitted, namely, dancing. I can see no physical, mental, moral, or spiritual benefit to be derived from the modern dance, especially to young children. On the contrary, dancing often has undesirable effects. I thank you for the courtesy of printing this suggestion.

PANAMA CANAL TOLLS.

London, April 15.—The report sent by James Bryce, British ambassador to the United States, on the results of a recent conversation with President Wilson foreshadows, it is understood, a favorable termination of the controversy between the two countries over the question of the Panama Canal tolls. The Manchester Guardian understands that President Wilson will shortly make an important statement on the question.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

FILLETS OF FISH.

FILLETS of fish are the flesh taken from the bone and served whole or divided into separate strips. Flounder, sole, halibut and bass may have the fillet on each side divided lengthwise, making four thin pieces each. They are often rolled up, tied and cooked thus:

Quickly Made.

Fillets of Bloater.—Skin two rather large bloaters, split them down the back, remove the flesh from the bones, place on the gridiron over or before the fire and broil until nearly tender. Dip them first in oiled butter and then in grated Parmesan cheese. Have ready some pieces of hot, buttered toast, cut them into neat shapes, place a fillet on each, set on a dish, sprinkle with a few fried crumbs and set in a very hot oven for a few minutes. Garnish prettily and serve.

Fillets of Sole.—Take fillets of sole, allowing two for each person, and roll them neatly. Dust with white pepper and salt and place in a baking dish. Add chicken stock to nearly cover them. Then grate some lemon peel over them and add equal parts of finely minced shallot and mushrooms and a teaspoonful of minced parsley. Cover thickly with breadcrumbs which have been freshly fried in butter and cook in a moderate oven for twenty minutes. Serve at once in the dish they were cooked in.

With Nice Sauces.

Fillet of Flounder.—Take large flounders so that the fillets may be of good size. Season them with salt and pepper and a few drops of onion juice. Spread one-half of each fillet with a tablespoonful of a mixture of mashed potato, beaten with the yolk of an egg and seasoned with one tablespoonful of butter, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper. Fold over the other half of the fillet, cover with crumbs, dip in white of an egg beaten with two tablespoonfuls of water, add more crumbs and fry in deep fat. Drain on soft paper. Garnish with lemon and serve with tomato sauce.

Fillet of Halibut.—Take two slices of halibut from the tail of the fish. Cut half an inch thick. Remove skin and bone, thus making eight fillets of the same shape and size. Sprinkle with one tablespoonful of lemon juice and a half teaspoonful of salt. Roll and run through each a wooden toothpick dipped in melted butter. Roll in crumbs, then egg beaten with two tablespoonfuls of cold water, then again in crumbs. Fry in deep fat. Serve on hot dish with slices of lemon. On each place a spoonful of bearnaise sauce. Serve extra sauce in a bowl.

HINTS ON FASHIONS IN THE METROPOLIS

Some Suggestions to the Woman Who Would Be Gowned Correctly.

New York, April 15.—The recent Spring openings have established the fact that no very revolutionary changes in fashions are to be expected during the Spring and early Summer season. The most conspicuous variations from the fashions of last Spring are the small hats, the short coats, and the new fabrics. Small hats had to come because of the flatter coiffures. Later in the season they will probably increase in size, but the crowns will still be smaller than have been seen in the big shapes for some time. Hats are a far less complex department of fashion, however, than the costume is. One could name almost every feature of a gown and give absolutely contradictory testimony as to the way it is being treated this season by the creators of the modes.

For instance, coats are anywhere from waist length boleros to thirty-inch cutaways and Russian blouses. Sleeves are half length, three-quarter length, or may be even more than the normal full length. In evening gowns they are only a wisp of mousseline or lace at the shoulders. Waist lines are variously described as normal, high in front, or high in the back. Skirts may be slashed or not.

Never has the blouse, the semi-tailored waist and the shirt been in such demand. For the past two years the separate waist has been more or less eclipsed by the one-piece frock, but it blossoms forth now with renewed vigor. Not a luxury, but a necessity, it is multicolored and in styles without number.

Almost all of the new waists show touches of vivid colors. Both simple and elaborate waists of cerise, Nell rose, French blue and black are combined with white and vice versa, showing a marked contrast from the waists of other years when white alone predominated. The dull tones used in cretonnes and tapestries and Dresden shades are often introduced for collars and cuffs. Turquoise blue, lavender and pink are seen on frills and pipings.

The materials employed in the making of these waists are varied. Crepe materials showing embroidery, stripes and bars may be either of light or heavy texture. Plain and embroidered voiles, Crepe de Chine, crepe meteor, China and tub silks are used, also linens, lawns and batiste. In the elaborate waists for afternoon wear all-over lace has been replaced by colored chiffon clothes, or charmeuse, matching the shade of the suit.

The double ruffle which has appeared on many of the waists of the winter, falling from under the Robespierre collar, is still in favor, and buttons of imitation pearl, crystal and jewels inset to match the color tone of the blouse and popular trimmings.

Collars are a distinctive feature of all the new waists. Eyelet embroidery collars also are new and few high collars are used. The neck line of waists for both street and house wear are semi low. Collars may be square, rolled, pointed or Robespierre, but all blouses have some form of collar. The sunshine collar is new. Its form is a narrow sailor, tapering into a V in front.

The simple morning waists of soft material and tailored blouses are nothing more than shirts, which form of waist is indispensable for outing wear. Tailored in the most mannish fashions, they show the soft collar and cuff, the yokes in the back and small pocket on the left side of the straight front plait. Tub silk is very good in this type of waist and broad stripes of color are much used. Crepe de Chine is also made up into this feminine negligee shirt.

The Tuxedo is a new form of the tailored shirtwaist. Fashioned exactly like the shirt, worn for the masculine dinner jacket, it has a vest of finest tucks outlined with hemstitching to give the shirt bosom effect. The sleeves are long, joined to the body of the waist with hemstitching and carry a tight turn-back cuff. The collar is upstanding and is encircled at the base by a narrow band of black taffeta ribbon, which is finished in the front by a bow tie resembling that used on a man's dress shirt.

On many of the white voile waists the collars, cuffs and popular small vests are of striped voile in some contrasting shade. For young girls is the voile waist, trimmed only with footing, which edges the sailor collar and front double ruffle, which is graduated without plaits, but quite full in effect. Tiny crochet buttons trim the waist. A model of lawn had Bulgarian embroidery about the rounded neck and extending down the left side. A white crepon waist, embroidered in tiny rosebuds of pink with grass green stems, had green ball buttons dotted down the center front. On this waist the long French shoulder seam was used.

Exceedingly smart was a waist of tub silk embroidered both back and front in a conventional design of king's blue. The long sleeves had tailored cuffs and the rolled collar was finished with a tie with long ends. The blue buttons of the same shade were placed down the front in a double row. Eponge in the cretonne coloring trims some of the tub silk waists. For wear with the street suit the Crepe de Chine is excellent and in many instances this has a vest of air-line cloth, a material like chiffon in appearance, but washable.

Filet lace trims the expensive lingerie waists. A model seen of ecru batiste had a front plait of Grecian embroidery and the embroidery collar edged with pointed filet. White wax buttons were used for fastenings.

On an imported model for dressy wear was seen the new corset cover effect. The body of the waist was of ecru net on a foundation of white chiffon. To this chiffon lining bands of old blue ribbon are attached, encircling the waist line and placed across the shoulders in inch-wide shoulder bands. On one side was caught a bow centred with artificial flowers in purple and cerise shades. A flat Robespierre collar of white charmeuse and square jabot of fine shadow lace finished the neck.

The square, flat jabot is excellent style for this variety of waist; most of these waists blouse over the belt. The simulated belero is also seen in chiffon waists. When ribbon is used in this form of trimming it is veiled; occasionally, however, the bow is uncovered.

A new decoration in cotton material is the use of the Irish lace stitch. With its open meshes and coarse irregularity it is charming if applied to thin materials. It is presented in borders woven on the material itself and in bands to be applied as trimmings. An attractive novelty in this beautiful lace stitch is stamped with colors, and, as much of the color falls through the open meshes, the result is pleasantly irregular and vague.

Colbert embroidery has been revived. The openness of the designs, which are cut out, with the edges buttonholed, make it particularly pretty made up over a vivid color.

FLORENCE FAIRBANKS.

Grandmother In College.

Mrs. Rachel Foster Avery, one of the first presidents of the Pennsylvanih suffrage association and a grandmother, is studying to be a farmer at the University of Wisconsin. She is a freshman, while her daughter is a sophomore. If Mrs. Avery has her way her granddaughter will enroll in the institution when she attains the proper age.

Mrs. Avery declares that one way to assist the suffrage cause is to become a successful farmer and thus humble man's pride in a calling in which he fancies he is supreme.

Boudoir Caps.

The boudoir cap is in fashion again and, though less fully and fluffy round the head, it contains quite as much material as those of last year. Some are made of the very finest lawn, while others are entirely of lace. The idea is to cover the hair during the various processes of the toilet, but the cap has been found so dainty and pretty that it is often worn when the toilet is quite complete, and it forms a charming adjunct of the breakfast table.

N. P. H. S. RUN-FEST AT HYDE BALL PARK

Bound Brook High Treated to Sound Spanking Yesterday Afternoon.

North Plainfield High School baseball players exhibited startling symptoms of real baseball under threatening weather conditions against the Bound Brook High School nine yesterday afternoon, when they piled up a victorious count of 22 to 3 with seemingly little exertion. Revenge was garnered in a plentiful dose by the boroughites for the beating they received at the hands of Bound Brook this time last year, and when Newton Spencer clamored to the mound victory was a foregone conclusion for N. P. H. S., as it was the sterling pitching of this little individual that held the visitors to six hits, all well distributed throughout the nine innings.

Townley was the star hitsmith of the contest, poling out three hits, all two baggers, while Abrams also got into the limelight with a trio of singles to his credit. For the losers, Captain Haegney was the best hitter, getting a pair of doubles and a single out of five trips to the rubber.

ANOTHER LEAGUE OPENS TOMORROW

International Organization to Begin its Schedule at That Time.

The International League will open its 1912 season tomorrow, with Buffalo playing in Jersey City, Toronto in Newark, Rochester in Baltimore, and Montreal in Providence. President Barrow declared last night that he expected the race in his league to be even closer than last year.

"The first division clubs of last year are of about the same strength, while the second division clubs have all been strengthened to such an extent that it looks like an impossible task to pick the probable winner," said Mr. Barrow. "I figure that every one of the eight clubs has a chance. There are practically no hold-outs on any of the clubs, all salary disputes between clubs and players having been amicably adjusted."

RAHWAY SPRINTERS TO HAVE HARD JOB

Neighboring School Athletes to Compete in Higher Class in U. of P. Relays.

The members of the Rahway High School track team are busily engaged in training for the U. of P. relays, which will be held at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, Saturday, April 26.

Under the direction of Coach Walter E. Short and Captain Edgar Milnes, the boys have been working strenuously during the past few weeks in order that they may duplicate last year's performance in attaining a banner for the school.

It was an easy thing for the Rahway lads last spring, but this year the red and black representatives are working under serious difficulties. The majority of last year's cracks, including Stanley Wildrick, Raymond Austin and Franklin La Point, have graduated, leaving only Milnes and George Schweitzer of the 1912 relay team. This complexity is supplemented by the fact that in consideration of Rahway's victory last year, the boys will be placed in a higher class, in which they will be compelled to compete with Barringer High of Newark, Wilmington High School of Wilmington, Del., Central High School of Philadelphia, Trenton High of Trenton, Bristol High of Bristol, and Atlantic City High School of Atlantic City.

Notwithstanding this fact, the boys are working hard to repeat last year's triumph, and unless something serious prevents they will fulfill their desire. Among the aspirants for the team are Captain Milnes, Alfred Connolly, Robert Davis, Leonard Mantio, R. and E. Erson, Paul Lukens, George Lutz, E. Baldwin, Bruce McWhinney, J. O. Garthwaite and Ed. Bartlett.

"COBB SHOULD WORRY."

Ty Cobb, "hold-out" of the Detroit American team, gave out a statement yesterday regarding his position with the Detroit management in which he said: "I will go to Detroit whenever I am asked, and am anxious to confer with officials of the club. I have advised them of my desire to amicably adjust matters. I suppose the punishment I will get for demanding more money will be banishment from baseball this year," he added. Cobb said nothing about a reported proposal that he become Chicago agent for an automobile concern.

'BIG SIX' STILL REIGNS SUPREME

Wonderful Command of Mathewson Shown in Records Compiled Below.

If Hugh Chalmers were to offer a motor car to the National League pitcher having the best control, Christy Mathewson, of the Giants, undoubtedly would be the individual who would receive the machine.

What wonderful command "Big Six" has is shown by the records. Matty now is entering on his fourteenth campaign in the parent organization and in four seasons—1908, 1909, 1911 and 1912—his average of passes has been less than one to the game. The year he exhibited the most perfect control was 1908, when almost unaided he nearly pitched the New Yorkers to a pennant and would have done so but for a certain incident which is now historical.

During that pennant pusuit McGraw's "master mechanic" labored in fifty-six engagements and countersigned only forty-two complimentaries, an average of 0.75 to the combat. Matty was almost as accurate last year, when he handed out thirty-four free tickets to first in forty-three skirmishes. In 1911 he averaged 0.85 gratuities to the game and in 1909, 0.97. Matty was wildest when he made his start in 1900. He took part in portions of six games that season, ridding his system of twenty-two passes.

The National League batters have been able to work Matty for only 77 complimentaries in the 515 championship games he has twirled, which means that he has issued only one and one half free tickets for every contest in which he has taken part. "Big Six" also has been stingy in the matter of transportation in contests for baseball's blue ribbon. The White Elephants got only one pass from him in three games in 1905 and but three gifts in the same number of games six years later. Last season the Red Sox pried five bases on balls out of the pride of Manhattan in the three games he twirled.

Christy's strike-out record also calls for praise. If he does as well in the whiff line this season as he did in 1908 or in 1903 he will claim his 2500th strike-out victim. He now has fanned 2261 National League players in contests for the world's title. The year Matty played the greatest havoc with batsmen was 1903, when he set down 267 batters on strikes in 45 combats. Five years later, participating in fifty-six frays, McGraw's box marvel killed off 259 hitters on strikes.

The number of men Matty has passed and whiffed since he broke into fast society will be found below:

FAMOUS HOLDOUT WEAKENS.

Ty Cobb, champion batsman of the American League, may become a resident of Chicago if he fails to come to terms with the management of the Detroit Club, according to a telegram sent by him from Augusta, Ga., yesterday. Cobb, replying to an offer of $15,000 a year and an automobile to act as Chicago agent for an automobile supply company of Logansport, Ind., said that he was still negotiating with President Navin, of Detroit, but would give a definite answer to the business proposition within ten days. The concern which seeks Cobb's services recently weaned Vincent Campbell, a Boston outfielder, from baseball and placed him in charge of its St. Louis branch.

CENTRAL LEAGUE MEETING.

An important meeting of the Central New Jersey baseball league will be held in the Frost building tonight at 8 o'clock. Representatives from all prospective entrants are requested to be on hand at that time.

Y. W. C. A. QUINTET GOT EASY VICTORY

Hope Chapel Five Clearly Outplayed in Fast Contest Last Night.

In what will probably prove to be the final basketball game of the local season, the Y. W. C. A. quintet defeated the Hope Chapel girls on the latter's court last night by a score of 31 to 18. The game was an unusually swift and at times, rough one, for a feminine contest, neither side possessing a winning advantage up until the final minutes of play, although the association basket cagers managed to remain in the lead at all times.

Speedy work was conspicuous on the part of the Y. W. C. A. five, while it was equally as conspicuous because of its absence in the Hope ranks, the team never having played together before with the lineup presented last night. The initial period of play ended with the score standing 11 to 6 in favor of the ultimate winners and they further increased their advantage in the final administration.

The score:

JENNINGS TO RE-ENTER GAME.

Manager of Tigers Wants to Become Star Pinch Hitter of Team.

A veteran of veterans proposes to shine with the Detroit Tigers this year—none other than Manager Hughie Jennings himself. He has been taking batting practice with a view to playing the role of "come back" as far as the sticking end of the game is concerned and acting as chief pinch hitter for the Jungaleers.

Hughie was wont to bang the pill for .400 average when in his prime, and Detroit long has wondered why he did not keep in practice and lend the aid of his war club in serious crises. He has been taking his turn with members of the squad and putting himself into all practice games possible in order to get a chance at curve balls. This is the first year since he joined Detroit that he has taken batting practice.

NORTHWESTERN LEAGUE.

Seattle, Wash., April 15.—The Northwestern league, one of the oldest and most successful of the baseball organizations west of the Rockies, started the season of 1913 today. Vancouver opened at Tacoma, Portland at Spokane and Victoria in Seattle. September 28 is the date fixed for the finish of the pennant race.

Williams Never Made Home Run.

Catcher Alvah Williams of Washington has a most peculiar record. Though an excellent hitter. Alvah has never made a home run in his professional career.

No Pygmies Among the Browns.

Emory Olson, infielder, is the smallest member of the Browns' squad, and he weighs 145 pounds. Most of the youngsters are physical giants.

BASEBALL IS NOW A COSMOPOLITAN GAME

Development of the Sport Among the Members of the Different Races.

One of the most interesting things about the national game in America today is its cosmopolitanism.

Starting from the sand lots and going on through the minors to the major leagues themselves, the same rule holds forth. And up at the top a more cosmopolitan array of players probably could never be found in any other one sport.

Only Englishmen play cricket, only Spaniards and Mexicans indulge in the bullfight, but everybody plays baseball in this country, be he black or white, fish, flesh, fowl or good red herring.

The development of the national pastime from boys of one nationality, if the game in embryo ever did consist entirely of youths of one nationality, also is worthy of note.

Probably the earliest steps in the evolution of the game consisted in gathering a team from among the village boys to play teams from other villages. Gradually this custom spread to hiring athletes from other villages for the more important games and finally rounded out in the garnering of diamond heroes of any nationality from all over the country.

Today the custom has spread to such an extent that a club which represents any big league city is a rarity if it happens to number among its ranks more than three players of the same nationality. It was early found, too, that good material for ball clubs could be found elsewhere than within the borders of the United States.

The avidity with which the Cubans took to the game and the skill with which they played it soon led American League scouts to hurry down to the island to see what they could gather in the way of big league plums. Soon the dark skinned islanders' names began to figure in the box scores. A few years ago when it was announced that Arellanes, a Mexican, had been garnered by the Boston Red Sox, crowds thronged the park to see the alien play. Today, though, such names as Marsans, Almeida and Acosta do not arouse curiosity. Their entry into big league ranks is no longer thought an innovation.

Early history of the national game reveals, too, the presence of American Indians among the lineups of various teams. The old Cleveland outfielder, Sockalexis, when he first began to wear the uniform of the Cleveland team, was regarded much in the same light as is a Borneo wild man in a circus. Today not much is thought of red skinned players, unless, as in the case of Thorpe, they have distinguished themselves in other fields.

Today there are just six American aborigines in the major leagues—Meyers, Thorpe, Bender, George Johnson, Zack Wheat and Shegg. Meyers and Thorpe are with the New York Giants, Bender is with the Philadelphia Athletics, Johnson is a Chicago White Sox man. Wheat plays the outer garden for Brooklyn, and Shegg is a recruit pitcher at Washington.

The tribes to which each of these players' forefathers belonged were land rich in the early days, with their aggregate territory ranging from Maine to Florida in the east and to the Mississippi and beyond in the west. Yet today some of the descendants of those tribes are earning their salaries in baseball.

It all goes to show the funny quirks fate gives to the destinies of man. Indians, Cubans, Mexicans, Irishmen, Frenchmen, Germans and fifty other nationalities thrown together in one melting pot, the major leagues, to issue forth, cosmopolitan still, but bound together by a common knowledge of a wonderful game and giving of their best to entertain the followers thereof.

LOCAL P. S. TEAM BEAT MONTCLAIR

Afterwards Acted as Hosts at a Banquet Held Here.

Eighteen members of the Montclair branch of the Public Service Corporation were entertained by the local corporation's bowling team and their friends at a course dinner and alley match here last night. As was the case when the Plainfielders went to Montclair the local bowlers took three out of the trio of contests rolled and some good natured rivalry was exhibited in the ranks of both contestants. The first two contests resulted in victories for the home pinners with scores of 785 and 914 respectively, against 628 and 714 chalked up by Montclair.

In these two matches, Hall and Swalm were the mainstays for the winners in the first and Evans, Swalm, Hall and Causbrook all rolled well in the second and were responsible for the high tally of 914. The third game went to the visitors with a count of 816 to 782, Haight and Gardner, of the Montclair aggregation, going up to 180. Swalm was the high man of the evening tallying a mark f 204 in the second contest, being the only bowler to pass the double century last night.

After the series the party, to the number of thirty-six, were entertained at Neighbors' by the home quintet and a big "feed" and a program of interesting dinner speeches was enjoyed. It was planned at last night's affair to conduct an inter-corporation baseball match between the two organizations, playing a game in this city and one at Montclair. Both plants have good diamond artists enrolled among their number and good games will probably be the result.

First, A LONDON-ORIENTAL RUG FAIR

Presenting a Vast Assemblage of Chinese, Persian, Indian, Turcoman, Caucasian and Turkish Rugs, together with a Newly-Arrived Cargo of Fine Eastern Rugs, Bought in Bond in the London Custom House, at a Great Sacrifice

This will probably produce the greatest sensation that New York City has known in years in Oriental Rug selling. So low were the prices we paid in London that the Rugs were held for special investigation by the U. S. Custom Officials. The Rugs had been shipped from Constantinople and the far East to London, and were held in Bond until payment was made to consignors. The consignee had to raise a large sum of money just at the time that our Rug Connoisseur arrived in London. He found the Rugs to be of superb quality, and he drove the best bargain of his life because he had ample capital at his back, and NO QUANTITY COULD HAVE BEEN TOO BIG, of such splendid Rugs, at such a fraction of their real values. Our expert's judgment was vindicated by the holdup at the Custom House, and it was doubly vouched for by a later incident. Realizing that we had all too few of one group of Rugs, we cabled to our London Manager to secure a hundred more big Rugs of the same grade, at the price we had paid, or near it. The answer was "Can't secure in all London any Rugs you require for less than double price paid."

For three months we have been assembling choice groups of practically every Oriental Rug family now being woven, wherever they could be found of superior grade and at sensationally low prices. Such an assemblage as this is only possible after months of patient, expert work, here and abroad.

This is why this LONDON RUG FAIR will startle the trade in New York, delight those who secure the Rugs, and make this occasion famous for months to come. That is why such prices as these are first quoted on a vast collection of brand-new, perfect Rugs in New York City.

These are some of the sensations of the Sale:

India Carpets

Ranging in size about 12 x 9 ft. in very desirable colors, worth from $150 to $200 each, at $87.50.

India Carpets, approximately 10 x 8 ft., values $100 to $150; at $65. Also 6 x 9 ft., values $75 to $100; at $47.50. India Rugs, about 7 x 4 ft., value $35; at $18.50; 14 x 10 ft., values $185 to $250, at $115.

FLY SWAT CAMPAIGN BEGINS THIS WEEK

Board of Health Makes Plans for Crusade Against the Tiny Pests.

Preliminary preparations were made and the first calls were issued for the proposed fly campaign under the direction of the local Board of Health at a meeting held in the health department offices last night, when an organization was effected for the movement which will be inaugurated here next Saturday morning. One of the rather novel schemes proposed is to hold an automobile parade on Saturday as a means of avdertising the campaign, and the local authorities would like to get into communication with automobile owners who are willing to lend their machines on that occasion. The cars will be decorated with banners designed to arouse interest.

A committee composed of Lindsey Best and Allen Beals was appointed to round up the juvenile element of the city and to enlist their aid in the work. Mr. Best will have charge of the Plainfield High School boys who will enter the campaign and Mr. Beals will head the Boy Scouts. A large amount of literature has been provided and this will be distributed when the boys make their house-to-house inspection and the premises which are condemned by these inspectors will be reported to the Health Board and proper steps taken to rectify the conditions.

A mass meeting will be held at the Y. M. C. A. on Friday night, at which time a lecturer who has made a careful study of the fly question will speak. Final details for the opening of the movement will be completed at that time.

HIS HEROISM COST BRYNIARSKI HIS LIFE

Following a period of unconsciousness lasting since last Friday noon, Bartholomew Bryniarski died at his home on West Second street last night. While attempting to extinguish a fire in the Spicer Manufacturing Company's plant on Madison avenue, where he was employed, last Friday morning, Bryniarski suffered an attack of heart trouble from which he never rallied. Returning to his home at noon that day he fell unconscious on the floor where he was found by his son Henry, but he never regained his senses.

Bryniarski has been a resident of this city for many years, and was an active member in both the Foresters and Red Men lodges. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Annie Bryniarski, one daughter, Helen, and two sons, Albert and Henry, all living at home. The funeral service will be held at his late home tomorrow at 8:30 o'clock and at St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock. Interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

AUTO BUS STOCKHOLDERS ARRANGE FOR ORGANIZATION

Stockholders and prospective stockholders of the Plainfield Transit Company, who are interested in the establishment of an auto bus line service between Plainfield, Stirling, Mt. Bethel, Summit, New Providence and other mountain villages, as well as South Plainfield, met last night in the Babcock building. Between fifty and sixty persons were present and all were enthusiastic over the proposition. That the auto bus service is here to stay is now practically assured and H. C. Pritchard, the manager, is now busy working on a new schedule extending the service to the above-named towns and villages.

As soon as the company organization is completed it is planned to use a second auto bus and to also inaugurate a service for the transportation of freight, including farm products, groceries, etc., between the points named. There will be a meeting of interested citzens at Berkeley Heights on Thursday night for the purpose of securing the bus service for that village.

TWO HAVE DISAPPEARED FROM UNION CO. HOMES

Mrs. John Defadrio, 23 years old, of Cranford, is missing from her home, according to a report received by the local police who have been asked to locate her. She is described as being medium in height, and wore at the time of her disappearance a white and brown waist, blue skirt, black sweater and black shoes.

Wallace S. Reed, of Westfield, who is also reported missing as told in yesterday's Daily Press, has not been found.

COMMON COUNCIL'S ROUTINE MATTERS

Minor Business Transacted by the City Fathers at Last Night's Session.

Dudley S. Miller and other citizens in a communication to the Common Council, last night, entered a protest against what they considered the fast driving of an automobile by John Townley, of the fire department, on a recent occasion. It was cited that Mr. Townley had taken Fire Chief Doane home and was returning to fire headquarters in the chief's auto through Park avenue, and the petitioners complained that a serious accident was narrowly averted. The matter was referred to the fire committee.

Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., through the secretary, W. Craig Smith, requested the Council to make its usual appropriation for the proper observance of Decoration Day. This was referred to the finance committee. The Public Service Corporation notified the Council that it had erected six electric lights according to instructions.

Upon motion of Councilman F. E. Mygatt, the ordinance providing for the macadamizing of East Seventh, West Third and West Fourth streets, and the issuance of $14,000 worth of streets bonds, was put back on second reading for amendment, the change being to extend the work of improvement on East Seventh street, from Park avenue to Richmond street, instead of Franklin place. The ordinance as amended was afterward adopted on second reading, ordered advertised and Monday night, May 5, was fixed as the time when a public hearing will be granted before adopting the ordinance on third reading.

The ordinance providing an extension of the sanitary sewer system was also adopted on second reading and ordered advertised. A resolution offered by Mr. Mygatt and adopted, authorized the city clerk to place advertisements in The Daily Press and Courier-News and the Engineering News that bids would be received at the May meeting for macadamizing East Seventh, West Fifth and Fourth streets, as proposed in an ordinance previously adopted.

The contract for building a dog pound was awarded to Charles F. McDonald, according to plans prepared by Edward V. French, architect, and under the supervision of Building Inspector T. O. Doane. Mr. McDonald's bid, $236, was the lowest. The Council adjourned to meet on Monday night, April 21.

1,000 SUNDAY SCHOOL MEMBERS CAMPAIGN ON

There is marked interest in the Bible School campaign of the First Baptist church, the object being to reach the one thousand membership mark by Christmas, exclusive of cradle roll and Home department. New members are coming into the school from outside places as well as from the immediate city and entire classes are being organized almost every week. Not only is the campaign being watched locally, but churches in other States are keeping in touch with the movement and are writing the pastor, Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, for points in similar campaigns elsewhere.

Enthusiasm is also increasing and the campaign promises to revolutionize all the activities of this historic church with its record of noble achievement in the past.

REV. DR. THOS. C. HALL TO ADDRESS SUFFRAGISTS

Announcement that Rev. Dr. Thomas C. Hall professor of Christian Ethics in Union Theological Seminary, will speak at the Plainfield High School, soon, on the subject of woman's suffrage, is considered by the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield, by far the most interesting and important event in the history of the local league, and it will be the first time that a meeting of this character has been held at the Plainfield High School.

Dr. Hall will come to Plainfield through the persistent efforts of Mrs. Francis deLacy Hyde, a member of the program committee of the local suffrage league. It is a significant fact that all of the professors of Union Seminary are ardent equal suffragists. Dr. Hall has a fine personality, a magnetic presence and is a great orator. He is devoting his life largely to the solution of the social problem, and his latest work, "Social Solutions in the Light of Christian Ethics," published last fall has gained widespread comment. The clergyman is widely known here where he has preached a number of times at the Crescent Avenue church. He is a son of the late Rev. Dr. John Hall, who was one of the greatest Presbyterian ministers of his time.

MISS ZELIE WAS CHARMING BRIDE

Daughter of Minister and B. B. Petigrue Married at Crescent Ave. Church.

HER FATHER OFFICIATED

Congregation Witnessed Ceremony—Small Reception Followed—Bridegroom a Graduate of Syracuse University.

Miss Frances Campbell Zelie, daughter of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. John Sheridan Zelie, of this city, and Birney B. Petigrue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Petigrue, of Oswego, N. Y. were married at 6 o'clock, last night, at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church in the presence of an assemblage of guests that filled that edifice. It was a notable gathering in that practically every family of the church was represented.

Miss Zelie had for her attendants Miss Marguerite Blendinger, of this city, as maid of honor, and the following bridemaids: Miss Barbara Fleming, Miss Marguerite Ramsay, Miss Marjorie Brown, Miss Marion Snyder, Miss Audrey Gernon, of this city, and Miss Arline, of Plymouth, Conn. The best man was Herbert W. Schaefer, of New York, and the ushers were Winfred Petigrue and Robert Petigrue, of Oswego, N. Y., brothers of the bridegroom; Dr. Leon Cornwell, Dr. Arthur Nilsen, R. Wilbur Tietjen and Charles E. Miller, all of New York.

The ceremony, the Episcopal form of service, was performed by the bride's father, Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, and was very impressive. Dr. E. Mettler Davis presided at the organ, and while the guests were arriving he gave a pleasing organ recital. As the bridal party entered the church the "Wedding March" from Lohengrin was played.

The bridemaids led the way, followed by the maid of honor and then the bride, accompanied by her great-uncle, Charles C. Sargent, of New York, who gave her in marriage. The party met the bridegroom and best man at the altar.

The bride's gown was of white crepe de chine and shadow lace. She wore a veil and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a gown of white brocaded satin with coral colored girdle and beaded chiffon veil and carried white sweet peas. The bridemaids were gowned in white crepe de chine, veiled with coral colored chiffon, and white beaded chiffon veils and carried white sweet peas.

While the ceremony was being performed, soft strains of music from the organ, added to the impressiveness of the occasion. As the bridal party left the church, the Mendelssohn Wedding March was played. As the bride and bridegroom passed down the aisle formal greetings were exchanged with guests.

A small reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents on Park avenue, for the bridal party and the relatives of the two families, during which congratulations were offered and a wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Petigrue will immediately go to housekeeping in Brooklyn. The bridegroom, who was formerly connected with the New York Telephone Company in this city, is now associated with the Firestone Company, of New York and Akron, O. He is a graduate of Syracuse University, Class '07. He was at one time one of the soloists in the quartet at the Crescent Avenue church. The bride has been popular in the younger set, being more or less active at the social functions given by the young people in this city.

Among the large collection of beautiful gifts received by the bride was a piano presented to her by a group of friends in the Crescent Avenue church. The other gifts included silverware, goldware, cut glass, furniture, linen and many other useful articles.

The decorations for the wedding by Stanley, the florist, were striking. At the church there was a pleasing arrangement of palms, dogwood, Easter lilies and white daisies within the chancel. The palms were grouped on either side and in front. Circling the gallery was beautiful smilax, while at the end of the front pews were white carnations. The decorations at the house were also very attractive.

Mr. and Mrs. Thatcher Brown, of Park avenue, gave a delightful dinner-dance at their home Monday night for the members of the bridal party, there being about twenty guests. After the dinner the young people enjoyed dancing until a late hour.

LIFE INS. EMPLOYES ATTEND CONVENTION

Plainfielders Among Those at Triennial Meeting of Metropolitan Company.

Fifteen members of the local staff of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company attended the triennial convention of the company held in the Metropolitan building, New York city, yesterday afternoon, and returned home last night highly enthusiastic over the reception accorded them. Over forty representatives from the Trenton, Red Bank, Passaic, Paterson, New Brunswick, Elizabeth and Plainfield districts attended the affair and enjoyed the excellent program of speech-making and music that preceeded and followed the banquet which was held at noon in the main office.

One of the announcements that caused a large amount of interest among the delegates was the plans outlined for the new sanitorium which the company is building for agents,, where they will be supported after their years of usefulness have terminated. Among the speakers at the convention were John M. Kopper, supervisor; George H. Gaston, second vice president; Frank O. Ayers, fourth vice president; Haley Fiske, vice president, and Rev. C. C. Briggs, rector of the Episcopal church, of Red Bank. All dwelt on the efficiency which has been sought and found during the past year and urged co-operation between the agents and the Home Office.

Those present from this city were: Harry C. Parris superintendent; Frank Stewart and Jacob Hoos, deputy superintendents; F. C. Burner, F. G. Lynn, Jr., T. R. Randolph, G. W. Tice, W. H. Calahan, Elmer Mantz, H. C. Bush, W. P. Banks, W. H. Kennedy, K. R. Melton, Joseph Navatto and S. B. Hope, agents. Following the convention session the local delegates saw a show at a theatre.

SOCIAL WORKER TO MAKE ADDRESS HERE

Miss Davis to Speak Before Monday Afternoon Club on Monday Afternoon.

Miss Katherine Bement Davis, superintendent of the Reformatory for Women at Bedford, N. Y., who has a world-wide reputation through her remarkable work for the reformation of women, has been secured to speak before the Monday Afternoon Club at the Hartridge Auditorium, Monday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. Her subject will be "Society and the Delinquent Woman."

As New Jersey has just started this work through the establishment of a reformatory for women, the presence of such a noted authority in this city should serve to attract an unusually large audience. Miss Davis has a charming personality and is a fascinating speaker. She was decorated by the King of Italy for the service she did following an earthquake in Italy, and has had private audiences with the Pope. Miss Davis usually spends her summer vacations in going abroad and making a special study of conditions in the countries from which the inmates of the New York Reformatory come and this has been a great help to her in her work.

JERSEY CITY FOR NEW GOVERNMENT

Commission Plan Adopted by a Decisive Vote in Jersey's Second Largest City.

DEFEATED IN HOBOKEN

Fight Lost Also in Bayonne and Union Hill—Change in Jersey City Will Take Effect on June 17 Next.

The commission form of government was adopted yesterday in Jersey City, but defeated in Bayonne, Hoboken, and Union Hill. In Jersey City the vote was 11,368 for and 7,078 against.

Jersey City is the largest Eastern city to adopt the plan. It defeated it at an election a year ago, but this time, according to political enemies of the present administration, the favorable vote was due largely to dissatisfaction with the present management of the city's affairs. Mayor H. Otto Wittpenn spoke in favor of the commission plan, but the majority of the city officeholders and employes were energetic workers on the other side.

In order to validate the election it was necessary that 30 per cent. of the number of votes cast at the last Congressional election should be cast yesterday. The required 30 per cent. in Jersey City was 10,580 votes. Those opposed to the new plan, who had expected the heavy rain to keep many voters at home, were disappointed when this number was exceeded by almost 8,000 votes. The vote by wards in Jersey City was:

	Y-s.	No.
First	2[illegible]6	[illegible]34
Second	712	432
Third	516	339
Fourth	656	571
Fifth	297	378
Sixth	915	322
Seventh	1,547	663
Eighth	2,506	661
Ninth	1,850	510
Tenth	683	631
Eleventh	803	945
Twelfth	497	987

At Bayonne the vote was 2,927 for the commission and 3,226 against. A strong opposition campaign has been led by Mayor Matthew T. Cronin, Democratic leader in that city. The advocates of the commission last night blamed the rain, which, they said, had made greater inroads on their vote than it had on the vote of the anti-commission party. The vote by wards in Bayonne was:

	Yes.	No
First	839	741

In Hoboken the vote stood 2,988 for and 3,391 against.

In Union Hill the vote against the change was 1,257, while only 433 persons voted for commission government. This was about 50 per cent. of the total vote of the town. Mayor William Ranenberg some time ago sent out a letter to the voters asking that they vote against commission government. He said the present government was satisfactory and economical, and that any change might result in an increase in taxes.

The elections took place under the Walsh act, which was passed two years ago by the New Jersey Legislature at the suggestion of Gov. Wilson. It provides that communities may call special elections by voters' petitions.

Before yesterday elections had been held in thirty-two municipalities in the State. The following thirteen communities had accepted the Commission: Atlantic City, Deal, Hawthorne, Long Branch, Longport, Margate City, Nutley, Ocean City, Passaic, Ridgefield Park, Ridgewood, Trenton, Wildwood.

The change in the form of government in Jersey City will take place on July 17. There will be two elections before the five Commissioners are selected. The first will be a free-for-all election, in which any aspirant whose petition has a sufficient number of signatures may get his name on the ballot. At the second election all will be eliminated except the ten having the highest number of votes at the first election. The five who win finally will serve for four years.

Joseph P. Tumulty, private secretary of President Wilson, traveled from Washington to Jersey City to cast his vote for the commission.

ANNUAL MEETING POSTPONED.

The annual meeting of Warren chapel for the presentation of reports will be held at the chapel on Wednesday night, April 23, and not tonight, as previously announced.

RUSHING WORK ON TARIFF LEGISLATION

Bill May Get Through House in 30 Days—Final Action Expected August 1.

Washington, April 16.—Chairman Underwood called upon President Wilson today and assured him that the tariff bill is sure to go through the House essentially in the form in which it now stands and that only such amendments as may be suggested by the committee are likely to be adopted. He expects the caucus to ratify the bill by the end of this week and thinks the bill can get through the House within thirty days. August is still a good guess as to final action of the bill in Congress, although deliberation of the income tax may prolong it. If Congress gets tied up on the income tax that feature can be separated from the bill and the tariff enacted.

Manufacturers are appealing to the ways and means committee to fix January 1 as the date for the tariff law to go into effect. No matter how the measure finally passes Congress, it is claimed that this action would settle business now alleged to be disturbed over the uncertainty as to the date of the law's effect. The woolen manufacturers, however, ask that free wool be allowed two months in advance of the rest of the bill. This would benefit them in making up their stocks.

HOPE CHAPEL CHOIR TO GIVE A MUSICALE

Under the auspices of the choir of Hope chapel, a concert will be given at the chapel, Friday night, May 16, at 8:15 o'clock. Rehearsals are now being held under the direction of Thomas Jones, organist of the chapel, and an interesting program has been arranged, including popular and classical selections.

The choir is composed of the following: Sopranos, the Misses Edna Eckert, Lona Becker, Mary Mortimer, Elizabeth Becker, Jessie Duncan, Elizabeth Doig, Alice Rimmer and Mrs. M. W. Clark; altos, the Misses Eunice Eckert, Elizabeth Slorah, Mabel Hunter and Mrs. Thomas Llewellyn; tenors, James Fanton, John Slorah, Harold Brownell and Howard Parry; basses, Thomas Llewellyn, Charles Phleger, Charles Vincent and David Wardrop.

ANCIENT HYMNS HISTORY TOLD BY MRS. M'CUTCHEN

A paper giving the "History of Ancient Hymns," was presented by Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen at the meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First Baptist church held yesterday in the lecture room. The paper was so full of charm and interesting facts that it deserved a larger audience than the rainy day made possible and it is hoped there will be a future presentation under more favorable circumstances.

The paper was followed by a talk from Miss Grace Deland, a worker in the city mission of New York. She gave a vivid description of the conditions among which the city missionary worked and the help that came to the down-trodden and suffering through their ministration. She made an appeal for remembrance by families whose incomes were derived from the great city.

A second paper on the "History of Modern Hymns" will be presented next month by Mrs. Robert Lowry.

WOMEN'S ALLIANCE WORK.

Mrs. H. B. Harding, president of the New Jersey Women's Alliance Association, addressed members of the Women's Alliance of All Souls' church yesterday afternoon at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Joseph O. Osgood. She spoke chiefly on the good work being accomplished by the numerous alliances, and urged the necessity of loyalty in organizations of this kind. The hostess served luncheon following the business meeting. Mrs. A. E. Wilson, wife of the pastor, and who is president of the local alliance, presided.

TO COMPLETE ORGANIZATION.

The trustees of the Board of Trade will meet tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Sebring's Auditorium, 228 West Front street, to complete the permanent organization. It is earnestly desired that all persons interested be present and lend their efforts in behalf of the new organization.

A COLLISION.

DAY'S WAGES $4 FOR PAINTERS?

Howard Woolston Tells Journeymen at Banquet They Should Be Better Paid.

AT HOTEL WALDORF

President George Hogan, of Local Union, and Others Speak—The Menu Was Particularly Fine—Those Present.

Howard F. Woolstón, secretary of Woolston & Buckle, painting and decorating contractors, speaking at the thirteenth annual banquet of Local Union No. 480, Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers last night at the Hotel Waldorf, declared that painters working in Plainfield are entitled and should receive $4 per day which is the scale of wages paid in Elizabeth, instead of $3.75, the present rate here. He also urged the men to direct their efforts toward bringing about the change.

These statements, coming as they did, from a member of the Master Painters Association, caused a surprise in the ranks of the journeymen gathered around the banquet table and the speaker was vigorously applauded. The spirit of the occasion throughout the evening was one of merry-making, and harmony. That good-will and co-operation between journeymen and contractor should at all times be striven for, was the keynote. An excellent menu up to Henry Windham's usual high grade, was served.

George Hogan, president of the local union, who acted as toastmaster, made the opening address in which he reviewed the work of the year and said during the year 1912 $668.50 in sick benefits and donations had been paid out and that thus far this year $251.55 had been expended for the same purpose.

Other speakers were George Neill, of Elizabeth, president of the New Jersey State Conference Board; M. J. Beck, State Organizer; W. H. Lunger, local representative, and John T. Green.

A musical program was provided by Henry Vardon and Lawrence Brower, vocalists, and a band composed of journeymen painters under the leadership of John Emery.

Among those present were: W. H. Lunger, H. W. Rhodes, J. B. MacDonald, Everett Marston, William Spalding, G. W. Mead, A. Bittenbender, Richard Gamble, J. S. Hoagland, W. C. Crowley, C. Cordorva, T. H. Cavalear, George M. Hoagland, J. W. Case J. B. Harsell, A. Love, Jr., E. Rhodes, Christian Kuehn, Theodore Womiser, John Donaldson, Allan Anderson, Samuel C. Terry, William Cleaves, James Henderson, Harry Zimmerman, William L. Williard, Charles Trotter, Edward Chargois, Joseph Marcus, James A. Sutton, James Lenshaw, E. J. Gomian, Robert Auld, James Markay, Vincent Lee, Leo M. Gates, James Bergen, Lawrence F. Barrett, Sr., Edward Kugler, Lawrence F. Barrett, Jr., Thomas Lyons, Alfred MacDonald, Oliver Peel, Geo. Lematty, John D. Vardon, James C. Hansen, John Emery, John D. Mitchell, Fred Hale, Edward Townley, Stephen Larso, William Wagner, Albert Naylor, M. J. Beck, John Wilson, Eugene Demarest, M. Fitzsimmons, F. Callaway, A. MacDonald, John English and James Boyle.

The affair was arranged by the good and welfare committee of the local which is composed of Allan Anderson, Ernest Rhodes and John Donaldson.

The demand for young people in the business offices is increasing steadily and during the past two weeks the following young people from the Plainfield Business College and School of English have obtained positions: Lewis Ulmer, of Bound Brook, with the John Manville Co.; Grace Brokaw, of Somerville, with the Corning Poultry Company; Wilbur Moke, of Plainfield, with the Corn Exchange, New York; John Rinehart, of Dunellen, with the Public Service; May Ayres, of Plainfield, with the Century Rubber Company, and Arthur Hone, of Plainfield, with the Saurer Motor Truck Co.

FOR VICTIMS' RELIEF.

Several barrels of clothing and other necessities will be shipped today from Isaac Schwed's clothing store in West Front street, to Rev. Dr. T. H. Marshall, pastor of the Dayton, Ohio, Unitarian church, for the relief of members of his congregation suffering from the hardships caused by the terrible flood in that section. The articles were collected by the Women's Alliance of All Souls' Unitarian church.

BURGLARS ENTERED GRACE CHURCH ALSO

Now Learned That They Visited at Least Three Edifices Sunday Night.

That the burglaries committted at the First Presbyterian and First Baptist churches Sunday night, were the result of a well-laid plain on the part of a local gang seems to be the opinion of those who have been investigating the matter. It was learned today that the parish house of Grace church was also entered some time Sunday night or early Monday morning, but in that case the burglars obtained nothing. Entrance was effected through a window pried open with a jimmy or other sharp instrument.

The burglaries have been reported to the police and they are now at work on several clues, it is said. Following a conference with the church officials, the police are convinced, it is said, that the work is that of local parties, someone fully acquainted with conditions. It was learned that at the First Baptist church, the burglars secured the private keys of Oliver B. Leonard, church clerk, kept in a hidden place, which made easy access to the desk where the $80 was left preparatory to banking it on Monday. The fact that the persons knew where the keys were kept, has aroused the suspicion of the police.

John LeMatty, superintendent of the Plainfield Rescue Mission, while passing the First Presbyterian church, Sunday night after service, is said to have seen two young men, one colored, coming through the driveway adjoining the church. As near as he could make out, one wore a slouch hat and the other a derby.

WANT TO JOIN CAMP AT LAKE WAWAYANDA

About Thirty Local Boys Will Spend Summer Vacations at Y. M. C. A. Camp.

Twenty-four local Y. M. C. A. boys have sent in applications to spend their summer vacations at the State Camp situated at Lake Wawayanda, during the coming summer, and five others will probably be lined up before the time for applying for registration closes. This is the fifth season that C. William Bingeman, boys' secretary of the local association, has had charge of the Plainfield delegation and during the previous four seasons he has taken a total of eighty-eight boys to the camp with him as follows: 1909, 8 boys; 1910, 16 boys; 1911, 26 boys; 1912, 38 boys.

The applications already turned into the local association are the largest collection that have ever been handled so early in the year and present prospects point toward a record enrollment representing the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. at the State camp during the summer of 1913. A number of boys who are at present unable to state the time they will be able to attend the camp, will send in their applications between now and when the time for registration terminates.

A special feature of the camp activities this season and one which will be taken advantage of by many Plainfield youths is the summer vacation school which was so well received last year. This new department enables boys conditioned in their school work in one or two subjects to remove them, and also gives the boys who have failed in one or more subjects an opportunity to make credits for promotion and make it possible for others to prepare for preliminary college examinations.

The boys who have already enlisted for this summer are as follows:

First section—Robert Vesey, Godfried Clay, Carlton Moore, Donald Henwood, Holmes Clawson.

Second section—Elmer Blimm, George King.

First and Second sections—Judson Blake, Edward Crone, J. Hayward Erickson, Mac Fullerton, John Hammann, Donald F. Hylan, J. Wesley Johnson, Warren Mumford, LeRoy Stringham, Evan B. Stevens, Russell F. Tomlinson, Irving Wiltse, Harold Condict.

Third and Fourth sections—Seymour B. Stover, Reginald Sykes, Richard Pennock.

Fourth section—Walter Debele.

COMMITTEES FOR ANTI-FLY BATTLE

Campaign Division Managers Named for Campaign to Start Saturday.

MEGREW THE GENERAL

Methods and Purposes of the Crusade Are Explained by Those in Charge of the Plainfield Action—Auto Parade Saturday.

"Starve the Flies" is the warning which has beeen issued by the committee in charge of the proposed fly campaign, which will start in real earnest here Saturday morning. It is contended that a little common sense and a little self-denial combined with a very little labor will save you lots of discomfort, perhaps ill health and possibly even greater misfortune, during the hot weather which is not far ahead. Representative business men of Plainfield are lending their valuable time to emphasize the fact that the common housefly is a carrier of disease. Typhoid fever, diarrhoea, dysentery and tuberculosis are carried by this pest.

Plans have been outlined by the committee in charge whereoy every householder in the city will be visited by an inspector and the premises occupied by said householder will be subjected to a thorough inspection. The work will be conducted on a systematic basis and a complete report submitted to the local Board of Health at the conclusion of the campaign. Those who fail to meet the demands of the inspectors in ridding their premises of all fly-breeding places will be submitted to what is commonly known as "compulsory sanitation" in which the city will take a hand in domestic affairs in an effort to eliminate all nuisances.

Every householder in self defence should destroy the breeding places of these pests by keeping garbage cans tightly covered and in a screened enclosure so that no flies can get at them, see that the garbage is removed frequently during the summer months, wash and disinfect cans frequently, store manure so that flies cannot get at it to lay their eggs for this is one of the greatest breeding places of the pest, have it removed once a week. All persons selling food of any description should see that the goods are protected from flies and should not expose food in front of their stores where it could be contaminated by both flies and street dust. Do not allow decaying matter of any kind to accumulate on your premises. Screen the doors and windows of your house, particularly the kitchen, in order to keep the flies from entering and getting on the food.

Remember that the female fly lays about 120 eggs, which in the course of a few hours become maggots, and after another transformation the full grown fly appears at the end of ten days. As in the matter of sanitation and hygiene, cleanliness is the watchword, cleanliness about your house and property will prevent flies breeding.

The fly has long, feathery antennae used in gathering minute particles of food. In these and the stiff hairs of the body lurk the disease germs that the housefly distributes everywhere he goes. In starting the work now the commission hopes to kill many of the would-be disease producers before they are hatched and in order to accomplish this great end they need the co-operation of every Plainfield citizen, every fraternal organization and the school children. Get in line, this may be your first opportunity for civic service, so make the best of it. If it is your second or third, or hundredth, make it better than the rest. The committee and sub-committees thereof are as follows:

Chairman Anti-fly Campaign Committee, George Megrew.

Committee on Advertising in Street Cars, George H. Frost.

Committee on Visiting Factories, A. M. Merrill and Frederick Harrington.

Committee on Securing Co-operation of Ladies' Clubs, Mrs. H. D. Corbusier, Miss Isabel Tweedy, Mrs. A. B. Jones, Miss Elsie Martin and Mrs. A. V. Heely.

Dunellen & Vicinity

Members of the New Market Grange will attend the county meeting to be held tomorrow night in Milltown.

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the National American Women Suffrage Association, was the principal speaker at a suffragette meeting held last night in St. John's Parish Hall, Elizabeth. Mrs. E. F. Feickert, of Dunellen, presided and made the opening address.

Although several Dunellen women are interested in the doings of the suffragists, few meetings on the subject have been held here. But if the plans contemplated at present are realized, Dunellen will soon be the scene of a monster suffrage demonstration. The meeting will probably be held in Friendship Hall, and will undobutedly be preceded by a parade.

At the regular monthly meeting of the New Market Building and Loan Association, held last night, many applications were received for new shares. The report of the officers showed the association to be in a thriving condition. The recent boom to real estate in Dunellen was the cause of considerable comment. While many speculators, builders and buyers from Newark, New York and elsewhere have been coming into town lately, these people have come here on their own volition, or at the invitation of the respective realty firms. That many more people could be induced to establish in Dunellen if an advertising scheme was launched was the opinion of many, and it is probable that a meeting of local business men will be held the latter part of this month.

Important subjects will be discussed at the next meeting of the local Board of Trade, scheduled for Monday night, April 21.

'Plains & Fanwood.

Practically every boy or man in Scotch Plains who can roll a ball down the polished alleys of the Parish House, without having the sphere do the "gutter" act, has entered his name in the bowling tournament being conducted by Instructor Batterson and for which attractive prizes have been offered. The tournament will be run on a handicap basis which enables bowlers of all classes to compete with a chance to capture one of the prizes. William Guest, chairman of the bowling committee, will announce the handicaps Monday night, when the tourney will begin. The first prize will be a made-to-order bowling ball, with finger holes any size desired. The second, third and fourth prizes will be gold, silver and bronze medals. An additional trophy will also be given for holder of the high score record for the tournament.

BIBLE CLASS HOLDS ITS ANNUAL DINNER

Rev. Dr. P. B. Strong, Miss Grace Deland and Miss Eason Deliver Addresses.

Inspiring addresses, accompanied by an excellent dinner, which will undoubtedly be an annual affair, was enjoyed by the members of Mrs. Lewis Matlack's Bible class of young women at the First Baptist church, last night. There were present about fifty of the seventy members of the class, together with several invited guests. The dinner was served about 7 o'clock by Mrs. Henry Johnson, after which the addresses were made.

Mrs. Matlack, the energetic teacher of the class, presided and introduced the speakers. She first gave a short talk, telling of the growth of the class from a membership of six four years ago to the present enrollment of seventy. She emphasized the loyalty and faithfulness of all the young women, especially referring to their devotion to the class and the church.

Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, the pastor, gave a short address on "Ideals," during which he complimented Mrs. Matlack and her class for the excellent work performed and encouraging them to do even greater things in the future. Arthur M. Harris, superintendent of the Sunday-school, brought words of encouragement to the young women by telling them what a benefit the class had been to the Sunday-school. In both of these addresses the campaign to secure one thousand members of the school by Christmas was not overlooked.

Miss Grace Deland, of New York, who addressed the women's missionary society in the afternoon, remained over and told the young women of her settlement work in New York, relating many interesting incidents. Her words were an inspiration. Miss Eason, a teacher in the Stillman Public School, also addressed the gathering on the subject of "Ideals," in which she offered many helpful suggestions to the Sunday-school workers.

Added features of the affair were piano solos by Miss Miller, of Dunellen, and selections on a talking machine operated by Myrton Glover. The Sunday-school room was attractively decorated with palms and spring flowers. The whole affair was under the direction of Mrs. Matlack, assisted by members of the class.

MR. REED'S INTERVIEW.

Any one at all familiar with the provisions of the Walsh act, will not be misled by the rather specious argument against the adoption of commission government for Plainfield made by Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed and appearing in the Courier-News on Monday. But his statement should not be allowed to go unanswered for as a great majority of our citizens naturally have not the time to investigate it would do a great deal of harm at the outset of a campaign for commission rule.

By innuendo, Mr. Reed apparently lets it be understood that the present movement is founded on a contention that the city is misruled and that there is grafting. Any one who has read the reasons advanced by Mayor Stewart, former Mayors Fisk and Moy and others for advocating the change, knows perfectly well that there is not the slightest insinuation of either misrule or grafting. The proposition is simply one of good business, it is to take advantage of the very latest, most advanced and nearest perfect form for administering the people's affairs. It is to simplify the methods and to make more speedy, democratic and more generally satisfactory the working of government. But a clever lawyer appreciates the value of confusing the issue.

As for his question, "Does any one charge that the city has not been well governed?" it might be said that some certainly have, otherwise we would not have witnessed popular uprisings bringing about in the orderly and legal way a change in the administrations and the banishment to private life of some of our councilmen in recent years. As a matter of fact, however, in this instance, no argument of this sort is presented, or even figures, in the present movement. The supporters of the movement so far as we have been able to learn have no fault to find either with the Mayor or the Common Council, notwithstanding attempts may have been made futilely to give them that impression. It is disproven by the fact that Mayor Stewart, himself, as well as some able members of the Common Council as well as other city officials have come out strongly in favor of the adoption of the commission plan, the Mayor, himself having been the first to announce his candidacy in the event of a popular verdict for a change.

The most serious error and one for which Mr. Reed disavows responsibility, is that "none of the present ordinances could continue in effect because, upon the installation of a commission, the present city charter would be suspended, and a new form of government based upon the Walsh act, which is subject to change at every session of the Legislature, would take its place, and the act of 1869 passed expressly for the incorporation of this city, would become a thing of the past." Mr. Reed is a good lawyer and he knows that as a general proposition, even in the absence of an express provision to the effect, all ordinances and acts not directly conflicting, would continue in full force and effect, just the same as all contracts heretofore made. The new government, in other words, would be the successor and assignee of the old. In the Walsh act on page 471, chapter 221 of the laws of 1911, it is expressly provided: "All ordinances or resolutions heretofore passed in any such cities" (meaning cities adopting the commission form of government) "not inconsistent with the rights and powers herein granted shall remain in full force and effect until altered or repealed by the commissioners in the manner herein provided." By reason of this provision, when Trenton suspended its charter by adopting the commisssion plan, the ordinances of the mayor and council continued in effect, and the same is true in every other city where the change has been made. However, in justice to Mr. Reed it should be stated very plainly that he says he was misquoted, for the declaration was made more sweeping than was his actual statement.

What Mr. Reed states he did say to the Courier-News reporter was that the ordinances would have to be remodeled in many instances. The statement as published, however, is so serious that the false impression it gives should not be overlooked.

We do not believe that any one should be alarmed by Mr. Reed's statement that "A bad commission could sack the city in this time," referring to the period of six years during which the charter is suspended before it becomes void. The limitations of power provided by the act, would prevent this, and as the act allows for a recall such a situation, we believe could not happen. There is no recall of councilmen at the present time except at a general election when the terms expire and a bad Council could not be driven out of office in less than two years, whereas at the beginning a bad commission could be retired in thirteen months, and after the first year in a much briefer space of time.

FIELDER WILL ADDRESS MEETINGS ON JURY BILL

Believing in the jury reform bill, which has the support of President Wilson, as well as Governor James F. Fielder, the Elizabeth Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church at its meeting in Elizabeth, yesterday, appointed a commitee to invite the Governor to speak in that city on the merits of the bill. The action was taken as the result of a suggestion made by Rev. Hugh McCaulley, of Trenton, who declared that reform is needed, because at the present time it is hard to get good men to serve on juries.

Dr. McCaulley commented upon the fact that Governor Fielder acceded to the wishes of all the churchmen, Protestant and Catholic alike, and vetoed bill No. 634, which was an amendment to the bishops' law, allowing a saloon to do business as long as the bar is 200 feet away from a church, school or armory.

The presbytery elected these officers for the coming year: Moderator, Rev. J. B. Dare, of Lower Valley; temporary clerk, Rev. William B. Hamilton, of Elizabeth; stated clerk for five years, Rev. Samuel Parry, of Somerville; permanent clerk for five years, Rev. Dr. John T. Kerr, of Elizabeth; treasurer, five years, Rev. Joseph B. Ferguson, of Elizabeth. Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, Rev. J. O. McKelvey, Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring and Rev. Frederic L. Greene, of this city, attended the meeting.

BOY SCOUT NOTES.

A preliminary tryout was conducted by Scoutmaster Allen E. Beals and his First Presbyterian Boy Scouts at the church last night in preparation for the exhibition at the Scotch Plains Parish House on Friday night, when a troop will be organized there.

Last night the Bethel Chapel Boy Scouts were the guests of the Presbyterian boys and all of the Scouts were given their assignments for the coming fly campaign. Each member was given a certain district to cover on a tour of inspection to start next Saturday morning.

The funeral service for Thomas Deers, colored, of 217 West Third street, whose death resulted from wounds inflicted at the hands of Mateio Papalillo Saturday night, who was later held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of murder, was held from the Ebenezer Baptist church yesterday afternoon.

J. Harry Campbell, of this city, who has been in Crescent City, Fla., during the past season looking after his orange groves, will leave there Friday on the Steamer Comanche, or the Clyde Line, for home.

SOMERVILLE WOMAN SUES MIDDLESEX CO.

Wants $25,000 Damages for Injuries in Auto Accident on Creek Bridge.

Mrs. Janet Neil, of Somerville, has brought suit against Middlesex County at New Brunswick for $25,000 damages for the collapse of the Ambrose Creek Bridge, near Bound Brook, on November 2 last when her companion, Solomon Jacobs, of New York, was killed and she was badly injured.

Mrs. Neil and Mr. Jacobs were driving in her little car and coming on the bridge on a sharp turn, were thrown into the brook when the bridge sprung off its supports. Mr. Jacobs was pinned beneath the car and drowned in two feet of water, while Mrs. Neil, thrown free, escaped with her life.

Heirs of Mr. Jacobs started suit in the United States Court, but the action was thrown out because of defects in the complaint. Mrs. Neil has started suit in the New Jersey Supreme Court, with ex-Judge Case, of Somerville, as her attorney. The papers have been served on the Middlesex Board of Freeholders and referred to County Solicitor Coan to prepare an answer.

The Freeholders claim that Mrs. Neil struck the side of the bridge, throwing it off its foundation, and that the accident was not caused by any defect in the structure which would make the county liable.

HOW MUCH ALIMONY MUST DR. PITTIS PAY?

How much alimony Dr. Albert Pittis, of this city, is to pay Mrs. Ida C. Pittis, who lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Borsum, 193 East Seventh street, has been a subject of inquiry before Advisory Master J. Franklin Fort at Newark.

Mrs. Pittis testified that she understood, from statements made by her husband, that he was in receipt of an income of approximately $17,000 a year, of which amount upward of $5,000 represented income from his practice.

In his answer to his wife's petition for alimony, filed by Charles A. Reed and William N. Runyon, of this city, Dr. Pittis set his net income down as not more than $7,800 a year, and Vice Chancellor Stevens fixed the amount of alimony pen-dente lite at $50 a week.

Dr. Pittis gave his gross income from property he owns in this city, assessed at $68,675, at $10,741.13, and figured that the net income amounted to $5,051.52.

His income from property in Manhattan belonging to his father's estate, and assessed at $316,500, Dr. Pittis tesified, averaged about $800 a year, there being nine to share in the net proceeds of the estate.

CENTRAL JERSEY LEAGUE PLANS FOR ITS SEASON

With a representative attendance despite the unfavorable weather conditions, the Central New Jersey baseball league held another busy meeting last night, a new team springing up which promises to be one of the most formidable aggregations on the circuit. In the absence of President Williams, who was hindered by the rain, having to travel all the way from High Bridge via automobile if he wished to attend the gathering, nothing was done in the matter of accepting the schedules that were to have been presented by the schedule committee but this organization composed of Ernest Dorflinger, Jack Torpey and Robert Bogardus will draw up game cards for both a four and six team organization and present them at the next meeting, which will be held Friday night of this week.

Leslie Dodge, an old time ball player on local lots, sprang a surprise at the meeting last night by announcing his intention of organizing a ball team in either Elizabeth or Westfield and entering the Central New Jersey League. This matter has come under the careful consideration of Dodge and the former sand lot favorite thinks he can make the sport go in either of the two cities. He has been in communication with Warren Kennedy, who last year had a team of college players performing in New York city. It seems that Kennedy has purchased the old Yankee uniforms that were discarded last seasoni and intends to supply his Elizabeth or Westfield team with these (thus supplying the necessary class).

The matter of establishing a salary limit was discussed and favorably commented on by those in attendance. The schedule of the league will be started either May 10 to 17.

KING CONSTANTINE ON WAY TO CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES TO GIVE OATH; PALACE IN BACKGROUND

Immediately after the announcement of the assassination of King George of Greece, in Salonica, on March 18, Crown Prince Constantine, who had just entered the conquered city of Janina, in Epirus, started for Athens, travelling day and night over rough roads through the mountainous country in an automobile, reaching Athens two days later. The first important step was to present himself in Congress, take the oath and be proclaimed King of the Hellenes. This was on Friday, March 21, one of those beautiful days of early spring when Athens was in its glory. As early as five o'clock in the morning the population of the Greek capital crowded every point of vantage, eager to greet the conqueror and proclaim him King. The ceremonies were performed in most elaborate fashion, the royal soldiers lining themselves all along the avenues from the Royal Palace to the Chamber of Deputies, where the oath was taken. The spectacle was as magnificent as it was beautiful. "Long live the King! Long live Constantine, the liberator!" was the great cry of the thousands of loyal subjects along the line of march.

New Process Discovered to Utilize River Plants.

The development of a great manufacturing industry in the Egyptian Sudan is a dream that may be near realization. The vast mass of sudd or water plants clogging up the upper portion of the White Nile is a great store of vegetable fiber, and a commercial means of utilizing this has been impatiently awaited. Two or three years ago fuel briquets from it were found to be practicable. It seeed a good material for more valuable pulp, but attempts to bleach this failed, and chloride of lime—the most promising bleaching agent—destroyed the fiber.

A late experiment is now reported to have given successful bleaching in an electrolytically treated solution of common salt, or chloride of sodium. In five hours this solution turned the pulp to a light cream color, in eight hours to a creamy white and in twenty hours to a white suitable for high grade paper. The fiber proved to be unattacked and of great strength. With sudd fuel and salt from the Red sea, the necessary materials for making pulp and paper are readily available, and the chief remaining difficulty—that of bleaching having been conquered—seems to be the transporting of the product of the tropic factories.

Egypt is a land of paradoxes to the farmer. W. L. Balls reports that the cotton plant grows chiefly at night, as the severe loss of water in regulating internal temperature causes a suspension of the growth during sunshine. Any cause of increased night temperature hastens the development of the crop. A night breeze sometimes raises the temperature and warms the plant, but this motion of the air at the same time cools the grower and adds to his comfort.

SECRET OF MUMMIES FOUND.

Human Magnetic Current Preserves a Hand.

A severed hand mummified simply by the application of human magnetic currents without chemicals was shown recently to the members of the second international congress of experimental psychology. The hand was cut from a body in the public morgue and was subjected daily for fifty-five days to magnetic influences emanating from Dr. Georges Durville, the secretary of the congress, Mme. Reinaud and M. Picot.

The hand was examined and touched by various psychologists. It appeared much like the hand of an Egyptian mummy. It had lost three-eighths of its weight by evaporation during the process.

Dr. Durville explained to the congress that the result had been wrought by vital currents from the operators and suggested that similar processes might have been used in ancient Egypt.

Among the curious apparatus exhibited at the congress was one invented by Dr. Fayor to measure psychic force. Another was a "suggest meter" to measure the capacities of persons to displace objects without touching them.

SHIPPING SPHINX TO U. S.

Treasure Found Near Memphis, Egypt, Goes to Philadelphia.

Announcement was made recently at the University museum at Philadelphia that Professor Flinders Petrie has shipped to the museum from Egypt a twelve ton sphinx which he has just dug up near Memphis. The sphinx is of red granite and bears the head of Rameses II. This is one of the most notable additions to the museum collections and will adorn the new rotunda so soon as it is completed.

By an arrangement recently made the University museum shares in the expense of the excavations under Professor Petrie and receives its share of the discoveries. It is expected that this arrangement will greatly enrich the museum, which already has many treasures from Egypt.

HAS $2,500 PLACED IN LIVER.

Patient Is Treated With Precious Radium For Cancer.

Radium was used as a cure for cancer recently for the first time in Philadelphia. Inserted in a small silver tube, twenty milligrams of radium, valued at $2,500, was laid in a cancer on the liver of Malcolm Watson in the Methodist hospital by Dr. G. J. Schwartz, a Pittsburgh surgeon. It is believed the radium rays will act on the cancer as they do on a variety of skin diseases and gradually kill it.

Several of the city's best known surgeons saw the operation. They took much interest in the treatment and are hopeful of its success.

The only anaesthetic used in the operation was cocaine, applied locally.

PEARY'S ANTARCTIC THEORY.

Explorer Urges That United States Send Three Expeditions to Pole.

Rear Admiral Peary, speaking recently before the international geographical congress, urged that three antarctic expeditions be undertaken—one directly to the south pole, a second around the pole and a third to cross it.

He expressed the hope that the United States will initiate these expeditions and promised to give his support and experience in carrying them out, but will not personally take part, as they need younger men.

"Those Square Pot Boiler Folks — Don't Have Much Ashes—and that shows they don't burn much coal. I heard a fellow sayin' yeste'dy as how he'd put in one of them SQUARE POT Boilers and it worked fine. Said the hull house was warm as toast and not a bit o' bother to keep it so. Said the reason for it was 'a square firepot that giv' out as much heat on a little coal as a round firepot would on a good deal of coal—and it never got clogged up with ashes, neither. Well, from the general aspect o' this can, he was handin' out straight goods."

This is a sectional view of Square Pot Boiler—note large body of fire and upward trend of surfaces, which give free steaming.

That's the long and short of the SQUARE POT story.

SQUARE POT Boilers give the heat—lessen bother and keep a clean house. Why not install one and claim these advantages for yourself? Let the dealer in your town show you.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

VEGETABLE MELANGES.

WHEN there are cold vegetables in the house they need not be thrown away, but may be used up in various ways.

Salads, hashes and vegetable pies may be made up with the odds and ends of cold vegetables that most housewives throw away. This way the high cost of living may be greatly reduced.

A few suggestions for using various cold vegetables are given here:

Sweet Potatoes and Carrots.

Browned Sweet Potatoes.—Take cold boiled sweet potatoes, peel them and cut into lengthwise slices. Put three tablespoonfuls of dripping in a good sized frying pan, dust the slices with salt and pepper and put them in the hot fat. When browned on one side turn and brown on the other.

Diced Carrots With Cream Sauce.—Take cold carrots and cut into half inch dice. Pour over them a cream sauce made of one cupful of hot milk poured gradually over one tablespoonful each of butter and flour rubbed together. Add a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt and a half saltspoonful of pepper.

Parsnips and Cauliflowers.

Parsnip Fritters.—Take five medium sized cold parsnips and mash them fine. Add a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, a teaspoonful of flour and a beaten egg. Make into small cakes oval in shape and flattened on the sides and fry in deep fat or saute in a frying pan until a delicate brown.

Fricasseed Cauliflower.—Break into sprays what is left of a cooked cauliflower. Season with salt, red pepper and grated cheese. Have ready a good light frying batter, made with two ounces of flour, a dessertspoonful of olive oil, half a gill of warm water, a dessertspoonful of grated cheese, a seasoning of salt and pepper and the stiffly whipped white of an egg. Dip the cauliflower in this and fry a golden brown in boiling fat. Drain well and serve dusted with cheese and red pepper.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Conducted by the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

Office Holding and Votes for Plainfield Women.

Some of the members of Plainfield's various women's clubs who have recently listened to Mrs. Reynolds have said:

"If votes for women meant merely depositing a ballot on election day why of course we could find time for that. But if women vote it means that they must hold office and serve on juries; and how can they do such work without neglecting their homes?"

If any one of the women of Plainfield troubled by this phase of the Votes for Women question will provide herself with a copy of the Annual Report of the City of Plainfield she will find listed in that report the city officials and their duties. These officials number 64. This includes, of course, such commissions as the Public Library and Playground Commissions—boards upon which public opinion approves of the service of women as well as men. One can see for herself how small a fractional part of the voting body of Plainfield is in office.

Add to the number of city officials those who might be called upon for jury duty in Union county. Plainfield's quota for such service in one year is twenty-four petit jurors and twelve grand jurors—36 all told.

At the present time there is no Plainfield citizen in either the Assembly or State Senate. We have the distinction of a United States Senator from our town, and there is also a Plainfield man now a deputy commissioner of roads for the State.

In round numbers, there are 10? Plainfield men serving city, county, State and nation. That means that out of the whole number of voters (about 5,000) two in one hundred are called upon to hold public office.

Suppose Plainfield women as well as men voted. We will say that in such a case the number of voters would be doubled, making 10,000 in all. The number of public offices, however, would remain the same one hundred. Hence only one in each one hundred voters would be an officeholder; and provided the offices were equally divided between men and women only one woman in each two hundred women voters would be in office. As a matter of fact no suffrage State has anything like 50% of its officeholders women. But even if this enormous percentage obtained, it would mean that among 200 women in our own city only one would run the risk of "neglecting her home" for public duties. Surely the risk is so small a risk that it need not cause alarm.

Add to this the fact that women who do serve the public are desirous to bring to their service experience and free time for their duties, and one can readily see that the mothers of young families naturally would not seek office, but that rather it would be women of maturer years, riper experience, and greater leisure who would be chosen.

Suppose then that here in our own city out of every 200 women one were to serve as a public official, would she be "neglecting her home" because she used her experience and leisure to help solve the problems of city housekeeping? Does such a situation seem dangerous or revolutionary? And Plainfield is only typical of the State and the country in this matter.

When one faces this possibility of women office-holders and lines up the figures and the conditions she realizes that this outcry about the number of women who would be neglecting their homes is misleading and nonsensical. No direful results have come to pass in States where women already hold the franchise, and no direful results will befall New Jersey when her women vote.

Is there anyone who would for a moment think of giving over Mrs. Alexander's wonderful work for the children of New Jersey to some man on the ground that because she did this work Mrs. Alexander must be neglecting her own home?

It is a favorite retort of the Anti's that we do not need suffrage to give us such public officials as Mrs. Alexander. We already have her without the vote. True; we have the good fortune to have Mrs. Alexander's services in spite of having no vote. But bear this in mind: Mrs. Alexander herself is one of the most zealous advocates of votes for women, and surely she is the best judge of whether she is helped or hindered by being merely an associate rather than an active member of her State government.

WHY BALL PLAYERS SHOULD SAVE MONEY

"A Ball Player Ought to Be at His Best Between 30 and 35," Says McAleer.

"A baseball player ought to be at his best between thirty and thirty-five," said James R. McAleer, "and he ought to save $30,000 while in baseball."

The author of the aforesaid ought to be some authority on the subject, because he was playing the game about that age. Moreover, being chief mogul of the champions of the world, his observations concerning diamond athletes ought to carry weight.

If McAleer's remark is actually true, then baseball is unquestionably the best of all outdoor sports so far as the players thereof are concerned. In no other branch of athletics can a man, as a rule, stand the strain after, say, twenty-seven or twenty-eight, and nearly all of them begin to go back at about thirty. And how many men have saved $30,000 at the age of thirty-five?

"Of course a man isn't so fast after thirty as he was before," added the Red Sox president, "but he has learned to think by that time, and he should be more valuable to his club after thirty than before, always provided he has taken care of himself."

McAleer has started a winter dispute already. Let's see what happens now that he has opened a little argument for the fans.

"Is a baseball player at his best between thirty and thirty-five?"

The Sox president made this remark during a conversation in which he was asked how much he thought a big league baseball player ought to save during his career on the diamond. McAleer put the figure at some $30,000. The average life of a ball player who takes care of himself in the big leagues is not much more than ten years. Most of them enter about twenty-two or thereabouts. A good player ought to make about $3,500 a year, an exceptionally good one more—up to from $5,000 to $7,000 or $8,000—after he becomes a star. There are many frugal ball players, and McAleer's figures must be based upon the ability of those fellows to save two-thirds or three-fourths of their baseball salaries, earning enough in winter to make up the balance of the cost of living.

A hustling ball player—one of the kind who go into the big leagues and stick—ought to make $40,000 or $50,000 during his career even if he never participates in any world's series and never becomes a star. McAleer's belief that he can save $30,000 is based upon the fact that a player's necessary expenses are slight in the playing season, and he ought to be able to make enough during the six months layoff to allow him to save two-thirds or three-fourths of his baseball season salary.

DEDICATED TO COMMERCE.

Urbana, Ill., April 16.—Many representative leaders in finance, commerce and manufactures gathered today at the University of Illinois to assist in the dedication of the new commerce building of the university. A two days' program has been prepared for the occasion. Prominent among the scheduled speakers are Harry A. Wheeler, president of the Chambers of Commerce of the United States; Dr. F. A. Cleveland, chairman of the Economic and Efficiency Commission, and Charles D. Norton, vice president of the First National Bank of New York.

A number of baseball critics claim that the outfield of both the Giants and the Athletics are woefully weak. The season is early yet. A little later we will see what we will see.

BASEBALLDOM IS AFTER THE COIN

The Best Way to Stuff Your Pocket With Long Greens is to Get into the Game.

There's money in this old world of ours if you only dig it up. And the best way to stuff your pockets and your safety vault with $1,000 notes is to get into baseball. At least one gains that impression by reading the newspapers.

First, we find Mrs. Helen Britton, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, paying Roger Bresnahan, the manager she discharged, $20,000 to keep him from going to court. And Rajah was scarcely a free agent—thereby losing Mrs. Britton at least $20,000 more, for he would have brought that much on the open market—before the Chicago club let it be known that it would pay Bresnahan $10,000 to sign and about $20,000 for three years, a salary of more than $6,000 per year.

Then soon after that financial shock Frank Farrell, the owner of the New York Americans, sends to Los Angeles for Frank Chance, discharged boss of the Chicago club, and entertains him in the Windy City. As a result of that entertainment Chance is to lead the Yankees next season and the two that follow. His yearly stipend is said to be the insignificant sum of $25,000, while a percentage of the receipts will bring him an income for the three seasons of $120,000 in all.

In Philadelphia recently Will Locke, secretary of the Pittsburgh club, closed a deal by which he became president and controlling stockholder of the Phillies. It cost Locke close to $400,000 to swing that deal.

The fever is upon them, and Cobb is only one of the many major and minor league baseball players who are demanding big salaries. Connie Mack and Will Locke showed evidence of wisdom which has been lacking in other baseball circles when they stated that less noise should be made about the immense sums paid to managers and players. For, after all, is it not quite possible that much of it is press agent stuff?

Americans have become accustomed to reading about the millions which are spent for railroads, skyscrapers and other big financial investments, but it sort of shocks us when we read that arrangements have been made for nearly $1,000,000 to change hands in four major league baseball clubs in one week. And during the off season at that.

CLIFF CASE SIGNS WITH MORRISVILLE

Manager Ortie Justice, of the Morrisville Delaware River league club, has signed four pitchers, two of which will be retained throughout the season. The men signed are Walter Moser, the former Tri-State Leaguers; Cliff Case, last year with the Dayton club of the P. & O. League, and who twirled for Plainfield on several occasions, also for Somerville; Dr. Dowdell, a physician at McKinley Hopsital, who pitched in the Pacific Coast League last season, and "Buck" Skillman, of Princeton, who did some of the box work for the "Reds" last year. Manager Justice will work these men for several weeks and will keep the two he considers the best on the payroll.

Manager Evers, of the Cubs, has shipped Pitcher Sutcliffe to the New London team, of the Eastern Association.

Manager Callahan, of the White Sox, figures that Pitcher Benz is fifty per cent. stronger than he was last year.

ILLUMINATED GOLF COURSE FOR JERSEY

Nineteen Hole Green at the Woodbury Country Club.

Following the recent successful attempts to play the game of tennis on indoor and outdoor illuminated courts, a new epoch has been established in the playing of the constantly growing game of golf. Thomas J. Little, a member of the board of the Woodbury Country Club, of Woodbury, N. J., has met with much success in a novel experiment on the grounds of the New Jersey club, where he has taken personal charge of a lighting system for the playing of golf. There has recently been installed a gas-illuminated nine-hole golf-putting course, said to be the finest of its kind in the country. A tournament has been arranged, the first game of which is to be played this week.

Everybody is interested in the installation and eager to play on the new course. They maintain that they may now play golf without the discomforts of heat, eye strain, and sunburn, and the necessity of leaving business early, and that they have retained the pleasures of the game because, as a matter of fact, the interesting part is played on the green anyhow.

Several players may occupy the course at the same time, allowing for one set of players between each two holes. There has been laid out a plot of ground 40 by 80 feet, with nine holes, providing a course of 245 feet. Suspended from iron poles are four gas lamps of five inverted mantles each. The golf holes are lined with aluminum cups, and are so placed that none of them is over ten feet from any of the lights. The posts are of wrought iron set in concrete, and the lamps are weather-proof.

The cost of operation is nominal, averaging only 8 cents per hour for all the lamps. The soft brilliancy of their system of gas lighting seems to be ideal for the purpose, steady and producing well-defined details. The night competition at the Woodbury Club is not entirely new or an experiment, as it has already attracted much attention with its gas lighted tennis courts. The tennis courts are illuminated by the same system, and it has proved to be ideal for the purpose.

WEATHER PREVENTS BASEBALL PROGRAM

Trio of Contests Carded for This City Today Have all Been Rained Under.

Weather conditions caused the cancellation of the Plainfield High School baseball team's trip to Rahway yesterday afternoon and will also be the cause of the calling off of the triple bill carded for this afternoon on local diamonds. The P. H. S.-Rahway game was cancelled by the mutual consent of the managers and will probably be played later in the season.

The program of baseball scheduled for today included home games for all of the three local scholastic nines and all promised to be fast contests. Plainfield High School had the Roselle team on tap to appear at Parker Field and this game was due to be one of the hardest of the season for the Plainfielders. Roselle was the team that took an eleven inning clash from N. P. H. S. last Saturday afternoon by a count of 7 to 6.

On Crescent Oval, the Leal School aggregation was due to lineup against the Westfield High School players, and while the Mt. Ararat combination has not appeared on local diamonds this year, it is reputed to be even speedier than the one turned out last season, and this coupled with the intense rivalry always exhibited between a Plainfield and Westfield team would probably have made the game a hot one.

North Plainfield High School has Woodbridge down for its opponents, but little can be said as to the relative strength of these two nines. N. P. H. S. opened athletic relations with the Woodbridge athletes in basketball and the visitors gave the boroughites a hard tussle.

BRUGGY TENDERED BERTH IN NEW FEDERAL LEAGUE

President William T. McCullough, of the new outlaw Federal League, who was after the services of Frank Bruggy, the former Bound Brook backstop, has decided that he cannot use the big Elizabethan. McCullough was under the impression that Frank was a free agent, but upon learning that he had signed with the Lawrence Club of the New England League he decided to call off all negotiations. Cy Young and fully a score of other ex-big leaguers have signed to play on the Federal circuit.

STILL ANOTHER INFIELDER FOR NEW YORK YANKEES

Manager Frank L. Chance, of the Yankees, telephoned President Frank Farrell, of the New York club, yesterday that he would surely be able to play against Washington at the opening game at the Polo Grounds tomorrow. Shortstop Dorrick will not be able to play before next week.

Manager Chance has purchased W. B. McKechnie from the Boston Nationals and will use him as an infielder. He played with the Braves when they defeated the Giants in New York last week. McKechnie was with Pittsburgh last season. Stallings could not use the player in the Boston infield, so he asked for waivers, and Chance promptly picked him up.

Several other clubs on the American League circuit have taken up the Chicago idea of a "Frank Chance Day," and in every city where the Peerless Leader plays for the first time this year he is sure to receive a fine reception. Chance will get a big reception when he plays in New York tomorrow.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE'S TWENTY-SECOND SEASON

Providence, R. I., April 26.—The race for the championship pennant of the International league (formerly the Eastern league) began today with games scheduled in Baltimore, Newark, Jersey City and Providence. The champion Toronto team was programmed as the opponent of Harry Smith's players at Newark, while Jersey City had the Buffalo team as its guests. Rochester opened at Baltimore and Montreal in Providence.

This is the twenty-second season of the International league, which was organized as the Eastern league in 1892 and continued under the old name until last season. Twenty-one cities have held franchises since the organization, as follows: Elmira, Utica and Yonkers, one season; Albany, Binhampton, Erie and Troy, two seasons; Hartford, three seasons; Scranton and Worcester, four seasons; Wilkesbarre, six; Baltimore, eleven; Syracuse and Springfield, eight; Newark and Jersey City, twelve; Montreal, sixteen; Toronto, nineteen; Rochester and Buffalo, twenty; Providence, twenty-two—the latter being the only club that has been continously a member of the organization.

Harry Lewis, the American welter, who has been living in England for some time, is planning to go to Australia.

Bob McAllister, ex-amatuer champion heavyweight of California, and Paddy Slaving will clash in San Francisco April 26.

Promoter Al Lippe says that the match between Al Palzer and Jack Johnson is still on and that the bout will take place in Paris next June.

BASEBALL NOTES

The Cincinnati Club lost quite a bunch of money by being compelled to cancel exhibition games on account of the flooded condition of the ball yard.

The St. Joseph team hung one on "Big Ed" Walsh in an exhibition game the other day, when they drove the "Big Moose" to the woods in six innings.

The Athletics' pitching staff looks to be some staff with the youngsters, Wyckoff, Darning and Bush, helping out Bender, Coombs, Plank and Brown.

Pitcher George Foster, who is showing his winning ways with the Champion Red Sox, was once with the Browns and last season the star heaver of the Houston, Tex., team.

Wilbur Schardt, the former Brooklyn twirler, is back in the American Assocaition, being a member of the Indianapolis team. Two years ago he was a star with the Milwaukee team.

Bert Annis, who has been in the Central League for the past ten years, first as owner of the South Bend team and later as owner of the Grand Rapids franchise, has retired from the game.

Connie Mack doesn't think that Washington will cut much of a caper in the American League pennant race. Either the Red Sox or the Athletics will attend to the winning stuff this season, according to Connie.

Pitchers "Lefty" James and "Lefty" George are team-mates on the Toledo Club, of the American Association. These two southpaws will be a great help to the Mud Hens in their wade through the A. A. circuit.

With a bunch of big league veterans, including Dave Altizer, Jim Delehanty, Jim Williams, Hobe Ferris, George Browne, Claude Rossman, Roy Patterson and Rube Waddell, the Minneapolis Millers look like an "Old Home Week" ball team.

Perfumed Notes and other Lady Bugs will be glad to learn that Speaker, Wood, Carrigan, Gardner, Nunamaker, O'Brien and Thomas, of the Red Sox Champions, are all eligible bachelors who gather such a gob of money every two weeks that it couldn't be planted in two dozen pairs of silk, or lisle, or just plain cotton ones.

NEW LEAGUE FILES BONDS AND WILL OPEN MAY 22

Launching of the New York and New Jersey League, recently organized, was assured yesterday with the filing of bonds of $1,000 each by the league's six clubs, Paterson and Long Branch, N. J., and Middletown, Poughkeepsie and Newburg, N. Y. This amount covers $600 posted to cover half the players' salary limit, as required under the rules of the National Association of Minor Leagues, and $400 as a guarantee of good faith. Danbury, Conn., and Peekskill, N. Y., will probably be admitted to the league if proper bonds are filed.

The Kingston franchise was transferred from W. H. Pfau to John Cuneo, and a partial schedule, to be completed next Monday in Poughkeepsie, was adopted at a meeting of the league yesterday. Long Branch will open in Middletown May 22, and Middletown in Long Branch May 24. Kingston will open in Newburg May 22, and Newburg in Kingston May 23. Paterson will open in Poughkeepsie May 22, and Poughkeepsie in Paterson May 24. Kingston, Newburg and Poughkeepsie will have to eat Decoration Day plums at home, with Long Branch, Middletown and Paterson respectively.

"IN A BAD WAY."

Many a Plainfield Reader Will Feel Grateful For This Information.

If your back gives out;

Becomes lame, weak or aching;

If urinary troubles set in,

Perhaps your kidneys are "in a bad way."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Local evidence proves their merit.

A. K. Mattis, 127 West Fourth street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I gave Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement five years ago, after receiving a cure through their use and today I confirm all I then said in their favor. The cure has been permanent. I was troubled for years by a dull backache and pains in my head. I believe that it was due to a great measure to a bad fall I had. Nothing seemed to help me and when I read of the good work Doan's Kidney Pills were doing in similar cases, I got a supply at Randolph's drug store. They drove away the aches and pains and my experience gave proof of their merit."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents, Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agent for the United States.

The Aeroplane of Death

THE DIARY OF DEATH.

By ADRIENNE CODY, aged sixteen, of Central park school, Topeka.

I am a fly. I'm not very old and am just learning where to find the best things to eat. My favorite places are in the spittoon in the sitting room and the uncovered garbage can on the back porch. Of course some flies would be bothered about having to go out of doors to get to that can. But it doesn't worry me. In the house where I live there aren't any screens, so I can fly from the garbage can to the spittoon in perfect safety. I often stop on the way, though, to get in the sugar bowl or crawl over any eatables that are handy.

There's a baby in this house who annoys me very much. Every time I leave the spittoon and crawl into that baby's mouth it cries and spits me out. Of course I leave a few tuberculosis germs in its mouth, but it doesn't seem like that would hurt the baby.

It seems to me like people don't know what is good to eat. At least the people in this house don't. Why, they throw away all the good things. They put them in the garbage pail. I am endeavoring to show them what good things are, however, for I get my feet all sticky in the garbage can and then go and wipe them on the bread. About a hundred of my companions are doing the same thing. I really believe that the people are beginning to like it, for they never trouble us any more. We wipe our feet on the bread in peace and quiet.

I heard the woman across the way say that she believed flies had something to do with the man in this house having consumption. I wonder if he got it from the bread.

The woman across the way is losing all her flies. They're all coming over to our house. She won't give them anything to eat. She covers up her garbage pail, has tight screens on all her doors and is a terror to flies in general. Her children are such happy, hearty youngsters, while the children in this house are always cross. They never get any afternoon nap. The flies won't let them.

There's a very great deal of illness in this house. Two of the boys have malaria and the father is never well. I heard the mother say to the woman across the way: "I really do not know what to do for all this sickness. It drives me distracted." What do you think that woman said? Why, "Swat the fly," of course, at which I ducked. Oh, yes! The baby has the typhoid.

THIS IS WHERE THE FLY BREEDS—STOP IT

Two flies in the manure pit now mean a million in your home next August.

THE POISONER.

A human fiend who would enter our stores and markets by night and, after gorging himself, leave poison in all the remaining food, to spread suffering, disease and death throughout the community, would be execrated, pursued and torn to pieces by an outraged populace. Yet a useless insect, playing this role to perfection, is living among us constantly and is regarded merely as a mild source of annoyance, often as a subject of jest.

DESTROY THE FLY!

—You may have to read and answer a lot of "help wanted ads" before you find "THE" one—but it's highly worth while!

"STARVE THE FLY."

Ours is a country home, but we have very few flies. Our method is based upon the principle of "barring and starving." In other words, we keep them out and give them nothing to eat, says a writer in the Woman's Home Companion.

Fighting the fly in the country is exceedingly difficult because of the wide range and the numerous places where the insect can breed. On the farm the most common of these places are the barns and manure piles, pigsties, chicken houses and toilets. We began by making the barn scrupulously clean. This was not a difficult task and no more than should be done on every country place. The "fly part" of the barn is the stables. Using plank floors, cleaning the stalls both morning and evening and sprinkling a little powdered lime about gave the flies no chance. The manure was thrown into a box outside, and this box is on a sled, ready to be hauled away at once and thrown on the garden or fallow land. Powdered lime sprinkled in the box, when empty, keeps this fly proof.

Then came the "barring and starving" process for the house. Both for convenience and comfort we installed a complete plumbing system, with hot and cold water, in the house. In this day of gasoline engines, hydraulic rams and other simple as well as economical methods of installing water systems every farm home should have a plant of this sort. This required a sewer system, but the one drain and line of waste pipe also sufficed for the kitchen sink and stationary washtub. The sewer pipe, which was four inch close joint tile, was run down the hill from the house into a drain. No cesspool or tank was used, but the outlet was converted into a veritable flower garden. The only flies that congregate about this spot are butterflies. To assist in absorbing all waste the outlet is changed from time to time and the former spot covered with earth.

One thing is very essential, however, for a sewerage system of this sort—that is, a large vent pipe, not less than two inches, for the toilet and sinks. We have such a pipe or pipes, connecting them to a final line and putting this into the brick flue of the kitchen. This creates an upward draft, which sucks out and keeps the sewer line and drain clean of all odor and poisonous gases. By sprinkling chloride of lime in and close around the drain now and then we are given no trouble with this part of the system, and it remains continually fly proof.

As a matter of course we have screens at the doors and windows. The back porch, next to the kitchen, which is usually a harbor for flies, we completely screened in. Thus the kitchen door can be opened when the room is hot and filled with the smell of cooking with no fear of the flies swarming in. Here, too, we placed the stationary washtub.

Finally, let it be added, that even with all these precautions we are visited by flies. They always come when such things as cabbage, fish and meats are cooked, but most of them get no closer than the screens. A wire screen fly killer is kept handy for the few that chance to get in.

A WARNING.

It is better to screen the cradle and wear a smile than to scoff at the precaution and wear mourning.

KEEPING UP APPEARANCES.

"Extravagance rots character; train youth away from it. On the other hand the habit of saving money while it stiffens the will also brightens the energies. If you would be sure that you are beginning right, begin to save."—Theodore Roosevelt.

Irving Batcheller, the northern New York novelist, wrote a good book entitled "Keeping Up With Lizzie," which is a strong but subtle arraignment of American extravagance.

"The matter of our extravagance outranks any problem of the time," says the author. "We are all trying to keep up with Lizzie, and it is far too hot a pace for us to follow. How many are falling by the wayside."

This is the kind of thing that keeps people poor. For the sake of "cutting a good figure" in society many people cut no figure at the bank. They sacrifice future comfort and independence for the sake of a little present satisfaction.

Don't try to "keep up with Lizzie." You can't do it, because there will always be somebody just a little ahead of you in the race of extravagance.

Cut it all out and save some money today for the time when you will need it a good deal worse than you do now.

Trying to match your neighbors who have more money to spend than you have is not a sensible policy. Sometimes it requires courage on the part of members of a family to say "WE CAN'T AFFORD IT," because at the present time the tendency is to get things just because somebody else has them.

There is no more valuable lesson for a newly-married couple to learn than the lesson of doing without now for the sake of having comforts and a competence later on. It is a hard lesson, perhaps, but a necessary one. There are countless men and women throughout the country who are thankful they learned it.

On the other hand, one reason why there is so much want, failure, distress and often ruin and disgrace, is because so many persons never deny themselves but continually live beyond their means to keep up appearances.

If you want to succeed, young man, or young woman, cut out extravagance. The qualities of honesty, energy and frugality are more necessary than ever today, and there is no genuine or permanent success without them.

REV. MR. STOUT HEAD OF NEWARK CLASSIS

Netherwood Reformed Church Pastor Honored—Session Here in the Fall.

Rev. Royal A. Stout, pastor of the Netherwood Reformed church, was elected president of the Classis of Newark of the Reformed church, at Newark, yesterday. This was in conformity to the rules of the classis, which provide that the ministers shall succeed in the order in which they signed the formula. Rev. George G. Hulse, of Montclair Heights, was chosen stated clerk.

Robert Clark, Jr., represented Trinity Reformed church at the meeting, Claud Gonod represented the Netherwood church; Brown Leveridge, Marconnier Reformed church. The German Reformed church was also represented. In the appointment of committees, Rev. J. Y. Broek, of Trinity Reformed church, and Claud Gonod, of Netherwood Reformed church, were made members of the nominating committee. Robert Clark, Jr., was chosen a delegate to General Synod which meets in Asbury Park in June. It was decided to hold the Fall session of classis at Trinity Reformed church, this city.

In the matter of Rev. Percival H. Mr. Barker was formerly a Presbyterian minister at Neoska, Kan., but was suspended, and according to an agreement between the Reformed and Presbyterian churches, Mr. Barker would not be eligible for the pastorate of Christ Reformed church, or any other church in the Reformed denomination.

VICTIM OF A SHOOTING HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE

The woman shot in a family quarrel Monday morning while saving her reputed husband, Tony Principatti, of 431 West Third street, from being killed, it has developed is a Mrs. Linah Murelio. When she was arraigned today before City Judge DeMeza on this charge she was held in $300 bonds to await the action of the grand jury. In default of bail she was sent to the county jail in Elizabeth. The woman was arrested yesterday as she was leaving Muhlenberg Hospital, where she has been since Monday when a bullet fired by Mrs. Maris Foruri, of 431 West Third street, but intended for Principatti, lodged in her back.

To date, Mrs. Murello marks the third person arrested by Roundsman Charles Flynn as the result of the shooting Monday when the Foruri woman, it is alleged, attempted to kill her brother, Tony Principatti, when he refused to return a mattress and $12 which she had loaned him. Tony, it is said, attacked Mrs. Foruri and attempted to choke her. He was arrested and held for the grand jury on a charge of assault and battery. Mrs. Foruri was held for the grand jury on a charge of attrocious assault with intent to kill, directly following the shooting. YEARLY MEETING AT THE CONGREGATIONAL

Officers Are Selected and Reports Presented Following Supper for Members.

Following the annual supper of the members of the Congregational church last night, the yearly business meetings of the church and its societies were held, when officers for the ensuing terms were elected. At the church meeting, Sidney Dunning and Henry C. Nomer were chosen deacons to serve for two years, and R. D. Rice and E. L. Suffern were selected as clerk and auditor, respectfully, to serve for a term of one year each.

The church societies meeting was featured by many addresses by prominent members who made numerous recommendations. E. L. Suffern, Alexander Millar and J. A. Powlison were chosen as members of the official board and the selection of trustees for a term of two years resulted in the naming of F. A. Weeks, E. L. Morgan and Charles E. Stenier. Later the trustees organized and appointed a president, secretary and treasurer, respectively, in the order named. John M. Whiton, superintendent of the Sunday school, acted as moderator at the societies meeting, while the pastor, Rev. C. L. Goodrich, presided at the church meeting.

The report of the treasurer showed the following: Total receipts for the fiscal year, $3,646.74; total disbursements, $3,558.78; balance on hand $87.96 and total benevolent contributions $579.09.

The delightful supper preceding the business sessions was served by the members of the Girls' club. The arrangement committee was composed of Mrs. Thomas Hylan, chairman; Mrs. J. V. Beekman, Mrs. T. O. Doane, Jr., and Miss J. S. MacIntosh.

MISS DAVIS' EXPERIENCE AT MESSINA IN ITALY

Miss Katherine Bement Davis, superintendent of the New York State Reformatory for Women at Bedford, N. Y., who will lecture at the Hartridge Auditorium, Monday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock, under the auspices of the Monday Afternoon Club, while on her vacations, visits the foreign countries from which the girls in her charge largely come, and the year of the Messina earthquake she had planned to be in Messina on the day of the disaster, but was prevented by a storm and she went to Syracuse instead, reaching there just as the news came that hundreds of refugees were on the way there. She found the city quite demoralized, in fact many of the officials were about to resign their position in utter despair at the prospect before them.

Miss Davis took hold of the situation, helped the people to know what to do, and because of her training and experience was able to direct the work and organize it most perfectly. The refugees were, of course, destitute, without clothing, except army blankets, in many cases, and she bought all the available material in Syracuse and had garments made, the women themselves doing the work. The men were set to making shoes and all were paid for their work and the Bishop's Palace was turned into a shoe factory for the time being and Miss Davis had all the sewing machines in use directly in garment making. She gave up her whole vacation to the work, helping the city authorities along every line, even road making, and her picture now hangs in the town hall of Syracuse and she is beloved by everyone she came in contact with. In Rome, on her way home, she was received by the Pope in special audience and he thanked her for her splendid work, and she was met on her arrival at the pier in New York by a delegation of the leading Italian and Sicilian societies in this country.

One of the first things Miss Davis did was to arrange hospital accommodations for the sick and wounded and this was a great task. As there was only one small hospital holding eight or ten, only two Sisters as nurses Miss Davis made preparations on a large scale and they were able to care for everyone.

FOR BONNIE BURN.

Guests at Truell Court have contributed $3 toward the fund with which to purchase musical instruments for Bonnie Burn Sanitorium, which with the $15.50 previously acknowledged, makes the total amount given by Plainfielders, $18.50. Anyone wishing to contribute to this fund may send the money to the Plainfield Daily Press and it will be acknowledged and forwarded to Nathan R. Leavitt, of Elizabeth, treasurer of the fund.

The Plainfield section of the American-Labrador Branch of the Needlework Guild of America, is being entertained at a tea this afternoon by Mrs. Percy H. Stewart at her home on West Eighth street. The members of the various groups have been working through the winter for Dr. Grenfell's Mission in Labrador, this branch of the guild working exclusively for Dr. Grenfell. Each spring it sends hospital supplies, articles of clothing, etc., suitable to the needs of the men, women and children in the villages where Dr. Grenfell is engaged in his mission work.

Each director is at the head of a group of ten or more members and is responsible for twenty-two or more articles and a small sum of money to be collected from her group. This year 909 articles and nearly $70 in money have been collected and the articles were on exhibition this afternoon at Mrs. Stewart's home. They will be forwarded at once to the main office to be shipped with other boxes of supplies to the mission in Labrador.

Miss Muir, of New York city, who has visited Dr. Grenfell's mission in Labrador, made an interesting address to the members and tea was served at 5 o'clock. Mrs. Stewart was assisted in receiving by the directors of the Plainfield Section.

The presidency of the Plainfield Section, which has been held for four years by Mrs. Thatcher M. Brown, has this year been taken by Mrs. Stewart who has assisting her in the collection of garments the following directors: Mrs. Ernest R. Ackerman, Mrs. Richard Boardman, Miss Eva G. GOVERNOR HIT BACK AFTER BESLER TALKED Westfield, April 17.—Congressman Richmond Pearson Hobson, Governor Fielder and William G. Besler, vice president of the Central Railroad, were among the speakers who discussed various phases of the transportation problem at the third annual dinner of the Westfield Board of Trade.

Mr. Besler preceded Governor Fielder. He described the full-crew law as unjust and defined what he considered proper relations between transportation companies and the public. Governor Fielder answered him by declaring that if the railroads had no opposed all forms of restrictive legislation the full-crew bill might not have been passed.

After Mr. Besler had expressed his dissatisfaction with the full-crew bill and discussed transportation needs, he complimented the Board of Trade and asserted that Westfield was entitled to the new eastbound station which has just been completed.

'SWAT THE FLY!' CRY HEARD THROUGH CITY

An Army of Workers to Begin Campaign Against Pest Next Saturday.

Guardians of the city's health are working untiringly on the anti-fly campaign to actively start on Saturday and householders are urged to co-operate with the committee in charge to make the movement a success. The committee will be assisted by the Boy Scouts, and High School boys, and these busy little warriors will get to work against various kinds of health dangers, but those in charge are asking for the hearty co-operation of individuals before the active work of inspection begins. Every householder being found guilty of neglect in letting waste matter accumulate on the premises will be reported to the proper city authorities and steps will be taken by these officials to force the guilty party to "clean up."

That the crusade will be a thorough one, it is claimed, is a foregone conclusion, for the demand for literature and other explanatory mediums has been met by the committee in the distribution of leaflets to supply the desired information. The true way to prevent diseases which are fly-borne is to prevent the fly from breeding, hence the necessity for cleaning up and obliterating all filth and dirt, his only breeding places, before the youthful inspectors visit you.

The mass meeting, which was originally scheduled to take place tomorrow evening in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, has been postponed until next Thursday evening at the same place. A motion picture description, together with an explanatory talk will feature the program on that occasion and the committee having the matter in charge want a representative gathering of Plainfield citizens in attendance on that date.

NEW JERSEY MASONS' OFFICERS ELECTION

Progressive Element in Grand Lodge May Upset Traditions Today.

Trenton, April 17.—Today's session of the New Jersey Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons characterized by the very unusual thing of a contest for the post of grand master. Ordinarily the deputy grand master is promoted to the post of grand master and in the event of the usual thing happening, Deputy Grand Master Fred E. Tilden, of Jersey City, would be made grand master to succeed the retiring grand master, Richard C. Woodward, of Bordentown.

There were rumors of opposition to Mr. Tilden's advancement, and this is supplemented by the suggestion that some past grand master would be put forward as a candidate of the forces who are calling themselves "progressives." None of these rumors could be traced to a reliable source, and the men who in the past have been the leaders in grand lodge sessions are confident that Mr. Tilden will be elevated to the post of grand master.

A fight is expected on the proposition to substitute Asbury Park for Trenton as the place of holding the next grand lodge session. A year ago there was much criticism of hotel accommodations in Trenton, the session at that time coming on dates when the Legislature was here and the hotels overcrowded. Asbury Park is this year pressing to be named for next year's meeting place, but those who stood by Trentn a year ago expect to win out again this year.

Another interesting feature of today's session may be the election of a new junior grand warden. John Q. Adams, of South Orange, and William R. Meakle, of Paterson, are among the men who have been mentioned as likely to obtain that office. It is probable, too, that a new grand secretary will be chosen to succeed Benjamin F. Wakefield, who is very ill, and for this office Theodore B. Townley, who as deputy has performed the duties of the office for several years, has been mentioned.

STATE BOARD GRANTED PAROLES AND PARDONS

Trenton, April 17.—Besides granting a full pardon to Albert C. Twining, convicted in connection with the wrecking of the First National Bank of Asbury Park and the Monmouth Trust Company, and giving paroles to former Mayor William H. Belcher, of Paterson, who was serving twelve years for embezzlement, and to Andrew J. Campbell, who was serving thirty years after conviction as one of the murderers in the famous Jennie Bosschieter case, the Court of Pardons yesterday afternoon paroled seven other convicts who were serving time for murder.

Among other paroles granted were these:

Somerset County—Joseph Ginglio, carrying concealed weapons and assault with intent to kill, sentenced in 1907 to twelve years. Paul Wittie, atrocious assault and battery with intent to kill, sentenced in 1910 to five years.

Union County—John Bolough, assault and battery, sentenced in 1912 for one and one-half to three years; Maru Lomax, assault with intent to kill, sentenced in 1911 for one and one-half to twelve years.

JUDGE CONNOLLY VERY POPULAR IN HUDSON CO.

Jersey City, April 17.—Common Pleas Judge James C. Connolly, of Elizabeth, who sat in the Hudson County Criminal Court for the past three days and who is to sit again here three days next week, has proved himself one of the most popular judges that has ever sat on the bench in this county.

Judge Connolly has had the experience here of handling a long calendar each day, and the rapidity with which he successfully disposed of the cases made the lawyers and the assistants of the prosecutor's office sit up and take notice.

The judge has a great faculty of getting to the point in fast fashion and his work has proved of valuable assistance to the prosecutor's office and the people of the county.

MORE APPARATUS FOR FIRE DEP'T

Councilmanic Committee Favors Purchase of a High Power Auto Engine.

HOW ABOUT ADAMS?

There Are Some People Who Would Really Like to Know Why He is Not Made Regular Member of the Department.

The necessity of increasing the fire-fighting apparatus of the city through the purchase of a high power auto fire engine was emphasized at a meeting of the Councilmanic fire committee last night. The committee is practically unanimous in its opinion in favoring such action and a resolution approving the purchase of more apparatus will probably be offered at an early meeting of the Common Council, provided an amount sufficient to meet the needs is allowed in the annual budget. Last year the committee received nearly $40,000 and if a new engine is purchased, it is believed that an extra $10,000 will be needed.

The question of buying an auto-engine was brought up in connection with the experience of the department at the recent disastrous fire at the home of John H. Jewett, 1000 Central avenue, it being demonstrated that what is needed is more power for throwing water on fires. And in this connection the need of additional hydrants was discussed. The committee decided to recommend the installation of two extra hydrants in the West End and others will be advocated later.

The committee has received an offer from Robert C. Woodhouse in which he says that he will sell the city an auto-engine of 900 gallon per minute capacity for $8,750, or $1,000 less than the list price, the company being anxious to have one of its engines in the metropolitan district, where its actual use can be demonstrated.

In case the city should secure an additional apparatus the committee would probably recommend placing either the present fire engine or auto chemical engine at the Netherwood fire house, in response to a petition from the Netherwood Residents' Association, as a means of giving that section greater fire protection. Sigfreid Arens, of Rahway road, has also petitioned for better protection in his neighborhood.

Councilman W. L. Gloak, of the committee, raised the question last night as to why Paul Adams was not recommended for a permanent place in the department, he having already served two years on probation. It is understood that Mayor Percy H. Stewart has a petition signed by several hundred citizens urging the appointment of Adams as a regular fireman and that he will be asked to send the man's name to the Common Council for confirmation. Just why the name of Adams has been held up so long has not been explained by the committee.

Adams was one of the complainants and witnesses against Captain George Feiring in his trial before the Common Council for an alleged infraction of departmental rules, and it is known that there was and has been friction as a result. It is said that Fire Chief Doane favors the appointment of Adams.

A feature of the entertainment will also be furnished by outside talent, and altogether the series which the church has been giving promises to wind up with a flourish of trumpets. The tickets for the affair have been placed in circulation and may be secured from members of the choir or the special committee.

REASONS FOR VETO OF SEVERAL BILLS

Governor J. C. Fielder Tells Why He Disapproved Certain Measures.

Trenton, April 17.—Governor Fielder made public yesterday his reasons for disapproving the five measures which were in the lot of bills considered Tuesday and which were allowed by him to die instead of being approved by him. The reasons are as follows:

Assembly bill, No. 634, by Mr. Adams. This bill seeks to amend Section 11 of the "Bishops' Law," being the section which prohibits the granting of a license to sell spirituous or malt liquors at any place within two hundred feet of the grounds occupied by a church, schoolhouse or armory. At the time the original act was adopted, this section received very careful consideration on the part of those who drafted the act and by the Legislature, and I do not think its very safe provisions should be amended in any way to impair its efficiency.

Senate bill, No. 313, Mr. White. The intention of this bill is to permit the Public Utility Commissioners to authorize street railway companies to operate a fast car service for passengers through one municipality into another, but the bill is so loosely drawn that it may permit the operation of cars for carrying express or freight matter, and, for this reason, it is open to objection. It is also objectionable because it permits the operation of a fast car service through a municipality, from which the railroad company has obtained a franchise to lay its tracks and operate its cars, without giving that municipality the right to regulate the use or speed of the cars. The bill contains no restriction as to terms of franchise, or provision as to franchise taxes, which provisions, in my judgment, should be incorporated in a bill of this character.

Senate bill No. 335, by Mr. Wheaton, extending the time for the completion of certain railroads. This bill is a duplicate of House bill 439 which was approved by me April 9.

Senate bill No. 341, by Mr. Wheaton. This is an amendment to the Commission Government Act, and provides that the election for the adoption of the act shall be held on the date for the election of members of Assembly. This is objectionable, because one purpose of the Commission Government Act was to make it possible to fix this election at a time when no other issue would complicate the question of the adoption of the act. It is also objectionable because the subsequent proceedings, if the act were adopted, for the primary and the election would take place in the winter months, and when the Christmas holiday season would interfere with the proper consideration of the selection of commissioners.

Senate bill 345, by Mr. Smalley. The intent of this bill is to transfer the custody of school libraries from the State Board of Education to the Public Library Commission. The Legislature has appropriated to the State Board of Education, funds for the care of school libraries, but nothing has been appropriated to the Public Library Commission, to carry out the provisions of this bill. Therefore, should this bill become a law, the effect would be to transfer the school libraries to the Public Library Commission without providing funds to carry such work into effect, and therefore, I withhold my approval.

Can Snakes Fascinate Their Prey?

Mr. Fitzsimons answers this question in the negative. The belief in fascination is general, but there seems to be no real foundation for it. "I have had much experience of snakes," writes Mr. Fitzsimons, "and have made it my business to observe carefully their habits and ways, both in their natural condition in the wild state and captivity, and in no instance have I ever known a snake to fascinate an animal in the manner it is alleged to do." He has seen two species, which he mentions, many a time in trees surrounded by a crowd of fluttering, excited birds. But the birds were not, he says, fascinated by the snake. They were endeavoring to intimidate it in order to frighten it from their haunts.—Westminster Gazette.

Visible Sound Waves.

Curious luminous circles or arcs, delicate and perfect in form, have been seen over the craters of Vesuvius and Etna—one at each explosion. A study of this strange phenomenon has been made by Mr. Frank A. Perret, who has witnessed it hundreds of times, and he concludes that these "flashing arcs," as he calls them, are really sound waves made visible for an instant, the rate of propagation of the images seeming to be about that of sound. The appearance is analogous to the air waves seen above heated roofs.

An Exception.

"When a fellow starts to do anything he can always succeed if he only sticks to it."

"Not always. How about you when you start to remove a sheet of sticky fly paper that you've sat down on?"—London Telegraph.

Innocence Faked.

If you want to see a picture of innocent honesty just get a look at a man's face in a street car after the conductor has forgotten to collect his fare.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

J. T. MacMURRAY, City Clerk.
Plainfield, N. J., April 7, 1913.

AN ORDINANCE

AUTHORIZING THE "INHABITANTS OF THE CITY OF PLAINFIELD" TO UNITE WITH THE "BOROUGH OF NORTH PLAINFIELD" AND THE "BOROUGH OF DUNELLEN" TO JOINTLY PROVIDE, CONSTRUCT, MAINTAIN AND OPERATE A SYSTEM OF CONVEYING AND CONDUCTING THE SEWAGE FROM SAID MUNICIPALITIES FROM CERTAIN POINTS WITHIN SAID MUNICIPALITIES TO A POINT NEAR THE INTERSECTION OF GREEN BROOK AND BOUND BROOK IN THE TOWNSHIP OF PISCATAWAY; TO JOINTLY CONSTRUCT, MAINTAIN AND OPERATE SUCH PLANTS, WORKS AND STATIONS AS MAY BE NECESSARY FOR THE TREATMENT, RENDERING AND DISPOSAL OF SAID SEWAGE; TO FIX AND PRESCRIBE THE PERCENTAGE OF THE CAPACITY OF THE SAID WORKS OR IMPROVEMENTS TO WHICH EACH OF SAID MUNICIPALITIES SHALL BE ENTITLED; TO PROVIDE FOR THE APPORTIONMENT OF THE COSTS, EXPENSES AND OTHER LIABILITIES OF THE CONSTRUCTION, MAINTENANCE AND OPERATION OF THE SAID WORKS OR IMPROVEMENTS, AND TO AUTHORIZE THE MAKING AND EXECUTION OF A CONTRACT PROVIDING THEREFOR.

WHEREAS, Pursuant to the terms and provisions of an Act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey, entitled "An Act to authorize any two or more municipalities in this State to jointly provide, maintain and operate trunk or outlet sewers and sewage disposal plant or plants or a system of sewerage, and to otherwise act jointly concerning the collection, removal or disposal of sewage and make contracts in relation thereto," approved April 5, 1910, and the acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, and of all other acts of the said Legislature relating to the matters included herein, the Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, in the County of Union and State of New Jersey, the Borough of North Plainfield, in the County of Somerset and State of New Jersey, the Borough of Dunellen in the County of Middlesex and State of New Jersey, and the Board of Health of the State of New Jersey, have approved certain surveys, maps, plans, reports, estimates and statements concerning the proposal that the said Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, the said Borough of North Plainfield and the said Borough of Dunellen shall agree to unite and jointly provide, construct, maintain and operate a system of conveying and conducting the sewage from the said municipalities from the point within said municipalities hereinafter designated to a point on the Darling Farm at or near the intersection of Green Brook and Bound Brook, in the Township of Piscataway, in the County of Middlesex, and jointly construct, maintain and operate upon the said Darling Farm such plant or plants, works and stations as may be necessary for the treatment, rendering and disposal of said sewage, therefore

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows:

That the Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield shall unite with the said Borough of North Plainfield and the said Borough of Dunellen, upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth, for the following objects and purposes.

1. To jointly provide, maintain and operate a system of conveying or conducting the sewage from said municipalities from the points within said municipalities hereinafter designated to a point on the Darling Farm at or near the intersection of Green Brook and Bound Brook in the Township of Piscataway, and to jointly construct, maintain and operate upon the said Darling Farm a plant, works and station with the appliances and appurtenances necessary for the treatment, rendering and disposal of the said sewage. The sewage from the City of Plainfield is to be conducted from a point in the City of Plainfield about nine hundred and fifty (950) feet southerly from the intersection of Green Brook and Rock Avenue. The sewage from the Borough of North Plainfield is to be conducted from a point in the Borough of North Plainfield at or near the intersection of Rock Avenue and Green Brook Road. The sewage from the Borough of Dunellen is to be conducted from a point in the Borough of Dunellen at or near the intersection of Bound Brook Road and Warrenville Road.

The said system of conducting or conveying said sewage shall consist of a forty-two (42) inch trunk sewer beginning at a point at or near the intersection of Rock Avenue and Green Brook Road, in the said Borough of North Plainfield, and extending thence in a westerly direction through the Township of North Plainfield across Rock Avenue and Green Brook Road and private lands to a point at or near Jefferson Avenue at the foot of the Watchung Mountains in the said Township of North Plainfield, thence in a southwesterly direction through private lands along the foot of said mountains to a point at or near the easterly line of the Cramer Farm about eight hundred and forty (840) feet more or less northerly of Green Brook Road in the said Township of North Plainfield, and thence in a southerly direction through private lands to a point at or near the intersection of the westerly line of the Cramer Farm and Green Brook Road in the said Township of North Plainfield; two twenty (20) inch inverted siphons extending from the last named point to Green Brook and thence to under and across Green Brook to the said disposal works, plant or station on the said Darling Farm at or near the intersection of Bound Brook and Green Brook in the said Township of Piscataway; two twenty (20) inch inverted siphons extending from the beginning point of the aforesaid forty-two (42) inch trunk sewer in the said Borough of North Plainfield along the northeasterly side of Rock Avenue under and across Green Brook to a point in the City of Plainfield about nine hundred and fifty (950) feet southerly from the intersection of said Green Brook and Rock Avenue and an eight (8) inch force main extending from the said forty-two (42) inch trunk sewer at a point about two thousand (2,000) feet northeast of the Warrenville Road in the said Borough of North Plainfield, thence across private lands and the said Green Brook Road to, under and across Green Brook, thence across private lands and through Schwartz Avenue in the said Borough of Dunellen to a point at or near the intersection of Bound Brook Road and Warrenville Road in the said Borough of Dunellen.

The said forty-two inch trunk sewer shall be of reinforced concrete except where it is necessary to use cast iron and shall be built with such culverts, siphons, manholes and other fittings, appliances and appurtenances as may be found necessary for its proper construction, maintenance and operation.

All of the said twenty (20) inch siphons shall be of cast iron.

The said eight (8) inch force main shall be of cast iron.

The said plant, works or station for the treatment, rendering and disposal of sewage shall consist of a preliminary settling tank in two units, a sludge-drying bed, a sprinkling filter in two units, with double dosing tank, a final settling tank in two units with a small sludge pumping station, and a laboratory.

The said preliminary settling tank shall be constructed in two units of the Imhoff type. Each of these units shall be approximately five thousand (5000) square feet in surface area and about twenty-one (21) feet deep, and shall be divided into three double compartments. Each of said units shall be of ample capacity to provide for an average daily flow of two (2) million gallons of sewage in the upper or sedimentation compartment. The sludge compartment of the said tank shall have a combined total capacity for at least one year's storage of sludge, and shall be constructed entirely of reinforced concrete banked around the outside with earth, and shall be provided with a system of cast iron pipes for the removal of sludge.

The said sludge-drying bed shall be adjacent to the preliminary tanks and shall be approximately eighty-four (84) feet by one hundred and sixty (160) feet in size and surrounded with a low concrete wall. The said bed shall consist of about thirteen (13) inches in average depth of graded sand and gravel underlaid by a system of tile drains.

The said sprinkling filter shall have a total area of about one (1) and seventy-five (75) one hundredths acres, with an average depth of filtering material of about six (6) feet. The said filter shall be surrounded with earth embankment paved on the inside with concrete and shall have a concrete and tile floor. Through the centre of each of the two units there shall be a reinforced concrete pipe gallery containing a main distributing pipe and a main collecting channel. The distributing system shall be of cast-iron pipe with sprinkler nozzles of proper spacing and size to provide for evenly distributing sewage over the surface of the stone. Provision shall be made for properly dosing the beds by means of a double dosing tank and siphons.

The said final settling tank shall have two units, each of which shall have a total surface area of approximately twelve hundred (1200) square feet, and shall be about seventeen (17) feet deep and similar in construction to the above mentioned preliminary settling tank. Adjacent to these tanks there shall be a pump house, similar in size and construction to the laboratory building hereinafter mentioned, containing a centrifugal pump driven by an electric motor, with piping connections to permit the pumping of sludge from the final settling tank into the inlet of the preliminary settling tank. There shall also be an effluent sewer consisting of a double inverted siphon of twenty (20) inch cast iron pipe running from said disposal plant into Green Brook and Bound Brook to the south bank of Bound Brook, and a forty-two (42) inch reinforced concrete sewer running from said last mentioned point into Green Brook at a point about four hundred and fifty (450) feet below Green Brook Road. The said double inverted siphons and said concrete sewer shall be built with such gate chambers, culverts, manholes and other fittings, appliances and appurtenances as may be found necessary to their proper construction, maintenance and operation. In connection with the disposal plant there shall be an adequately equipped laboratory. The laboratory building shall be about twenty-two (22) feet by twenty-five (25) feet outside dimensions and built of brick with concrete foundations and slate roof.

The above system of sewerage shall in all respects be constructed throughout in accordance with the plans and specifications prepared and executed by Hydraulic by George W. Fuller, Esq., bearing date August 1, 1912, one copy of which is now on file in the office of the Clerk of the Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, one other copy of which is now on file in the office of the Clerk of the said Borough of North Plainfield, and the other copy of which is now on file in the office of the Clerk of the Borough of Dunellen.

2. To construct, maintain and operate the said system of sewerage herein described for the joint benefit of the Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, the said Borough of North Plainfield and the said Borough of Dunellen in such manner as will render the use of the said service to the said municipalities and to each of them, and to that end to keep the said system of sewerage in good repair and efficient operation, and to make all necessary alterations, additions and enlargements thereto and thereof, as the needs of the said municipalities or any of them may from time to time require.

3. That the proportion of the capacity of such system of sewerage and sewage disposal plant, to the use of which each of the said municipalities shall be entitled shall be as follows: of the said two twenty (20) inch inverted siphons extending from the beginning point of the aforesaid forty-two (42) inch trunk sewer in the said Borough of North Plainfield along the northeasterly side of Rock Avenue under and across Green Brook to a point in the City of Plainfield about nine hundred and fifty (950) feet southerly from the intersection of said Green Brook and Rock Avenue as aforesaid, the said Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield shall be entitled to the use of seventy-five (75) per cent. and the said Borough of North Plainfield shall be entitled to the use of twenty-five (25) per cent. of the capacity thereof. Inasmuch as it is not contemplated that the said Borough of North Plainfield will have a use for its said percentage or capacity of the last mentioned two (2) twenty (20) inch inverted siphons, such Borough shall have the right from time to time to sell its said percentage or capacity thereof to any corporations, individuals or municipalities that may require the use of said two (2) twenty (20) inch siphons or any portion thereof, under any contract or contracts which may be entered into by the Joint Meeting provided for herein, or with such corporations, individuals or municipalities before the Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield shall have the right to rent any portion of the said percentage of capacity of the said two (2) twenty (20) inch inverted siphons, and the Borough of Dunellen shall be entitled to the full capacity of the eight (8) inch force main above mentioned. Of the remaining portion of the said system of sewerage and sewage disposal plant or of any part thereof, the said Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield shall be entitled to the use of sixty-eight (68) per cent., the said Borough of North Plainfield twenty-five (25) per cent., and the said Borough of Dunellen seven (7) per cent. thereof. Except as hereinbefore is expressly provided the total cost and expenses incurred in connection with everything from the maintenance, repair, cleaning, supervision and operation of any and all of the said works and improvements shall be divided between and paid by the three said municipalities in proportion to the amount of the sewage delivered into said works and improvements from each of the said municipalities respectively, and the cost, expenses and other liabilities incurred in connection with or resulting from any additions or enlargements of the said works and improvements which may hereafter be made shall be divided between and paid by the said municipalities in proportion to the requirements of the said respective municipalities in excess of the capacity to which each of said municipalities is entitled.

5. That the sewage from each municipality shall be measured by an approved type of recording instrument, installed, controlled, maintained and operated by the said Joint Meeting.

6. That each of the said municipalities may from time to time at its own cost and expense appoint one or more inspectors, who shall at all times be given full opportunity to inspect the work of construction of the works and improvements hereby authorized, and of any and all materials used therein, and also the operation of the said works and improvements during and after the completion thereof.

7. That after the completion of the said works and improvements, and upon the written consent of the engineer employed by the said Joint Meeting, one or more of the said municipalities may commence to use the works and improvements hereby authorized in advance of any other of such municipalities, provided, however, that the said municipality or municipalities so using the same shall assume and bear the whole cost and expenses incurred in connection with or resulting from the maintenance and operation of the said works and improvements during the period that it or they so make partial or exclusive use thereof.

8. That all collecting sewers, including house connections, constructed within each municipality, and connected with said joint sewerage system, works or improvements, shall be water tight to avoid as far as is practicable the infiltration of the ground or surface water into said sewers. None of the municipalities shall use, nor permit its property owners, or any of them, to use the collecting sewers constructed within its limits, or any of them, for any purpose other than that of sanitary sewers.

9. That in order to accomplish the purposes of this ordinance, and of the laws of New Jersey in pursuance of which it is made, said municipalities, and each of them, shall do or cause to be done any and all things which they or it may by law be authorized to do, and which will advance or tend toward the accomplishment of the said purposes, or any of them without delay.

10. That in the event of any disagreement between the Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, the Borough of North Plainfield and the Borough of Dunellen concerning the accomplishment of any of the purposes hereof, the matter or matters in dispute shall be referred to three (3) arbitrators, one of whom shall be chosen by each of the said municipalities through their governing bodies. In case two of such municipalities each choose an arbitrator and the other of such municipalities should neglect or refuse so to do for the period of twenty days after being requested thereunto by either of the said other municipalities, the two arbitrators so chosen shall then choose and designate in a writing to be filed with the clerk of each of such municipalities a third arbitrator who shall then upon have the same powers and perform the same duties as if he had been chosen by the municipality so neglecting or refusing to choose an arbitrator. In case the arbitrators so chosen shall not form a unanimous decision as to the matters referred to them, the Chancellor of the State of New Jersey shall be requested to appoint two other arbitrators to meet with the three already appointed; and in case by a majority of the board of arbitrators so assembled shall be binding upon the said municipalities. In case the Chancellor shall fail to appoint such additional arbitrators within ten days from the date of such request, a majority of the arbitrators already chosen as hereinbefore provided shall select the said two additional arbitrators, and a decision by a majority of the board of arbitrators so appointed shall be binding upon the said municipalities and each of them.

11. That the Joint Meeting of the said municipalities, for the purposes of the Act of the Legislature of New Jersey above recited shall continue to exist during the full life of the works and improvements hereby authorized. The said Joint Meeting shall from time to time make suitable provisions for the proper apportionment of costs, expenses and other liabilities herein mentioned between the said respective municipalities in accordance with the provisions hereof.

12. That the Mayor and City Clerk of the Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield shall be and they are hereby authorized and directed to execute on behalf of the said Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield a contract with the said Borough of North Plainfield and with the said Borough of Dunellen for the uses and purposes above expressed; and that the said contract shall be executed in triplicate.

13. That all ordinances and parts of ordinances heretofore passed and inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

"SWAT THE FLY!"

Some years ago a great general remarked that "war is hades." Eminent entomologists of today tell us that the common house fly is even worse than that—it is the worst and most powerful enemy of mankind. To say that more people are killed by this innocent looking little creature than meet death in battle or by accident is no exaggeration. Yet, only very recently has the terrible work of the fly been fully realized by the medical authorities and public health bodies. But as it is never too late to "clean house," as it were, the cry "Swat the Fly!" is heard from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Dominion to the Gulf.

Here in our own city, an army is being mobilized to destroy not only millions of these pests but to wipe out their breeding places. The army is being thoroughly organized at its headquarters, the Board of Health department, and under the command of "General" George Megrew and a staff of field officers it has already received its orders to be prepared for duty on Saturday when the campaign will be begun in earnest. The High School boys and the local troops of Boys' Scouts comprise the brigades to be assigned to given districts throughout the city. Each private soldier is commissioned as an "inspector." These young crusaders should receive a cordial welcome wherever their duty summons them for it should be borne in mind that their work is one for humanity, the saving of precious lives.

The breeding place of the house fly is one of filth and he eats and thrives on the filthiest things. There would be little danger from it, however, did it not put its filthy feet on the things on which human beings subsist. It gets into the milk and on the fruit and cake, vegetables and other articles of human food. The result is that he plants on the food the germs of consumption, typhoid fever and other contagious diseases.

We hope that the work to be undertaken by this fine little army of life savers will be not only systematic and thorough, but that the warfare be kept up until cold weather comes. Otherwise the whole effect will be lost for nothing is gained by a spasmotic campaign. The breeding places must be cleaned out and kept clean for one fly produces hundreds more each summer season. Swat the Fly!

THE WATER SUPPLY.

That the water question has a side to it which many have failed to realize is forcibly shown in the decision of the Supreme Court filed a few days ago in which the Court affirmed the findings of the State Water Supply Commission in refusing the Borough of Collingswood permission to construct a municipal water plant. The commission found that the borough was supplied with water by an independent water company at a reasonable rate and that the establishment of a municipal water plant would tend to destroy the conservation of the water supply in that district.

If the question of the conservation of the water supply of the Plainfield district should come before the Supreme Court by way of the State Water Supply Commission or otherwise on the application of any of the many municipalities which are supplied by the local company, what chance, if the principles set forth in the Collingswood case were applied, would Plainfield have to gobble all the supply or to interfere with the conservation of that supply, should an independent plant be found to interfere with such conservation? It must be remembered that no matter what the outcome of the present proceedings may be, which proceedings have now reached the Court of Errors stage with Plainfield a loser, the other municipalities supplied by the local company have not yet been heard, and, as they are intensely interested in the water supply from which they are furnished with water, their rights, when brought before the State Water Supply Commission or the Supreme Court by proper proceedings, would be deserving of, and would undoubtedly receive, most careful consideration.

Aquitania is the name of the largest vessel in the world. The giant ship, which will take its initial plunge into the waters of the Clyde, in Scotland, on Monday, will have a displacement of over 50,000 tons, which means that she has about 10,000 more tonnage than the Olympic, at present the biggest boat afloat. Without engines or boilers she weighs more than a fully armed battleship. The Aquitania is 900 feet in length and will have a speed of 23 knots an hour. One of the unique features of this floating palace will be a completely equipped theatre, where a regular stock company will give performances nightly while the huge vessel is crossing to the ocean.

Those Democratic Congressmen who are condemning President Wilson because he insists on carrying out the promises of the Democratic platform show that they have not known Wilson as he really is. One of his finest points is that he means what he says and says what he means. This was characteristic of him as Governor and it is so ingrained that it will continue to be so.

Pennsylvania follows New Jersey in enacting a law providing for indigent widows' pensions for the support of their children. The Keystone State is becoming truly progressive.

The easiest way for a man to become cultivated will be explained by the contributed editor for Saturday's issue.

GREAT FOREST FIRES RAGE IN BLACK HILLS

Deadwood, S. D., April 17.—Nearly 1,000 men, it is said, are fighting forest fires in the Black Hills south of here. Fanned by a stiff wind the flames have destroyed millions of feet of the best timber in the hills located about sixty miles south of this city and much more will be burned before the flames can be checked.

ROAD IMPROVEMENTS.

Freeholders Krouse and Meisel and County Engineer Bauer have had a conference with State Road Commissioner Stevens, in Trenton, relating to the resolutions passed at Monday's meeting authorizing the resurfacing of sections of the county roads, making continuous thoroughfares of some modern hard surface pavement through the county. The commissioners approved the action of the freeholders in regard to the improvements planned.

LORRAINE MAN MISSING; SEARCH MADE FOR HIM

Relatives of Charles S. D. Eggerstedt, proprietor of a paint store in Elizabeth, are much worried over his continued absence. He left his home in Lorraine last Saturday morning as usual and since then no word has been received from him. All efforts by private means to locate him have been futile, although they were pursued in Elizabeth, Newark and New York.

Mr. Eggerstedt resided with his wife and daugther in Lorraine. Both of them are nearly prostrated with grief over his disappearance and would gladly welcome any word as to his whereabouts.

BOYS' SCOUTS TONIGHT TO INVADE SCOTCH PLAINS

Music will be rendered by a band of fifteen pieces under the direction of Richard Korff, while Harry Pfaff will be the stage manager. The committee, composed of Robert Anson, Evert Marston and Mr. Paff, will be dressed in cowboy fashion, while Miss Dorothy Smith, who will take admission tickets, will be disguised as an Indian squaw.

WILSON MOWING DOWN OPPOSITION TO TARIFF

Washington, April 17.—Apparently the backbone of opposition to the administration's tariff bill is broken in the House and President Wilson and Chairman Underwood have received word of the weakening of their opponents in the Senate. Indeed, the President and his supporters in Congress are encouraged to hope that the Senate is actually getting into a frame of mind more receptive toward the measure in its present shape with the prospect that effective opposition will be very much lessened by the time the bill reaches the higher body. President Wilson, however, is continuing to use every effort to get the Senators into line for the bill as it stands, his latest acquisition to the lines of his supporters being three Republican Progressives. The Chief Executive told your correspondent that it was a fight to the finish on the principal policies of the bill although he hopes through conferences with members of the Senate to forestall and if possible avoid serious clashes.

POULTRY RAISERS HEAR THE VIEWS OF VETERAN

Before an interested audience of poultry raisers in the Exempt Firemen's Hall last night, W. T. Wittman, of Allentown, Pa., a noted authority on chickens, delivered an address on what he concedes to be, after years of careful experimenting, the best way to raise poultry. He is president of the Pennsylvania-Jersey Association of Poultry Improvement. He is an advocate of the old fashioned methods of incubation and urged poultrymen, who make it a business on an extensive scale, to eliminate the most approved artificial methods of heating coops and hatcheries.

In his thirty-four years' experience Mr. Wittman has always clung to the crude poultry raising methods and his success has brought him fame wherever his products were exhibited.

SENTINEL SHIP IN MIDOCEAN.

Scotia Will Warn Liners of Presence of Icebergs.

A watchful sentry will henceforth be on duty in the Atlantic ocean to warn vessels of the approach of ice and to assist in averting disasters.

The whaling ship Scotia left Dundee, Scotland, recently, having on board a number of scientists, who, by means of a powerful wireless apparatus, will notify all ships crossing in either direction of the presence and progress of floes and icebergs.

The Scotia was formerly employed in the Scottish antarctic expedition. It has been sent out by the British board of trade in accordance with an arrangement with the north Atlantic steamship lines. She will report frequently to wireless stations in Newfoundland and Labrador.

NASSAU GETS $250,000 MORE.

Princeton, April 17.—A bequest which will net Princeton University from $250,000 to $300,000 has raised the total of the gifts to that institution in the past month to more than $3,500,000. The latest gift comes from the estate of William B. Reed, Jr., of Brewster, N. Y., who was graduated from the university in 1896. His bequest to Princeton consists of his residuary estate, amounting to more than $250,000, and is to be held in trust for his widow until her death or marriage. Mrs. Reed receives his large farm in Putnam county and $100,000. The total value of the estate is between $800,000 and $1,000,000. Princeton's gift comes with the condition that it shall be used for such purposes as designated by Nathaniel Schroeder, of the class of 1898; the president of Princeton University and the president of the graduate council. Mr. Reed was a member of the graduate council at the time of his death and was well-known here. He frequently visited the college and took keen delight in a study of undergraduate life. The large total of Princeton's gifts in the past month has probably never been equalled in a similar period.

HOW CARDINALS SELECT A POPE

SECRECY IS ABSOLUTE

No Communication With Outside World While Balloting Takes Place—The Elect Robes Himself and Receives Ring.

Paris, April 17.—The next papal conclave at Rome has become a subject of pregnant interest to the entire Catholic world, not only from a spiritual, but also from a political point of view. The following is an outline of the many peculiar and ancient details of the great ceremony by which the new head of the church is selected.

In the first place the occupant of the holy see is subjected, at the trying moment when his soul is about to be required of him, to formalities that are elaborately laid down and which seem very much at variance with the closing scene of a human life. In the presence of the members of the secred college the sacristan bishop administers the viaticum and extreme unction. The grand penitentiary gives the absolution. The penitential psalms are then intoned. The expiring pontiff, if he have the strength to do so, gives his benediction to the assembly, and the dirge of the mortuary hymns continues to the end. The Camerlinge of the Vatican, in order to make the official record of the death, takes up a small silver hammer, with which he strikes three light blows on the dead man's head, and calls on him by his Christian name.

Nine days after the death of the Pope the conclave meets to choose his successor. The gathering takes its name from the fact that the cardinals are locked up in "conclave" and shut off from all communication with the outer world. The next conclave will be the first to meet in the huge building constructed several years ago in the rear of the Vatican Palace, and which is known as the Palace of the Conclave. The palace has 200 rooms, distributed among 70 apartments, each of which will constitute the accommodations needed for one of the cardinals when all come together to elect a pope.

On the day of the conclave all are summoned from their rooms by a bell thrice rung, and repair to the assembly chamber. From this moment until the result of the voting is announced they have no communication save with the Vatican officials. Their clothing and even their food is searched, lest they should contain correspondence from outside.

After a night of seclusion the conclave is formally assembled early next afternoon, and all repair to the chapel, where a desk has been provided for each cardinal. In the middle of the hall are six tables and behind these an altar. Immediately in front of the altar is a table on which are two chalices for holding the ballots. Before proceeding further, a search is made to assure the conclave of the fact that none but those entitled to vote are present.

Each cardinal writes the name of the candidate he would elect, in the centre of the voting ticket. This is of an oblong form, prepared according to the directions of the bull of Gregory XV. At the foot of the altar the voter lifts up his hand and exhibits the ticket between his thumb and finger. He then kneels and prays for a moment, after which he takes oath that he is about to elect him whom, according to God, he thinks ought to be elected. He then puts the ticket on the paten and slips it from thence into the chalice, which he covers up again. Then he makes anew a reverence before the altar and returns to his place.

When all have voted in like manner the six tellers examine the papers and proclaim the result. If no cardinal has obtained the required number of votes—two-thirds of the number of cardinals present—the result is declared void, and the voting papers, collected together, are burned in a drazier with damp straw, the dense smoke from which issues through a particular chimney, visible from outside and proclaims to the outer world that no election has taken place.

Heretofore the burning of the ballots has closed the session of the day, and the conclave has adjourned until the evening. Four years ago, however, Pope Pius X. introduced an important change in the method of electing his successor. Instead of having but two ballots each day the new ruling provides for four ballots, two in the morning and two in the evening. Thus the conclaves in future are expected to take just half the time occupied during the last seven centuries.

Proceeding with the election by ballot, voting is continued on the lines indicated until a choice is reached. The result is then announced by the ringing of a bell and all the senior cardinals advance to the place occupied by the newly chosen pontiff and inquire if he accepts the election. On receiving an affirmative answer, he is at once saluted by the entire college. The new Pope then retires to robe himself in the pontifical vestments. On his return the fisherman's ring is placed on his finger, and the new Vicar of Christ gives his first solemn benediction to the members of the secred college from the steps of the altar.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

That remarkable organization of colored singers, dancers and comedians, known from coast to coast as "The Smart Set" company, will be the attraction at the Plainfield theatre, Saturday afternoon and evening. S. H. Dudley, acknowledged as one of the best funmakers of his race, is still at the helm dispensing mirth and hilarity in large chunks. Supported by a cast of forty capable people he will be seen in the rollicking and side-splitting musical comedy in three acts, entitled "Doctor Beans From Boston." Those who have followed the successful career of this talented performer claim that in this piece he has the best role he has been called to portray in years. He is the dominating figure and everything he does is accomplished in an artistic and original manner. He has an individuality distinctly his own and a style that has been imitated by many rivals. There is no end to the fun. It is rampant from the time the show starts until the final curtain. Fifteen song hits are distributed during the action of the play, while the other features, scenic adornment and novelties, electrical and mechanical effects are up to a standard of excellence seldom found in any production. The entire cast is composed of artists who understand their business. They are experienced and efficient and succeed in lifting the offering to a state of perfection out of the ordinary. "Doctor Beans From Boston" is a character—one of those types who has no use for gloomy side of life. He lives in an atmosphere of humor and his troubles and escapades inspire no end of infectious hilarity. He imagines that he has discovered the fountain of perpetual love. He is so enthusiastic in this respect that he succeeds in disillusionizing a lot of folks who ought and should know better, but he does it in such an artless and funny way that nobody becomes offended.

Jos. M. Gaites, producer of such famous immediate predecessors as "Three Twins," "Bright Eyes," "The Enchantress," etc., now offers John Hyams and Leila McIntyre in the delightful musical play, "The Girl of My Dreams," which will appear at the Plainfield theatre, Saturday afternoon and evening, April 26. For two seasons this beautiful, clean, mirthful musical comedy has been delighting packed houses of pleased patrons throughout the country. It has never failed to elicit unqualified praise from both press and public and, rounded out by the wholesome experience of such a record before varying, and captious audiences, "The Girl of My Dreams" now seeks to win those who are yearning for that girl in this city. John Hyams is a born comedian. His dancing is clean and his singing excellent. His acting is just what it should be, is never overdone and the horse play which usually forms a great part of such a performance is entirely missing. His portrayal of Harry Swifton, the confirmed bachelor who finally fell by the wayside, is exceedingly well done. His co-star, Miss McIntyre, is a winsome little woman. Her sweet face is well set off by her sober Quaker garb, and she captures the audience from her first appearance. She takes the part of Lucy Medders, from a little Quaker village, and her country ways, her delightful voice, and her entire performance makes her beloved by all. The organization numbers over seventy people. A cast including Irving Brooks, Alice Hills, Della Niven, Neil Burns, Francis Gaillard, Sylvia de Frankie and Frank McEwen together with the Harem-Scarem Pony Ballet, a big beauty chorus and an augmented orchestra.

New excess baggage rules will exempt theatrical companies.

Bobyna Howland has been engaged for the cast of "Rosedale."

Catherine Countiss is playing in vaudeville in an emotional sketch, entitled "A Birthday Present."

Joseph Weber, of Weber and Fields, intends to organize a musical stock company for New York city.

Margaret Illington is now making arrangements for her appearance in London next season in a new play.

It is said that Gaby Deslys has received an offer of more than $6,000 a week for four weeks in Buenos Aires.

A. G. Delmater has obtained from Channing Pollock the rights to his dramatization of "The Inner Shrine."

Gertrude Dallas will be the leading woman with Blanche Ring in the latter's new play, "When Claudie Smiles."

David Belasco is now at work on a new play for Frances Starr, which will be brought out next Fall in New York city.

Charles Frohman will have two companies next season playing "The Conspiracy." John Emerson will head the Eastern company.

Dorothy Armstrong, sister of Jane Grey, has recently been added to the cast of "The Honeymoon Express" at the Wintergarden, New York.

Sarah Bernhardt is to make her second farewell to New York an appearance in vaudeville at the new Palace theatre on May 4.

"The Argyle Case," by Harriet Ford and Harvey O'Higgins, with Robert Hilliard in the leading role, is in its fifth month in New York.

Richard Carle and Hattie Williams are to appear next season again as co-stars in a new Viennese opera. Charles Frohman will produce early in August.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

Robert Hilliard in "The Argyle Case," nearing its 200th time at the Criterion Theatre, New York, has given to the stage in detective Asche Kayton a fascinating character who is real, human and red-blooded. In solving the mysteries of a strange murder and a baffling counterfeiting scheme, he illustrates modern devices for the detection of crime that have made William J. Burns a national figure in famous investigations. Detective Burns himself has collaborated in the authorship of "The Argyle Case," in which Mr. Hilliard portrays, with poise and distinction, an up-to-the-minute sleuth who looks and acts like a gentleman. The play combines laughter and thrilling suspense. It illustrates the finger print process and demonstrates the much discussed but little understood dictograph, a cunning eavesdropper that betrays to operatives, concealed at a distance, the secret confidences of wrongdoers plotting the details of crime. Nearly half a million New York playgoers, alert for something new, have already seen "The Argyle Case," which has had such tremendous endorsement that visiting strangers select it as one of the foremost successes really worth seeing.

The first exhibition, in this country, of the Kleine-Cines motion spectacle of "Quo Vadis?" a dramatic visualization in pictures of Sienkiewicz' powerful story of that name, will be shown at the Astor theatre for an indefinite engagement beginning Monday matinee, April 21. The production of "Quo Vadis?" as a photo spectacle provides a complete evening's entertainment lasting two and one half hours. The expense entailed to record this marvelous drama was enormous, the investiture throughout having been planned and built down to the smallest detail. The orgies given in honor of Nero are reenacted with the greatest precision. The burning of Rome is a thrilling part of the story, and the realism with which it is accomplished in the film fairly brings the onlookers into the conflagration as part of the fugitives trying to escape the grasp of the leaping flames, a sight in itself never to be forgotten. The chariot races, the Christian martyrs being thrown to the wild beasts, the struggle between Ursus, the giant slave, and the savage bull, and the human beings being burned alive, are among the scenes that have been enacted over again from history.

N. J. & PA. EQUIPMENT BAD.

Trenton, April 17.—The service and equipment of the New Jersey and Pennsylvania Railroad, a small line operating between Whitehouse and a point near Morristown, was considered at a hearing given by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners Tuesday. Chief Inspector Chas. D. McKelvey and Charles A. Mead, engineer of bridges for the board, presented reports showing that the equipment of the road is sadly out of repair. Frederick V. Pitney, receiver for the road, told of the difficulties of the company owing to lack of funds. He said that if the line could be extended into Morristown the road could probably be put on a paying basis. He admitted that the road is out of repair, but contended that in view of the careful manner in which its trains are operated it is not actually dangerous.

ELIZABETH STOPS LIGHT PLAN.

Elizabeth, April 17.—Efforts to procure a municipal lighting plant for the city were brought to a stop this week at the meeting of the City Council. The finance committee reported adversely on the recommendation of the special lighting committee for a $500 appropriation for investigating the feasibility of the plan. The reason given by the finance committee was that this matter should not be taken up until the Board of Works referendum bill is voted on in November. Council adopted a resolution offered by President Collin indorsing Rev. Dr. Otis A. Glazebrook, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, for Minister to some foreign country. The resolution pledged that the Council would petition the President on the matter. Dr. Glazebrook recently gave his resignation to the church authorities, citing the fact that his age made his resignation necessary. He has been spoken of for the post at Switzerland. Bids received from oil companies for sprinkling the streets were rejected as being too high. Council was advised by the city attorney that it could pave unpaved streets over the protest of even one-half of the property owners by a four-fifths vote. The Public Service Railway Company will receive another communication from the Council urging that its promise to improve the trolley service be kept. City Engineer Collins asked for additional help for his office. The Central Railroad requested permission to change the grade of Cherry street, so that new bridge can be erected.

FASHION HINT

By JUDIC CHOLLET

Russian blouses are extremely smart this spring. They are used for silk, cotton, wool and linen materials and are always attractive. This one is worn over a simple five gored skirt with overlapping edges at the left of the front and a panel back.

In the picture it is made of charmeuse satin, but the same model could be carried out successfully in eponge and foulard, with the blouse of one material and the skirt of another.

For really warm weather the square neck and short sleeves will be liked, but for spring the big collar and long sleeves are smarter.

For the medium blouse size the blouse will require four and threeeighths yards of material twenty-seven inches wide, with three-eighths yard for the collar. The skirt will take six and a quarter yards of twenty-seven inch material.

These May Manton patterns are cut in sizes for the blouse from 34 to 40 inches bust measure and for the skirt from 22 to 32 inches waist measure. Send 10 cents each for the patterns to this office, giving numbers—skirt 7596, blouse 7760 and they will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste, send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

FISH SANDWICHES.

TEMPTING sandwiches for luncheon may be made with fish. While especially suitable just now, the sandwiches make dainty trifles to add to the bill of fare at any time. They are particularly nice for the children's school luncheon.

The recipes given here may suggest other ways of making the sandwiches, the fish used in these being the canned varieties such as are available at all seasons of the year and in every locality.

Tempting Sandwiches.

Lobster Sandwiches.—Chop fine the meat of a lobster, either fresh or canned. Season this with tabasco sauce, olive oil and lemon juice. Spread on sandwich bread which has been lightly buttered. Press two corresponding pieces of the bread covered with fish together, laying a fresh lettuce leaf between them.

Salmon Sandwiches.—Take thin slices of white bread, spread these with a layer of creamed cheese. On this place a layer of salmon slightly moistened with vinegar. Place two of the slices of bread together, laying leaves of watercress between them.

All the sandwiches thus made may be laid together to form a loaf and served by cutting across in the other direction. In this way the sandwiches will be given a very odd appearance.

A Piquant Relish.

Sardine Sandwiches.—Remove the skin and bones from the sardines, make a paste by adding the juice of a lemon, olive oil, the juice of a small onion and salt and pepper to taste. Make a smooth mixture and spread thinly on slices of bread. Lobster, shrimp or crab meat chopped very fine may be used in the same way.

MOTHERS' WORK

Conducted by the Plainfield Mothers' Association. Every Thursday

Contributing Staff.

Mrs. G. Stuart Simons, Mrs. Jos. Smith, Mrs. Wm. M. Sandford, Jr.

The Daily Press for Thursdays containing the column on Mother's Work will be sent by mail for one dollar a year, in advance.

"There is nothing in all the world so important as children, nothing so interesting. If ever you wish to go in for some form of philanthropy, if ever you wish to be of real use in the world, do something for children. —David Starr Jordan.

To Teachers.

We would have you, the educators of this State, filled with the spirit of social service and thoroughly permeated with a deep abiding faith in the ultimate triumph of right in the individual child and in the State.

If such were not futile, we would also wish you not for its own sake, but for what it would do for your work through you, enough wealth to protect you from worry over old possibilities and enough to enable you to so live as to be of the best use to your community. We realize, however, that a public that holds a Ty Cobb or a Blanche Bates of a greater value to itself than a hundred such as you, moulders of a nation's destinies as you are, will do little for you. You mus do it for them.

See to it, then, during the coming year that you establish in your pupils the future generation of citizens, a more fitting estimate of the proper value of things, a truer appreciation of relative values, so that they may not consider sports and amusements to be of more value than the care and training of their children; and their appetites of greater consideration than their progeny.

Child Welfare Magazine.

Child Welfare Magazine is offering a special inducement to new subscribers. The price of the magazine is one dollar a year, but for a limited time it will be sent to member of a club of twenty for six months for 25 cents.

This magazine is the official organ of Mothers' Congress and Parent-Teacher Associations and besides giving the news of such organizations from all over the Union, contains contributed articles by people of prominence whose opinions are worthy of consideration.

The Magazine Committee of Plainfield Mothers' Association are receiving names to form such a club. If you wish to take advantage of this special offer send name and 25 cents to Mrs. Joseph Smith, 441 East Seventh street, or 'phone 2044-M.

The House Fly.

The Child Hygiene Committee of the New Jersey Congress of Mothers under the leadership of Mrs. Alexander Marcy Jr., of Riverton, is instituting a campaign of sanitation throughout the State. The plan is to begin with the extermination of the house fly. It is believed that with such a holocaust of disease and death as follows in his wake, it is well worth while to interest men, women and children in this matter. Mrs. Marcy suggests talks by the principals of every school to the students; addresses by good speakers to every Home and School Association; sermon by every pastor; moving picture films at every place at which they can be given; literature freely distributed and a "Clean Up Day" held before April 25, on which every one, old and young, shall be invited to find and destroy all possible breeding places with the help of the City Council.

Mothers' Congress.

The State Council of Mothers' Clubs and Parent-Teacher Associations was held at Trenton in the Gregory School on Saturday, April 12, under the auspices of the New Jersey Congress of Mothers. Twenty-nine of the thirty-five associations were represented and reported as to work accomplished and plans for the coming year.

The various committees of the Congress reported on Child Hygiene, Home and School Associations, Country Life, Juvenile Court, Legislation, Literature, Home Economics, Loan Papers, Child Labor and other departments.

The session opened at 10:30 a. m., and closed at 4 p. m., with an inspection of the school—a fine new building. The box luncheon brought by the delegates was supplemented by hot coffee made and served in the domestic science kitchen by the girls of the domestic science class.

The women from Plainfield who attended the conference were Mrs. C. S. Munro, president of the Mothers' Association; Mrs. G. Stuart Simons, president of the High School Parent-Teacher Association, and Mrs. W. M. Sandford, Jr.

QUICK WORK, SCOOP--QUICK WORK

"MAC" SAYS

"Box score time in Baldom" is a dirge which is generally calculated to start a furore wherever sung. But we can't seem to get the dirge started this year for some reason or other.

Weather inclemency has had a great deal to do with the early season schedule mixups but these all mean double headers for the fans later in the season.

It is now time for basketball players to "bury the hatchet" for an intermission of about five months. Then to renew hostilities.

Two games have been won by the Borough High School nine to date and the other resulted in an eleven inning defeat in which the Roselle High School sluggers were victorious.

Assets necessary to the formation of the Central New Jersey League, all of which will have to be unearthed before the season opens: Gate receipts, winning ball clubs and an umpire who doesn't mind being mobbed once in a while. Without these three essentials it would not be possible to run a ball team in any town on the Central circuit.

Balsting power, applied under the feet of a slow moving ball player, is suggested as a good method to accelerate his movements.

Beckman (Conquiescat in pace)—Have you heard him rave in his impassioned way? Who? Why, that neck of land with bones and sinews of journalistic labor, who spreads his malignant influence on Canadian shores and wanders for hours at a time trying to frame up his weekly excuse for the "Scout." We marvel at his impatience over the probability of that third Nonpareil-Trenton game becoming a reality and are forced to believe that he has stirred up so much interest that a play-off in this city would be disastrous. He surely must know that Trenton is further from North Plainfield than it is from Scotch Plains. He suggests hording up his twenty-five cents until July 4, but we are afraid that he will find that the quarter will not supply much along the line of pyrotechnical amusement even with the new tariff regulations in vogue. Therefore, "Becky" you may be able to ascertain real answers to your questions long before we can give them to you by putting your brain through a system of calisthenics which we guarantee to kill "absent-mindedness." We will let you know the date of that third game in plenty of time so that you can arrive within an hour after the performance ends. There is lots more to be said but it takes up too much room in this column. — Etcetera—ad hominem. Beckman—Absit invidia, au revoir.

Y. M. A. A. WEEK-END BASEBALL.

Manager Conger's Young Men's Association baseball team will lineup against the Park Avenue Baptist aggregation here Saturday afternoon. This will be the second game of the season for the Y. M. A. A. nine, it having put one over on the Putnam A. C. two weeks ago. Saturday afternoon's game will be one of the preliminaries played by Manager Edward Mosher's Parks before the Sunday-school League season opens and the contest should be a fast one as both combinations have some excellent players enrolled. The Y. M. A. A. lineup will be as follows: Pitchers, Vail or Thorne (of Roselle); catchers, Howell or Giess (of Roselle); first base, Meyer; second base, Huff; third base, Parrot or Huff; shortstop, Conger or Huff; left field, Chief Meyers; center field, M. Perry; right field, Jaeger.

CLASS TRACK TEAM ELECTS.

Plainfield High School classes have started the formation of class track teams to compete in the interclass athletic meet which will be held at Parker Field next Saturday afternoon. All of the teams have had regular hours for the use of the field and are fast rounding into condition. At a meeting held yesterday afternoon Daniel McNamee was elected captain of the Sophomore sprinters.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

SCHOOLBOYS WILL PLAY GOLF HERE

Plainfield Country Club Course Offered at Last Night's Meeting.

At a meeting of the board of governos of the Plainfield Country Club, last night, it was decided to offer the course for the use of the schoolboys on May 12, 13 and 14 for the annual interscholastic championship tournament.

It was the original plan of the boys to hold their championship at Baltusrol, but the club wished to make some changes for the New Jersey championship early in June which would interfere with the interscholastic competition. As a result, the boys were without a course until Max R. Marston, president of the organization, communicated with officials here and received a favorable answer last night. Plainfield, incidentally, will be the scene of the metropolitan junior championship June 24 and 25.

Further changes are being planned in the course at Baltusrol. Two-thirds of the bunker, about 200 yards from the first tee, is to be removed. A series of sand traps will be built just beyond to run diagonally across the course. A similar change is being made at the second hole. The first bunker and the sand traps near it are being removed and from the right side several traps are to run diagonally across the fairway. A big trap is being substituted for the bunker guarding the fifth green. The ninth green has been widened so that there will be less danger of rolling off.

A hundred or more entries have been received for the annual spring tournament of the Country Club of Lakewood, which gets under-way today, marking the formal opening of the northern competitive golf season. Today will be given over to a qualifying round of eighteen holes with match play, starting tomorrow morning. The finals will be played Saturday afternoon over the eighteen hole route.

Walter J. Travis, who won the chief cups both in the spring and the fall, is one who is expected to start, as is Percy Platt, the medalist last fall. C. H. Gardner, of Providence, runner up last spring, is entered.

Others who have signified their intention of competing are Hamilton K. Kerr, of Elkwanok; George Dixon, Jr., of Yale; George C. Stanley, former intercollegiate champion; E. P. Allen, of Milwaukee; Harold Weber, of Inverness, former Ohio champion; F. C. Jennings, of Nassau; Max R. Marston, of Cranford, medalist in last year's interscholastic championship; C. E. Van Vleck, the Montclair veteran, and Paul Moore, of Morris County.

WILL HAVE TEAM AGAIN.

Manager Joe Alberts, of the Scotch Plains baseball team, is making preparations to open the 'Plains season and issue a call for candidates in the near future. A number of excellent players from this city are contemplating trying out for positions on the 'Plains team and Alberts will probably have a large array of artists at the initial practice. It is planned to run a Sunday afternoon schedule as has been done in the past, and the team will not take up Saturday afternoon ball.

N. Y. TEAM AT 'PLAINS.

The Commercial High School baseball team, one of the fastest school boy nines playing the game in the Metropolitan district, will appear at Scotch Plains Saturday afternoon in a game with the Parish House aggregation. The 'Plains boys have a good roundup of players and expect to make an excellent showing against the New Yorkers.

"JACK" BRITTON EASILY WINS OVER "MATTY" BALDWIN

"Matty" Baldwin, the veteran Boston boxer who at one time was a match for any of the lightweight brigade, was a very easy mark for "Jack" Britton, the clever Chicago fighter. It was nothing more than a warming up for the Chicago man, and he left the ring after the tenth round scarcely puffing.

LIDGATE WILL HAVE ANOTHER CONTENDER FOR TEAM BERTH

While it looks as though Eugene Lidgate, the Scotch Plains ball player trying out for catcher on the Baltimore International League team's staff, was making good with all intentions of "sticking," he will have another lively contender for the backstop berth from now on, and one who looks like a find for the Oriole club. Manager Connie Mack, of the Philadelphia Americans, announced last night that he had released Catcher Ben Egan to the Baltimore club, and the latter's experience in big league baseball practically assures him of a position on the Oriole nine.

The opening of the International League race, which was scheduled for yesterday, had to be postponed until this afternoon because of a heavy blanket of rain, but the first games of the league season will be ushered in with all due pomp today.

GOLF SEASON OPENING.

Lakewood, N. J., April 17.—The Northern golf season of 1913 was ushered in this morning when the annual spring tournament of the Country Club of Lakewood was opened with a qualifying round, 18 holes, medal play. Match play will begin tomorrow and the semi-finals and finals will be played on Saturday. The entry list includes representatives of nearly all of the leading clubs of the New York and Philadelphia districts.

INITIAL FOOTBALL CALL.

Although it is rather early for the football season to open up, Holy Cross team members are making preparations for the 1913 season. The chief obstacle confronting the athletes is the selection of a coach, but those in charge are said to have several excellent men in view. "Doc" Hamilton, who trained the team last season, returned his contract to Manager Doyle unsigned, thus leaving the vacancy to be filled by some other worthy coach.

BOUND BROOK WILL AGAIN PLAY BALL

Movement Already Started to Raise Funds for That End —Good Players in Line.

The Bound Brook Baseball Association will have a team on the field this year and has begun the work of raising money. Edward S. Hoagland announces that Bound Brook will be represented by one of the fastest teams that has ever played there. Joe Meehan, the well-known first baseman, who was recently with the Providence team in the International League, will play at that position for Bound Brook, in addition to other talent of like calibre. Many of the promising youngsters of Bound Brook will be given a thorough tryout so as to make the team as strictly a home team as possible. The club has leased the Pierce grounds in East Bound Brook and work will be started at once to build the stands and fences.

Charles Newhouse will again manage the team and has announced the first game for May 10. Bound Brook will go into the Central New Jersey League also.

The club is making arrangements for the sale of season tickets and conducting two dances in Voorhees Hall the latter part of this month.

SOUTH ATLANTIC LEAGUE.

Jacksonville, Fla., April 17.—All indications point to an aggressive and well contested campaign of the South Atlantic League of Baseball Clubs the opening games being played today. The circuit of the league is the same as last year with the exception that the Columbia franchise has been transferred to Charleston. The weaker teams of last season apparently have been materially strengthened, which is expected to result in an interesting race for the pennant. The schedule provides for 120 games to be played between now and Labor day. Albany opened today at Charleston, Macon at Columbus and Savannah in Jacksonville.

VIRGINIA LEAGUE OPENS.

Richmond, Va., April 17.—Under conditions more auspicious than were promised at the close of last season the Virginia State baseball league today played the first games on its regular schedule for 1913. Practically all of the controversies and other difficulties that made it rather rough going for the league the latter part of last season have now been eliminated and the club owners are looking forward to a successful year. In the initial games Newport News appeared at Roanoke, Norfolk at Portsmouth and Petersburg at Richmond. A season of 132 games will be played, with September 13 as the closing date.

ACCORDING TO SCORER.

A triple steal, the first ever made in the Northwest League, was made yesterday by Spokane players in the game against Portland, according to announcement today of the official scorer, who decided that all three men started when the pitcher delivered the ball. Powell, on third, Melchoir on second, and Altman on first are the men who participated, and a try for a put-out was made at the home plate.

OLDEST BASEBALL EMPLOYE.

Boston, Mass., April 17.—With the opening today of the home season of the National league, Gene Foster began his thirty-fifth consecutive season as chief usher at the South End grounds. Gene is seventy-six years old and claims to be the oldest employe at any baseball park in the country, both as to age and years of service.

INDIAN JIM THROPE MAY BE SEEN HERE

Has Been Offered a Contract With "Honey Boy" Evans' Minstrels.

Jim Thorpe, the famous Indian, who won the world's all around championship at the recent Olympic games in Sweden, has been made a substantial offer by George "Honey Boy" Evans to appear upon the stage, and may be one of the black face troupe when the Evans' minstrels show at the Plainfield theatre April 28. Thorpe is now a member of the New York Giants, and there are a number of well grounded reports current that McGraw will release him.

Evans has sent Thorpe a contract naming a good salary, and the minstrel is desirous of securing the services of the Indian for not only this season, but also next. Evans is imbued with confidence that he can make a thespian of the red skin, and as evidence that his view is sound he points out that "Chief" Bender was far from a failure in vaudeville, and that Thorpe, who is just as intelligent, having had the advantage of a college education, should make good. If Thorpe accepts he will probably appear in the olio in a monologue.

The desire to secure the services of Thorpe has been of long standing. When Thorpe was brought prominently to the public eye because of the charge being made that he was a professional, and his admission of his guilt, Evans immediately wired him an offer. McGraw's shortly followed, much higher, and was accepted.

WAGNER'S INJURY SERIOUS.

Manager Fred Clarke, of the Pirates, went to Youngstown, Ohio, last night with Hans Wagner, who must undergo another operation on his injured knee. The injury to Wagner is discouraging to Clarke. The mighty Hans is needed to steady the infield and to drive out hits that bring in runs. He was very lame yesterday and unable to continue practicing. Wagner limped about the short field but quit early. The possibility of the permanent retirement of Wagner has the Pittsburg fans just about as badly worried as Clarke is. The operation today may fix him up temporarily, but it is feared the "Flying Dutchman" will never fully recover from the injury.

SMASHED RECORD, BUT LOST.

Howard P. Drew, of Springfield High School, the national champion sprinter, smashed the sixty-yard world's record in his heat at the Paterson Elks' athletic carnival, held at the Paterson Armory, Paterson, last night. The dusky flier smashed the tape in 6 1-5 seconds, bettering the old figures by one-fifth of a second. In the final heat he had to be content with third prize. D. Pollizer, of the Sheridan A. C., favored with nine feet handicap, was picked the winner, with Frank Stephenson of Trinity Club, the junior national champion who started from the four-foot mark, second, inches behind.

ROYALS AND COMMERCIALS.

Manager Pete Simmons, of the Royal Colored Giants, will open the season Saturday afternoon on their home field on Filmore avenue, with a game against the Commercial A. C. Both teams are local combinations and the rivalry existing ought to turn the fray into an interesting one to witness.

Y. M. A. A. RECEPTION.

Members of the Young Men's Association baseball team will act as hosts tonight at a reception and dance to be held in the Company K armory. Elaborate preparations have been completed for the affair and a good time is promised all those who attend.

A SHOOT SCHEDULED.

A shoot will be held on the Peter C. Johnson farm, Plainfield avenue, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, under Mr. Terry's management.

—A great deal of today's "Good luck" is going to attach itself to those who read and investigate Press want ads.

HOME

The average man spends half his life at Home. That takes into account the nights at the club, at lodge, at the theatre, or sitting up with a sick friend. It also takes into account the fellow who sees home often enough only to establish a voting residence. He is balanced off in averaging up by the man who spends a good deal more than half his life at Home. The Newark Sunday Call has figured this all out and says that the statement that more than half of life is spent at Home cannot be disputed. If there is any doubt about it, keep a time schedule for a week or so. The Average Women? Bless you, three-quarters of her life is spent at Home! And that includes the working woman, too, the real NEW WOMAN.

Home shapes up as a pretty big proposition, considering all that. The world realizes it, too, for most of the world's efforts go toward providing homes. Right down at the bottom of things, you come up against that great big reason for it all—"Home."

There was a poet who said that Home was not merely four square walls. That was the absolute truth. Home is what you make it, whether you call it palace, villa, flat, cottage or hut. Some people can make a hall bed-room more homey than others can with a $300,000 marble mansion. It is wholly up to the individual. But as half a life time is to be spent at Home, it is worth trying to make it a success. A real homey Home is life's biggest success.

The poet's four square walls idea, however, should not be taken wholly at its face value. Most truths should not. There is always that little exception to the rule lurking in the background. Accept the truth, but also dig out that little exception and digest its meaning. Then you will get the full value out of the truth. Four square walls do not make a Home. But they help. The better those same walls are the better chance of making a successful Home. Be careful in choosing a setting for the jewel—the home jewel. Remember that you must use that setting half your life. Pick some thing that will wear. See that it is good. That means be careful in choosing your abode. Whether it be a house, a flat or a room, choose it carefully. Whether you buy or rent, remember you are selecting a setting for the biggest thing in life—Home.

The Plainfield Daily Press

thinks a lot about Home. That is natural, for Homes form its destination when it leaves the presses ready for distribution among its thousands of readers. The Daily Press likes to take part in home making and it does all it can to further that end in what it prints. It can aid you in selecting your setting for your Home—the dwelling, whatever form it may take.

The owner of a house who wishes to sell or rent the house goes to an agent—if he be wise and wants results. The agent gives publicity to the owner's desire, attends to the troublesome incidental business, and accomplishes the desired results.

The agent has the assistance of another agent—a very powerful agent for this sort of work. This other agent is the RELIABLE NEWSPAPER, the newspaper that reaches the kind of people the owner would want to sell or rent to. The DAILY PRESS is such an agent. It reaches this desirable clientage and is used by responsible agents. Look at the names of the agents who advertise real estate for sale or to let and note the high character of these advertisers. their agent because it reaches the kind of people They, in turn, have chosen the DAILY PRESS as they want for clients.

Choose your home setting carefully. Study the For Sale and To Let advertisements in the DAILY PRESS. Make notes of what appeals to you, write to the agent or the owner, and inspect the property. You are dealing with established business concerns who can aid you in this big work of Home-Making. They, the agents, are seeking your patronage because you are the kind they want dealings with—the kind who can be reached through the DAILY PRESS.

ARE THE ENGLISH MILITANTS RETARDING SUFFRAGE HERE?

Question Raised by Second Defeat of the Cause In Michigan.

Mrs. Pankhurst's Followers Even Create Disturbance In Royal Palace.

THE second failure of Michigan women to carry their state for suffrage after a determined campaign has raised the question of whether the methods of the militants in England are harming the cause in the United States.

While American suffragists generally deplore the sentencing of Mrs. Pankhurst to prison and the treatment which, according to dispatches, was given to Zelie Emerson, an American, in Holloway jail, many of them do not indorse the extremely revolutionary plans of the Englishwomen.

It has been many a day since some part of England did not have some kind of disturbance created by women who want the right to vote. Even the king has not escaped annoyance, for cablegrams tell of his having been called up by the suffragettes by telephone. Since the king's telephone number is private there was instantly a suspicion that a suffragist sympathizer in the palace had supplied the number to her friends outside.

Recently a militant was able to get King George on the telephone through having knowledge of his private call number, and one report has it that he snapped to an equerry:

"Some woman here has given away the private royal call number. You must find out who she is."

Queen Mary asked three women about this, but when they denied all knowledge of it she dropped the matter.

Politics In Palace.

Still another phase of the suffrage situation has caused trouble in the royal household of late, if the cablegrams are to be accepted as true.

The agitation of the suffrage question became so extended and bitter that it spread to the ladies in waiting in the royal household.

The king and queen are supposed to have no political sympathies, and politics must not be discussed in their presence. Lords and ladies of the royal household, however, have a drawing room and dining room of their own, and in these the discussion of votes for women grew so bitter that Queen Mary made it plain that if any further trouble occurred she would reorganize her household.

Her majesty called in two of her ladies in waiting recently to explain their part in a quarrel. Soon after one of them, the Countess of Shaftesbury, resigned. Both were prosuffragettes.

Suffragettes burned the pavilion at the Tunbridge Wells cricket field. The building was totally destroyed.

The following morning, on the recommendation of the prison physician, Mrs. Pankhurst, greatly weakened by her nine day hunger strike, was released from Holloway jail. The jailers declared she had not been fed forcibly.

Enthusiastic Meetings.

After Mrs. Pankhurst had been sent to Holloway jail the suffragists renewed and extended their demonstrations. Enthusiastic meetings took place, and large funds were raised for the campaign.

At one meeting, in Albert hall, $75,000 was subscribed by the women in a short time. One woman contributed her wedding ring and a gold chain. Others also gave jewelry.

The largest individual subscription was $6,000, and the next largest was $5,000. Mrs. "General" Drummond, who presided, is reported to have said in announcing the subscriptions:

"Money talks, and the members of the cabinet know it. What we have raised tonight would buy a lot of matches and paraffin."

At the same meeting Mrs. Drummond read the report of the physician who examined Miss Emerson immediately after her release from jail. It said in part:

"I find the mucous membrane of the throat entirely gone and the throat very badly bruised; also the mouth and gums are in very bad condition. Miss Emerson is suffering from severe nervous prostration."

Miss Emerson's condition was attributed to forced feeding while she was in jail. The reading of the report created the greatest indignation at the meeting.

Another sensation was created at the meeting when a former member of parliament urged the formation of a militant league of men to emulate the women in destroying property.

Activities Continued.

Following Miss Emerson's release, the suffragists continued their demonstration with what seemed increased violence. An empty passenger car on a train proceeding from Waterloo to Kingston-on-Thames was entirely destroyed by fire. The other cars on the train were filled with passengers, who were greatly alarmed and indignant at the danger to which they were exposed. Among the debris a canister such as was used by the women in a recent bomb outrage was found. Just before the train reached Kingston a loud explosion occurred.

One evening a workman passing through an empty car attached to a train carrying passengers discovered a bomb to which was attached a lighted fuse. All but an inch of the fuse was burned. He extinguished it. The bomb consisted of a canister inclosed in a box in which were sixteen loaded gun cartridges, pieces of jagged steel, bullets and scraps of lead. On the box was painted: "More to Come. Votes For Women. Give Us the Vote."

The suffragettes declare that they are not responsible for an anonymous letter received by Sir Charles Montague Lush, the judge who sentenced Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst to three years' imprisonment. The letter threatened him with death.

The secretary of the Women's Social and Political union said:

"Human life is sacred to us as much so now as before the sentence on Mrs. Pankhurst."

Clergymen Interested.

Militancy recently has been receiving attention from the pulpits of England. Among the ministers who discussed the question is Dr. Leonard G. Broughton, pastor of Christ church, Westminster Bridge road, formerly of Atlanta, Ga. In one of his sermons he said:

"A small bunch of rampant anarchists who ought to be in prison or in the lunatic asylum are bringing disgrace on their sex and hindering their noble cause—a cause which soon would be victorious if it were not for the methods of anarchy used by these women with the idea of forcing it."

About that time three uninhabited houses were set on fire. One was at Mendon, another at Potter's bar and the third at Hemel, Hempstead. Oil cans and suffragette literature were found in the vicinity of the houses.

A campaign against the "indignities" to women, contained in the Anglican marriage service, was begun by the suffragists' spiritual militancy league. Fifteen such moral humiliations are mentioned in the manifesto which the league prepared for mailing not only to every clergyman of every church in England, but to all persons whose forthcoming marriage is announced in the daily papers.

Words Objected To.

The first two indignities alleged are the words "obey him and serve him," which the bride is required to repeat, and the question put by the minister, "who giveth this woman to be married to this man?" One of the remedies suggested for both is the omission of the words, the alternative is that the bridegroom be required to promise to "obey and serve her" and that the minister also ask, "Who giveth this man to be married to this woman?"

Three indignities surround the marriage ring and the bridegroom's accompanying declaration. "The words, 'With all my worldly goods I thee endow,' have never been true," says the manifesto. The government is urged to drop the ring ceremony and its formula or to enforce an exchange of rings and the use of a formula containing "no economic falsehoods or moral offense."

"Humiliation No. 7" is the minister's pronouncement that the couple shall be man and wife together. The implication complained of is that "the woman is wholly a wife and the man not wholly a husband."

Protesting that the first of the Psalms addresses itself wholly to the bridegroom, the league demands its omission or that it be supplemented by another addressed to the wife.

The petition that the man shall love his wife as Christ the church is an "appalling humiliation of woman and a pernicious exaltation of man," says the manifesto.

The thirteenth indignity is quoting St. Paul's words: "Wives, submit yourselves unto your husbands as unto the Lord, for the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church."

The league strenuously opposes the idea of the husband being the head of the wife and suggests "Husbands, also submit yourselves unto your wives," as a supplement to this second exhortation to the wife.

Failure of Plans.

A plot of the suffragettes to blow up the grand stand of Crystal palace the day of the football cup final was disclosed by a newspaper. It shows that the plans were arranged secretly with military precision.

Within the Woman's Social and Political union is a militant corps, the names of the members of which are designated by number, and on a typewritten document the duties of each member for particular occasions are set forth.

In the present case certain members were to rent two empty houses near the palace. Others were to study the district and the movements of the police and report. Still others were assigned to get "the fireworks ready" and to arrange for the scaling of the fences, and finally three members were designated to set bombs, while another was ordered to turn in a false alarm so that the firemen would be got out of the way.

Capital $100,000.00

TALKS ON THRIFT.

ON BEING PREPARED

"Give me the young man with $50 in the Bank—in any bank—money he has earned and saved himself, and I will show you a young man who is started on the road to success."—Richard W. Sears.

"Be prepared." is the motto of that excellent organization, the Boy Scouts of America, which also makes thrift one of the habits its members are supposed to cultivate.

That motto expresses the main reason why everyone should save, and there are two things that a surplus saved will prepare you for. They are Opportunity and Emergency.

The best opportunity in the world means nothing to you if you are not prepared to grasp it. Wishing for an opportunity is not enough. There would be a lot more rich people in the world if WISHES to have money would supply it.

Wishing energy must be transformed into working energy.

Few men ever get rich on a salary alone. But the habit of thrift can be acquired on the smallest salary and that habit has made many rich.

The first thing necessary is a realization of the importance of saving. Then a systematic plan, rigidly adhered to through thick and thin.

A skilled and high-salaried machinist, who at fifty, was forced to sell a valuable invention for a small amount because he had no capital of his own to float it, said: "If I had only had a little money I could have made a fortune out of that device."

If this man had early learned the habit of saving it would have stayed by him. Then he would have had the funds so much required, and he also would have had the ability, confidence and determination to push his invention to success and thus win the larger profits instead of the pittance that he did get for his invention.

Capital is a very important element of business success. Lack of it often means failure. You can create capital by saving, by funding part of your income.

How is it with you? Are you prepared for opportunities or when they come to you or do you have to let them slip by to be seized by others?

As for emergencies, the value of thrift in this connection needs no argument. If misfortune comes to you in the form of accident, sickness or disaster and you have no cash reserve to fall back upon you will be dependent upon the charity of others.

If you have not yet begun to save money for the opportunities and emergencies which will surely arise, do it now.

SCOUTS ORDERS FOR 'FLY-SWAT'

Scoutmaster Beals Issues Instructions to boy Troopers for Campaign.

TO BEGIN TOMORROW

Workers Will Be Divided Up Into Squads and a Systematic Crusade Will Be Inaugurated Against Insects.

Scoutmaster Allen E. Beals, of the Boys' Scouts, today sounded the first blast of the trumpet for the fly swatting campaign when he issued orders to captains of local boys scout patrols outlining the part each troop is expected to take in the city-wide crusade. Mr. Beals' orders will coincide with those to be sent out by Lindsey Best, joint committeeman in charge of the juvenile work, and the troopers are ready to act at once on their scoutmaster's suggestions. All scouts are expected to report promptly at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning at the local offices of the Board of Health in full uniform, including haversacks. At that time they will receive their assignments nd badges as representatives of the Board of Health, from the chairman of the committee, George Megrew.

The city has been divided into ten districts, with two captains appointed for each division. These leaders will establish their headquarters and make assignments and receive reports in central locations. After getting their instructions tomorrow morning the scouts will proceed in two-by-two formation to their district headquarters. As this is the first civic enterprise in which the scouts have been requested to lend a hand, Scoutmaster Beals is anxious that the local troops make an excellent appearance and he has asked that all laws of scoutcraft be strictly adhered to in the work including trustworthiness, courtesy and cheerfulness. Where inspection of premises is denied by the tenants or owners they will note the number of the house on a yellow card and report the unclean conditions visible from the outside. An officer's salute will be accorded the householder both at the opening and closing of a conversation and as soon as the districts are covered the scouts will again assemble in two-by-two formation and return to the Board of Health rooms where the commissioner will make other assignments for the automobile parade which will be a feature of the campaign.

Assisting the scouts in addition to the twenty captains will be twenty or more volunteers from the grammar grades recruited by Scoutmaster Charles R. Bostwick, who will serve as inspectors and be assigned positions with the various inspecting squads.

The weekly removal of manure has been emphasized as an important feature of the refuse destroying part of the campaign. This forms one of the greatest breeding places for the fly and a barnyard in which decaying manure is stored is a nuisance to the community. Stagnant pools are also determinental to the city's health as the pest that breeds in these waters is a typhoid distributer.

LUCARILLI MUST STAY AWAY FROM PLAINFIELD

Pasquale Lucarilli, 32 years old, whom the police say kept a gambling and disorderly house in Cottage place, where a stabbing affray occurred June 30, 1912, was arrested last night in Cottage row by Detective Sergeant Flynn. He escaped from the city immediately following the fight and has been living in New Haven, Conn. On his return to this city last night he was arrested by Flynn several hours after arriving here.

Arraigned this morning before City Judge De Meza on the charge of keeping a disorderly house, he was given the preference of paying a fine of $100 and serving a sentence of 30 days in the county jail, or leaving the town. He choose the later course and promised to board a train for other parts before noon.

MISS DAVIS' LECTURE.

Miss Katharine Bement Davis, superintendent of the Reformatory for Women at Bedford, N. Y., who will address the Monday Afternoon Club at the Hartridge Auditorium, Monday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock, has had an unusual career. Three years ago an appropriation was needed for work at the reformatory at Bedford, which the institution could not get. Miss Davis learned how to make concrete and with the assistance of the girls at the institution did the work without the appropriation. A nominal admission fee, according to the club's rule, will be charged all but members of the club to hear Miss Davis.

"HELP WANTED" FULL OF WHOLESOME FUN

F. K. Anderson's Comedy is Produced by Probasco Bible Class.

"Help Wanted," an original three-act play by Francis K. Anderson, of this city, was presented by the Probasco Bible class, of the First Baptist church, at the Park Club, last night, before an audience that filled the large auditorium, and proved to be a decided success. This was the third annual dramatic production by the class, and was by far the best.

Mr. Anderson has written a very clever play, it being full of amusing situations which the capable cast presented in a finished manner. The audience was frequently convulsed with laughter, all being quick to appreciate the excellent work of the actors in interpreting their parts. Sidney Mackey, who took the leading part, that of William Thompson, an independent soap manufacturer confronted with serious business problems and other complications which upset his home life, was especially good, while Harold Robins, impersonated Thompson's nephew, a good natured, care-free young man, who discovered that he must become self-supporting before he can win the girl he loves, who was W. Herbert Hillman, in the part of Dorothy Summers, Thompson's adopted niece. Mr. Hillman made a decided hit.

In the part of William Thompson, Jr., Carleton Smith gave a clever bit of acting, in which he showed that his jealousy was greater than his honesty. The author of the play, Mr. Anderson, took the role of Tom Weatherby, an idle son of a rich man, with a tendency for English affection, and nothing was left to be desired in the way he acted his part.

Athol Newman, as Mose, an old negro servant, was just suited to his part and won much applause. Fred Loizeaux, as Harry Jones, a clerk in Thompson's office, and Howard Parry, as John Simpson, an advertising man, could not have been better and completed a cast of exceptional merit.

The play was well staged and additional features were the musical numbers by an orchestra under the direction of F. M. Sattels and the tenor solos by Elmer D. Cutting. The committee in charge of the whole affair comprised Herbert Stine, Leslie Powlison, Egbert Fountain and Pierson Bailey. The play was staged under the direction of Mr. Anderson and the executive staff comprised Harold S. Robins, business manager; W. Herbert Hillman, property manager and Egbert Fountain, program manager.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS AT MINISTER'S RECEPTION

The "at home" given at Warren chapel, last night, by Rev. and Mrs. J. O. McKelvey was made of special interest by the presence of the Camp Fire Girls of the North Plainfield High School, who exemplified their ritualistic ceremony, using an Indian camp-fire for a scene. The ceremony was a surprise to the large number of people who had no idea of the attractiveness and meaning of it all. The girls were in charge of Miss Eva Terry. They sang their songs and explained in detail the ritual under which the organization works.

The reception given by Mr. and Mrs. McKelvey was held first and the ceremonial service later. There were about 125 people present to enjoy the program. The reception committee comprised Mrs. J. O. McKelvey, Mrs. J. W. Gavett, Mrs. R. O. Stewart, Mrs. James Goodwin, Mrs. Gibson Smith, Mrs. John Green.

Refreshments were served during the evening by Mrs. John Higgins, chairman; Mrs. William Newmiller, Mrs. David Smith, Mrs. George Hoagland, Mrs. John Johnson and Mrs. A. J. Stiglitz.

WEEKLY COLORED SOCIAL.

A literary and musical program will be presented at the Washington School tonight in connection with the weekly entertainments for colored people. Interspersed with dancing there will be special music. Mrs. William N. Sandford and Mrs. Stephen H. Voorhees will act as chaperones and they will be assisted by a committee of colored women including Mrs. J. F. Lawson, chairman; Mrs. J. C. Anderson, Mrs. Joseph Robinson, Mrs. J. W. Maury and Miss Alice Maynard.

LUNCHEON FOR MISS ROCKWELL

A charming luncheon was given on Tuesday by Miss Isabella Scott, of East Front street, in honor of Miss Lucille Rockwell, who is soon to become the bride of Irving Stewart. The decorations were white roses and the place cards were hand-painted boxes filled with real orange blossoms. Silver vases filled with bridal roses were the favors.

ASSEMBLYMEN AND JURY REFORM

Griffin and McLoughlin, Two Union County Solons, may Not Change Vote.

LEONARD IS FAVORABLE

Two of Three Seen Likely to Again Support the Referendum Jury Measure—All Are Democrats and All Are From Elizabeth.

Neither Hugh J. McLoughlin nor John J. Griffin, two Union county Assemblymen who at the recent session of the Legislature opposed the jury reform bill advocated by President Wilson and Governor Fielder, are prepared to announce what their attitude would be at the special session. Governor Fielder's visit to Elizabeth next Monday night is regarded as especially significant because of the vote of Messrs. Griffin and McLoughlin on the jury reform measure.

The Goyernor sought and obtained personal interviews with both men before the Legislature adjourned in a vain effort to have them support the administration measure, and Union is therefore regarded as one of the counties requiring a personal plea to the people similar to those made on various occasions by President Wilson while he was the State Executive. Mr. McLoughlin said that he had not heard any desire expressed in Union county for jury reform so far as the public was concerned. "I am for whatever the people want," he said.

William A. Leonard was the only Union county Assemblyman to vote for the Wilson-Fielder jury bill, and his position has not changed in the least. He said yesterday that substitute jury reform bills offered in the Legislature were all designed to defeat the purpose for which they were apparently drawn.

If the platform pledges of the Democratic party were to be carried out, Mr. Leonard did not see how his colleagues could reject the administration bill.

Mr. McLoughlin when questioned about the approaching session of the Legislature and his probable position on jury reform, answered, "I can't say, for I don't know how things will go and what we will decide."

However, Mr. McLoughlin quickly responded to another query, that he certainly believed the jury reform bill passed by the Assembly carried out the pledge of the Democratic party. It offered jury reform, he said, if the people so decreed at the next election. Mr. McLoughlin inferred that he did not regard the election of Democratic officials last November as an endorsement of the party platform in its entirety.

If the platform had been voted upon plank for plank, then, he said, it would have constituted a referendum election and there would be no doubt upon any portion. People do not pay much attention to platforms in most cases, he believed, as they are seldom read and few know what they contain. Great numbers of voters ballot simply for men, he asserted, and could not tell anything about a party platform except in a general way.

Mr. McLoughlin declared that he had his mind quite made up, but reiterated that he could not state anything definite upon it at this time. It is said that Mr. McLoughlin is still for the bill he supported in the Assembly and which was rejected by the Senate.

Mr. Griffin, it is also rumored, is more apt to support the Wilson-Fielder act when he returns to Trenton. He did not admit that such was likely to happen when questioned yesterday, but neither would he say that he would continue to oppose the administration bill.

"It is too early in the game to say how I will vote at the special session," he said, and like Mr. McLoughlin he asserted that no one could foresee what would happen in the meantime. Judging by the way he voted in the Assembly a few weeks ago, Mr. Griffin said in response to a question that he must have thought that jury reform could be best obtained through the committee substitute bill. Whether or not he still thought so, he would not say.

Reports are current that the Union county assemblymen, together with other legislators, were told that their support of the administration jury reform bills would prevent their securing passage of other measures in which they had a more local interest. This "club" is said to have been suspended over their heads by former State Chairman Nugent, working in co-operation with Speaker Taylor and Mr. Martin, after the departure of Woodrow Wilson for Washington.

Mr. Leonard is said to have hotly expressed his scorn for the ultimatum, and by hard work procured the passage of various bills in which he was interested. One or two measures fathered by him, however, were successfully blocked in committees.

TAKE BABY FROM MOTHER WHO IS IN COUNTY JAIL

Clinging to her six-month-old baby despite protests, although placed behind the bars of a cell in the county jail in Elizabeth awaiting the action of the Grand Jury, Mrs. Maria Forturi, twenty-four years old, of 431 West Third street, who, it is alleged, attempted to take the life of her brother, Tony Principatti, shooting instead Mrs. Linah Murelio, in the back, has finally been induced to part with her offspring and have it placed in a home until she is liberated. This was accomplished yesterday through the efforts of the local Charity Organization Society following the suggestion of Miss Nellie Schwartz, of the Elizabeth branch of the society. As told yesterday it has since developed that Mrs. Murelio has been living for several weeks with Tony Principatti as man and wife. She was taken to the county jail this morning on this charge.

Considerable difficulty was experienced in convincing the Foruri woman that it was for the best that the baby be taken from her and that it was also an infringement of the rules of the county jail to have the infant with her in the cell. When the baby was removed she pulled her hair and cried, "Oh, this is a bitter world; everything and everybody seems to be against me."

The nurse connected with the local charity organization took the child to visit its mother this morning. When the mother again saw her baby she kissed it repeatedly and burst into convulsions of sobbing when the nurse departed. For hours afterward she lay on her cot in the cell moaning "My child, my child."

TURKISH-BALKAN STRIFE IS A WAR OF RELIGIONS

Asserting that religion was the cause of the war between Turkey and the Balkan States and that the cross of Christianity would soon supplant the crescent, the symbol of Turkey and the Mohammedan religion, Rev. S. U. Mitman, of South Bethlehem, Pa., delivered an entertaining and instructive illustrated lecture last night before the Men's Club of Grace Episcopal church. His subject was "Constantinople," the Turkish Capitol.

Rev. Mr. Mitman declared that the instigators of the conflict were students attending Albert College, at Constantinople, which was established by a New Yorker.

During his discourse, the lecturer described the habits and customs of the Turkish people, and with the aid of stereopticon slides pictured to his audience the interesting buildings and natural beauties of the Turks' country.

UNITY LODGE EUCHRE.

Members of Unity Lodge, Knights of Pythias, completed a euchre tournament of twenty-five games last night, and when the final tally had been counted H. A. Molten, Sr., was found to be the winner with 158 points. He received a gold K. of P. charm. Frank Putnam, keeper of records and seals for the lodge, was second with 152 points. Following the card playing a general social time followed. Refreshments were served. A public euchre is being planned to take place in the near future under the auspices of the lodge.

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED.

Plans for the coming year were discussed at a meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of Hope chapel, yesterday afternoon. The society has had a successful year, raising over $400 for chapel work. After the meeting the women adjourned to the banquet room, where a luncheon was served in honor of the newly-installed officers: President, Mrs. James Heron; vice president, Mrs. Donald McInnes; secretary, Mrs. Orra Eckert; treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Brown. Mrs. Clarke presented each officer with a handsome bouquet.

All men are invited.

BENEVOLENCES WERE $2,500

In presenting the reports at the annual meeting of the Congregational church, Wednesday night, the figures made it appear as though the benevolences for the year were $579.09, whereas the actual amount raised was $2,500, which includes the contributions from all societies.

BETTER LIGHTS FOR CITY SOON

Councilmanic Committee Favors 32 Candlepower Tungsten in Business Section.

APPROVAL IS EXPECTED

350 Candlepower Tungsten Throughout the Business Section Also to Be Recommended By the Committee—A Big Improvement.

In its plan to reconstruct the street lighting system of the city, the Councilmanic light committee at its meeting, last night, decided to recommend to the Common Council that 32 candle power Tungsten lamps be used throughout the residential section, replacing the old-style carbon lamp, and that 350 candle power Tungstens be used in the business section.

By the use of the high power Tungsten lamps in the business section, the city will be able to save $20 a year on each lamp over the cost of the arc light which is now used to some extent.

It is expected that the committee's recommendation will be adopted and that a new contract with the Public Service Corporation will be made within a short time.

There will be about one thousand lights throughout the residential section and about seventy-five of the 350 candle power lamps in the business section. It is estimated that under the new arrangement the lighting expense to the city will be increased about $5,000, but this year it will not be more than $1,000 as the new lighting will not be in effect a full year.

The new arrangement will necessitate a number of changes on the part of the Public Service Corporation, for it is proposed to use a pole of ornamental design for the new lights, which will increase the efficiency of the lighting system and add to its attractiveness. It is proposed to extend the business lighting system to Richmond street in the East End and Liberty street in the West End. The company estimates that it will require several months probably to make the necessary changes.

CAN FIND NO TRACE OF CHAS. H. BERKHEISER

Although Arthur S. Giles, of this city, and the police of over a dozen neighboring cities have sought to learn of his whereabouts nothing has been heard of Charles H. Berkheiser, a member of the firm of G. F. Giles & Co., of Dunellen, who disappeared Tuesday from his home at 237 North avenue. Mr. Giles, who is a brother-in-law of the missing man, said this morning that he was of the opinion that business troubles had effected his mind and that while in a state of mental excitement he wandered off.

On Tuesday morning Berkheiser, who was at one time a Dunellen councilman, bid his wife and child good-bye, saying he was going to Bound Brook. The missing man is described as being of heavy build, weighing about 180 pounds. He wore a dark suit and a fedora hat.

DETECTIVE BURNS TO SPEAK AT A BANQUET

The Federation of Men's Bible classes and the Federation of Men's Church Clubs of this city have arranged for a dinner at the Plainfield High School auditorium for Thursday night, May 8, at 7 o'clock. The principal speaker will be William J. Burns, the internationally famous detective, and music will be furnished by an orchestra of twenty pieces. Persons securing tickets at the fixed price will be able for a nominal extra sum to secure an additional seat in the gallery for the speaking to which women only will be admitted.

It is desired as far as possible to give preference to members of the individual clubs forming the two federations. Places will be reserved for such members until April 22 and will be filled in order of application. The seating capacity at the dinner will be limited to three hundred. Samuel T. Carter, Jr., of 802 Belvidere avenue, is chairman of the ticket committee, and with John G. MacLaughlin comprise the general committee.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Plainfield Trust Company held yesterday afternoon, Miss Adele H. Kirby was appointed assistant treasurer and F. Irving Walsh was appointed assistant secretary and assistant treasurer.

Miss Kirby has been associated with the company for more than seven years as assistant to the officers, during which time she has shown marked ability, in recognition of which she now has received official honor. He succeeds DeWitt Hubbell, who assumed the position of secretary and treasurer of the company on April 14.

SCHOLARSHIP ATTAINMENTS THE HIGHEST IN TEN YEARS

Ruth Miller, of Mt. Bethel, with a scholarship percentage of 94.75, was today announced as the valedictorian of the North Plainfield High School class that will be graduated this June. Miss Helen Hughes, of Watchung, was awarded second honors with a percentage of 93.85 and she will act as salutatorian. These records are based on the pupils' four years of High School work and are both excellent, being the highest percentage attained in the last ten years.

FOREIGN MISSIONS AS THEME OF A MEETING

The women of the Congregational church enjoyed a missionary tea yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Rice, of 836 West Seventh street, at which time Dr. Eleanor Stephenson, of Brooklyn, who has been a missionary at Ahmednuggar, India, for the past seven years, gave an interesting talk on her work, especially in the hospitals. She said that the natives when converted always prove loyal and can never do enough to help the missionary.

Mrs. S. W. Dunning read several interesting letters which she received from her daughter, Miss Mary Dunning, who is a missionary at Parall, Mexico, in which she described the thrilling scenes and incidents in connection with the uprising in Mexico, which she characterized as a "reign of terror." Miss Dunning is working under the auspices of the American Board of Missions.

The musical features of the afternoon were vocal solos by Miss Edith Bechtel. Mrs. John V. Beekman and Mrs. J. A. Weeks poured tea, and the Lenten offering, which will be increased later on, amounted to $54. The decorations comprised spring flowers, the prevailing color being yellow.

HEARST PAPERS' PLANT IN NEW YORK WAS AFIRE

New York, April 18.—Fire that started in the basement mailing room of the New York American and Journal building early today endangered the lives of several hundred reporters, editors, telegraphers and pressmen and for a time threatened to sweep the whole of the twelve story structure. Two firemen were injured and a telegrapher fainted trying to escape, and many thrilling rescues and escapes were recorded. The damage was estimated at between $25,000 and $50,000 in the boiler, dynamo and mailing rooms.

The first edition of the American had just left the press when the dynamo short-circuited, firing the waste, and in a moment a mass of paper stored in the press room burst into flames. Three alarms were sounded. A second edition of the American was run off in the offices of the World and Times. The Evening Journal, it is said, would be able to go to press today at the usual time in its own plant.

BOARD OF TRADE IS REVIVED HERE

Body Which Was Succeeded by Chamber of Commerce Takes New Lease of Life.

70 MEMBERS AT START

Representative Business Men Chosen as Officers—Dues to Be $3 a Year—Planning Special Meeting in a Fortnight.

Substantial progress was made last night in the movement to revive the Board of Trade which organization was succeeded a few years ago by the Chamber of Commerce, when at a meeting in Sebring's auditorium last night seventy business men affixed their names to the charter role. The meeting was largely attended and all were enthusiastic over the prospects of the city having a live civic body. A special meeting is to be held in two weeks to complete the details of organization.

The purpose of the new organization is to promote civic, commercial and industrial interests of the city and vicinity. It is proposed to have two meetings a month, one for the merchants and the other for those not engaged in local business, but both classes will be welcomed at either meeting.

A. S. Herr, who was the temporary chairman of the meeting, last night, gave a brief outline of the purpose of the board and its reasons for reincorporation, which were that the city needs just such an organization. It was decided to make the dues $3 a year.

These officers were elected at the first meeting: President, William Jeffery; first vice president, Herman Schwed; second vice president, Louis K. Hyde; third vice president, William L. Saunders; fourth vice president, A. S. Herr; secretary, Lamar VanSickle, and treasurer, E. M. Laing. The directors and incorporators of the board are Herman Schwed, A. E. Force, J. V. E. Vanderhoef, Edmund L. Rushmore and A. S. Herr.

EUCHRE TOURNAMENT AMONG THREE PARISHES

The first of a series of euchre games between the members of the Holy Name Societies of St. John's church, of Dunellen; St. Joseph's church, of North Plainfield, and St. Mary's church, of this city, will be played Wednesday night, April 22, in the social hall connected with St. Mary's parish. The opening game of the tournament was scheduled to take place last night, but owing to a meeting of the Dunellen B. & L. Association the delgation from that place was unable to attend and in consequence it was postponed. The St. Joseph's church representatives came out victorious in a euchre tournament finished a week ago.

CONDITION OF POPE.

New York, April 18.—No new symptoms have evidenced themselves to justify serious anxiety in the condition of Pope Pius X., nor have old symptoms become aggravated. Dr. Amici visited the patient twice during the night and administered remedies for his cough and chloral for his restlessness, after which the Pope went to sleep. Cardinal Merry del Val, having obtained permission from the attending physicians, submitted several decrees to the Pontiff for his signature and he signed them in a firm and clear handwriting showing no change from his writing before his illness.

IT'S PROBASCO FIELD.

Members of the First Baptist Sunday-school League team are busy making preparations to open the league season and have secured the diamond at the corner of Front street and Grant avenue, which will become their home playing grounds. The ball park has been styled Probasco Field in honor of Dr. Norman H. Probasco, who is the leader of the First Baptist Sunday-school class.

CURRENCY LEGISLATION.

Washington, April 18.—Senator Owen today issued a call for a meeting of the tentative committee on Banking and Currency for next Tuesday. Both Republican and Democratic members are requested to attend. It is expected that currency legislation will be discussed.

PATRIOTS' DAY IN BOSTON.

Boston, April 18.—Tomorrow being Patriots' Day, a legal holiday in this State business will be suspended in this city.

NOTES OF THE STAGE

Overheard last week in the Belasco theatre lobby, after a matinee performance of "Years of Discretion"; "Wasn't it beautiful? Did you ever see such gowns as Effie Shannon wears! Belasco certainly is the man who put the cost in costumes."

Postcard collectors are eagerly seeking the series of nine artistic souvenirs showing Mary Pickford, William Norris, Ernest Truex and various scenes from "A Good Little Devil," just issued by David Belasco. They can be obtained by writing to the Republic Theatre, New York, where this delightful fairy play has just passed its one-hundredth performance.

Effie Shannon is still the talk of New York. Her exquisite performance of the rejuvenated Brookline widow in "Years of Discretion" at the Belasco theatre, is acclaimed the acting triuumph of the year.

"The Governor's Lady" has just closed a phenomenal four weeks engagement in Boston—the last four weeks in Lent, with "capacity" since the opening week.

GRADE CROSSINGS TO GO.

Paterson, April 18.—Plans for the elimination of five grade crossings have been submitted to the Passaic County Board of Freeholders by the Lackawanna Railroad and approved. The crossings which will thus be done away with are at Union avenue; at Singac, near the chemical works; at Mountainview Station; on the Newark and Pompton turnpike over the canal, and on the Ratzer road. The work will be done without expense to the county and the railroad will make the proper grades at the approaches. By direction of the Civil Service Commission, Albert C. Stelle, who was removed a short time ago allegedly for political reasons, has been reinstated as keeper at the county jail by Sheriff Radcliffe. He has been placed on the night shift and will do duty inside the corridors. The Board of Freeholders heard of this yesterday afternoon and also heard another appeal from the constables who want their pay increased to $1,092 a year. The freeholders will probably decide the salary question at their next meeting which will be held April 30.

THREATENED TO HANG WIFE.

Elizabeth, April 18.—Peter Yunaschoskie, aged forty-four years, of 125 South Park street, threatened, it is alleged, to hang his wife with a clothes line at their home because she refused to stop working. Patrolman Kiernan arrived in time to prevent any such thing. He was arrested. The difficulties of the couple were adjusted in police court yesterday.

AN ARCTIC EXPERIENCE.

Talking and Wrangling to Ward Off Brooding and Insanity.

"I had not much opportunity to speak English during those twenty-eight months when Iversen was my only companion," says Captain Einar Mikkelsen concerning an experience in the arctic regions. "I thought it would help to pass the time if I tried to teach him English, but it didn't amount to much. Iversen wasn't keen on learning a new language when there seemed to be very little chance of our ever wanting any language at all, except to say our last prayers, and so the scheme fell through.

"When the others were there we talked about everything through those dark months—everything under the sun. Silence is golden, perhaps, but not in the arctic, for to live men left to their own devices speech, continual speech, is the only saving grace. Silence must be avoided at any cost, for silence means brooding. Still it is as well as a rule to avoid controversial topics—politics, for instance—though in the last desperate winter, the third of this trip, I remember we did talk politics, having exhausted pretty nearly everything else.

"One of us, for the purpose of argument, became a stanch Conservative and the other a Socialist of the deepest dye. All the things we had to argue about were two and a half years old and might have been settled, perhaps, but for us the world had stood still. We even got as far, I believe, as involving Europe in a universal war, and then it suddenly occurred to us that in these circumstances no ships might come next year to the Greenland coast, and that awful prospect was too horrible to contemplate, so we dropped politics. We dreamed a good deal and found some comfort in telling each other our dreams and perhaps embroidering them a little.

"It scarcely seems credible, but I remember that it was almost a relief to wake up one night with a raging toothache. At any rate, it was something new, and I began to calculate how long it would last until I could get to a dentist, supposing we were taken off by a ship the following summer. I made it 210 days—say, 5,000 hours of toothache. It didn't last as long as that, but it stayed quite long enough to make me prefer some other kind of distraction."—Chicago News.

The Concertina.

The concertina dates from the early part of the last century. Its invention was an early indiscretion of Sir Charles Wheatstone of telegraph fame, who took out a patent for it in 1829, the very year in which somebody in Vienna invented that similar instrument, the accordion. The concertina was popularized by Signor Regondi, who had come before the public as a juvenile prodigy with the guitar. At one time no London concert was really complete without him and his concertina, and he astounded the Germans with the music he could get out of it.—Exchange.

Figs Too Heavy to Lift.

There is a fig tree in Oceania with small leaves and flowers, but which bears fruits which are perhaps the largest borne by any tree on earth. These round fruits are sometimes so large that a man cannot lift them. The kernels are eaten roasted like chestnuts, but they are not easily digestible. Then there is the Jack of the Indian archipelago, with a huge trunk and dense foliage on the broad branching summit, while the fruit measures eighteen inches by fifteen. On another tree the leaves are one and a half feet long and one foot wide.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Subtle Difference.

An earnest defender of things Irish asserts that the traditional bull of Ireland is not, as is commonly supposed, the expression of a blundering intelligence, but, on the contrary, shows the exquisite feeling of the Irish for fine shades of meaning. The trouble lies in the ears that hear it.

"If ye were to be killed crossing a fence ye'd be all right," said a looker-on to a fox hunter whose horse had turned head over heels in the middle of a level pasture, "but if ye were killed on the flat o' the field ye'd never hold up your head again!"

The Sour Milk Habit.

The Masai and other tribes of British East Africa keep milk in calabashes or gourds ornamented with cowries and beads. These are periodically cleaned out with the charred wood of the loiyiye tree, which gives the milk a smoky taste. Stale milk is often mixed with fresh to induce it to curdle, and sour and curdled milk of many days old is highly appreciated by most African tribes.—"The Land of Zinj."

A Light Plant Nucleus.

A little Oil City girl, being told that it was electricity which made her mother's hair crackle, remarked:

"Oh, what a family we have! Mamma has electricity in her hair, and grandpa has gas in his stomach. Why don't we start a light company?"—Oil City Derrick.

Political Palmistry.

"I like to clasp the hand of the man with calloused palms," said the statesman of democratic instincts.

"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum, "but how are you going to know whether he's a toiler or a golf player?"—Washington Star.

The great successes of the world have been affairs of a second, a third—no, a fiftieth—trial.—John Morley.

BLACKSMITH IS SUING FOR ABSOLUTE DIVORCE

New Brunswick, April 18.—That his wife transferred her love from him to John Mulligan, their "star boarder," is the basis of the divorce suit of Peter Hoagland, a blacksmith of South Bound Brook, the hearing in which was begun yesterday before Vice Chancellor John Backes, in this city. Hoagland is suing for an absolute divorce and the custody of three children. The hearing will be continued on Saturday, May 3.

George W. Anderson, of Plainfield, is trying the case for Edward W. Fisher, of Bound Brook, of counsel for the complainant, while former Judge Cowenhoven represents the defendant. The testimony presented yesterday was of a decidedly sensational nature, so much so that Vice Chancellor Backes gave several women present an opportunity to leave the court room if they desired.

INTER-CHURCH FEDERATION WORKING FOR JURY REFORM

Elizabeth, April 18.—The Inter-Church Federation, of this city, which is taking great interest in the subject of jury reform, has arranged for public meetings to be held in Passaic, Paterson, Plainfield and Trenton. Plans are now complete for Governor James F. Fielder's appearance here Monday night, when he will speak on the subject of jury reform in the rooms of the Board of Trade.

The Presbytery of Elizabeth has arranged for Governor Fielder to speak at the public meetings to be held throughout the State. Monday night's meeting has been planned by the presbytery. Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, of Plainfield, is a member of the committee of arrangements. The purpose of these meetings is to interest everyone in the proposed changes in the present jury system.

AND WHY NOT BIRD?

Should it be true that President Wilson will appoint as postmaster at Princeton, N. J., the present assistant postmaster, who is a Republican, would it not be well for the people of Plainfield to urge that on the same grounds Elias H. Bird be reappointed. In the Princeton case the appointment, it is reported, will be made on experience and ability, and surely there is no dissatisfaction here with the present administration of affairs at our local postoffice under the management of the efficient, progressive and courteous incumbent. It had been generally accepted that a Democratic President would be guided by the time-honored political rule that "To the victors belong the spoils," but if the President is going to rise above party and name the best men as postmasters, he could not do anything for Plainfield so pleasing to the public in general as to retain Bird in office.

SHOULD BE PROTECTED.

The Netherwood Residents' Association in fighting for better fire protection for that section of the city is to be congratulated for it is attempting to remedy a very serious situation. Any one at all acquainted with the lamentable condition in that district fully appreciates how inadequate is the fire protection afforded. Not until the Letcher blaze, did the city fathers respond to the appeals of the residents. Then a house was built, but the apparatus placed there did not and does not answer the requirements. What is needed and has been needed right along is automobile apparatus, for it is impossible to get the horse-drawn apparatus up the hills in quick time. Delays are dangerous and particularly so when a house is on fire. The property-owners in that section, as a rule, pay large taxes. In return they are entitled to protection.

BETTER LIGHTS SOON.

It is certainly good news to learn that the Councilmanic committee has decided to recommend that 32 candlepower Tungstens be substituted for the dingy 16 candlepower lights in the residential sections and that 350 candle power Tungstens be used on the business thoroughfares. That Plainfield is a poorly lighted city is undeniable. The fact is that the lighting conditions have been a matter of general adverse criticism particularly on the part of visitors to our city. That a change for the better is to be made is encouraging. The improvement will meet with the approval of all who have the interests of our community at heart.

WHY NOT?

There seems to be merit in the petition presented to the Mayor and Common Council requesting that a matron be stationed at police headquarters to care for women prisoners. The petition in question, signed by several hundred representative citizens, was filed some time ago, but no action has been taken as yet. The police department is behind the times in this respect and as the expense would be slight there appears no good reason why a matron should not be appointed.

The action of the directors of the Plainfield Trust company in promoting Miss Adele H. Kirby and Irving Walsh to responsible positions in that institution will meet with the cordial approval of its patrons. As far as Miss Kirby's appointment as an officer is concerned, it shows that in this progressive age the prejudice against women being selected for responsible places in business concerns is ignored and it is not sex but ability that accounts.

We fail to see where either McLoughlin or Griffin has done anything creditable at Trenton. Should they fail to support the Democratic administration measure for jury reform at the special session their death knell will be sounded in Union County for it will be firmly established that they do not believe in carrying out the promises of the platform upon which they were elected.

Mayor Gaynor has posed for "movies." Proprietors of New York moving picture houses better take the precaution to place wire nets in front of their screens.

The contributing editor for tomorrow's issue will be a representative citizen who is an authority on the subject which he proposes to discuss.

The house fly is a typhoid bug. Swat it.

POSTPONE HEARING IN GAHAGAN WILL CASE

Elizabeth, April 18.—The contest of the will of the late William A. Gahagan, of 519 Belvidere avenue which was set down for today in the County Court, was postponed for a week owing to the absence of William A. Coddington, of counsel for Mrs. Gahagan. He was trying a case in New Brunswick.

However, testimony was taken to prove the will and several witnesses were examined. The contest is due to the presence of a codicil, which, it is claimed, was made by Mr. Gahagan through undue influence on the part of Mrs. Elizaeth Homan, of Jersey City, a daughter of Mr. Gahagan's first wife. Former Judges Carey and Erwin, of Jersey City, represent Mrs. Homan.

MT. BETHEL'S CITIZENS OPPOSE SMALL SCHOOL

The citizens of Mt. Bethel have again turned down the proposition to build a one-room school at that place. At a school meeting yesterday afternoon the proposition to erect a structure was defeated by a vote of 74 to 24. It developed that there is no sentiment for a one-room school, but that the majority of the people favor building a four-room structure that will accommodate all of the children in Warrenville and Mt. Bethel. Such a school would cost about $10,000 and another meeting will probably be held within a short time to vote upon such a proposition.

The State school authorities recently informed the School Board at Mt. Bethel that unless it erected a suitable school at that place, its percentage of State school funds would be withheld and for that reason the Board is anxious to build a new school. At present school is being held in a hall at Mt. Bethel, which is wholly inadequate for the purpose.

FLETCHER TO SERVE TERM.

Charles Pierson and August Fletcher, the two men arrested several weeks ago in this city for selling bogus admission tickets to a basketball game and dance which the pasteboards quoted as scheduled for the Plainfield High School auditorium were arraigned this morning before Judge Connolly in the Union County Court. Fletcher was sentenced to serve a term of four months in the county jail. His police record was bad. Pierson received a suspended sentence because it was his first offense.

ANDREWS GIVEN LIBERTY.

Joseph Andrews, of Providence, R. I., arrested in this city several weeks ago as a bicycle thief, was given his liberty when arraigned this morning before Judge Connolly in the Union County Court at Elizabeth, on the condition that his uncle, William Webber, of New York, who had interceded for him, provides home and employment for the prisoner. This the latter has volunteered to do.

OREGON GIRL WEDS MAN FROM MICHIGAN AFTER ODD MEETING

MRS ROBERT McCALL SMITH

A romantic meeting at a dance eight months ago led to the recent marriage of Miss Alzora Carter, daughter of L. L. Carter, a mining promoter of Baker City, Oregon, and Robert McCall Smith, of Grand Rapids, Mich., an advertising manager of The Motor Age and The Automobile. Miss Carter was studying music in New York and met Mr. Smith there.

GRAND LODGE ENDS ITS COMMUNICATION

New Jersey Masonic Body Decides to Sell Its Stock in Trenton Temple.

Trenton, April 18.—The 126th annual communication of the New Jersey Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons came to a close yesterday afternoon and the 127th annual communication will be held here next year as usual, in spite of the fact that Asbury Park put in a very strong bid for the next annual session. The so-called Progressive forces could not muster enough strength to prevent the election of Deputy Grand Master Frederick E. Tilden as grand master. It was rather just the reverse.

The Grand Lodge sent word of affectionate greeting to Grand Secretary Benjamin F. Wakefield, who is quite ill at Mercer Hospital at Trenton.

After some discussion the Grand Lodge decided to accept an offer of $5,000 or par for its holdings of stock in the Masonic Hall building here. It paid $5000 for the stock twenty-nine years ago and has never received a dividend on it.

The total amount sent to the Ohio flood sufferers by the Grand Lodge of New Jersey was about $8,400.

The treasurer's report showed 192 lodges and a total subordinate lodge membership in New Jersey of 36,963.

A resolution was adopted rendering it possible for a Master Mason in good standing to apply for membership in another lodge before taking out a demit, and, on being elected in the latter to make the election good by presenting his demit.

The Masonic home committee reported ninety-six inmates being taken care of at the Burlington institution, and that plans were under way to construct a new dormitory for boys and a central light, heat and power plant.

RHODES' SCHOLAR TALKS.

A. L. Locke, a Rhodes scholar, addressed a large and enthusiastic assemblage in the Calvary Baptist church last night, telling of the arrangements being made by the colored people of this country to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the signing of the Emancipation Proclamation, which will take place in 1914 in Philadelphia.

TO ARRAIGN THIEF.

James Lewis, who entered the tailor shop of Isaac Richards, in East Third street, some time ago and stole two coats and twenty-two pairs of trousers, will be arraigned next Friday morning before Judge Connolly in the Union County Court in Elizabeth on a charge of breaking and enterting.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Scott, of West Front street, are the proud parents of a twelve pound girl born this morning.

Miss Isabelle Tiffany, of Phillipsburg, Pa., a pupil in the Trenton Normal Schools, is now taking a training course in the primary grades of the North Plainfield schools.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Evans, formerly of Third place, have removed to 409 West Fifth street.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

A record was established for attendance at the weekly all day meeting held at the Park Avenue Baptist church yesterday necessitating the addition of another table for the noon day luncheon. The day was spent pleasantly in sewing and in the afternoon the women present listened to a paper read by Mrs. B. F. Hadley.

CRANFORD MAN ASKS AID IN LOCATING HIS WIFE

Elizabeth, April 18.—John De Fabio, of Lincoln avenue, Cranford, yesterday, applied to Prosecutor Alfred A. Stein for assistance in locating his wife, who disappeared from her home last Sunday afternoon. De Fabio says his wife left to visit friends not far from her home and left them with the intention of going to her mother's home in Central avenue, Westfield, which she never reached.

Mrs. De Fabio was noted for her beauty. She was of medium weight and build, with light brown hair and brown eyes, and was 23 years old. When last seen she was wearing a brown sweater, black shoes, blue skirt and white waist. She wore no hat.

Three children, the oldest of whom is 4½ years, are anxiously awaiting word from their mother.

Too Late.

Sylvester Rawlings, the musical critic, became hungry the other day. And so he walked a long way to get to a restaurant in which he is acquainted. The waiter, Julius, is a particular friend of Mr. Rawlings. That gentleman has always cherished the belief that Julius has served him well. He thinks that from time to time Julius has won better food for him than is set forth upon the menu.

"Bring me two or three fried eggs, Julius," Mr. Rawlings ordered.

"Chess, sir, Mr. Rawlings," said Julius; "at once, sir."

And Julius hurried to the kitchen, walking in the duck footed haste of the perfect waiter. By and by he returned to Mr. Rawlings' side to place the silver and do other little chores about the table. Mr. Rawlings thought he would have a bit of fun with Julius.

"Ah, Julius," said Mr. Rawlings—"by the way, Julius, see that those eggs are fresh, Julius."

"Too late, sir," said the grave Julius. "They're on the fire now."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

HOW TO FIGHT THE FLY IN THIS TOWN

First.—Educational work should be begun at once in schools, women's clubs and other civic organizations, because if you wait until the flies appear in the spring they will be multiplying by the million while you are doing organization work that ought to have been done during the cold weather. This committee, as in former years, will co-operate with local committees, furnishing literature and answering questions as to methods of individual campaigns, etc.

Second.—In your movements for passing of general cleanup and anti-fly ordinances first secure the interest of the state health department. If you find difficulty in doing this by mere force of suggestion, employ other legitimate means of stirring it to action —petitions from local or state organizations, boards of trade, women's clubs, town improvement societies, etc. If the head of the state health service is not cordially co-operating with you he can be shamed into it.

Third.—Employ similar tactics, if necessary, with the health authorities, aldermen and other officials of your city or town.

Fourth.—Get ordinances passed (state if possible, local at any rate) for the screening of foodstuffs, the chemical treatment and removal of manure, etc., but do not think that because you have an ordinance it will enforce itself. Eternal vigilance is the price of freedom from filth and flies. Probably even the most energetic and sympathetic health officer will be unable with the force of inspectors at his command to discover all the violations of the ordinance. You must help him by volunteer inspection and reports. If then he is lukewarm in the prosecution of offenders make his position uncomfortable. If the magistrates refuse to impose fines for proved violations make it uncomfortable for them too. It's all very simple if you are in earnest.

Fifth.—Colorado and Texas have instituted the custom of state wide "cleanup days." Induce the governor of your state by proclamation to set aside a day for such a purpose, and if he cannot be induced to do so—but he probably can if proper representations are made to him—at least get your mayor to proclaim a local "cleanup day."

Sixth.—If you must have "fly swatting" contests to stimulate interest in your local campaign let them be held as early in the spring as possible, while there are comparatively few flies. If you could find and kill all the spring flies, as of course you cannot, there would be none to trouble you in the summer.

Seventh.—Be careful to brush up any flies that may be lying around with their feet up in the air looking as if they were dead; they may be "playing possum." The only safe way is to burn them. Do not throw them out or into the garbage can, as they will become active as soon as the temperature rises.

A fly in the milk may mean a baby in the grave.

JEKYLL AND HYDE

The fly enters your home as a harmless insect. But once inside he becomes transformed into a monster of horrible proportions, carrying disease to the members of your family. One fly carries over 6,000,000 germs about with it.

A screen in time saves many lives.

MAN IN MOON DISAPPEARING.

English Astronomer Says Contour of Planet Is Changing.

Professor J. B. Hale, who fills the chair of astronomy in King's college, London, in an interview with a New York newspaper correspondent recently said there is a change in the formation of the mountains and rocks in the moon which is discernible with the naked eye. This, he said, is due to the gradual decay of the mountains' chemical formation.

Probably it is only a question of time when nature will so alter the planet that we will be unable to distinguish the face of the moon. Professor Hale added:

"Even today certain people declare the man in the moon has taken his departure, and in his place they can make out a man with a bundle of sticks on his back."

New Pilgrim Movement.

A memorial monument commemorating the first trip of the Mayflower to America is in course of construction at Southampton, England. It will be unveiled on Aug. 15 next and will mark the spot in Southampton water where the pilgrims stopped and re-embarked in 1620 on their historic voyage. An appropriate tablet will also be placed at the entrance of the river Dart to commemorate the pilgrims' brief stay at Dartmouth.

LANE'S PLAN TO PREVENT FLOODS

Would Have All Streams Made Deeper.

BIG RECLAMATION PROJECT

Secretary of the Interior Explains How Channels of Mississippi Valley Waterways Might Be Greatly Improved. Too Great a Task For Individual States to Undertake.

Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, recently detailed to a correspondent a plan for preventing such floods as devastated Ohio and Indiana. The plan, which presents itself to the head of the department of the interior chiefly as an enormous reclamation project, hinges on the deepening and widening of the channels of all streams liable to flood conditions.

Mr. Lane hopes to see the idea carried out through the co-operation of the federal government with the aid of the states immediately endangered. The engineering in connection with channels is directly in the hands of the war department, and Mr. Lane takes no exception to that. But because of its reclamation features the plan he outlines falls within the jurisdiction of his department.

Aside from the perpetual protection against flood which he believes his plan would give to settlers in low regions, there are widespread districts along the Mississippi and many other rivers that would be thrown open to settlement. The land thus reclaimed from the swamps might go a long way, in Mr. Lane's opinion, to reimburse the states for the appropriations they would be called upon to make.

What Constitutes Reclamation.

"The reclamation service," said the secretary of the interior, "usually is regarded as relating to the arid lands of the west which are reclaimed by bringing water from the mountains, but in another way reclamation is a great problem in the Mississippi valley and the east. Here, of course, the land is not arid and there is no scarcity of water. But the water is to be removed from the land, and that is as fit subject for reclamation work as that now being carried on in the desert lands out west.

"The reclamation of these overwatered lands, however, to be of real value, must be preceded by systematic work on the channels of the streams draining the areas to be improved. The disaster at Dayton illustrates the point. The trouble was simply that the neck of the bottle was too small for the water to run out. The rain fell in torrents, and with no unobstructed channel to the sea the water simply backed up over the river banks. The rainstorm, I know, was phenomenal and even with the system I have suggested would have doubtless resulted in material damage and the loss of some lives. But flood conditions reappear every spring in some noticeable way, and my plan would obviate most of the resulting damage.

A National Problem.

"It will not do for Ohio or Indiana or even the two states together to spend their money generously in clearing the beds of the streams within their boundaries. That would merely carry the flood more swiftly to the state lines to the south, and the water would back more angrily than ever into what would quickly be great lakes. The thing is too large for the states alone. A harmonious, scientific system must be worked out by the federal authorities, and the states must then make their contributions in the way that will do the most good to the whole valley affected."

How this co-operation between the federal and state governments might be effected Mr. Lane illustrated by plans now pending before his department for co-operating with the state of Oregon in reclaiming 30,000 acres of arid land. The land is under the government's ownership—as the rivers would be under the government's jurisdiction—and the government engineers of the reclamation service are asked to do the work. The state of Oregon supplies the water and contributes $450,000 to the work. A similar sum may be put forward by the reclamation service, but on the understanding that the sale of reclaimed lands will liquidate the obligations assumed by the United States.

Use of Panama Machinery.

In one of the many tentative platforms at the first Chicago convention last summer there was a strong plank for the protection of the settlers along the banks of the Mississippi river. It called for the utilization of the machinery now in use on the Panama canal for the great work of dredging the Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio rivers. Mr. Lane said that he did not think the Panama machinery would be found quite fit for the work. The machinery is designed chiefly for dry land work, while the plan he outlined calls for much dredging in running streams.

A comprehensive plan for treating the river problem is that of Senator Francis Newlands of Nevada. It calls for a nation wide study of the subject by a national commission. It hinges on controlling the rivers at the head by means of a system of reservoirs that would check floods and feed streams in dry weather.

NEW BRUNSWICK SUIT SHIFTS.

New Brunswick, April 18.—The quo warranto proceedings instituted by John J. Kinney and Garret C. Rolfe, former tax assessors, to recover their offices from the present holders was taken from the jury yesterday afternoon by a special verdict prepared by Judge Frank Floyd, who held the points involved one of law and not for the jury to decide. The case will go to the Supreme Court for review on the legal points. These men, with others, were ousted by the Democratic Common Council several weeks ago. It is held that they were not legally elected, as they filled unexpired terms and the minutes of Common Council show no such record. The Democratic board, therefore, contends it could remove them.

CLEAN-UP DAY IN TEXAS.

Austin, Texas, April 18.—In pursuance of a proclamation issued by Governor Colquitt today was observed as "clean-up day" in cities, towns and villages throughout Texas. A reduction in the annual fire loss of the State was the chief object of the movement. With this end in view civic bodies and individual citizens joined in a general campaign for the removal of refuse, trash and debris which might subject property of any kind to destruction by fire. In all the public schools the day was set aside for fire drills and instruction in regard to fire hazards and the simple methods of fire prevention and rescue work.

AUTO FELLS MAN; GOES ON.

Burlington, April 18.—Knocked down by an auto and left unconscious and bleeding in the road by a chauffeur, who failed to so much as slacken the speed of his car, William Britton, sixty-four years old, was critically injured while on his way to work at the East Burlington iron foundries. Britton said he heard the horn an instant before the car struck him, and he is unable to tell the police whether it was a touring car or runabout. His nose was broken, his head badly lacerated and his entire body bruised.

SCHOOLGIRL STILL MISSING.

Asbury Park, April 18.—The police have been unable to find thirteen-year-old Mary Fitzhenry, of 602 Munroe avenue, this city, who disappeared from her home Monday. Chums of the girl in the sixth grade of the Bond Street School say they saw her start toward home at the close of school Monday afternoon.

CLUB TO SELL BARGAIN HATS.

Roselle, April 18.—A test of the bravery of women who usually wear what they buy will be made tomorrow afternoon, when the Clio Club, of Roselle, affiliated with the State Federation of Women's Clubs, will hold a "bargain hat" sale. Hats of every style, donated by the members, will be sold.

SURENUFF VICTORY FOR BATTIN NINE

A Two Base Clout in the Ninth Scores the Winning Tallies in Close Game.

A ripping two bagger from the bat of Bentley, a Battin High School clouter, which scored Weber, another member of the Elizabeth nine from second base, where he was launched by virtue of a base on balls and a steal, gave the visitors a 6 to 4 victory over the North Plainfield High School baseball team on Hyde Oval yesterday afternoon. The game was one of the closest played here this year, the score being deadlocked from the fourth to the ninth inning, following a fourth inning rally by Battin, when Harrison took a home run clout out of Stahl's delivery.

The two teams came to bat in the final session tied at 4-4, but Bentley's scorcher brought the leading tally across and he afterwards scored from second on a bonehead play, of which the boroughites were guilty, making the count 6 to 4. Both pitchers twirled in fine shape, Stahl getting nine strikeouts, while being touched up for nine bingles.

SOMERVILLE GOLF STARTS TOMORROW

An Informal Opening of the Course Will Take Place at That Time.

The Somerville Country Club will have Saturday as the date for an informal opening of the golf course. There will be an eighteen-hole medal play handicap, with a cup for the lowest net score. In order that handicaps may be fixed, the committee requests that as many members as possible take part in this event.

A challenge has been received from the Trenton Country Club for a three-green match to be decided between teams of eight at Trenton and Somerville on Wednesdays during the summer, the exact dates to be agreed upon later. Eugene D. LaTourette has been chosen captain of the Somerville forces, and it will be up to him to select the players which will represent his club. Although the season has scarcely started, conditions at Somerville are vastly improved since last fall, when the course was placed in commission.

Ed Erickson, who recently assumed his duties as professional, is already busily engaged in tuning up the course and giving instruction to beginners. A silver cup has been offered by Alfred Renskorf for a selected score competition to extend over the entire season. For a time winter rules will prevail so that the course may be in the best possible condition for the formal opening some time in May. Many of the new traps and pits suggested by Herbert Barker several weeks ago have already been dug.

Boston, Mass., April 18.—Tomorrow the seventeenth annual American Marathon race, over the twenty-five-mile course from Ashland to Boston, will be run under the auspices of the Boston Athletic Association. The race will be over the same course as in previous years, and one of the largest fields that ever participated in a distance run is expected to start.

Ever since the first of the B. A. A. Marathons the event has grown steadily in importance until now it is recognized as the premier contest of its kind in America. When the Olympic team representing the United States went over to Athens in 1896 Americans knew little or nothing concerning distance running and were beaten decisively. The Boston Athletic Association noticed that there was a chance to have Marathon running come into prominence and its first event came April 19, 1897, which went to J. J. McDermott, a New Yorker.

Of late years the race has attracted runners from many sections of the country. In 1900 the event attracted the attention of Canadians and every successive year since then there has been an increased number of entries from across the border. J. J. Caffrey, of Hamilton, Ont., was the winner in 1900. He turned the trick again the next year and is the only runner who ever repeated his victory in the classic event. Tom Longboat, wearing the colors of the West End Y. M. C. A., of Toronto, was the winner in 1907. Three years later Canada scored another victory, when Fred L. Cameron, of Amherst, N. S., was the first to cross the tape. The fastest time ever made in the race was last year, when Mike Ryan, the famous long-distance runner of the Irish-American A. C., of New York, covered the distance in 2 hours 21 minutes and 18 1-5 seconds.

OPENING CONTESTS ON BARROW CIRCUIT

Fans Flock to International Ball Parks—Newarks Win Thrilling Game.

After handing the International League ball tossers and fans an awful jar on the day set for the opening of the 1913 season by furnishing an overplus of moisture, Dame Nature was in her pleasantest mood yesterday and the initial contest was played under ideal conditions all along the Barrow circuit. Strange to say, the visiting teams won, except in Newark. The Skeeters were handed a shutout by the Bisons after a terrific struggle; the Providence Grays succumbed to the Montreal Royals and Rochester captured an interesting game in Baltimore.

There were big crowds and no end of enthusiasm all along the line. It would appear that baseball had been inaugurated in the International League most auspiciously, and that the season is almost certain to be a successful one. The brand of baseball put up was high-class. In Newark the Tigers looked so good against the champion Torontos, who were slow yesterday as compared with Harry Smith's lightning-fast Bengals, that the fans are already figuring out how a pennant would look on that new pole in centre field. Over in Jersey City the home team lost, but the Skeeters appear to be pretty good at that. A defeat by a 1 to 0 score does not carry any disgrace with it.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS.

New York, April 18.—Gymnastic champions of America and aspirants for the individual honors in the titular events to be held tomorrow night at the West Side Y. M. C. A. in this city anxiously await the call for action which will determine the premier contestants in the eight events scheduled. These include Indian club swinging, flying rings, rope climb, side horse, parallel bars, long horse, horizontal bars and tumbling. The all-around championship will also be determined, based on the highest point winners in the horizontal bars, parallel bars, side horse, and long horse. Held under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic Union, the events are open to all registered gymnasts, and the regulation A. A. U. championship gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded to first, second and third men, respectively, in each event.

MURPHY-WOLGAST BOUT.

San Francisco, Cal., April 18.—Boxing fans are manifesting a lively interest in the 20-round bout between "Harlem" Tommy Murphy and former champion Ad Wolgast, which is slated for decision in the Coffroth arena tomorrow. The 20-round draw fought by Murphy and Wolgast here several months ago was one of the fastest fights seen on the coast in a long time and this fact accounts largely for the interest displayed in their return engagement. Murphy has been training faithfully ever since his arrival here some weeks ago. Wolgast was a little tardy in beginning his work of preparation, but the reports from his camp today state that he is in the best of condition for the encounter. The sale of tickets indicates that the fight will be witnessed by a large crowd.

N. P. H. S. VS. SUMMIT H. S.

North Plainfield High School will entertain its old rivals, Summit High School, on Hyde Oval tomorrow afternoon and former battles between these two aggregations have brought out the fact that the annual meetings always prove interesting. N. P. H. S. has had a busy week and are on edge for the battle.

WAS CHANCE DAY AT POLO GROUNDS

25,000 See Reconstructed Yankees Get Walloping at Polo Grounds.

Leaving out the baseball game, the welcome to Manager Frank Leroy Chance at the Polo Grounds yesterday was just what the doctor ordered. The Peerless Leader got a hearty and sincere reception from 25,000 fans, which must have made him feel like turning a handspring, for when he stepped out just before the game started and received a barn full of flowers, the multitude burst forth with a yell of delight such as one hears on election night when somebody carries Indiana by a large majority.

As for the game between the Yankees and Washington, that wasn't such a joyous occasion. Washington won by a score of 9 to 3, grabbing five of the runs off a green pitcher, Schultz, in the ninth inning after Silver McConnell had given them a good fight most of the distance. The Senators were proficient with the stick, however, and had the game won when young Lefty Schultz began to present them with more runs in the final inning.

P. H. S. AT NEW BRUNSWICK.

Captain Monroe Good, of the Plainfield High School combination, will take his men to the New Brunswick Amusement Park tomorrow afternoon, where they are scheduled to lineup against the Brunswick High School nine. This will be the second game of the season for the Brunswick lads, but Plainfield has always proven a "hoodoo" to the Amusement Park performers and are hopeful of retaining their record in the game tomorrow. The home team has been coached by Howard Groben, and have been practising especially hard for the P. H. S. game.

BASEBALL CUP ARRIVES.

The baseball trophy offered by Paul R. Collier, of East Front street, for competition in the Interscholastic Baseball League, has arrived and is on exhibition in his window. It is one of the finest ever offered for athletic endeavor in this city and all three schools are striving hard to annex it. Plainfield is now in the lead having scored a voctory over Leal's, but North Plainfield High School has not played an interscholastic contest yet and will not until it meets Plainfield at Hyde Field, May 3.

LEAL'S VS. STATEN ISLAND NINE.

Although Leal's will not be able to play their scheduled game with the Staten Island Academy boys on Crescent Oval tomorrow afternoon because of the Plainfield baseball team's tryouts at that place, the private school manager will probably secure Parker Field for the occasion and the game will be played at that place in conjunction with the P. H. S. interclass field and track meet, thus forming a double program.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL PRACTISES.

First Presbyterian and Thinity Reformed church athletes will hold their first baseball practises tomorrow afternoon in preparation for the opening of the Sunday-school Baseball League, and the managers of these combinations have requested that all candidates report to the team's fields. Trinity will practice on Cricket Field and the Presbyterians at Jackson and Franklin avenues.

HUNT CLUB RUN.

Members of the Watchung Hunt Club will hold a run tomorrow afternoon, meeting at the Melrose Farms at 3 o'clock.

MOTOR AGENTS TOLD OF CHANGES IN LAW

Comm. Lippincott Sends Out Notice Informing His Assistants of New Act.

In a notice sent out from Trenton by Commissioner Lippincott, of the Department of Motor Vehicles, to his agents and inspectors, he calls attention to five measures introduced at the last session respecting the regulation of automobiles and motor vehicles which have been approved by Governor Fielder. The bills referred to are as follows:

1. An act providing that no drivers' license shall be granted to any applicant under the age of eighteen years, except by the commissioner in person, and then only to persons between the ages of sixteen and eighteen years.

2. Power is given to the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles to suspend any license granted under his authority.

3. For registration purposes the horsepower formula shall be adopted yearly by the commissioner under the restriction that he shall adopt no formula not used by standard trade associations.

4. The Commissioner of Motor Vehicles is given power to summon witnesses to attend hearings in revocation proceedings, and a fine of one hundred dollars is set as the amount to be forfeited for failure to answer such summons.

5. The Commissioner of Motor Vehicles is vested with the powers of a justice of the peace, recorder, or police judge conferred by the motor vehicle act.

Hereafter all persons arrested by the inspectors of this department will be brought by warrant or by summons before the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, sitting as a police judge, except such cases as are within easy reach of a justice of the peace, police judge, or magistrate. Inspectors will use discretion in summoning cases of this character before the commissioner.

P. H. S. TRACK MEET.

The Plainfield High School interclass athletic meet which was originally carded for last Saturday afternoon will be run off at Parker Field tomorrow with athletes from the four different classes participating. The entrants are on edge for the affair and some new school records are likely to be hung up. A feature of the meet will be the class relay race in which four teams are entered.

S. S. LEAGUE MEETING.

INTERIOR RADIO STATIONS URGED

To Aid Efficiency of Navy and Canal.

DELEGATES MAKE REPORT.

Representatives at London Conference Describe Need of Interior Wireless Equipment to Augment National Defense—Accidents Expected From Natural Causes.

Important legislation looking to the completion of the government's wireless system to the highest point of perfection and the further regulation of radio telegraphy is favored by President Wilson as a result of recommendations contained in the majority report of the American delegates to the international radio telegraphic conference in London.

Congress passed a law regulating wireless operations at the extra session last summer, but further legislation is required to put into effect the recommendations made by the delegates. There were twelve American representatives at the London conference, and three of them, known as the department of commerce and labor group, submitted a brief report prior to the action taken by congress, but the recommendations of the nine others deal more particularly with the military naval phases of the question, although every other feature is covered in their report.

While the majority report impartially urges legislation to give American trade and shipping the same advantages possessed by other nations and seeks to protect private radio stations to the fullest reasonable extent, it is strongly recommended that legislation be enacted "to provide more efficient and reliable communication with the fleet and thus augment the means of national defense."

Report of Nine Delegates.

In advancing this policy the nine delegates say:

"It is recommended that there be established at such point or points in the interior of the country as may be selected by the war department high power radio stations of the same general character and capacity as those provided for each link of the navy chain. This will furnish reserve inland radio communication, which will undoubtedly be found essential in maintaining a continuous and efficient exchange of radio messages between Washington and our colonial possessions and at the same time provide reserve stations for military purposes that may prove very essential in case of failure of wire communication from any cause.

"Due to various possible causes, the impairment of the canal zone radio station is likely to occur at times when its use is most desired. Due likewise to atmospheric conditions existing in tropical latitudes, the efficiency of this station is sure to be very unsatisfactory at certain seasons of the year. The length of the radio link between Panama and San Francisco will also be a deterrent in securing reliable continuity of radio transmission between those points at all seasons of the year. For these reasons the inland stations recommended may prove to be a military necessity in maintaining reliable radio communication with our distant territorial possessions."

Urges Further Action by Congress.

The consideration of the report has just been undertaken by the new administration, and in view of the fact that the American delegation attending the London international conference was strictly a nonpartisan group there is no doubt that the recommendations will practically be adopted. The international radio telegraphic agreement signed in London last summer has been ratified, thus supplementing in a number of important particulars the bill passed by congress, but there remains a demand for additional legislation. In regard to the need of further action by congress the majority says:

"Whether viewed from a commercial, meteorological, humanitarian or military standpoint, the development of radio appliances deeply concerns the interest of our people. It therefore appears exceedingly important that the various executive departments of the government directly interested in various features of radio telegraphy should urge the congress to make such liberal appropriations as regards extension and development of this means of communication as to fill future needs."

TO REAR FAMILY FOR FORTUNE

Girl Will Get $3,000,000 if She Weds and Has Children.

Wedding bells, it is said, will soon ring for Miss Mary Belle Shedd of Lowell, Mass., the most talked of young woman in Middlesex county. Under the terms of one of the strangest wills ever filed in a New England court Miss Shedd will lose about $3,000,000 unless she marries and has children. When this became known the young woman was deluged with marriage proposals.

The offers of marriage continue to arrive, but it is rumored that the daughter of the late millionaire perfume manufacturer, Freeman B. Shedd of Lowell, made her choice some time ago. This will save overburdened letter carriers.

QUEER INVENTIONS

Curious Devices For Which Patents Have Been Granted.

THE TREETOP RAILWAY LINE.

This Weird Scheme Involved Building an Elevated Road Supported by Living Wood—An Ingenious Panther Trap and a Noiseless Alarm Clock.

A chewing gum locket and an elevatted railroad supported by the branches of growing trees are among the devices which have been granted patents from our government. The patent office is quite broad minded in its ideas of what ought to be patented.

The chewing gum locket was patented Jan. 1, 1889, by Christopher W. Robertson of Somerville, Tenn. The locket resembles the ordinary one which is used to carry the sweetheart's picture, but instead of a photograph it is lined with a porcelain glass interior. Into this the chewing gum is neatly slipped for future reference.

The tree supported elevated railroad is the idea of Jerome Orlay of Temsche, Belgium, and his patent letters were granted March 19, 1912. In order to build a railroad of this type all that is necessary to do is to plant trees on both sides of the street and have them lean toward one another until they cross at the top. In the crotch thus provided it would be possible to lay stringers to which crossties, etc., would be attached and to build your elevated railroad running under shady branches and supported by living wood. Additional poles, if desired, may be set between the trees, and part of the patent provides for running a double track road, with one car above the other.

One of the most provident inventors is George C. Hale of Kansas City, Mo., who was granted a patent Aug. 4, 1885, for a combination suspenders and fire escape. Woven into the fabric of the apparently innocent galluses Mr Hale's patent provided for a string treated with some form of chemicals, so that it would not easily burn. When caught on the upper floors of a burning building the man provided with the fire escape suspenders had only to pull the end of this string, which immediately unfurled itself for about 200 or 300 feet. Then he could let down this string to the street, have it attached to a substantial rope, pull the rope up to his floor, attach the rope to a firm point and escape from the burning building.

Speaking of suspenders, Mark Twain was the grantee of a suspender patent. In December, 1871, he patented an improvement in adjustable and detachable straps for garments. In describing his invention Samuel L. Clemens classifies it as "an adjustable and detachable elastic strap for vests, pantaloons or other garments requiring straps" and claims as its novel feature the fact that it is provided with devices for adjusting its length and with buttonholed ends for direct attachment to the clothing. The device appears to consist merely of two pieces of leather with buttonholes at the ends and a hook with different holes for adjusting the length.

An ingenious contrivance has been patented by an Oregon man by means of which the family cat can be used as live bait for catching lynxes, cougars, panthers and the like, without danger to the cat and with great certainty that the wild animals will be trapped. The patent consists of a sharp stake with a point at the top intended to make it uncomfortable for pussy to rest there permanently, and a ring over the stake, to which by a light chain is attached a collar or harness which fastens around the cat's neck. In a circle about the stake are set a half dozen steel traps, securely chained to the ground in such a way that an animal caught in one of them could not quite reach the stake. Drive the stake somewhere out in the wilds where lynxes and panthers do congregate, put pussy into the collar and await results. Being a live bait, she will yowl. This will attract the animals, but when they come she will immediately escape by running up the stake, which is covered with cloth to give her claws a chance. The animal, while prancing around at the foot of the stake, will prance into one of the steel traps and get caught. Pussy will come down from the pointed top and serve as bait to attract more animals.

The acme of ingenuity, however, has been reached by George Hogan in his noiseless alarm clock, patented June 9, 1908. The Hogan device consists of a jar of water on a shelf above the bed, from which runs a hose, which on retiring the sleeper attaches to his leg. By means of the ordinary alarm clock a valve is opened at any hour that may be desired, when water begins to flow against the leg of the victim. This does not disturb the neighbors and is sure to awaken the sleeper, a satisfactory arrangement for everybody.

The one thing which the government will not consider among applications for patents is perpetual motion. For many years aerial navigation was included in this refusal. The Wright brothers complied with the demands of the patent office for a demonstration on a man carrying scale, and since then the doors have been opened to flying machine patents.—Technical World Magazine.

All coal to be placed in the coal bins within the public school buildings without any extra expense to the Board for handling or trimming the coal in the bins, and to be delivered at such time as the Board may direct.

Bids to specify whether long or short tons.

Payment for all coal contracted for to be made after July 1, 1913.

All proposals to be endorsed "Proposals for Coal," and addressed to the Secretary of the Board.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Board will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding, or their agents, provided such parties or their agents choose to be then and there present; and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Board.

No bids will be received until the day and hour above named, and none thereafter.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

signed to be done in solid embroidery. Directions for using come with the pattern.

Hand made lingerie is ever a delight to the fastidious woman, and if she is clever enough to fashion the garments herself the saving will be large.

Noticeable among a collection of French hand made corset covers recently exhibited was one constructed along such simple lines that the deft fingers of the handy woman could easily duplicate it at little cost.

The body of the garment was made of petticoat flouncing of eyelet embroidery and graduated tucks in the plain part of the material, which were gathered into the waist, formed a fulness over the bust which aided the correct set of the dainty garment. The particular model had no armholes whatsoever, being secured over the shoulder by bands of ribbon, which were tied in bows at the top. The owner's initials add much to the cover.

This May Manton pattern will be promptly mailed to you upon receipt of 10 cents sent to this office with the number, 390. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

MUSHROOM RECIPES.

WHEN you are unable to get fresh mushrooms the canned ones may be used instead.

If you use fresh ones be sure that there are none of them poisonous. There is no safe rule for detecting these. The test of placing a piece of silver with the mushrooms when they are stewing is not reliable.

Cooked in Scallop Shells.

Mushroom Scallops.—Take equal weight of mushrooms and breadcrumbs, pepper and salt to taste, together with a little parsley and butter, with a dash of mace.

Cut the mushrooms into slices, chop the stalks with a little parsley, pepper, salt and mace.

Line scallop shells with crumbs, put in the sliced mushrooms, scatter the chopped stalks over and cover with breadcrumbs, with a few bits of butter on the top.

Bake in a hot oven for fifteen minutes.

Curried Mushrooms.—Take some fresh mushrooms, remove the stems and wash them. Drain dry and season with pepper and salt. Dissolve one and a half ounces of butter in a frying pan and fry the mushrooms in this for a few minutes. Pour off the butter and add sufficient curry sauce to barely cover the mushrooms. Cook very slowly for another quarter of an hour. Serve on slices of crisp toast placed on a dish, pour the sauce around the dish and serve with some plainly boiled rice, dried till each grain stands apart.

With a Nice Sauce.

Grilled Mushrooms.—Take large mushrooms. Peel and season well. Coat them with olive oil by means of a brush and grill them gently.

Set them on a round dish and garnish in the middle with well softened maitre d'hotel butter.

Maitre d'hotel butter is thus made: Mix until perfectly combined four ounces of butter and three ounces of sifted flour. Soften into a cream. Add a tablespoonful of chopped parsley, a little salt and pepper and a few drops of lemon juice.

Mushrooms and Sweetbreads.—Place some sweetbreads in cold water. Wash and remove the thick membranes and arteries. Cover with boiling salted water and simmer twenty minutes. Drain, cover with cold water and drain again. Shred the sweetbreads. Prepare one-half cupful of fresh mushrooms, cut them in pieces with a silver knife and saute in one tablespoonful of butter. Add to the sweetbreads. Melt one tablespoonful of butter, without browning; add two tablespoonfuls of flour and stir until smooth and thoroughly well cooked. Add one and one-half cupfuls of chicken stock and when the sauce begins to thicken one-half cupful of cream, the sweetbreads and mushrooms. When the sauce is heated season, take from the fire and add one egg yolk, beaten slightly.

Woman's World

She Will Be Much In Evidence at White House.

MRS. JOSEPH HOWE.

One of the many beautiful and accomplished women who will help Mrs. Wilson and her charming daughters dispense hospitality at the White House is Mrs. Joseph Howe, wife of President Wilson's favorite nephew.

The Howes have been residents at the capital during the past winter, and Mrs. Howe has made hosts of friends. Before her marriage she was a famous belle of the Old Dominion, a state noted for its gracious and witty women.

WHY THEY SAY "NO."

Proposals of Marriage That Are Not Snapped Up.

Why do women so often say "No" to a proposal of marriage when they really mean to accept it?

Some married women were asked recently this delicate question: "Why is it that a woman never seems to give a man a definite reply to the question, 'Will you marry me?' until he has been kept waiting?"

This provocative trait in woman's character has been a novelist's theme for years, but no one has offered a definite explanation.

Six married women confessed the other day that not one of them said "Yes" to the first offer of marriage.

One said she was a nurse before marriage, and her husband was her patient when he proposed.

"He must have asked me ten times to marry him before I finally accepted. Why? Well, one reason was that I wanted to make quite certain that he really loved me and that his affection was not merely a sick man's gratitude or simply due to the fact that I was the only girl he had seen for some weeks.

"Of course from the first I knew I would marry him, but I forced myself to make certain that he was in earnest."

The second wife said she had only recently been married. "I said 'No' to my husband twice," she said, "and I was actuated, I think, by a sort of foolish pride.

"I was twenty-one years old at the time, and I knew practically no men until the man who was afterward my husband came to stay with my parents, and I fell in love with him immediately—before he did with me, I believe.

"He was financially 'well off,' and I happened to hear that some people were saying I was 'setting my cap' at him. I think that was why I refused him at first."

An authoress gave an interesting opinion. "Men really don't appreciate how much a proposal means to a girl," she said, "for, after all, the saying that love is only a part of a man's life, but of woman's the whole, is perfectly true.

"I know that if a girl were to propose and be rejected she would not get over it half so easily as the man would if he had been refused.

"The majority of girls say 'No' at first because they are overwhelmed with joy at such an offer."

Crystal Calla Lilies.

The vogue of crystal is responsible for a very lovely type of flower holder. To a base of silver which may be set on the center or the sides of a dining table or on any vacant space in a living or bed room are affixed two crystal calla lilies of natural size which spread from the foundation in opposite directions. The lily cups are deep enough to hold water for roses and other medium sized flowers, and through the transparent crystal the stems of the exotics produce a charming effect. Crystal callas also come in clusters of twelve, the first six attached near the base of a slender standard, the next four halfway up and the final two at the apex. These lilies, filled with orchids, are a fascinating decoration for a drawing room, and it is a combination in colors that goes well with any tone scheme.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

Frank Campeau, who plays the part of Don Robledo the villainous villain in "The Ghost Breaker" at the Lyceum theatre, New York, is said to be the most famous gunman of the stage, and the only one who has the distinction of being ambidextrous. Campeau can shoot as unerringly with the left hand as with his right. As a rifle marksman he was the best amateur marksman of the country in his early youth, and he excelled as a clay-pigeon and glass ball artist. Campeau also won distinction as a pistol shot, his bulls-eye percentage being 98. His performance of Trampas the bad man in "The Virginian," placed him in the front rank of actor gunman. In "The Ghost Breaker" he pulls the beads in the twinkling of an eye, and the pistol duel between Robledo and Jarvis, the Kentucky feudist, is one of the most thrilling, and Campeau's death one of the most realistic ever seen on the stage. Campeau has made a study of deadly weapons, and claims that even in the dark he can tell the make of a pistol or gun, or the size of a cartridge by the touch.

The employment bureau of Kalamazoo, Mich., in connection with the Michigan Printers' Federation, has proved a success, in that the local unions of the State are now kept informed as to the state of trade, and have been able to place a number of men, who were out of work, or who wished to make a change.

FLOWERS BARRED.

Roselle, April 18.—Flowers will be barred at the commencement of the Roselle Park High School in June, the Board of Education having ruled that no member of the graduating class shall receive flowers at the school. It is also recommended by the board that it be suggested to the girls of the class that their graduating dresses be inexpensive and as far as possible made by themselves under the direction of the sewing teacher, at a cost not to exceed $5.

Next Sunday evening, Rev. George M. W. Fulcomer, pastor of the Methodist church at Gladstone, will preach a sermon on "Self Reflection."

Here's an Economical Boiler

If you are interested in house-heating at minimum up-keep cost, look at this sectional view of a Square Pot Boiler. It shows a deep, square firepot, surrounded by water surfaces down to the grate line. It shows interior water connections built low in contact with fire and trending easily upward to facilitate circulation. It shows a large body of fire in a square cornered pot, which increases heat radiation about 20%.

These are features that produce efficiency at an actual lessening of running expense—they make Square Pot Boilers a paying proposition for interested parties to investigate. Any BOYNTON dealer will show you.

Omaha, Neb., April 18.—With utter disregard for all Friday superstitions the Western league started its championship season today, and if the predictions of the league officials and the club owners are fulfilled the year will be one of the most successful in the fourteen years' history of the organization. From the Denver champions down to Topeka, the tailenders, all the clubs are reported in good shape for the race. The only managerial change is at Lincoln, where Charley Mullen, formerly of the Chicago White Sox, has been engaged to pilot the home team.

Miss Melva Ralph, of New Germantown, has reached home after a visit to different relatives near Pottersville.

TALKS ON THRIFT.

ON BEING PREPARED

"Give me the young man with $50 in the Bank—in any bank—money he has earned and saved himself, and I will show you a young man who is started on the road to success."—Richard W. Sears.

"Be prepared," is the motto of that excellent organization, the Boy Scouts of America, which also makes thrift one of the habits its members are supposed to cultivate.

That motto expresses the main reason why everyone should save, and there are two things that a surplus saved will prepare you for. They are Opportunity and Emergency.

The best opportunity in the world means nothing to you if you are not prepared to grasp it. Wishing for an opportunity is not enough. There would be a lot more rich people in the world if WISHES to have money would supply it.

Wishing energy must be transformed into working energy.

Few men ever get rich on a salary alone. But the habit of thrift can be acquired on the smallest salary and that habit has made many rich.

The first thing necessary is a realization of the importance of saving. Then a systematic plan, rigidly adhered to through thick and thin.

A skilled and high-salaried machinist, who at fifty, was forced to sell a valuable invention for a small amount because he had no capital of his own to float it, said: "If I had only had a little money I could have made a fortune out of that device."

If this man had early learned the habit of saving it would have stayed by him. Then he would have had the funds so much required, and he also would have had the ability, confidence and determination to push his invention to success and thus win the larger profits instead of the pittance that he did get for his invention.

Capital is a very important element of business success. Lack of it often means failure. You can create capital by saving by funding part of your income.

How is it with you? Are you prepared for opportunities or when they come to you or do you have to let them slip by to be seized by others?

As for emergencies, the value of thrift in this connection needs no argument. If misfortune comes to you in the form of accident, sickness or disaster and you have no cash reserve to fall back upon, you will be dependent upon the charity of others.

If you have not yet begun to save money for the opportunities and emergencies which will surely arise, do it now.

ANTI-FLY BATTLE NOW BEING WAGED

Scouts Busy All Day Inspecting Sanitary Conditions of Private Property.

AUTOMOBILE PARADE

All Sorts of Schemes to Impress Upon the Citizens the Importance of the Campaign—Much Work to Be Done.

An army of uniformed boy scouts, aided by a number of Plainfield High School boys, who acted as captains, started their house-to-house inspection in connection with the fly swatting campaign at 8 o'clock this morning and the reports submitted to the district captains at noon today were most encouraging, showing that the movement has taken on a city-wide appearance in which hundreds of people are lending individual aid. The youthful inspectors are covering the city in a thorough way making notes of conditions they find existing. For the most part, the spirit encountered by the volunteers in their work was one of earnest co-operation, but a few places were visited where admittance was denied and in these instances the householders were not pressed, but the scout made a memorandum of the number of the house and reported it to the commissioner.

Owners of property where unsanitary conditions were found will receive instruction from the Health Board to remedy the faults and where the householder does not know the best way of ridding the premises of flies written information will be given.

A feature of the steps taken by the local committee will be the automobile parade this afternoon, for which a number of Plainfielders have lent their machines. The procession will start from Park and Evergreen avenues at 3:30 o'clock and proceed through the principal streets of the city, displaying, by means of banners, their mission. Each automobile will be decorated with advertising matter consisting of pennants bearing the slogan of the committee "Starve the Fly," in college colors Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Cornell and Princeton being one of the more prominent. In order to make the campaign assume a more earnest appearnce, large banners, six by thirty feet, have been stretched across the streets at the junction of Park and North avenues and at Front and Somerset streets.

Manager Sanderson, of the local theatres, has offered to flash the committee advertising phrases on the screen at various intervals during the motion picture shows and at every performance during the coming week literature of an instructive nature will be distributed. The committee on store windows is meeting with marked success, a number of the business men having consented to place the placards printed by the committee in prominent places in their display windows. Some of the merchants have painted the fly slogan on their windows and arranged their show cases to attract particular attention to the attempts being made to exterminate the fly. Notices have been issued to all school teachers and it is hoped by means of the methods employed in the local public schools to teach dictation, to familiarize the younger pupils the movement. The committee on lodges and other social and fraternal organizations has already made reports and has found ready response forthcoming from the various officers who have promised to bring the matter to the attention of their members at the next meeting.

Preparations for the big mass meeting to be held at the Y. M. C. A. next Thursday are nearing completion and arrangements have been made to provide a musical program in connection with the motion pictures. Leonard Lewis will play the piano on this occasion. A number of letters have been received and personal inquiries submitted concerning the nature of the campaign and its working basis, from people of other towns who are contemplating the inauguration of a similar campaign. George Megrew, chairman of the local committee, received a complimentary letter from the American Civic Association commending the steps being taken to rid Plainfield of the pest

TWP'S BOUNDARY LINE DISPUTE TESTIMONY

Over Forty Witnesses Are Heard by the Commission In Somerset Controversy.

Somerville, April 19.—More than forty witnesses, a majority favoring Warren township, appeared before Commissioners Gaston, Garretson and Cortelyou here yesterday to give testimony in the matter of the dispute over the boundary line between that township and North Plainfield township, which has been hanging fire for several years. Among those appearing before the commissioners was George F. Quidort, of Brooklyn, who saw the line surveyed forty years ago.

Former Judge Clarence Case represented Warren township and H. O. Hance appeared as counsel for North Plainfield township. W. H. Rogers, of Warren, also appeared before the commission. It is contended that the line as it now stands was surveyed forty years ago and approved by the courts.

If the decision should be in favor of North Plainfield township it would give that township additional territory between 700 and 800 feet in width and about five miles in length. It would give to the township the Pedeflous, Hance and Williams properties. Thus far about $3,000 has been expended by both counties in contesting the establishment of the boundary line.

LARGE DEMAND FOR THE INSTALLMENT BONDS

The date for the closing of the books for this first issue has been set as April 24, so that persons desiring to participate must enter their subscriptions before that date. This bond plan offers a convenient method for the establishment of a fund that will, sooner or later, prove the wisdom of any self-denial that the monthly payments may involve.

MR. AND MRS. MEGREW ENTERTAIN AT DANCE

Mr. and Mrs. George Megrew, of Central avenue, gave the second of the series of two dances at their home last night, there being about one hundred guests, including a number from out-of-town. The home was attractively decorated with American Beauty roses, spring flowers and greens.

The music for dancing was furnished by VanEps Brothers, the program being a popular one. A feature was the dancing on the veranda as well as in the house. During an intermission refreshments were served, after which dancing was continued until a late hour.

INSPECTORS VISITED THE CITY AND BOROUGH

Augustus Schwartz, of Union county, and Thomas P. Gallagher, of Somerset county, county sealers of weights and measures, spent yesterday in this vicinity on a tour of inspection. It had been reported that produce dealers who peddle with a wagon were going from one county into another and that there had been infractions of the law as regards weights and measures. It was also reported that coal dealers had been guilty of irregularities.

There were several instances of re-weighing coal and in each case, with the exception of one, the dealer was giving the proper weight. The one exception was that of a driver who had not made a sufficient allowance for water soaked bags which weighed an ounce over the prescribed weight. The county officials did not find any vegetable dealers violating the law, but they will keep a sharp lookout for such persons.

BOROUGH, TOO, HAS LIGHTING PROBLEM

Among Other Matters Discussed at Meeting of North Plainfield Council.

The question of re-arranging and improving the street lighting system in the borough was discussed at the special meeting of the North Plainfield Council last night. Councilman Cowperthwaite made several suggestions, some of which were passed upon favorably. Three lights on West End avenue will be removed. They will be placed on Watchung avenue, between Codington avenue and the bridge; at the intersection of Verdon street and Summit avenue and a third one will be placed at Verdon street and Mountain avenue.

Mr. Cowperthwaite's resolution to remove a light on Mountain avenue between Westervelt and DeLacy avenues, was defeated. The light was taken away once, but replaced owing to a vigorous protest on the part of residents.

Sidewalks were ordered laid on the southwest side of Jefferson avenue from Greenbrook road to Walnut street. The grade will be established by the borough engineer. The work of macadamizing Watchung avenue, between Codington avenue and the bridge, will be commenced as soon as the property-owners pay their proportion of the expense, equal to 33 cents per lineal front foot. The petition of residents in that section for crosswalks was denied. A resolution was adopted authorizing the re-numbering of houses on Duer street above Greenbrook road.

The increasing popularity of the weekly dances for colored people at the Washington School, was shown last night in the attendance of about two hundred people, both young and old. The dancing began about 8:30 o'clock and continued until 11 o'clock, with an intermission during which Miss Pearl Jones sang a solo. The success of these weekly affairs seems to be assured and they are appreciated by the colored people. The chaperones last night were Mrs. W. M. Sandford, Jr., and Mrs. Stephen H. Voorhees.

The music furnished by Messrs. Watson and Peterson, piano and drums, was a decided feature and added much to the enjoyment of the people. A special program is being prepared for Friday night, May 2, when white people will be invited to attend and learn what is being done for the advancement of the social and educational improvement of the colored people.

CONTROVERSY ON OVER COURT INTERPRETERS

Elizabeth, April 19.—There was an unusual scene in the Court of Quarter Sesions yesterday, when Prosecutor Alfred A. Stein called for an interpreter to act in the case of Mary Kushack, of Bayway, who was charged with stealing a pocketbook containing $109, from John Lubrasky.

Carl Schaffer, the newly appointed Polish interpreter, and Ferdinand Wasserberger, the interpreter who was removed by Judge Connolly when he appointed Schaffer, both started for the prisoners' box. Schaffer was nearest and got there first. Consequently he acted in the case.

Wasserberger is attending court on the advice of his counsel, former Prosecutor William R. Wilson. He claims protection under the civil service laws and the notice served on him, terminating his services, has been laid before the commission and a hearing requested. No date has been fixed for it.

The Kushack woman pleaded non vult and will be sentenced next week.

GALBRAITH LOST SUIT FOR $5,000

Plainfield Plumber Sought to Recover in Slander Action Against P. J. Kaine.

NEWSPAPER'S REPORT

Published Account of Statements at a Meeting of the Piscataway Township Education Board Cause of the Proceedings.

New Brunswick, April 19.—Claiming that he was misquoted in a news article in the Dunellen Weekly Call of March, 1912, which gave an account of a meeting of the Board of Education of Piscataway Township, Patrick J. Kaine, a plumber, represented by former Judge William A. Coddington, came out victorious yesterday in a $5,000 slander suit for damages, instituted against him by Den. J. Galbraith, the North avenue plumbing and heating contractor, of Plainfield. The case was heard before Judge Frank T. Lloyd, in the Circuit Court, and the jury, after a deliberation of less than a half hour, returned a verdict of no cause for action. The plaintiff will be compelled to pay the costs of the proceedings.

In an edition of the Dunellen Weekly Call giving an account of the meeting of the Piscataway Board of Education, it was stated that the defendant had publicly charged that Galbraith in installing a steam heating system in one of the schools there had cut down the radiation to enable him to submit a low figure and that after being awarded the contract he would receive extra remuneration for installing additional radiation as was necessary to properly heat the building.

Although W. P. Deering, the lone reporter for the Dunellen paper who "covered" the Board meeting; B. Dewitt Giles, N. J. Piddington and Jeremiah Ten Eyck, all testified that Mr. Kaine's remarks at the meeting were the same as those published in the Call, others testified to the contrary. Judge Lloyd in his ruling, however, said that Mr. Galbraith had not proven beyond doubt that the assertion to have been made by Kaine were not true. Mr. Galbraith's attorney, Senator Silzer then had the case technically re-opened and the plaintiff took the stand and swore that the alleged statements as published and which he claimed were made by Kaine were untrue.

The defense called William Hamilton, Everett Marshall, Abraham G. Nelson, Frank E. Faulks, George W. Harris, Frank O. Nelson, John Gray, Clark T. Rogers, Judge Rene von Minden, and George W. Cortell, who had attended the meeting and who swore that the man had been misquoted in the Dunellen Call.

Asked if he would start suit against the Dunellen paper on the strength of the verdict, Mr. Galbraith said he would not. "Regardless of the jury's verdict, I still believe that the article appearing in the Call was true."

ENTERTAINMENT WAS ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Last in Series of Holy Cross People's Gatherings Fully up to Standard.

The 1912-1913 series of entertainments and dances given at the Park Club, under the auspices of Holy Cross Episcopal church, ended last night, when the boys' choir presented a pleasing program of vocal and instrumental selections under the direction of Charles Davis, organist and choirmaster. A. DeMesa, of New York a humorous recitationist, and Henry Pagliaucci, a fancy dancer also delighted the large audience.

OUR TAX RATE TO TAKE BIG JUMP?

Councilmanic Finance Committee's Budget Report May Be a Great Surprise.

SITUATION AS IT IS

Not Improbable That Increase on Rate Will Be From 15 to 20 Points—Conference to Solve Difficulties if Possible.

The Councilmanic finance committee in its efforts to prepare the budget for the coming year, which it proposes to introduce in the form of an ordinance at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council on Monday night, is confronted with a financial problem not easy to solve. After a session last night which did not terminate until midnight, the committee found itself unable to decide on the various amounts to be apportioned to each department. Councilman C. C. Randolph, chairman of the committee, was authorized to take the matter up with City Treasurer W. F. Arnold with a view to arriving at a decision.

Mr. Randolph and Mr. Arnold held two conferences today, which will be continued on Monday prior to making a final report Monday night. While every department wants more money the committee has been applying the knife in a vigorous manner. The fire department wants to purchase an auto-fire engine, which will probably be done, the lights committee wants to change the street lighting system, which will mean an increase of $5,000 in that appropriation, while the extra amount wanted by the public schools, the increase in salaries for police and fire department employes all tends to run the total amount up to a very large sum total.

While no definite figures are available today, it is predicted that the tax rate for next year will probably be increased between fifteen and twenty points. The Council would like to base this increase on a million dollar increase in valuation, but if it amounts to $300,000 it will be lucky, it is said.

There is a growing feeling that the assessment here on large properties is manifestly unfair, while it is admitted by many that the taxpayer of the middle class is paying all that he should. One of the Councilmen in speaking of this phase of the question today, said that he could cite one property which is assessed at $18,000, whereas it's true value is close to $100,000. Such inequalities as that, he pointed out, makes it hard for the small taxpayer.

The streets of Plainfield are admitted to be in a very poor condition, requiring a vast amount of work and the street committee is asking for a substantial increase in its appropriation. The Plainfield Public Library has just asked for an extra appropriation of $10,000 to repair the Job Male Library, while the Board of Health has requested a couple of thousand dollars increase over that of last year. Many of the Councilmen are viewing the situation with considerable anxiety, realizing that a big jump in the tax rate will result in a storm of protest on the part of the taxpayers.

WILLIAM HORAN DIES AGED SEVENTY-SEVEN YRS.

William Horan, of 507 Belvidere avenue, a veteran of the Civil War and one of the pioneer residents of the historical First Ward, of New York city, died last night, after an illness of several months. A complication of diseases caused his end. For many years he was engaged in the transportation and livery business in the metropolis. Seven years ago he took up his residence here.

Born in Ireland, seventy-four years ago Mr. Horan came to this country with his parents when four years old. The family settled in New York, where they acquired considerable property. At the outbreak of the Civil War, he enlisted in Co. K, 69th Regiment, N. Y. Vols., and served until the end of the strife. He was a member of Farnham Post, No. 771, G. A. R., and the New York Exempt Firemen's Association.

Besides his wife, whom he married in 1878, Mr. Horan is survived by four children. They are Mrs. Helen Sturla, Miss Anna Horan, William Horan, Jr., and Owen Horan.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning at St. Mary's church. Interment will be made in Calvary cemetery, Long Island.

SMALL BLAZE.

When the firemen arrived they found the fire in a heap of rubbish and extinguished the blaze with chemicals, little damage resulting from the blaze.

Why run the risk of dangerous kidney ills—fatal Bright's disease? Here's Plainfield proof. Investigate it.

Mrs. Patience Manchester, 120 Lafayette place, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I willingly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills again. I still use this remedy occasionally and it always relieves me of serious kidney troubles. For a long time I doctored and tried various remedies for my kidneys and bladder, but did not get a cure. FACTS AND COMMENT ON NEW YORK NEWS

New York, April 19.—The police investigation still continues, while some of the alleged grafters of the police force are being tried in the courts. More evidence is found almost every day showing a wide spread conspiracy of graft involving various members of the police department from patrolmen upward to officials dangerously close to the head of the department. Everybody seems to be convinced that there is something wrong with the New York police department, excepting Mayor Gaynor, who still maintains that there is nothing wrong with the police.

The investigation with its startling disclosures and the resulting uncertainty of conditions in the department has caused a deplorable demoralization of the police force to the delight and profit of the crooks and criminals who are finding New York city a veritable paradise. Thugs, burglars, safe blowers, highwaymen, pickpockets and common sneak thieves are following their various "professions" with astounding boldness and their confidence in their safety seems to be fully justified. Criminals are seldom arrested unless they insist upon it and appear voluntarily before some magistrate to give themselves up and to confess.

The number of petty thefts committed in this city daily is almost incredible and never were pickpockets more numerous in the crowded downtown districts and bolder in their work than at the present time. The latest addition to New York's thieving craft is a man, not yet identified, who frequents the subway and elevated stations during the rush hour and snatches slippers from off the feet of young women. Several women have been robbed in this novel fashion but in every instance the thief managed to escape in the crowd.

The interesting discovery was made the other day that on March 25 a meeting of the board of directors of the McIntyre Porcupine Mines Limited, a Canadian mining concern, was held in the Tombs and that Albert Freemen, the company promoter, now in the Tombs under a sentence of five years in the penitentiary, for his share in the Hawthorne mining swindles, presided at that meeting in his capacity as president of the company. As Freeman under the circumstances was unable to go to Canada to attend the directors' meeting, the directors came to New York and met with their president in the seclusion of the Tombs. In view of the shady character of hundreds of the mining companies which spring up every year and last long enough only to draw good money for worthless stock out of the pockets of an unsuspecting public, the Tombs seems to be a highly appropriate place for holding meetings of the directors of these companies and might even be selected for the permanent headquarters of these fraudulent concerns.

The residents on Chrystie street have become so used to the frequent bomb explosions on their street that they scarcely pay any more attention to them The bomb which was set off the other day and wrecked a barber shop and an undertaker's establishment, both conducted by Italians, was the fifty-seventh which was set off in Chrystie street since the beginning of the present year. There is scarcely a house on that street which has not suffered to some extent from the effect of bomb explosions. It is needless to remark that the police have never found a trace of the fiends who are causing these explosions.

About six months ago Thomas J. Hiney, filled with jealous rage and a liberal quantity of red liquor, shot five bullets into the body of his sweetheart, Amelia Stourman, when she came back from a boat ride with another man. For months the girl lingered between life and death, but finally she recovered from her injuries. In the meantime her jealous lover was indicted and tried and the other day he was to be sentenced. The girl was in court and nearly took the presiding judge's breath away when she begged the court to let her lover go as she wanted to marry him. The judge, who evidently considered the girl's action extremely ill-advised and utterly reckless, remonstrated with her, but the girl remained firm in her determination to forget the past and condone her lover's offence by becoming his wife. In the end she had her way and after the sentence of the young man had been suspended, he and the girl hastened out of the court room, obtained a license and were joined for life within an hour.

A nicely dressed man of middle age came into a restaurant in the lower part of Broadway and ordered an elaborate supper. He enjoyed his supper evidently but when the waiter presented the bill, amounting to $3, the guest offered to the waiter a dime with the remark that this coin represented his entire wealth. Then the waiter requested him to leave, but the impecunious guest declined the urgent invitation. The waiter insisted and a rough and tumble fight was the result. It required the combined efforts of six waiters to eject the dead-beat. Even then he had enough fight left in him to pick up a stone and smash one of the big plate glass windows of the restaurant. He was arrested and later explained to the magistrate before whom he was arraigned that the Indian blood in his veins had asserted itself and had prompted him to his unlawful actions. The explanation was not accepted as a sufficient excuse.

There was one candidate on the Democratic ticket at the recent town election at Hempstead, Nassau county, who did not spend a cent during the campaign preceding the election. He had been nominated candidate for Justice of the Peace on the Democratic ticket, but realizing that he had absolutely no chance to win, he urged his friends to vote for the Republican candidate and declined to spend a single cent in the interest of his own candidacy. In his certificate of expenses filed with the County Clerk the unwilling candidate explained the facts, concluding with the remark, "I may be simple, but I verily believe that I am not foolish."

The Boy Scouts are going to take up the fight against the pestiferous housefly, "musca domestica," as the scientists call the nuisance and instructions have been sent to every boy scout in the State of New York and elsewhere as to the best method of "swatting" the pests. The boys have undertaken a big job and it is hoped that the citizens in general will make every effort to assist the youngsters in decimating the disease carrying insects.

THE VALUE OF FOREIGN TRAVEL.

The well-known saying of Lord Bacon, "Reading maketh a full man, conference a ready man, and writing an exact man," can be safely amended in these later days, by adding, "and travel (by affording ample opportunity to combine the advantages of all three) maketh a cultivated man."

It is quite possible to conceive of a man without interest in the land of his ancestors; who is indifferent to the pleasure afforded by visiting scenes made familiar by the historian, the poet or the dramatist; who fails to be attracted by the art treasures of the Old World, or be delighted in seeing the hand of God in the marvels of creation spread out before him in great number in foreign lands. But such a man is rare indeed. I venture to say that he would find it extremely difficult to make even one journey abroad and successfully resist the charm invariably associated with a change of scene and environment.

Considered from the point of view of the parent or teacher it is a fair question to ask when contemplating the value of any educational effort, "what knowledge is of most worth?" Especially in these days when competition is so keen in every important walk in life, it is necessary to direct our energies so that the reward may, to as large an extent as possible, be proportioned to the labor.

In answering this great question Herbert Spencer says that a measure of value is the first requisite. Everyone in contending for the worth of any particular order of information, does so by showing its bearing upon some part of life. In reply to the question, "Of what use is it?" Mr. Spencer says that the mathematician, the linguist, naturalist or philosopher, explains the way in which his learning beneficially influences action, either by saving from evil or securing good, and thus conduces to happiness. A writing teacher ,for instance, can easily prove that the information which he can impart, and the skill he can cultivate in his pupils, will be of lasting value to a boy or girl; and he can go further and demonstrate that writing is an absolutely necessary part of the equipment of an educated person. He thus proves his claim that writing is knowledge of worth.

On the other hand, a collector of coins can claim only that a limited value attaches to his efforts, for the results bear only very remotely upon the general welfare of the people.

Knowledge that is of most worth enables us to get the best out of the little space of time called life, and one help to the attainment of this knowledge which is summed up in the words, "how to live," is to see how other people live; how they have solved the domestic, municipal, and other problems that confront us; how they have been able to add to the total of the world's happiness and usefulness, and what it has cost them to do it.

It is right here that an enlarged environment, obtained temporarily at least, by foreign travel, is a powerful aid. The countries across the sea are hoary with age; their customs are the result of centuries of experience, their convictions are based on observations extending through a dim past; while our civilization is only about 250 years old; we live in a country still in its infancy; we are not cramped for room, nor hedged around by many impossible barriers, yet we can very well learn many valuable lessons from our cousins across the water.

Reverting to the question of knowledge, I read somewhere of a graduate of unusual attainments in history in one of our great universities who asked his principal professor to recommend him for a position for which his studies seemed to have admirably fitted him. "I cannot recommend you until you have been abroad," replied the professor. "What university had I better study in?" inquired the disappointed student. "In no university," was the reply. "You can do that as well here, and for the present you have had enough of that. What you need is travel. I cannot recommend you for a position like this, to teach the history of countries that you have never seen."

The value of a trip abroad depends largely on the spirit in which one travels. He who has preconceived ideas of what everything and every place ought to be, and who is unhappy and dissatisfied when he finds how often his conceptions have been wrong; when, in fact, reality takes the place of romance, as it surely will, is apt to return with false notions of foreign lands, because he has been wilfully blind to what they had to offer. A disposition to be pleased; to see the good and the real value in the foreign countries and their people, will yield a splendid return on the investment of time and money, and the sacrifice of some of the comforts of home.

Once the charm of foreign travel has taken hold of us, we desire to enjoy it again and again. We can see so much more the second visit than we did the first; our observation is keener and more intelligent; we have gathered a fund of experience which it is delightfully refreshing to draw on, and the satisfaction and pleasure which foreign travel affords seems to proportionately expand as the number of the trips increases.

Lastly, the cost can be arranged to suit every purse, and with a little forethought, patience and some management, the dollar can be made to yield up its full value.

JACQUES WORTH SAILS; MISS CLARK ON BOARD, TOO

MISS GENEVIEVE CLARK

Now that he has seen the American woman in her native environment and knows just what she will want to wear next season, Jacques Worth, of the Paris dressmaking establishment, started for home on board the France, of the French line, not so encumbered with his newly acquired information that he was prevented from admiring those for whom he hopes successfully to design.

"I have had a most delightful stay here, and all too short a one," he said, "but I am coming again next year and every year; not only to get ideas of what the women want but to see them, for they are a most wonderful sight. Such grace and sparkle; and they all have it."

Among others who were passengers on board the France was Miss Genevieve Clark, the beautiful daughter of Representative Champ Clark.

BOYS, THE WILD WEST SHOW IS COMING SOON

A Wild West exhibition of peculiar excellence is promised for the amusement-loving people of this city when the Oklahoma Ranch show comes here Tuesday, April 29. There is something in the make-up of the average man—and woman— that responds to the call of the Great West as illustrated in such a strenuous exhibition as that given by the Oklahoma Ranch. Even the most placid and easy-going cannot resist the exhilaration produced by the reproduction of the thrilling border battles and hair-breadth adventures of the men who made the winning of the West—and our present civilization—possible.

The Oklahoma Ranch Wild West show is credited with being one of the most characteristic exhibitions of its kind ever organized. Although it partakes largely of the characteristics of Oklahoma—the home of so many famous ranchmen and cowboys—it is in many respects cosmopolitan, and its stirring features have been corralled from many far-distant places. For instance, the great Auto Polo match, which is one of the big special features of the show, is one of the sensations of the year. The great ranges of Mexico furnished many of the Vaqueros and the National bull ring of Mexico City sent its most intrepid bull-fighters. From the Calgary Stampede and the famous Pendleton Round-up, as well as from the cattle ranches of Oklahoma, have come some of the world's most skillful ropers and bucking-pony riders. Out of the pages of the past have stepped—gray haired and, perhaps not so spry of limb or keen of eye as in the olden days—a score or more of the most noted scouts, trappers, express messengers and overland mail coach drivers. Even among the great gathering of real blanket Indians ther are said to be a number who participate in the Custer battle, the Wounded Knee fight and other great struggles between the white and red men which belong to the history of the West. Col. Zack Mulhall, the famous Oklahoma rancher and his noted daughters, Lucille and Georgie, the greatest lady ropers and riders in the world, will be seen at every performance.

There will be thrilling dramas, illustrating the old life of Border Land; scenes and incidents of ranch life; the pleasures as well as the dangers encountered by the cowboys and cowgirls; rough riding by cowboys, Mexicans, Indians and a troupe of Cossacks headed by the famous Cossack chief, Prince Lucca, and other events. A parde will inaugurate Wild West Day.

Reserved seats on sale at Queen City Hotel on day of exhibition.

NEW IDEA IN "T. B." WORK SUBJECT FOR DISCUSSION

The new era in the prevention of tuberculosis will be discussed at a meeting to be held Monday night at 8 o'clock at the Plainfield High School Auditorium. A great deal has already been accomplished in the care of this disease by the establishment of county institutions, and by the work of local societies.

But now, it is hoped, that the actual prevention of the development of this malady may be prevented by the proper treatment of those who are predisposed. It is well-known that the children of tuberculosis parents are predisposed to tuberculosis, but that, if they are preserved from infection, including hygienic treatment, especially treatment in the fresh air, many of them, if not all, may be kept from developing the disease.

Nothing has promised such results as the establishment of fresh air schools. The ordinary confinement of a person predisposed to tuberculosis in a school room is distinctly inimical to his or her health. It is therefore with great satisfaction that those who are especially interested in the care and prevention of this disease note the extension of the system of fresh air schools.

KEEP PRIMROSE DAY.

London, April 19.—Primrose day, the thirty-second anniversary of the death of Lord Beaconsfield, was observed in London today in the customary manner. High government officials, members of parliament and men in practically all walks of life wore primroses in their buttonholes as a tribute to the memory of the famous statesman. The Beaconsfield monument in Parliament Square and the grave of the statesman in Hughendon cemetery were elaborately decorated under the auspices of the Primrose League.

Mrs. William H. Hadley, of Helena avenue, entertained nine of the girls of the St. Stephen's Episcopal church choir at a supper in her home, last evening.

Mrs. A. B. Caleen and children, of Chicago, are spending a few days with Mrs. Caleen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Gano, of Grove street.

H. C. Krebs, county superintendent of schools of Somerset county, will address the St. Paul's Brotherhood of Trinity Reformed church, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. All men are invited.

SAFETY, SIZE, STRENGTH, ALL ARE COMBINED IN THE NEW CUNARD GIANTESS AQUITANIA

THE AQUITANIA

An important feature in the Aquitania, the new Cunard liner, as in the Lusitania and the Mauretania, is that extending throughout the most vulnerable parts there is that great desideratum, a ship within a ship. In other words, there are two shells, the inner as well as the outer shell, both being watertight. The space between the outer and inner skins averages about fifteen feet and at short intervals there are bulkheads dividing this intervening space into relatively small compartments. It will be understood, therefore, that any fracture of the outer shell due to collision will result in the ingress of the sea being limited to a small area at the side of the ship. In addition to this important provision there are sixteen bulkheads extending athwartship from the port to starboard side.

The principal figures of the Aquitania are:
Length, 901 feet.
Breadth, 97 feet.
Depth from keel to boat deck, 92 feet 6 inches.
Gross tonnage, 47,000 tons.
Speed, 23 knots.
Accommodation for 3,250 passengers and a crew of nearly 1,000.

NOT A ONE SEASON CAR

The Abbott-Detroit is everywhere known as a car of exceptional stand-up qualities. This reputation has been established by the actual performance and character of the car. Every Abbott-Detroit is built with a view to giving the owner the same consistent and satisfactory service year after year. In this day of standardization you should expect nothing less.

You have heard it said of certain cars, "That would be a splendid car if it had good gears and rear axle." Or, perhaps, "first-class except a weak motor and worthless self-starter, poor clutch and cheap upholstery," and so on. But you have never heard any such criticism about the Abbott-Detroit. One feature is not made good at the expense of another. None of the "Rob Peter to pay Paul" methods obtain in the construction of this car.

In every particular the Abbott-Detroit stands the realized ambition of striving motordom. Its matchless strength, endurance, speed, power, and consistent all-around qualities has kept it out of the ranks of the ordinary and beyond the reach of all competitors. Every high-grade and advanced feature proves it the strictly up-to-the-minute car.

If you want service, elegance and comfort equal, and in many respects superior, to the highest priced cars, take our advice and buy an Abbott-Detroit. This is a car that will stand the test. But to determine this to your own satisfaction, we ask that you subject the car to the most rigid investigation and inquiry. We have no fear as to the outcome. All prejudice will prove favorable prejudice.

Our slogan, "Built for Permanence," bespeaks the policy behind the Abbott-Detroit. Quality, not quantity, is the basis for the manufacture of these cars. Our reputation and success is measured by the performance of each individual car.

GALILEE BULKHEAD VIEWED.

Galilee, April 19.—Director John M. Corlies, of the Monmouth County Board of Freeholders, with associate officers, visited Galilee yesterday, where the high seas recently washed away the bulkhead in front of the Lockwood property, temporarily blocking travel in both directions. Until the bulkhead is restored, which will probably be tomorrow, travelers to and from Sea Bright will be compelled to drive back by the fishing settlement. A few years ago Captain Lockwood, whose house was located on the beach, was compelled to move his effects out during the night to the opposite side of the street. Later the freeholders bulkheaded the avenue.

The city subsequently confessed judgment in Moore's suit, when it was found there was no money to pay for the publication.

SECRETARY DANIELS BELIEVES IN BIG NAVY

JOSEPHUS DANIELS

The first exposition of the naval policy of the administration was made recently by Josephus Daniels, the Secretary of the Navy, at the annual banquet of the Navy League of the United States at Washington. Covers were laid for about five hundred guests. Secretary Daniels was introduced by Colonel Robert M. Thompson, the toastmaster.

Mr. Daniels declared in favor of a large navy, but did not give his remarks specific application to the present size of the fleet.

CHILDREN AT PLAY ALL HAD NARROW ESCAPES

A group of boys and girls playing in the sand in the field close to the western gates of the Pond Machine Tool Works on South Second street narrowly escaped being killed at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon, when a freight car, loaded with gravel, descended the trestle in the yard of the tool works and crashed through the gates close to where the children were playing. They just escaped.

Patrolman James Saunders happened to be in the vicinity and he immediately went to the scene, made an investigation and reported the facts to police headquarters. What started the freight car off could not be learned.

PRESIDENT LYNCH SUSPENDS PLAYERS

New York, April 19.—President Lynch is determined to have strict order on the playing field of the National League. Second Baseman Doyle of the New Yorks was set down for three days for kicking in the game with Boston yesterday while Heine Peitz, of St. Louis, was fined fifty dollars and suspended three days for using abusive language during the contest with Chicago. Second Baseman Sweeney, of Boston, has been suspended three days for trouble on the playing field, while Pitcher Purdue, of the same club, was fined ten dollars for discoloring the ball. President Lynch said today that players misconducting themselves on the field would be severely dealt with and that abusive language would not be tolerated.

FRITZ CARLSON WON BOSTON MARATHON

Boston, April 19.—Fritz Carlson, of Minnesota, was the winner of the Boston marathon, the big Patriots' Day twenty-five mile contest, this afternoon, covering the distance in two hours, twenty-five minutes and fourteen and two-fifth seconds. Andrew Sockalexis, North Dorchester A. A., was second; H. J. Smith, of New York, third, and George Mcinerny, Philadelphia, fourth.

It was the seventeenth annual race over the course from Ashland to Boston and was run this afternoon under ideal weather conditions, under the auspices of the Boston A. A. The entry list was large and thousands of enthusiasts lined the course.

HOW TO KILL FLIES QUICKLY AND CHEAPLY

Professor R. I. Smith, entomologist North Carolina agricultural station says: "Formalin is a very successful poison for flies in spite of many reports to the contrary. I have recently used it extensively with excellent results. The method that I have found most successful is the use of formalin in milk with the following proportions:

"One ounce (two tablespoonfuls) of formalin; sixteen ounces (one pint) of equal parts milk and water.

"In this proportion the mixture seems to attract the flies much better than when used in sweetened water. The mixture should be exposed in shallow plates. A piece of bread in the middle of the plate furnishes more space for the flies to alight and feed and in this way serves to attract a greater number of them.

"I first used this poison in a milk room where the flies were very numerous and poisoned over 5,000 flies in less than twenty-four hours on several occasions. Over a pint of flies were swept up in this room each time the poison was used.

"Another experiment was used in a large calf barn where the flies were numerous. I exposed six ordinary sized plates of the formalin poison mixture and killed about 40,000 (four quarts of flies) between 12 o'clock noon and 8 the next morning. This is only an illustration of what can be done with formalin around stables where flies are breeding. I could cite a number of cases where the formalin poison mixture has been used in unscreened kitchens and dining rooms and resulted in killing practically all the flies.

"A good place to use this formalin is on the front and back porches, where flies are frequently numerous and waiting to enter whenever the doors are opened."

PLAN OF CAMPAIGN FOR FLY FIGHTERS.

Keep the house free from flies. Every fly should be considered a possible disease carrier and should be destroyed.

Keep the windows of the house, especially the kitchen windows, carefully screened during the spring, summer and autumn.

Protect children from exposure to flies and do not allow nursing bottles to be exposed.

Protect milk and foodstuffs from contact with flies.

Keep the garbage outside of the house carefully covered.

Abolish open drains near dwelling places.

HOME

The average man spends half his life at Home. That takes into account the nights at the club, at lodge, at the theatre, or sitting up with a sick friend. It also takes into account the fellow who sees home often enough only to establish a voting residence. He is balanced off in averaging up by the man who spends a good deal more than half his life at Home. The Newark Sunday Call has figured this all out and says that the statement that more than half of life is spent at Home cannot be disputed. If there is any doubt about it, keep a time schedule for a week or so. The Average Women? Bless you, three-quarters of her life is spent at Home! And that includes the working woman, too, the real NEW WOMAN.

Home shapes up as a pretty big proposition, considering all that. The world realizes it, too, for most of the world's efforts go toward providing homes. Right down at the bottom of things you come up against that great big reason for it all—"Home."

There was a poet who said that Home was not merely four square walls. That was the absolute truth. Home is what you make it, whether you call it palace, villa, flat, cottage or hut. Some people can make a hall bed-room more homey than others can with a $300,000 marble mansion. It is wholly up to the individual. But as half a life time is to be spent at Home, it is worth trying to make it a success. A real homey Home is life's biggest success.

The poet's four square walls idea, however, should not be taken wholly at its face value. Most truths should not. There is always that little exception to the rule lurking in the background. Accept the truth, but also dig out that little exception and digest its meaning. Then you will get the full value out of the truth. Four square walls do not make a Home. But they help. The better those same walls are the better chance of making a successful Home. Be careful in choosing a setting for the jewel—the home jewel. Remember that you must use that setting half your life. Pick some thing that will wear. See that it is good. That means be careful in choosing your abode. Whether it be a house, a flat or a room, choose it carefully. Whether you buy or rent, remember you are selecting a setting for the biggest thing in life—Home.

The Plainfield Daily Press

thinks a lot about Home. That is natural, for Homes form its destination when it leaves the presses ready for distribution among its thousands of readers. The Daily Press likes to take part in home making and it does all it can to further that end in what it prints. It can aid you in selecting your setting for your Home—the dwelling, whatever form it may take.

The owner of a house who wishes to sell or rent the house goes to an agent—if he be wise and wants results. The agent gives publicity to the owner's desire, attends to the troublesome incidental business, and accomplishes the desired results.

The agent has the assistance of another agent—a very powerful agent for this sort of work. This other agent is the RELIABLE NEWSPAPER, the newspaper that reaches the kind of people the owner would want to sell or rent to. The DAILY PRESS is such an agent. It reaches this desirable clientage and is used by responsible agents. Look at the names of the agents who advertise real estate for sale or to let and note the high character of these advertisers. their agent because it reaches the kind of people They, in turn, have chosen the DAILY PRESS as they want for clients.

Choose your home setting carefully. Study the For Sale and To Let advertisements in the DAILY PRESS. Make notes of what appeals to you, write to the agent or the owner, and inspect the property. You are dealing with established business concerns who can aid you in this big work of Home-Making. They, the agents, are seeking your patronage because you are the kind they want dealings with—the kind who can be reached through the DAILY PRESS.

THE HIPPODROME.

The greatest of all spectacles in the world, the New York Hippodrome show, is the most costly, the most elaborate and the most entertaining of any of the stupendous productions for which that house is internationally famous. In addition to that most instructive scenic spectacle "Under Many Flags," which affords an education on foreign lands without the expense and time to travel, the new circus, with gypsy life and plunging horses, go to make up the biggest bill on record. "Under Many Flags" alone cost the management $200,000 to stage and it is but one part of the marvellous exhibition. Matinees at 2 and evening performances at 8 o'clock. The best seats but $1.00.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Snowden and children, formerly of Watchung avenue, have removed to Fritz place and Somerset street.

Miss Adelaide and Miss Edith Fitch, of Halifax, Nova Scotia, are guests of their brother, Rev. F. St. John Fitch, of Park avenue.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

FRUIT WHIPS.

DELICIOUS desserts are the following, which are made by combining lightly beaten cream and eggs with fruits.

They are so light and dainty that they will appeal to the most delicate appetites. Whips should be made just before serving.

Preserved fruits or fresh ones may be used for this purpose. The preserved fruit should be passed through a sieve before using. Fruit sirups also are available.

Here is a dainty dessert made by utilizing canned raspberries:

Whipped Canned Fruit.

Raspberry Whip.—Take a cupful of canned raspberries, the whites of two eggs, a half pint of cream and two or four tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar. Whip the cream and whites of eggs separately and then combine them. Then stir in the raspberries and sugar. Serve in sherbet cups garnished with whole preserved raspberries.

Apricot Whip.—Separate the yolk and white of one egg. Beat the yolk till thick, add half a cupful of milk, one tablespoonful of sugar and a speck of salt. Cook till creamy. Flavor and set aside to get cold. Beat the white of the egg till stiff. Fold in carefully from two to four tablespoonfuls of canned apricot pulp, a few drops of lemon juice and two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Serve heaped on a glass dish with some of the custard around it.

Light and Delicious.

Banana Whip.—Peel the bananas, scrape off the coarse threads and press the pulp through a sieve. Add sugar and lemon juice to taste and cook over the fire, stirring until the mixture boils. Remove from the fire and chill. Beat some cream until it is firm. Fold the banana and cream together and chop some pistachio nuts fine and sprinkle over the mixture after it is put in glasses.

Prune Whip With Custard Sauce.—Take a half cupful of cooked prunes. Mash them well with their juice. Whip the white of one egg. Then with a large fork beat it well with the prunes. Set where it will keep cool and make the following sauce:

Sauce.—Dissolve some cornstarch in a little milk. A cupful in all will be needed for the sauce. Put the rest in a double boiler and stir in the cornstarch when the milk is hot. Beat the yolks and sugar until light, pour on a little hot milk, pour back, add salt and flavoring and beat well. Then take from the fire and let it cool. Serve the fruit whip in sherbet glasses with custard on top of it.

By JUDIC CHOLLET

The skirt with a narrow front panel is always becoming. It gives a slender effect that is to be desired this season. This one has extensions that offer a very novel trimming and allow for the use of buttons. When the high waist line is used the skirt is fitted at the sides by means of darts; when the natural waist line is desired they are gathered.

This skirt is made of checked material with plain panel of plain. A good effect could be obtained by using a cotton ratine with embroidered banding for the panel.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes from 22 to 32 inches waist measure. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7769, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

HINTS ON FASHIONS IN THE METROPOLIS

Some Suggestions to the Woman Who Would Be Gowned Correctly.

New York, April 19.—Skirts continue to be narrow at the ankles, according to the decree of the fashion rulers, but one can retain this effect and still have comparative ease in walking. This is done by draping the skirt so as to give fullness at the knees, and then introducing foot pleats at the hem.

The idea that in order to walk easily one must have a very wide skirt is exploded anyway. Such skirts have a disagreeable habit of wrapping themselves around the knees and ankles, sometimes actually bringing the wearer to a standstill. A skirt two yards in width allows a step of average length and does not have superfluous material in which to become entangled. If one wants more room it may be comforting to remember that groups of side pleats are introduced in many of the Paris models. American women, however, though they admit that these pleats give ease in walking, do not seem inclined to accept them this season except for short chiffon skirts. These are generally made of solid side pleating, with a very narrow underskirt; so narrow, in fact, that it is absolutely necessary to have it slashed.

Long Russian blouses of chiffon or crepe are being shown with many models. These, too, are generally side pleated, either entirely so or simply below the girdle. A variation of this style, seen at a Fifth Avenue importer's, was an afternoon gown of deep shrimp pink crepe de Chine. Instead of being side pleated, the long Russian blouse, or tunic, was laid in box pleats about an inch in width. These were merely pressed, not stitched. In place of the usual belt or narrow girdle there was a Cheruit sash of the same material as the dress. This was wound around the waist, then carried to the back and loosely knotted, a little at one side, about half way to the knee.

Some of the pleated chiffon skirts have a contrasting band of silk around the bottom. One in dark blue, for instance, has a ten-inch band of Scotch plaid at the hem. With this skirt a coatee or a Russian blouse of the plaid would be worn.

Waistcoats of all kinds, either actual or simulated, are extremely popular this season. Most of the waistcoats are merely simulated. That is to say, they are not a separate garment, but are merely fronts, or even fragments of fronts, attached to the coat itself. The genuine separate waistcoat, however, is a feature of many imported models and deserves especial attention. It is both practical and attractive. Practical, because it gives additional warmth to a lightweight suit in the cool weather of early spring, and also because, when left off entirely, it makes the same suit possible for warmer weather wear.

In Paris they are wearing sleeved waistcoats, so that the outer jacket can be removed, which is scarcely possible when the vest is made like a man's. While this garment is called a waistcoat, and, when the actual coat is on, really appears to be only that, it is more like an under jacket.

Among new woolen materials for tailored gowns is the accordion plaited effect, which it seems no amount of pressing can destroy. "Parquet" is the name of a lovely soft woolen fabric that has raised designs exactly resembling an inlaid floor. "Bigoudine," coarse and heavy in effect, but really beautifully light, woven in crooked, fine and coarse threads, something after the manner of "zag-zig," is an ideal fabric for summer tailored costumes. The same endorsement can be given to a woolen fabric with a surface like uncut velvet, woven in cool olive green and white. With white facings and white buttons for trimmings, the refined effect of this material is easily imagined.

With the same delusive effect of heaviness is a material particularly good in a deep rich violet, but which also appears in all other shades of the season. These new materials will be used as facings for collars and revers as well as for entire costumes, although they are rather expensive.

The plaited or fluted idea is very popular in Paris this season and is gaining favor also in New York. Entire dresses in mousseline, liberty, or eolienne are plaited in this way, the plaits sometimes marked wide apart, sometimes as accordion plaiting. The lighter the goods the finer the plaits. A plaited dress seen recently was in China blue liberty, with a wide swathed belt of old gold satin. The fine lace which fell about the neck, the decolletage being pointed, was of yellow achre in color. This particular corsage had the lace wired to stand up slightly, but in other cases the lace falls softly about the neck and bust.

So many of the best evening wraps are trimmed in fur that one might imagine the season that of autumn or winter. The fur is always chinchilla, ermine, or golden taupe, but it is fur nevertheless. Furs are just as fashionable at present as they were a month ago, and the ruling powers of fashion declare that peltry will remain fashionable until very late spring. Not the big, heavy pieces, it is true, but stoles and muffs that so soften and enhance any toilette.

Everything in the way of covering is short and bobbed off this season. The winter coats were rounded and abbreviated, giving little protection against the elements, but they were coquettish and girlish, virtues which recommended them. The coatees which appeared at the spring openings were shorter still, being only an excuse for a covering. In fact, many of the coatees cover one only as far as the waist line. A few reach below, but only very few. The pattern for the new cut is generous, for the coatee is supposed merely to drape the figure, to give only the faintest outline of the form.

The separate motif of black Brussels net, embroidered in silk and beaded in Bulgarian colors of red, blue and green, is invaluable in supplying a needed touch of trimming or a bright note of color. Embroidered in old green and blue floss with threads of gold Brussels net is handsome for a vest or waistcoat. A Bulgarian design on silk braid makes an expensive vesting. A banding of honiton braid and small colored roses applied on a black net ground gives distinction to a cotton crepe.

Silks bands supporting velvet forget-me-nots and roses form a pretty trimming for debutante dresses. An insertion of multi-patterned linen lace on batiste is an ideal trimming for a lingerie dress, as it gives the impression that the banding is woven in as a part of the frock. Beautiful Japanese crepe in a design of bowknots and flowers would be very smart if used for sleeves or even for a pannier. An effective lining for a wrap is the soft pussy-willow crepe, splashed with bouquets of pansies.

The pleated shirt bosom effect is a new feaure of this season's blouse. The result is entirely soft and feminine.

Yokes are used on the majority of blouses, especially those that form part of a one-piece frock.

FLORENCE FAIRBANKS.

THE LINEN CLOSET.

Beautiful Floral Designs In the New Display of Damask.

One of the most certain tests of the taste of the mistress of the house—and, let it be whispered, of the purse of the master—is the beauty and quality of the table linen. Linens of medium quality, weight and price, but of the fine designs, will usually be preferred by the woman of average income, and this season affords such variety of charming combinations of style and pattern that the housewife who once begins to buy will be sorely tempted to spend all her allowance on linen.

Among the simpler styles and grades one can never go astray in choosing the conventional patterns showing the fleur-de-lis, snowdrops or the plain bar and checks. These have the merit of being wholly unpretentious, but always in excellent taste.

For those who buy more elaborate linens there are beautiful patterns of tulips, roses, chrysanthemums and ferns scattered or clustered around the border on a plain background. Still more effective, though requiring a larger surface for its development, is the large, many fingered leaf palm.

Perfectly plain satin damask of the finest quality made up into cloths and napkins lends itself well to the display of silver and crystal. Linen with borders in the moire or watered ribbon effect should have monograms in opposite corners of the cloth or else near the center and in the exact corner of the napkins.

The Irish and Sotch weavers continue to show the distictive patterns of their native flowers. The English factories put out some fascinating heraldic designs, while the French cloths are characteristically lighter in weight and less stately in design. The Austrian looms cling to simple but beautiful floral designs.

Washing Chamois Gloves.

The wearing of chamois gloves both summer and winter is a practical fashion of the times. While these gloves soil easily, they may be easily washed, and because this is so the wise woman always has a double supply, so that while one pair is being washed and dried the other may be in service. Two things should be remembered about the washing. Use only pure white soap and not too hot water. Rub the gloves very gently between the hands. If there are any particularly trying spots rub these with a not too harsh nail brush. When the gloves are clean rinse them in tepid and soapy water and pat out the moisture. Do not rinse the gloves in clear water. It is the soap in the rinsing water that keeps the gloves from becoming harsh when dried. Before putting the gloves on a towel to dry inflate them well, so that the fingers are of their proper shape.

A Vegetable Party.

Invitations for a vegetable party were sent on the backs of old seed packets, and each girl was told to wear something representing a vegetable. The young men later found their partners for supper by guessing the vegetable represented. The house was brilliantly decorated with strings of peppers, onion tops, etc., and it was amusing if not beautiful. The centerpiece was a huge cabbage hollowed out and filled with a mass of green onions and red geraniums. A wreath of round red radishes twined around this.

Little contest books ornamented with painted vegetables having faces were given the guests, and prizes were given for correct answers to the questions within. The answer to each was the name of a vegetable.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

At Proctor's Fifth Avenue theatre next week Ethel Barrymore will bid farewell to vaudeville, appearing in J. M. Barrie's comedy classic, "The Twelve Pound Look." Miss Barrymore enjoys the proud distinction of having created new records for large receipts in all of the variety theatres in which she has been seen and a week of tremendous takings for the Fifth Avenue is assured. A bill of sterling excellence without the headliner will also be disclosed, calling as it does for the following top-notch entertainers; Bert Fitzgibbon, the daffydil comedian; Ethel Green, chic soubrette and charming dresser; Devine and Williams in "The Traveling Salesman and the Female Drummer;" Kenny, Nobody and Platt, favorite diversionists; Burks and Lorane, a clever dancing pair; Chief Caupolican, an Araucano Indian with a splendid singing voice and an interesting monologue; Billy Burke's merry beast, "Fixing the Furnace;" Frances Stevens & Company in Edgar Allan Woolf's newest playlet, "The Country Bride;" Kit Carson, wire-walking sharpshooter, and Edison's Moving Talkies in their tenth successful week.

SCOOP ISN'T VERY LONG ON GEOGRAPHY

"MAC" SAYS

Appropriate slogan for ball players today (if the rain holds off) "SWAT FLIES."

Local sportdom will be treated to a variety program this afternoon. No less than twelve ball games, a track meet, golfing, shooting and hound following have been arranged by local managers. Something for the enthusist along any line.

Those who have attended any of the Yankee games at the Polo Grounds this week have noticed Jack Martin cavorting around in the preliminary practises. The local boy is still "up a tree" concerning his future.

Plainfield Y. M. C. A. athletes will display their ability at the State meet in Newark tonight. The Queen City representative ought to garner some of the place prizes in their respective events.

A more erratic game of baseball than the one played by the North Plainfield and Woodbridge High Schools at Hyde Oval yesterday afternoon, would be hard to conceive of. Woodbridge had a steady battery but the rest of the nine failed to rally round it.

N. P. H. S. was equally as poor along the fielding line, William Townley, a younger brother of the borough twirler, being the only member of the team to put up a reliable game. His work at third was the one redeeming feature of the contest (if it had any.)

Second base appears to be a particularly weak spot in the N. P. H S. lineup At a number of different intervals in yesterday's contest easy grounders went through the keystone territory.

The Leal ball players who witnessed yesterday's battle, or farce, were led to believe that they have an excellent chance of administering a drubbing to the boroughites in the Interscholastic League match for the Collier cup next Wednesday afternoon and it surely looks as though they had if the game yesterday may be taken as a criterion.

Suggestions to cartoonists: Why not depict an office boy in the act of informing the loss that his grandmother is defunct, so that he can get off for that initial Plainfield baseball club tryout?

The news that Jim Thorpe struck out four times out of a possible four indicates that he has struck his stride.

Every time John McGraw gazes at Jim Thorpe he feels like a gent who has purchased a flock of mining stock.

Hal Chase is being boomed as the greatest of them all at second base by the metropolitan newspapers these days. A left-handed second baseman may be a success, but not when he is afflicted with a left-handed disposition.

Were we president of the National League our first step would be to appoint one Corriell chief of the umpire staff. His work in yesterday's game at Hyde Oval showed that he had the necessary vernacular and that is the main consideration now-a-days.

The rainy weather makes us think once more of that press stand at Crescent Oval. The baseball magnate who first introduces a glass inclosed, steam heated press box is going to grab off a lot of boosts every spring at a nominal expense. The fans need no such protection. They don't have to attend the games.

LAST RACE MEET IN IDAHO.

Coeur d'Alene, Ida., April 19.—The race meeting of the Coeur d'Alene Fair and Racing Association opened at the Alan track today and will run continuously for 61 days. It will be the last meet at this track, as the recent Idaho legislature passed a stringent anti-betting law which will make future race meetings in this State out of the question. To all appearances, however, this fact has not lessened the interest of the turf followers in the present meeting. Nearly 1,000 horses are quartered at the track and many of the foremost turfmen of the West are on hand. About $200,000 in stakes and purses will be distributed during the meeting.

SCENES AT LAKEWOOD IN TRYOUTS FOR AMERICAN POLO TEAM

The candidates for the American polo team are practising at Lakewood, N. J., for their tryouts for the team which will meet the Britons in June.

LOCAL ATHLETES GO TO NEWARK Y. M. C. A.

Plainfield Association Will Be Represented in Annual indoor Championships.

Plainfield Y. M. C. A. senior athletes will go to Newark tonight to take part in the annual Northern New Jersey Y. M. C. A. indoor athletic championships which will be staged at the association in that city. The events will consist of standing broad jump, putting twelve pound shot, running high jump, three lap run, potatoe race (novice), and relay race, four men to the team. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be given for first, second and third places in each event and a silver medal will be presented to each member of the winning relay team.

There will also be a championship shield awarded to the association scoring the highest number of points. All competitors must be bonafide members of an association and athletes from this city, Passaic, Paterson, Newark, Orange, Montclair, Elizabeth, Rahway, Hudson City, Morristown and Perth Amboy will take part.

Newark and Montclair have always, in the past, fought for first position and this year promises to be no exception for both teams are in good condition for the keen competition which is expected. The Plainfield delegation will be small and there is practically no chance of the local association annexing the individual high score shield, but the athletes intend to annex some of the place prizes. Newark and Montclair have the advantage of being nearer the place of competition and this is probably the cause of these two teams having an annual contest among themselves.

COBB MAY ALSO JOIN MINSTRELS

"Georgia Peach" May Be in Cast With Jim Thrope at the Local Theatre.

Following the announcement that Jim Thorpe, the wonderful Indian athlete, has been offered a contract to appear as a member of the "Honey Boy" Evans minstrel troupe, that plays in this city April 28, comes another notice to the effect that Tyrus Raymond Cobb, the stubborn outfielder holdout of the Detroit Tigers, will also mix minstrelsy with the National pastime. That he can be both a baseball player and actor at a salary of $25,000 per year and 25 per cent. of the gross receipts for his pastiming, will be proven if the "Georgia Peach" will consent to a proposition made by "Honey Boy" Evans. The offer was forwarded to the Detroit holdout last night.

Cobb was the star of the "College Widow" show during the season of 1911-12 when it appeared at the Plainfield theatre, and dramatic critics who watched his work at that time claim he is as good on the stage as he is on the baseball field. Should both Cobb and Thorpe sign minstrel contracts before Evans' cast appears in this city, the show will probably prove one of the greatest drawing cards of the theatrical season. Both are the centre of attention in sportdom at the present time and are two of the most talked-of men alive today.

SCOTCH PLAINS IN THE CENTRAL LEAGUE

Manager Joe Alberts Springs a Surprise by Filing Application for Admittance.

Surprises were in order at last night's meeting of the Central New Jersey baseball league, Joe Alberts, the well-known Scotch Plains ball magnate, springing the inevitable by filing application together with the required guarantee for the admittance of Scotch Plains into the organization. Many have been the opinions expressed as to the probability of the 'Plains having a representative in the league this year and the announcement of such a move will come as a welcome to many, as this team has always been a lively contender for diamond honors against Plainfield and teams of this vicinity. Alberts will form an aggregation to play Saturday traveling games and the schedule will be so arranged as to have Sunday ball at the 'Plains where it has always proved popular.

Reports submitted by the various managers at the meeting last night were of an encouraging nature and it now seems plausible that the league will be an eight team outfit, although nothing definite has been heard from Bound Brook. Seven teams forfeited their guarantees last night thus placing them on the eligible list to start the season. Bound Brook sentiment seems to be divided, but the concensus of opinion offered, seems to point toward a fast team being gathered together in that place before the next meeting which is due to be called a week from next Tuesday night.

The committee appointed to draw up a schedule for both a four and six team circuit were not prepared to offer one for a seven team league, so the matter of programing games was laid over until the next meeting. Enthusiasm was rife at this meeting and the Central New Jersey league is now a practically assured project.

A team has been placed in Elizabeth to play on Pingry Oval and the manager, who was present at the meeting last night, held forth encouraging prospects for a banner season in that town. Plainfield will hold its tryouts this afternoon on Crescent Oval when local talent will be accorded a chance to shine by Manager Ernest Dorlinger. It is not known who will make up the Plainfield team at the present time but a good array of stars will likely shine on the local diamond this season as in the past.

A salary limit was established by the mutual consent of the representatives present at the meeting last night and will be strictly adhered to in signing up players. The teams now in the league are High Bridge, Plainfield, Elizabeth, New Brunswick, Scotch Plains, Dunellen and Somerville. New Brunswick has entered as a traveling aggregation and the schedule will be so arranged.

NATIONAL REVOLVER SHOOT.

Dallas, Texas, April 19.—Crack shots from many parts of the country were assembled here today at the opening of the annual indoor championship shoot of the United States Revolver Association. Texas claims to have the best revolver shots in the country and hopes to carry off a majority of the prizes. Many of the contestants from the North and East are office men, who declare they can excel the plainsmen and cowpuchers as marksmen. There is much good-natured rivalry among the various factions and all are on their mettle. Some excellent scores are expected before the close of the tournament on April 27.

MAKE MOST ERRORS BUT WIN THE GAME

Erratic Fielding on the Part of Both Teams in Yesterday's Game—Hits Scarce.

Erratic fielding and eccentric pitching on the part of the pitcher made the Woodbridge-North Plainfield High School game played on Hyde Oval yesterday afternoon a listless one to witness from a spectator's point of view, N. P. H. S. winning directly on gifts from the visitors by a count of 18 to 8. One of the features of the game, if the game was featured at all, was the playing of Ashley Burner, the sturdy boroughite. Out of six trips to the rubber he walked six times and his fielding was above par when compared with that of his team mates who put up a loose game around him.

The Woodbridge team presented the appearance of a group of novices, probably due to the fact that this was their first game of the season, but they battled on pluckily against seemingly unsurmountable odds. Every period with the exception of the second and third were scoring stanzas for the boroughites, who ran wild around the bases, on headless plays pulled off by Woodbridge color bearers. Inexcusable errors on the part of Taylor were responsible for the three tallies made by the visitors, all of which were direct gifts.

Militant suffragettes of England, partly in response to taunts from orators on the floor of Parliament, have inaugurated a "reign of terror," and in addition to their increased activity in the destruction of property invaded the royal household itself with their demands for votes for women and set the members of the King's official family by the ears in regard to the issue.

The bomb and torch have taken the place of argument in the property destroying crusade of the "weaker sex" to win the right to vote. When told by Parliament that to triumph they must resort to violence that marked revolutions by men they instituted a "reign of terror."

GREAT REJOICING AMONG ROUMANIANS

Dual Celebration Throughout Country Tomorrow in Honor of King Charles.

Bucharest, April 19.—Tomorrow will be the twentieth day of April, a day to be celebrated throughout Roumania because it marks the recurrence of a double anniversary of the utmost importance. On April 20, 1839, King Charles I, the beloved ruler of this country, was born and on April 20, 1866, he was elected Prince of Roumania by the Roumanian Assembly. It was indeed a fortunate day for the Roumanians when they called the son of the late Prince Charles of Hohenzollern-Simgaringen, of the minor, non-reigning branch of the Hohenzollern family, to their throne. It was he who made the country what it is today, independent, strong, prosperous and respected among the powers of the world.

Roumania was originally formed by the union of two of the Danube principalities, Wallachia and Moldavia, on December 23, 1861. The first ruler of the new principality was Colonel Cuza, who assumed the government under the name of Alexander John I. Constant discords and jealousies endangered the permanency of the country from the very beginning and when a revolution broke out in February, 1866, which forced Alexander John from the throne, the future of Roumania looked dark indeed. Upon the suggestion of Napoleon III the throne was offered to Prince Charles, who was then holding a commission as lieutenant in the Prussian army. Prince Bismark favored the choice and secretly supported it refraining, however, from doing so openly owing to the already strained relations between Prussia and Austria which soon thereafter led to the war of 1866. Austria was opposed to the choice and would have gone to the extreme of arresting the young prince on his way to Roumania, had he not outwitted the Austrian government by passing through Austria in disguise. He entered Bucharest, received by the people with enthusiasm, May 22, 1866, and was acclaimed Prince of Roumania.

It was by no means a sinecure which Charles had taken upon his shoulders when he consented to become the ruler of Roumania. Internal dissensions caused constant ferment among the numerous factions and the relations between Roumania and the adjoining countries were far from being friendly. The resources of Roumania were extremely meager, trade and industries were demoralized, the national defences were disorganized and it seemed that the days of the country's independence were numbered. But Charles proved himself the right man for his position, a great ruler, strong and energetic, filled with the ambition to restore order and prosperity in his country and to increase and strengthen its power among the nations of Europe.

Three years after his accession to the throne he married Princess Elizabeth von Neuwied, the talented poet and novelist, who acquired literary fame under the pseudonym of Carmen Sylva. Loyally she co-operated with her husband in his reformatory and organizatory work and with him won the love and devotion of the grateful Roumanians.

In the war between Russia and Turkey Charles sided with Russia and by his gallant fighting and brilliant strategy in the battle of Plevna enabled the Russian army to defeat the Turks. Roumania declared its independence from Turkey, under whose suzerainty it had been for several centuries and its independence was confirmed by the Treaty of Berlin, signed July 13, 1878, which robbed Russia of nearly all the advantages which it had gained under the terms of the Treaty of San Stefano at the close of the war.

Although Roumania had not sought territorial acquisitions when it aided Russia, but merely the recognition of its independence from Turkey, the powers forced Turkey by the Treaty of Berlin to cede to Roumania the barren and defenceless district of the Dobradja, between the Danube and the Black Sea, which had been part of Bulgarian territory under Turkish rule. When the recent Balkan war broke out it was clearly understood that Bulgaria had designs upon the Dobradja, which since 1878 has become a prosperous and valuable possession. Roumania, in 1913 sent a circular note to the powers declaring that Roumania would maintain strict neutrality, but could not remain indifferent to any change in the status quo established by the Treaty of Berlin. The powers replied that no change would be permitted and Bulgaria gave assurance that no such change was contemplated. On the strength of these assurances Roumania remained neutral but determined to insist upon its rights should any attempt be made to change the frontier line in favor of Bulgaria in the course of the readjustment inevitable under the circumstances as a result of the defeat of Turkey in the recent war.

SLEEPY TOM'S PREDICTION.

Bristol, Tenn., April 19.—Real terror prevails among the negroes and superstitious whites of this vicinity because of the prediction of a disastrous cyclone, which a local "prophet" says will destroy the city tomorrow. "Sleepy" Tom Clark, a Confederate veteran, has predicted storms and disasters with such success that there are many here who believe that he has supernatural powers. His title is due to his tendency to fall asleep while on duty in the army. In 1900 he predicted that the world would come to an end in 1915. He declares that this forecast still stands.

Happenings Due Next Week

Washington, D. C., April 19.—The largest vessel in the world, the Cunard liner Aquitania, will be launched Monday at Clydebank, Glasgow. The great ship will be of 50,000 tons displacement and is to cost $10,000,000. She will be placed in service between Liverpool and New York about the beginning of next year.

Other interesting events of the week abroad will be the opening of the grand opera season in London, the international Eucharistic Congress at Malta, and the opening of the Ghent Exposition in Belgium. The last-named event is of international interest, since several foreign countries are represented, including the United States.

A conference committee with authority to speak for the 340 two railroads east of Chicago and north of the Ohio River will meet with the heads of the Order of Railway Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen in New York on Tuesday to settle wage demands. These demands were presented last January. They are said to be for standard wage rates for men performing the same service on roads of similar grades, and to include a demand for a 15 per cent. increase.

After six years of service as British Ambassador at Washington, James Bryce will say good-bye to the capital on Friday, and set forth for the Orient by way of New York and San Francisco. Friday evening the Pilgrims of the United States will give a banquet in his honor at the Waldorf-Astoria at New York.

The American Commission for the Study of Vocational Education, composed of delegates from the States of the United States and the Provinces of Canada, will leave New York Saturday for a 90 days' tour. The itinerary includes Italy, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Switzerland, France, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Sweden, Russia, the Balkan States, England and Ireland.

Alice Cornelia Thaw, of Pittsburgh, known as Mrs. Copley Thaw since her divorce from the Earl of Yarmouth in 1908, will be married to Geoffrey G. Whitney, of Boston, at Cumberland Island, Ga., on Tuesday.

Another interesting wedding of the week will be that of Miss Alys Appleton Meyer, younger daughter of the former Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. George L. von Meyer, and Lieut. Raymond Rodgers, U. S. N., which is to take place Friday in Washington.

The Panama Canal tolls controversy will form the leading subject of discussion at the seventh annual meeting of the American Society of International Law, which will assemble in Washington Thursday for a three days' session.

Other meetings of the week will include those of the national council of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, in Washington; the National Federation of Musical Clubs, in Chicago; the Southern Sociological Congress, in Atlanta; the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, in Philadelphia, and the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, in Boston.

SYSTEMATIC SAVING

"The man who does not and cannot save money cannot and will not do anything else worth while."—Carnegie.

It is not the easiest thing in the world to save money. To become independent one must pay the price. To save money there are two things which are very important—having a definite object in view and being systematic. These two things go hand in hand.

Having an object will help you to concentrate your efforts and bend all your energies in the desired direction. "Concentration is the secret of strength," said Emerson. A man of only average ability with concentration, can accomplish more than a man of unusual talents without it. Moreover, system and an objective will give you enthusiasm and that is the power which drives our mental machinery.

The tendency sometimes is to give up attempts to save when it seems hard, but save five per cent. of your income if you cannot do any better. That will be a good start.

Even as the most successful business enterprises are the best orginized and managed, so the individual who uses forethought and system in the handling of his personal financial affairs is the most likely to make satisfactory progress.

If you know just what you are spending each day you will quickly learn where you can reduce your expenses enough to put money in the bank.

A certain banker gives this practical illustration of systematic thrift:

"I have in mind a young man about twenty years of age working as a slate maker in a quarry who is one of our regular depositors in the savings department. During a period of four years just past he has deposited each month an average of $25.00, a total of $1,200 for the period, or $300 per year. This is a good yearly saving, considering the average of steady work for him is nine months out of the year.

"Periodically this young man withdraws $500 and invests in good bonds yielding a fair interest. Since the inauguration of his saving habit, about four years ago, he has accumulated $2,500 in such securities, and if he maintains his average savings for several years to come he will undoubtedly have the nucleus of a small fortune and be in a position to establish himself comfortably in the world.

"Such an example of thrift is worthy of imitation and is unquestionably the surest way to become independent."

GRIEF FOLLOWED MARRIAGE FEAST

Little David Meyers Passed Away a Few Hours After His Sister Became Bride.

DIED IN MOTHER'S ARMS

Acute Peritonitis Cause of His End—Funeral Services Tomorrow Afternoon at the Temple Baptist Church.

Following the happy festivities of a marriage cermony Saturday night, the celebration of which was prolonged into the early hours of yesterday morning, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Meyers, of 719 East Sixth street, became a scene of deep mourning over the death of the youngest of its members: David, their nine-year-old son, had passed away, his death becoming known at 3 o'clock yesterday morning when his mother, who had been sleeping with her arms encircled about her beloved one's neck, awoke and discovered life extinct when she kissed and spoke to him. A few hours previously Miss Helen Meyers had become the wife of George Huff.

The bride, going to the bedside of her brother, who had retired early because he was feeling indisposed, noticed a slight rattle in the boy's throat, and said to her parent: "Mother, that sounds just like the death rattle."

Mrs. Meyers replied, "Oh Helen, don't talk so foolish." The bride, still gowned in her wedding frock, kissed her brother and retired. Shortly after 1 o'clock, the mother referring to a pain in her son's stomach asked how he felt and the little fellow replied: "I feel all right mother." The mother bathed his throat with liniment and the rattling stopped. Requested to lie on his stomach so his mother could bath his back with the fluid the boy declined assistance but rolled over in that position. As he stirred he gave three gasps for breath and then lay quiet. After caring for him further, his mother wrapped her arms about him and went to sleep. Awakening shortly before 3 o'clock she asked him if he felt better, and on receiving no answer reached over and kissed him. The lips were cold. Dreading to believe her fears, she called to other members of the family. Physicians were summoned. They pronounced the boy dead. Acute peritonitis was the cause.

The disease which caused the little fellow's end is thought to have been the result of a strain sustained last Wednesday when he fell into Cedar Brook and was nearly drowned. He was playing beside the stream with several other boys near the Rushmore Dynamo Works when suddenly parts of the bank gave way and David was thrown into the little stream.

The waters of the brook, swelled high as the result of the recent rainfall, were running at high speed under the bridge near the Rushmore factory. The Meyer boy was dashed with great force against this small span, unto which he held to prevent himself from being washed down stream. He was rescued in a semi-conscious condition by his playmates, and taken home.

The next day, apparently little the worse for his experience, David went to school, and Saturday afternoon went to the Centre street baseball diamond to see the ball game between the Y. M. A. A. nine and the aggregation of the Park Avenue Baptist church. Feeling unwell he returned home before the end of the contest.

Telling his mother that he had a slight pain in his right side, the boy retired to his room. He ate supper with the family as usual, and again sought the solitude of his room. Shortly after 8 o'clock he witnessed the marriage ceremony of his sister, and returned to bed.

Young Meyers was a popular pupil of the Lincoln School. It is probable that his schoolmates will act as pall bearers at the funeral services which will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Temple Baptist church. Rev. Evarts C. Conover, the pastor, will officiate. Interment will be made in Hillside cemetery.

FUNERAL OF MRS. E. F. STIRES.

The funeral service of Mrs. Elnor F. Stires will be held at the late residence, 49 Brook avenue, at 8 o'clock tonight. Rev. J. Y. Broek, of Trinity Reformed church, will officiate. The burial will be at Quakertown, this State.

FEAST OF PASSOVER BEGINS THIS EVENING

With Sunset Starts the Eight Days' Festival Known to Hebrews as Pesach.

At sunset this evening, the celebration of Pesach the Feast of the Passover, will begin in the Jewish households throughout the world. Pesach is the Spring festival of the Jews, and was specially ordained to commemorate the providential deliverance of the children of Israel from the bondage in which they had been held for many years under the Pharaohs of Egypt. This was accomplished under the leadership of the great leader, Moses.

Pesach is the first festival of the Pewish ecclesiastical year. It begins on fourteenth day of the first month, designated Nisan. It was one of the three great feasts when in Biblical times the Jews throughout Palestine journeyed to Jerusalem to take part in the religious rites at the Temple and make their offerings there. The festival lasts eight days. The first two and the last two days are held as holy days by the orthodox Jews, there being no special observance of the intervening days. During the whole period of the festival it is forbidden to the Jews to eat any bread or anything leaven, or to have any such food or provisions in their habitations. The place of bread is taken by matzoth or unleavened cakes prepared for use during the festival. From this observance the festival is also known as the Feast of Unleavened Bread. This is because in the hurried departure of the children of Israel from Egypt they had no time to bake bread for their journey.

TWO ELECTRICIANS HURT WHILE AT THEIR WORK

Frank Audley, of 340 East 146th street, New York, and Edward Mahnken, of 581 Teasdale avenue, New York, electricians employed at work on Louis K. Hyde's new house on Mountain avenue, the borough, were taken to Muhlenberg Hospital early this afternoon, both suffering from lacerated wounds of the arms.

The men were working close together installing some electrical equipment, when a concussion cap suddenly exploded. The wounds while not considered serious were of such a nature that prompt medical attention was required.

When the men reached the hospital they were admitted to the dispensary, where Dr. Grimberg, the house physician, gave antitoxin treatment and dressed the wounds. The victims left the institution soon afterwards, but they will return this afternoon for a further treatment and an X-ray examination.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MISS MARGARET LARMOUR

The funeral of Miss Margaret Larmour, who died last Thursday at the home of her parents on West Sixth street, after a long illness, was held yesterday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock at the Church of the Heavenly Rest. Rev. C. H. Mallery, rector of the church, officiated. The church was filled. There was a large display of floral tributes.

The remains were borne by six young men, friends of the young woman. The usual burial service of the Episcopal church was held the hymns sung being "The Saints of God Their Conflict Past," "On the Resurrection Morning," and "Abide With Me."

Mr. Mallery made a short address on the character of Miss Larmour, speaking especially of her patience and social disposition throughout her long illness, her devotion to God and her religion and concluded by speaking of her as an example of Christian piety and character that should inspire others to imitate. Miss Laramour was a communicant of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, and the Sunday school and her class sent floral tributes. The burial was in Hillside cemetery.

WHITE SHOWER FOR MISS FANNY THORN

Franklin School Teacher Was Surprised by Twelve of Her Friends.

Miss Fanny Thorn, of West Sixth street, was tendered a white shower at the home of the Misses Ruth and Helen Sadler, on East Sixth street, Saturday afternoon by twelve of her friends, the affair being a complete surprise, having been previously arranged by the Misses Sadler. Miss Thorn received many useful gifts which were uniquely arranged in a large punch bowl in the centre of a table. Each of the guests found a favor at her place attached to a streamer coming from the punch bowl and when these streamers were pulled each received a carnation with the exception of Miss Thorn, her streamer being connected with a large bundle if linen, the gifts of her friends, a number of whom are teachers with Miss Thorn in the Franklin School.

SLAIN MAN'S SPOUSE HELD AS A WITNESS

Learning that Mrs. Thomas Deers, of 217 West Third street, wife of Thomas Deers, colored, who was killed Saturday night, April 12, was contemplating leaving town to make her home in other parts of the country, the local police caused her apprehension Saturday as a material witness to appear against Matéio Papalillo, of 213 West Third street, who is in the county jail, charged with the crime. She was held this morning by City Judge De Meza in bonds of $1,000. Up to the present time no one has furnished the bail and it is probable that she will be committed to the county jail. She was arrested by Detective-Sergeant Flynn.

DIME NOVELS CAUSED THESE BOYS TO RUN AWAY

John Riley, 14 years old, and John Taylor, 15 years old, both of Bayonne, arrested Saturday night by Detective-Sergeant John Flynn on a technical charge of vagrancy, were taken home yesterday morning by their respective parents, who were notified of their capture. According to the parents the youths had run away.

Questioned by Flynn, the boys said they were bound for the West, where they were going to seek fortunes and "make a man of themselves." They said they intended to board a freight train bound for the West. It is believed the runaways' minds were wrought up by dime novels. The Riley boy and with him a pamphlet of the "five cent" variety entitled, "Fron Newsboy to Millionaire." Each had but several dollars on their persons

MISS ABBOTT SPEAKS ON MONTESSORI SYSTEM

Miss Abbott, of the Teachers College, New York, in an address at the Plainfield High School, Saturday night, compared the American kindergarten methods with those of the Montessori system of teaching, and in her opinion the American plan answers present-day needs very well. She believed that the Italian method will have to be vastly improved before it can take the place of the method now used in the public schools.

Miss Abbott gave an interesting comparison of the two methods, pointing out the advantages in each and then in conclusion she showed where the American method is to be preferred over that of the Italian.

AGREE TO SEPARATE.

John Seay, 142 Johnson avenue, an employe in the city street department, was arraigned before City Judge De Meza this morning, on complaint of his wife, who charged that on Saturday night he struck her several times. It is said that Seay and his wife have agreed to separate, and that the alimony is what puzzles them. The disposition of the case was deferred by City Judge De Meza until tomorrow morning, when additional facts being obtained by the police will be presented.

Ernest Conover, of Elmwood place, who has been ill with scarlet fever, is much improved and is now able to be about his room.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Jenson, of the Mountain Inn, Somerset street, are parents of a ten pound boy, born to them yesterday.

DRUGGIST WEDDED PHILADELPHIA GIRL

William L. Pratt Takes Miss Lillian E. Rhodes as His Bride.

Miss Lillian E. Rhodes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rhodes, of Philadelphia, and William L. Pratt, son of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Pratt, of 1111 Putnam avenue, this city, were married Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's cousin, Miss Sarah Roberts, 163 Gratz street, Philadelphia. The ceremony was performed in the presence of about thirty relatives and friends by the bridegroom's father, who is a retired Baptist clergyman.

Miss Florence E. Rhodes, of Philadelphia, a sister of the bride, was the bridemaid, and Irving J. Pratt, of this city, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. An informal reception followed. The bride received a large number of gifts from relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Pratt returned to this city yesterday and for the present will reside with the bridegroom's parents on Putnam avenue. Mr. Pratt is a graduate of Medico-Chi, Philadelphia, and conducts a drug store on Watchung avenue here.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD HOUSE WAS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Fire, which was caused by a defective flue, practically destroyed a house occupied by Thomas Johnson at South Plainfield, yesterday morning at 1 o'clock. The upper half of the structure was occupied by a Polish family, and while Mr. Johnson's household goods were saved, it was impossible to reach the upper floor and rescue the belongings of the Polish family.

Mrs. Johnson first awakened her husband and told him that the house was on fire, but before he could get dressed, the blaze had gained such headway that he was helpless to save the dwelling. The loss amounted to about $[illegible].

Fire Chief William J. Hamilton was in Plainfield at the time, and Assistant Chief P. F. Waine responded with the local department. The firemen were handicapped because there is no hydrant nearby from which water could be secured to fight the flames. Carl Hansen while joining in the rescue work severely injured his hand and James Galligan got a hot cinder in his eye and was obliged to seek the services of a physician.

The house was owned by Cort Myer, of New York, it being one of the oldest in the village. It is said that the dwelling was not covered by insurance.

MISS FRESCOLN BRIDE OF GEORGE M. MILLER

Miss Alice Eleanor Frescoln, daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. M. Luther Frescoln, of New Market road, Dunellen, was married Saturday night at her home to George M. Miller, also of that place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ernest Brown, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Miss Jacintha Frescoln, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Leroy Miller, of Walden, N. Y., was best man. The bride was gowned in white charmeuse with lace trimming and carried a bouquet of white carnations and roses. She was given in marriage by her father. Following the wedding feast the newly-weds left for Washington, D. C., and Old Point Comfort, Va., where they will spend their honeymoon, and upon their return will reside at North avenue, Dunellen.

SELL ELIZABETH STORE.

Through Isaac E. Giles, a local broker, Woodhull & Martin have sold their business located at Elizabeth. The concern has only been established about two years, in which time it has made a remarkable showing. In the future the business will be operated by an incorporated company, still retaining the Woodhull & Martin name. In addition to the store now used by the present owners, the new company will take on much more additional floor space. The business will be under the management of Thomas Chandler, of New York. This and other sales and exchanges made in the last eighteen months by Mr. Giles aggregate nearly $300,000.

Miss Isabella Fraser, of Invergordan Rosshire, Scotland, a teacher in the public schools there, is visiting her uncle, Robert Muraay, of West Front street. Miss Fraser is enjoying a nine months' vacation, and has been visiting relatives in Connecticut, Long Island and West Point, gaining much valuable information as to American methods of teaching. Miss Fraser will return home about June 1.

WILLIAMS OUTLINES COMMISSION PLAN

Church Men's Club Hears Details of Walsh Act and Its Workings.

Reviewing in an interesting way the progress of commission form of government from its inception at Galveston, Texas, to the present day, Howard H. Williams, of this city, addressed the Men's Club of the Seventh-Day Baptist church last night. His talk was not in the nature of making a plea for the adoption of the commission plan, but was simply a straightforward explanation of the details of the form and pointing out the advantages to be gained.

After he had given a general review of the commission government idea, Mr. Williams explained in detail the Walsh act which enables cities in New Jersey to adopt the scheme and also told how it would apply to Plainfield. He told of the success of the plan in Cedar Rapids, Mich., a city of about the size of Plainfield.

Probably the most interesting part of the meeting followed when there was an informal discussion of the subject as presented by Mr. Williams. There was a difference of opinion freely expressed in a good natured way, which served to bring out the good points and what were considered disadvantages of the commission plan of government. At the close the speaker was given a vote of thanks and elected an honorary member of the club.

During a business session of the club it was voted to co-operate with the Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. ANTI-FLY CAMPAIGNERS SCOURED CITY SATURDAY

Over 200 Boy Scouts and Plainfield High School boys under the direction of Charles R. Bostwick, Lindsey Best and Allen E. Beals, made a tour of inspection in Plainfield Saturday, visiting and making reports on houses and premises in ten districts. Thus the first shot in the fly campaign being waged by the local Board of Health with a co-operative committee of citizens was fired in the campaign to exterminate the disease-breeding pest. Banners have been strung at intersections of three important streets and the city merchants have painted the fly slogan on their show windows in some cases, bringing the movement to the attention of their patrons and those who pass their stores.

Circulars describing the campaign work were distributed about the various stores in town this morning by George L. Babcock and are displayed in prominent places inside the stores. These circulars supply information wanted by the householder in an effort to do away with the fly and suggest certain remedies for fly breeding places.

Some of the suggestions which have been made by the local committee to prevent the flies spreading are as follows:

Keep the manure, while it is in the stable, in a closed bin or pit.

Screen stables if possible.

Remove the manure at least twice a week.

Every time the stalls are cleaned and the manure placed in the pit or bin sprinkle it with dry plaster (powdered gypsum) or slaked lime.

Be sure that you sprinkle the cracks and crevices of the bin or pit as well as the cracks between the planking of the stall floors.

If flies begin to breed in stored manure they may be killed by thoroughly spraying it with kerosene or paris green and then pouring on enough water to wash the oil or poison well in.

The objection to the use of kerosene is that it ruins the manure for fertilizing purposes. A solution of iron sulphate (one pound to a gallon), applied at the rate of one gallon a day in a stable where one horse is kept, will kill all the maggots. It costs about $1 per 100 pounds, so that the cost of keeping flies from breeding in a one horse stable is about 1 cent a day.

It is well to abolish old fashioned outhouses where possible. Where this cannot be done a liberal amount of lime should be used, applied in small amounts daily. Chloride of lime is better than slaked lime, but slaked lime is better than none at all.

Garbage cans should be thoroughly cleaned after emptying, and the contents should be sprinkled with crude oil, lime or kerosene oil.

THE PROPOSED BUDGET EXPLAINS WHY TAX RATE WILL TAKE BIG JUMP

Increase of Sixteen Points Likely and Rate Will Be at Least $1.84 for all Departments Demand More Money—Where the Funds Will Go.

TOTAL NEEDED FOR ALL PURPOSES $496,000

After spending several weeks in preparing the annual budget, the Councilmanic finance committee, of which Charles C. Randolph is the chairman, will present these figures at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council tonight when the customary tax ordinance will be introduced. As stated exclusively in the Daily Press of Saturday the city is facing a probable increase in tax rate of between fifteen and twenty points, and this fact has aroused unusual interest on the part of taxpayers in general.

The city's tax rate last year was $1.68, and it is estimated that the rate for the coming year will be at least $1.84, which would mean an increase of sixteen points. According to the finance committee, there are many things that have combined to increase the amount of money needed by the city. Nearly every department wants more money, the Board of Health has asked for an extra appropriation of $2,000, the public library directors want an extra appropriation of $10,000, there have been an increase in the salaries of firemen and policemen, while the public schools want a substantial increase and steps have been taken to issue street improvement bonds representing several thousand dollars, in addition to street bonds already approved. Last year the city raised for general purposes, $79,000. This year it is estimated that the amount will be $95,000.

The finance committee has worked hard to cut down all unnecessary expense, but still there is a marked increase. It is estimated that the total amount to be raised for all purposes will be $496,000, on an estimated total valuation of $27,000,000, as against $26,300,000 last year.

The chances are that the proposed bond issue of $14,000 for macadamizing certain streets will have to be held up, as there are $30,000 worth of street improvement bonds to be paid off this year. Besides, the Common Council recently approved a bond issue for $27,000 for street improvements, which may have to be reduced considerably.

Instead of the public library receiving $10,000 as requested, it will probably be given an extra $1,000, while it is planned to give the Board of Health $1,000 extra, instead of $2,000 as requested. The appropriation for the fire department is made $50,000, but with the understanding that a new auto-fire engine be purchased. As the streets of the city are greatly in need of repair and to cover work that is considered as positively necessary, it is proposed to increase the appropriation for that department $7,000.

As the Board of Education has not yet made its requisition for an appropriation the amount cannot be estimated in the budget as yet. Last year the appropriation was $88,000. It is understood that the board wants $20,000 extra this year, but there is some doubt as to that increase being granted.

Other items of expense that must be taken care of this year is the interest on the sewer and sinking fund bonds as well as that on the macadamizing bonds.

Considerable criticism has been heard concerning the work of macadamizing streets in the extreme residential sections on streets where there are but a very few houses. It is argued that some of this property will not be developed for several years to come and there is no urgent need for extending the street improvements at present. The various amounts appropriated last year and those practically decided upon for the coming year are as follows:

Streets	$50,000	$43,000
Police	35,000	30,000
Fire	50,000	44,000
Lights	18,000	16,000
Public Library	10,000	9,000
Board of Health	8,000	7,500
Alms	7,500	7,500
Public Schools (not fixed)		88,000

Amount to be raised for general purposes, $95,000, as against $79,000 in 1912. Total amount to be raised for all purposes, estimated, $496,000. Last year's total assessed valuation, $26,300,000; this year's total assessed valuation, estimated, $27,000,000.

At the conclusion of the conference dinner was partaken of at the Ten Eyck House. At the conclusion of the repast a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Scully for the generous manner in which he had entertained his guests.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Barnes have returned from their wedding trip.

The K. O. E. A. of the Baptist church will hold a meeting on Thursday evening at which Dr. W. H. Merrell wil give his final talk on First Aid. The committee on May Day festival will render its report, and the session will conclude with games and refreshments.

The wedding of Thomas Meich and Miss Agnes Scivers, both of this place, will take place at the Church of the Immaculate Conception on Wednesday morning. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Father Ryan.

The fair under the auspices of the members of St. Bernard's church, which begins tonight at St. Bernard's Hall, promises a week of entertainment of unusual note. Nothing has been left undone by the committee in charge for the success of the affair. The week's program will include the following: Mayor Wittpenn, of Jersey City, will open the fair this evening, which will be followed by a sketch, entitled "The Little Red Mare;" Tuesday evening will be "Alumni Night," and a "Country Fair and Circus" will be exhibited; Wednesday evening has been designed as "Parish Night," and will be the gala night of the week, among the attractions being an old-fashioned minstrel; Thursday evening will be "Firemen's Night," and a vaudeville sketch will be produced; Friday evening the Holy Name Society will be in charge and there will be something unusual doing. Saturday evening, the last night of the fair, will be known as the "Children of Mary and Rosary Night." Excellent music will be a feature each evening.

SALE OF RARE BOOKS.

New York April 21.—Book experts from Europe as well as America gathered in New York today for the opening of the sale of the fine Napoleonia library of William J. Latta, of Philadelphia. The collection embraces hundreds of volumes relating to Napoleon, his family, his marshals and other persons who figured prominently during the Napoleonic period. In the collection there is also a large number of portraits, more than 3,000 being portraits of Bonaparte himself, together with many interesting and valuable autographs and documents. Among the earlier Napoleon documents are some signed by Bonaparte when he was only a lieutenant in the French army.

SHAKESPEARE

Was asked why he wrote plays, he replied: "One must eat." Perhaps it's one of the reasons why we sell clothing and "Most Things Men Wear"—but a more important one is because we like to.

And the thing we like to do is the thing we do well.

Only a store that takes pride in its products could assemble garments to equal what we have here for you this Spring and Summer.

DOG MEAT CONSIDERED LUXURY BY THE INDIANS.

New Custom of Germans Long Practiced in United States.

The use of dog flesh as a food for man is becoming common even in the capital, said a recent news item from Berlin, but the Germans are only adopting a food considered a substantial diet for centuries by some American Indian tribes.

In Oklahoma the Cheyennes and Arapahoes and the Sacs and Foxes are dog eaters, and the few white men who have eaten dog flesh while visiting with these Indians say that it is not unlike other meats when cooked. Old timers among the plains Indians, scouts, trappers and frontiersmen generally, who have eaten dog flesh with these tribes, pronounce it good.

The eating of dog meat by the Indians, however, is a centuries old custom. The Cheyennes and Arapahoes are dog eaters, yet the dog feasts held by the Sac and Fox tribes are a part of a religious ceremony which the tribes followed when they owned the country all around Lake Michigan and were the lords of the forests wherever they roamed.

By white men the secret order among the Sac and Fox Indians, which annually celebrates with a dog feast, is known as the "otter skin" order, the name being adopted from the use of otter skins during the celebration of the order's various ceremonies. They hold in great reverence the several hundred otter skins possessed by the tribe and say they have been handed down during many generations.

DIVINING RODS ARE SUCCESS.

French Peasants Find Subterranean Water In Odd Way.

The results of the first series of experiments with the divining rod before the congress of experimental psychology at Paris recently are remarkable. The first tests were devoted to examining the diviners' claims to be able to detect underground cavities.

Four wielders of the mysterious rod were taken to a disused quarry in Vincennes wood and were invited to point out the subterranean galleries and shafts and to show their direction.

A peasant from south France was the first diviner. He carried a long, supple hazel wand with a forked end, which he kept near the ground, and walked forward, his wand trembling slightly. The fork suddenly twitched. The peasant announced that the cavity begins "here," then indicated the limits of the cavity, adding "it is fifty feet deep and quite dry." These details were found to be correct.

Tests of water finding were made at Sartrouville, where two springs, the positions of which were only known to the judge, were sought as well as the water supply of the city, which passes under the district. The competitors not only showed the positions of the springs, but also their approximate output.

RADIUM AS ELIXIR OF LIFE.

Berlin Doctor Asserts That It Restores Hardened Arteries.

The claim that radium can restore the hardened arteries of middle aged persons to a healthy condition and so prolong life was made by Dr. Saubermann of Berlin in a lecture in London before the Roentgen society recently.

If the theory is correct it will be possible for a few dollars to buy a radium apparatus which will manufacture an elixir of youth.

The apparatus consists of an earthenware receptacle containing a minute amount of radium, which is placed at the bottom of a glass bottle. The bottle is filled with water. In the course of time the water becomes charged with radium emanations.

The radium remains active for hundreds of years, so it is only necessary to renew the water in order to get any number of doses.

NEW PROCESS TO MAKE STEEL

Industry to Be Revolutionized, Says London Report.

The steel industry will be revolutionized if the claims of a recently invented process of manufacturing it prove to be true. According to the announcement, a process has been discovered for converting iron ore of any grade, including the heretofore useless iron sands, into steel of the best quality. The feature of the new process is that blast furnaces will be done away with, thus saving enormous fuel bills.

Tests which have been made recently have produced remarkable results. The ore is reduced by heat obtained from a gas, which in its turn is produced from slack. It is said that by the new process the cost of manufacturing steel will be reduced to one-third of its present figure.

WIRELESS CAUSES DISEASE.

German Physicians Discover a New Ailment.

To the list of adjuncts of modern life that bring new diseases is now added radiotelegraphy.

The German physicians who have just discovered the disease call it wireless sickness. It consists of anaemia with a marked diminution in the number of red corpuscles in the blood. The doctors ascribe it partly to the unhygienic surroundings of wireless operators, who generally work in tiny rooms, and partly to the overetherization of the air they breathe by reason of the alternating currents used to generate the waves.

WHERE CREDIT BELONGS.

In a large measure the Chamber of Commerce deserves credit for the decision of the Councilmanic committee to recommend better street lighting facilities. For years, this improvement has been needed, but the discussion has been allowed to drag along without any results being accomplished. Not until the Chamber of Commerce interested itself was anything really done and then things began to move in the right way.

Now, if the Chamber will direct its attention to the matter of municipal collection and disposal of garbage, we may expect something definite. For twelve long years the Board of Health has been asking for this improvement and during the same period householders have been clamoring for it. About all that has been done has been to get bids on the contract plan. They were considered too high and the matter was dropped.

How much good is going to be accomplished by this "Swat the Fly" campaign, so long as the present conditions prevail as to garbage? It is not enough to have the receptacles properly cleaned and covered with screens, for it is most important that due precautions be taken in removing such refuse. The present practise is a disgrace to any city, especially to one of the boasted standard of Plainfield. Take a look any day at one of the garbage wagons and then dare to say that you are not ashamed that such a condition is tolerated, much less sanctioned in our city.

The Chamber of Commerce has in this matter another fine opportunity to show that it is a live body and to do a good work.

THE PASSOVER.

The celebration of the Hebrew Feast of Pesach, or the Passover, will be begun at sunset this evening by the Jewish people throughout the world. The celebration continues for eight days, though only the first two days and the last two are of special import to the Orthodox Jews, while with those who have accepted the modern, or reform dispensation, the first and the last day are the only ones observed. The Passover, which is also known as the Feast of the Unleavened Bread, was instituted to commemorate the departure of the Children of Israel from Egypt, under the leadership of Moses, where they had been held in bondage for upward of 400 years. There are many ancient customs observed by the Jewish people in connection with the Passover. The chief feature of the celebration, however, is the substitution of matzos, or unleavened cakes, prepared for the purpose, for bread in the household of the orthodox Jews.

More musical instruments, particularly a player-piano, are wanted for the entertainment of the patients at Bonnie Burn sanitorium. Phonograph records are also desired. Can you help the cause in any way?

"REPRESENTATIVE GOV'T."

The New Brunswick Home News makes an unanswerable statement when it asserts:

"One objection that is frequently advanced to the commission form of government is that it destroys 'representative government.' There is really nothing to this argument. A municipality is its own unit and there is utterly no reason for making artificial units called 'wards.' The boroughs and townships elect their governing bodies at large, and generally get pretty fair representative government,' and the cities could do exactly the same thing."

Montclair's new municipal building will be ready for occupancy by May 1. It cost $100,000. They do things right in Montclair.

FIRE ON THE WATCHUNG HILLS LOOKED THERATENING

Several summer homes, including that of Champlain L. Riley, and the property of the Watchung Stone Company, located on the mountains, were threatened with serious damage last night as a result of the fires started by some careless persons. The flames spread rapidly through the underbrush and young trees devastating a tract of twenty acres. Toward night it assumed such proportions that the Watchung fire department was summoned, several firemen who were attending service at the Wilson Memorial chapel being called out to fight the flames.

There was a strong wind blowing and a number of dwellings were threatened. After a couple hours of hard work, the firemen finally succeeded in getting the blaze under control and by means of a bucket brigade extinguished it before it reached any of the houses in the vicinity.

DICTOGRAPH THAT TALKS IS LATEST

Can Repeat Everything It "Hears."

PHONOGRAPH IS EMPLOYED.

Sensitive Air Cushion Apparatus Transmits Sounds to Wax Records. Range of the Instrument Is as Great as That of the Telephone, the Inventor Asserts.

A dictograph that can repeat everything it hears has been invented. It is a combination of the dictograph, the telephone and the phonograph.

K. M. Turner of New York, inventor of the original form of dictograph, also evolved the newest detector of conspiracy and crime. He has been demonstrating it recently at his laboratory in Flushing, N. Y.

The secret of how to build such a self recording dictograph has been sought diligently ever since the little instrument that made Detective Burns famous was placed upon the market eight years ago. In his cases in court Burns has been forced up to the present to submit stenographic notes, the authenticity of which he has had to prove.

Eight Years' Work.

For eight years Mr. Turner worked on the invention. For over seven and a half of them he sought to connect the diaphragm of the dictograph directly to the needle of a phonographic roll, but got no results. Several weeks ago he began experimenting with an air cushion between the diaphragm and the needle instead of a direct connection and at once obtained a full and natural reproduction of the voice.

In Mr. Turner's laboratory at Flushing a conversation in a room supplied with a dictograph was recorded in another room. The experiments conducted a few days later were the first to which the public has been invited.

Mr. Turner explained that the new invention as applied to business means that it is now possible for a business man to sit at his desk and dictate his letters in his ordinary tone of voice and have them taken down on phonographic rolls 100 feet or 1,000 feet away.

He might even remain at home if he had a direct wire connection with his office and do his dictating in his bedroom or his library. The only limit of the self recording dictograph, Mr. Turner insisted, was that now recognized in the transmission of conversations by telephone.

Accurate Reproduction.

A man standing five feet from the dictograph spoke in a low voice directly into the palm of his hand, a few inches away from his mouth, to prevent the sound traveling in any particular direction.

A series of bulletins giving the result of a political meeting was dictated, and Mr. Turner burst in at intervals with applause and a bit of whistling. The phonograph in a room 100 feet away repeated accurately the whole series of bulletins, the applause and the whistles.

"There's a chance here," said Mr. Turner, "for newspapers to eliminate the time loss between big convention halls and their offices. Typesetters working from these rolls could pass the matter almost directly from the speakers to the printing presses."

In detective work Mr. Turner said that the absence of the self recording feature had proved an almost insurmountable difficulty. It had been necessary to make the instruments so that two detectives instead of one could listen to what was being repeated by the dictograph.

In some court cases the dictograph's evidence had been thrown out because a single detective's transcription of the record was thought to be hardly reliable enough for a conviction.

"But now the judge can listen to the phonograph in the courtroom," said Mr. Turner, "and he can tell each man's natural voice. The dictograph will identify each man who has spoken in a room where it has been at work."

Catches Whispers.

To test this Mr. Turner asked four men to converse among themselves at some distance from a dictograph. They did so, their conversation at times falling to a whisper.

In the phonographic reproduction the voices of each could be distinguished, but the whispered conversations became indistinct if carried on more than five feet away from the dictograph.

These whispers, however, Mr. Turner said, would be clearly heard by a person listening to the dictograph, but would not make an impression on the disk, as the pressure of the needle would be too slight.

In detective work, however, the dictograph would be equipped both with listening and recording instruments, so that the listeners could write out in shorthand the fainter portions of the conversation. More sensitive plates may yet be devised, capable of catching and recording these whispers.

EATON ALMOST BLEW UP SHIPS

So Declares Writer In a Nautical Journal.

NEARLY RAMMED OREGON.

Supply Vessel, Under Late Admiral's Command and Loaded With Deadly Explosives, Barely Missed Colliding With Big Battleship and Sinking Both, Author Asserts.

Much comment has been created recently in naval circles by an article in which it is related how the great battleship Oregon was very nearly destroyed during the Spanish-American war by the supply ship Resolute, commanded by the late Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton.

Added interest is given to the story by the notoriety which has followed his death and by the fact that his widow, Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, recently was indicted for his murder and is at Plymouth, Mass., awaiting trial on that charge. The article appears in a nautical journal, Master, Mate and Pilot, under the fictitious signature of "Lieutenant B. B. McG." In part it is as follows:

"It was on June 5, only a few days after the Oregon anchored off Santiago and her memorable voyage had become history, that the Resolute, carrying mail for the fleet, hove in sight. In our fore peak and against the fore bulkhead were piled forty mines, each containing 500 pounds of gun cotton. Twenty charges for the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius, containing 10,000 pounds of gun cotton, were on the deck below.

Powerful Combustibles.

"Just aft of this was 300 pounds of gunpowder for the great guns of the fleet. Still farther aft were thousands of rounds of rapid fire ammunition for six pounders and four and six inch guns, while on the upper deck in one of the cabins was 250 pounds of dry gun cotton and detonators for the war heads of torpedoes—the full complement of twenty-five battleships.

"We steamed down the line of blockading ships and delivered orders and mail to the vessels of the squadron. Arriving at the western end of the line, we came about and steamed back to the eastward, toward Guantanamo, which was our station. The Oregon at this time was near the center of the line, about opposite the harbor entrance, lying with her bow toward the shore and rolling heavily in the swell raised by a monsoon. We steamed full speed toward her, pointing for her about amidships.

Held Straight Course.

"I was off duty and chanced to be standing aft, near the engine room hatch. Near me Passed Assistant Engineer Louis L. Bernier was leaning against the rail, gazing ahead of the Oregon. It looked as if we would pass her very close if we sheered off at once, but we held straight on our course, heading right at her.

"Lieutenant Bernier had been chief engineer of the Resolute—she was formerly the Yorktown—for many years, so he knew to an inch was she could and would do under any condition.

"I saw him look hard ahead, then jump for the engine room hatch and disappear. But a moment or two elapsed. We were rapidly nearing the Oregon, and still we held straight toward her. Then suddenly the whole ship trembled convulsively as the engines reversed at full power.

"An instant later from the bridge came the signal, 'Full speed astern.' With helm hard over we swung past the stern of the Oregon so close that I could have tossed a biscuit aboard the battleship, which looked like a vast tide rock awash in the waves.

Unaware of Danger.

"The men who lined the rail on the Oregon apparently thought nothing of the closeness of our passage, as if they deemed no unarmored craft could do her any harm, but the white faced officers on our bridge heaved one great sigh of relief. They had faced annihilation, utter, absolute.

"Until now this remarkable story has never been made public. Commander Eaton may have reported the incident to the navy department, but if he did so his officers were not so informed. Naturally we were careful to 'forget' all about it."

SOME DEVILED DISHES.

THESE are highly flavored dishes, enjoyed by those who like strongly seasoned foods.

They do not suit all and are not to be commended for those who have weak stomachs, but if devilled viands are to your taste these recipes may be of interest to you.

Piquant and Palatable.

Deviled Drumsticks.—Take the drumsticks of chickens, score them deeply with a sharp knife, spread with a mixture of made mustard, pepper, salt and a dash of cayenne. Boil over a clear fire and serve with the following sauce: Mix together three tablespoonfuls of gravy with one of butter, rubbed into a little flour, and one of lemon juice and a tablespoonful of made mustard.

Deviled Crab Meat.—Take a can of crab meat, the same amount of breadcrumbs, two tablespoonfuls of butter, the juice of half a lemon, half a teaspoonful of made mustard, a teaspoonful of salt and a dash of cayenne. Pack this mixture into shells or small individual baking dishes and cover with fine breadcrumbs. Pour over each a tablespoonful of good cream. Place the shells in a shallow baking pan and place in the oven to bake brown.

Nice For Breakfast.

Deviled Eggs.—Take eight tablespoonfuls of gravy or stock, one of Worcestershire sauce, one of mushroom ketchup, one teaspoonful of red currant jelly or chutney, one tablespoonful of lemon juice and cayenne and salt to taste. Thicken these ingredients with one small dessertspoonful of ground rice, bring to the boil, stir thoroughly and keep warm in a vessel over a saucepan of boiling water till wanted. Poach as many eggs as you wish to serve in boiling gravy. When done mask in the sauce prepared as directed and serve. Each egg may be set on a small piece of toast or grilled ham previous to being masked.

Devilled Fish.—Take one pint of any cold cooked or white fleshed fish, measuring after it has been flaked. Scald one cupful of milk, add one cupful of stale breadcrumbs and stir for several minutes. Then take from the fire. Add one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, the chopped yolks of three hard boiled eggs, a dash of cayenne, a quarter of a teaspoonful paprika, one scant teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful of onion juice. Mix thoroughly and then add the flaked fish. Fill individual dishes, cover with breadcrumbs which have been crisped and slightly colored in a little hot butter and heat in a quick oven.

By JUDIC CHOLLET

Here is a smart design for a book cover. The work can be done in solid embroidery or in outline stitch, or the main portion of the pattern can be embroidered in outline stitch, with the separate figures at the top worked solidly and their centers in French knots.

For outline stitch heavy floss is used, for solid work silk or mercerized thread.

A magazine cover, or slip on, as it is often called, in some rich fabric, is a suitable gift for a man or woman. The slip on is shaped after the lines of the magazine, with the end long enough to tack over and hold down the paper cover. It is padded, lined with some soft harmonious silk, and when in a plain color sometimes richly embroidered with the friend's monogram. For certain dull shades of plain green silk a gold monogram and gold braid about the edges would be very beautiful.

CAUGHT THE INFECTION.

The Fool Gunboat Took a Mad Freak Just Like the Moros.

Captain John E. Morris, who spent a long, long time in the Philippines chasing the Moro, tells a story about a Spanish military governor in Jolo who, in the peace of fancied security, allowed a whole flock of his soldiers to go swimming one day.

Now, the Moro has a habit of going juramatado when religion hits him. When a Moro goes juramatado he takes the most disagreeable weapon he can find and carves up the first Christian he meets.

When the Moros saw the soldiers in the water several of them thought it was the very best time to go juramatado, with the result that those soldiers never went swimming any more.

The sultan, who had charge of that particular bunch of Moros, promptly was sent for. The Spaniard wanted to know why his men were slaughtered in such manner.

"How could I help it?" the sultan asked. "They went juramatado."

Nobody wants to interfere with anybody's religion, of course, but there was a Spanish gunboat lying around loose in that immediate vicinity. The governor sent for the commander of that gunboat.

"You haven't had much target practice lately," he remarked to the naval officer, "and you might try a little. Now, a few Moros make fair targets. When I want target practice to stop I'll run up a flag, but until the flag is run up keep at it."

It was one glorious bombardment. A lot of Moros accidentally got hit, and somehow the post flag was mislaid, so it couldn't be hoisted.

It was a most excited sultan who showed up before the Spanish governor. If that gunboat didn't stop its nonsense he wouldn't be a sultan any longer, because he wouldn't have any subjects to sultan over. And he told the governor so.

"How can I help it?" demanded the governor, with some heat. "The fool boat has gone juramatado, and I can't interfere with the religion of the blamed navy."—San Francisco Chronicle.

EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS.

Malta, April 21.—Thousands of delegates from many countries are gathering here for the twenty-fourth International Eucharistic Congress. The entire island is decked with flags in honor of the great ecclesiastical assembly. The papal legate to the congress, Cardinal Domenico Farrata, is expected to arrive from Rome tomorrow morning. The serious business of the congress will begin Wednesday, when the assembly will be formally opened in the Rotunda church of Musta by Mgr. Heylen, bishop of Namur. Addresses then will be delivered setting forth the principles of the congress. Sectional meetings for the discussion of various questions affecting the welfare and progress of the Catholic Church will be held every day in St. John's Cathedral and in some of the larger churches. The last and crowning function of the congress will take place Sunday morning, when an immense procession will march from the cathedral to Floriana, where the benediction will be imparted from a tribune erected in the avenue outside Porta Reale. The service will be conducted within the view of 50,000 persons.

RAILWAY WAGE CONFERENCE.

New York, April 21.—In railroad circles the hope is expressed that before the end of the present week the controversies that have been pending for months between the Eastern roads and their employes will be in a fair way of reaching a satisfactory settlement. The arbitration board that has been considering the demands of the firemen is expected to submit its report Wednesday. Tomorrow a committee representing the railroads will meet in conference here with the heads of the Order of Railroad Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen to settle the wage demands of these two organizations. These demands were presented last January. They are said to be for standard wage rates for men performing the same service on roads of similar grade, and to include a demand for a 15 per cent increase.

JOHN MUIR 75 YEARS OLD.

Martinez, Cal., April 21.—At the home of John Muir a flood of congratulatory letters and messages was delivered today to remind the famous explorer and naturalist of his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary. Although Mr. Muir was born in Scotland of Scottish parentage, the associations of almost his entire lifetime have been American. After arriving with his parents in America he lived on a farm in Wisconsin and his education was received principally at the State university at Madison. After completing his four years' course at the university he entered upon a career that was to bring him fame as a geologist, explorer and naturalist. He visited the Arctic regions in search of the De Long expedition, and has since traveled extensively in all of the six continents.

CLUB WOMEN IN COUNCIL.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—Noted women from many parts of the country are in the capital for the meeting of the national council of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The council meeting is for the purpose of reviewing the various activities of the Federation and discussing the policies for the future. Today was devoted to the reception of the visitors. The sessions will begin tomorrow and continue through the week. Mrs. Percy V. Pennypacker of Texas, president of the Federation, will preside. For the entertainment of the visitors there will be a reception at the White House by the President and Mrs. Wilson, a trip to Mount Vernon and a visit to Baltimore as the guests of the club women of that city.

TO HANG TWO MURDERERS.

Santa Fe, N. M., April 21.—Two murderers who have been confined for safe keeping in the State prison here are to be taken this week to Socorro, where they are to be executed Friday. The condemned men are Francisco Granado, who killed a clerk in an attempted store hold-up last winter, and Irwin Frazier, alias John Gates, who killed a deputy sheriff in a fight with a posse. Frazier is regarded as one of the most desperate criminals who has operated in this section of the country in years. He is said to be one of seven men who precipitated the first battle of Juarez when Madero took the border town. He was one of a party engaged in a jail delivery at Deming a year ago.

MUSICAL CLUBS IN SESSION.

Chicago, Ill., April 21.—More than 500 delegates, representing a membership of 45,000 in 270 clubs in various cities of the United States are in Chicago for the biennial convention of the National Federation of Musical Clubs. The gathering was formally opened with a reception to the visitors at the Art Institute this afternoon. The regular sessions will begin tomorrow morning and will conclude Friday with the election of officers. Each afternoon and evening the program will include concerts and recitals in which many noted musicians will take part.

LATE RALLY BEATS N. P. H. S. PLAYERS

Tight Game on Hyde Oval Turns Out a Defeat—Tied Most of the Time.

After holding their own for the greater part of the contest, the North Plainfield High School baseball representatives dropped a 9 to 6 battle to the Summit High School aggregation on Hyde Field Saturday afternoon, doing the "Dutch Act" in the stretch stanza, by allowing the visitors to do the Paul Revere on the cushions to the extent of three runs. The game was one of the closest played by the boroughites this season and they put up a stellar article of ball the greater part of the contest, but went back to their old habits in the seventh session and misplays put the Summit color bearers in the van.

"Newt" Spencer and Warren Townley, the two boroughites bearing handles of aristocracy brand, were easily the spotlight performers for N. P. H. S., the former mowing down eight opposing bastmen with his southsoupbone and the latter tallied the initial two runs of the borough team. He also performed well in the field making a number of brilliant stops and lightning heaves to the near station. For Summit, Bradley took the foremost role, getting two hits while Ted Reavy, the reserve twirler, put up a brilliant fielding game during his curtailed showing on the mound. Summit played together better than their home rivals and this was directly the cause of North Plainfield's downfall, one man making an aerial ascention out of an easy throw to Dunning at first, and then the whole team following suit.

CYCLING STARS AT NEWARK VELODROME

Big Crowd Greets Kramer, But Champion is Beaten in Opening Races.

The 1913 bicycle racing season in Newark was set under way yesterday afternoon at the Velodrome track after three postponements because of rain or snow. Yesterday's weather was far from ideal either for the riders or the spectators, as a stiff northwest wind swept over the track and through the stands, but it was not enough to materially affect the attendance. About 6,500 devotees of the pedalling game turned out to see their favorites in action after a long lay-off, and incidentally to show Frank Kramer, the cyclist speed marvel, that he ranks as high as ever in their regard.

Kramer, who returned during the past week from a victorious campaign in Europe, where he showed the way to all the cycling stars of France and Germany, made an effort to break the world's record for one-sixth of a mile, or one lap on the Velodrome track. He covered the distance in sixteen seconds flat, which is one-fifth of a second slower than the world's record, made by Albert Crebs on the Salt Lake City track. Kramer, however, equalled the Velodrome track record which he set up some years ago. At the conclusion of the race Kramer was presented with a large bouquet of American Beauty roses and lilies, and as he made one journey around the track with the bouquet the crowd arose en masse and gave him a most flattering ovation.

All the stars of last year figured in yesterday's races, together with several of the world's leading cyclists who rode on the Salt Lake City track last season, among whom were Jackie Clarke, Alfred Goullet, Joe Fogler and Fred Hill.

PARK GETS ONE RUN MORE THAN Y. M. A. A.

Final Tally Card Slightly in Favor of the Sunday School Leaguers.

Playing on the Centre street diamond in an anti-season game Saturday afternoon, the Park Avenue Baptist ball tossers just managed to nose out the Y. M. A. A. nine by a count of 12 to 11. The contest was one of the best preliminary exhibitions staged in this city so far this year and held the close attention of the large crowd that turned out to witness their favorites pre-season struggle. Both aggregations showed evidences of becoming lively contenders for the city championship title this summer, and Park Avenue displayed its claim to recognition in the race for the Sunday-school league title in which that nine is entered as a contender.

Both teams shifted their lineups at various intervals, the managers doing this in order to get a line on their strongest material which will be used in scheduled games to come. Had Manager Conger, of the Y. M. A. A. combination, left his team as he had it working during the early part of the fray it is extremely doubtful if the Parks would have come out one run to the good as four of the twelve winning tallies were totaled up in the seventh stanza.

The quintet of twirlers used during the afternoon all showed up well and the pitching staffs of the two teams appear to be pretty evenly matched. Each team tallied evenly bingles, but the Y. M. A. A. nine's erratic work in the field, where they scored ten misplays, allowed their rivals to run wild on the cushions at times.

The Mosher brothers led with the stick for the winners, each pounding out a trio of safties, while Vail and Howell coveted this role in the Y. M. A. A. garb, they also counting for a triple score each.

GIANTS RUN WILD ON THE CUSHIONS

Colored Giants Prove a "Dark Horse" for the Commercial Combination.

After Dr. James F. Lawson had tossed out the first baseball of the season on the Filmore avenue grounds Saturday afternoon, the Royal Colored Giants baseball team immediately proceeded to administer a severe drubbing to the Commercial A. C. nine, which they disposed of with a count of 15 to 0. There was nothing to the game but Giants swats from start to finish, the colored ball players running unhindered around the stations, especially in the fourth and "Lucky Seventh" stanzas when they made eleven runs all told.

Hall, the winning pitcher, proved a puzzle to the Commercial sluggers, and his work in holding them to three bingles was the main cog in the victory of the giants. Ford's work behind the bat and a double play by Coleman and Lee were conspicuous features of the game. The winning hitsmiths connected with Conshay's shoots for seventeen healthy ones, including seven two baggers. Ford and Somerset led with the willow with four each, while Kline pulled up a close second pounding out a trio of safties.

BOUND BROOK WILL RAISE BALL FUNDS

A Dance Will Be Held to Place Team in Central League This Year.

The Bound Brook baseball club is in need of money and a movement has been started to raise funds for the club. The managers of the club announce they have some funds on hand but not enough to finance the team through the season especially if the club enters the Jersey Central league.

As no line of either work or sport can be accomplished without money, a dance will be held this month by the association in Voorhees Hall, which should be well patronized, while the merchants and those who enjoy the game, should contribute generously. Other information will be given as affairs progress.

Manager Charles J. Newhouse and secretary, Edward Hoagland have given information that that confirms our having the national game of baseball at that place this season. A plot sufficient for said purpose has been secured, through the courtesy of Hugh C. Pierce, at the foot of Second avenue.

The team will be composed of local talent, as far as possible; it being the managers desire to avail himself of those who may prove capable after a proper trial by preliminary work. It is almost assured that Joe Mehan of the International League, will attend to first sack.

Provide Against Possible Delay

WHEN there is sickness in the home, the value of direct line telephone service is apparent. At such a time it is important that telephone messages be sent or received with the least possible delay.

With a party line telephone, delay is sometimes unavoidable, because the line is shared with others.

Why not protect your family with direct line telephone? The difference in cost is slight.

Eddie McGorrty has canned his manager and [illegible] his own coin hereafter.

Pal Moore has signed for a clash with Johnny Griffith, the bout to take place at Canton, O., April 25.

George Caprentier, the French champion, has cancelled his bout with Frank Klaus which was scheduled for April 23.

BASEBALL NOTES

If Ray Chapman is as good as the Cleveland critics say he is, the Naps' infield will be there with bells on this season.

Jack Barry, at short for the Athletics, showed Boston fans some real ball playing in the opening game with the world's champs.

At any rate the Detroit Tigers still have Sam Crawford, and that's considerable. "Wahoo" is tearing the horsehide to pieces by his heavy clouting.

Manager Stovall, of the Browns, has released Pitcher Napier, Infielder Roche and Outfielder Sloan to the Montgomery team, of the Southern League.

The chances are that George Burns will land a regular berth in the outfield of the Giants. George has been showing Manager McGraw the real article this Spring.

The poor condition of Catchers Henry and Ainsmith has caused Manager Griffith, of the Washington team, to get busy looking for another backstop.

The injury to Vic Saier, who wrenched his ankle recently, will no doubt prevent the Cubs from making a quick get-away in the National League pennant chase.

First Baseman Sterrett, the former Princeton player now with the Highlanders, made a fine impression on President Wilson in the opening game at Washington.

Now that the Cardinals have purchased Jim Sheckard from the Cubs, it will be a case of tussle between Jim and Lee Magee for the position in left field.

Early Spring opening is fine business. Game after game is postponed on account of rain and when they are able to play the cold weather puts the pitchers' flippers on the bum.

It looks as if Stengel will become a Brooklyn regular, and Callahan will be sent to Newark to inhale a little more baseball before breaking into the fast set.

The dropping of Bobby Bryne from top to seventh place in the Pirates' batting order, may mean that the rap on the bean that Bobby received from Joe Wood at Hot Springs has caused him to be "ball shy."

Harry Niles, veteran big leaguer and parachute jumper, has been showing so much speed with the Indianapolis team this Spring that he has been taken for a youngster just breaking in, on several occasions.

"Rabbit" Maranville and "Hap" Myers, of the Boston Nationals, would make a swell vaudeville team in a knock-about act. The "Rabbit" is built so close to the ground that he tears the seat of his trousers on the sharp grease blades when he walks across the field, while "Hap" could eat his lunch off a second-story window ledge without stretching his neck.

CENTRAL LEAGUE TWIRLERS.

The Somerville baseball team is ready for the opening of the Jersey Central League. The management has signed two star pitchers, Jack Thorpy and Eddie Kraft. Both of these pitchers have had considerable experience playing the national game.

BLARE OF TRUMPETS FOLLOWS LEAL'S WIN

First Win in Two Years Made Possible by Schneider's Terrific Smash.

Coach Wardlaw's galaxy of Leal School baseball players flagged their first victory in two years Saturday morning at the expense of the Staten Island Academy nine, the locals winning in the ninth inning by a score of 10 to 9. Schneider, heretofore an inconspicuous figure in private school woolens, proved himself the Simon Legree of Leal's baseball squad in the thrilling victory by pounding out the longest hit of the game in the ninth inning when the cushions were inhabited by a trio of Front street players. The little shortstop's hit was a smash to the left field timbers that was plenty long enough for him to register a home run on, but it was Leal's final trip to the rubber and only one run was needed to win the game. Schneider stopped running before he reached the second pillow and the winning tally had been scored long before the ball stopped rolling.

The fact that the victory was the first in two years for the local nine, was triumph in itself and was a cause for much enthusiasm openly expressed by private school cohorts. All through the contest the playing was even up and it was anybody's game until the Schneider boy dealt his death dealing blow. Needless to say he will be the hero of Leal baseball until some other swatter is unearthed and when the private school boys lineup against N. P. H. S. on Wednesday afternoon he will probably feel like McGraw's $11000 beauty.

Harrington and Lyon put up good fielding games for the winners, getting three hits apiece. Voorhees twirled a steady game allowing the visitors but five scattered bingles, while his teammates were touching the opposing pitcher's delivery up for thirteen.

ANOTHER BALL DIAMOND.

William H. Conger, manager of the Y. M. A. A. baseball nine, was in conference with the owner of the Centre street baseball diamond on which his team has been playing its home games, Saturday afternoon and secured permission from the land owner to remodel the infield, making an up-to-date diamond out of it. There is a lot of grading and rolling that will have to be done and Conger contemplates getting some Sunday-school league team to go into partnership with him and assist in putting the diamond in shape. If this is done both teams can arrange their schedule to play home games at this place making it possible to have a contest there evry Saturday afternoon. The field is in a good location and if the crowd of Saturday may be taken as a criteron the park should prove a good drawing field for a Sunday-school league team.

WESTFIELDERS WIN.

In the New York University's athletic games held at the University Athletic Field Saturday afternoon, two Westfield High School athletes, P. L. Taylor and L. R. Marsh, took third and fourth places respectively in the junior 100 yard dash. The time of the winner in this event was 10 2-5 seconds and the work of the Mt. Ararat school boy runners was creditable considering the time that was made. Under careful coaching P. L. Taylor will probably develop into a winning point getter for the Westfield team as his work was favorably commented upon by the meet officials Saturday afternoon. He will be remembered by Plainfield High School football fllowers as the Westfield High School football player, who made the thrilling end run that defeated P. H. S. last fall. His speedy footwork in that contst was the subject of much deliberation.

COUGHLIN'S WORK WINS FOR P. H. S.

Little Twirler Holds Opponents to Four Hits—Also Good on the Offense.

Plainfield High School baseball players did the annual stunt in whipping the New Brunswick High School team at that place Saturday afternoon by a count of 7 to 5. The feat of annexing a win at the expense of the Brunswick schoolboys is getting to be a habit with the Plainfielders although the home nine this year was heralded as a wonder and the Queen City delegation expected and found a stiffer proposition than they have heretofore encountered.

New Brunswick gained an early advantage over the visiting combination chalking up two runs in the first session and Plainfield did not retaliate until the first half of the third when they came through with a trio of counters registered on long hard bingles. Two more runs were pushed across in the fourth and New Brunswick came back in its half of the same session with another making the tally card 5 to 3. Plainfield scored its victory in the sixth when two counters were batted over the rubber on long drives coupled with a few erratic contributions from the Brunswick infielders. This constituted the sum and substance of the P. H. S. score while New Brunswick seemed to take on life as the contest grew older and in the final trip to the bat started a rally that looked as though it might spill the Plainfield beans before it was checked. When the Plainfielders finally managed to check the score Brunswick had annexed two runs making the final card read 7 to 5.

Coughlin twirled gilt edged ball for the winners, fanning ten batters and allowing but four scattered hits, while Ingling, who did the bulk of the box work for the home nine, was also effective at intervals and then again was hit freely. A three base hit by Keaton, a New Brunswick substitute and two baggers by Carty Heron and Coughlin were features of the contest. While adorning the mound Coughlin took part in various other phases of the game, making seven perfect assists without an error, besides scoring a run, stealing a base and getting his two-base wallop.

LOCAL ATHLETES NOT THERE.

When the names of the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. entrants in the State Y. M. C. A. meet held at Newark Saturday night were read off by the official announcer, none responded to the Queen City John Hancocks and as a result the local association was unrepresnted in the race for the State title. Newark won the meet with a point score of 44½ points with Paterson second with five tallies. J. Lasser and D. Bekert, both of the Newark team, succeeded in smashing records, the former making ten feet in the standing broad jump and the latter a new indoor record of 25 3-5 seconds for the three lap run on the Newark Y. M. C. A. track.

S. S. LEAGUE MEETING.

Delegates from the Sunday-school baseball teams contemplating entering the Sunday-school League are requested to be on hand at the Y. M. C. A. tonight at 8 o'clock where the most important meeting of the preseason arrangemnts will be held. At that time the schedule for the coming season will be drawn up and applications for admission which have come to hand will be acted upon. The meeting was pulled ahead from April 25, the original date set, to accommodate the Park Avenue Baptist team who have to present their schedule for the use of Parker Field, which they hope to make their home grounds, at once.

MANY TEAMS HELD INITIAL TRY-OUTS

Plainfield Baseball Club Had Twenty Candidates Out—Howard Craig Captain.

Taking advantage of the splendid baseball weather Saturday afternoon, local diamond pilots got their youngsters out for airings and some good material was unearthed wherever a combination gathered to try out. One of the most auspicious of the trials was held at Crescent Oval when the Plainfield baseball team held its initial practise under the watchful eye of Captain Howard Craig, the semi-professional star who has performed on many teams in the metropolitan district at the third corner. He had about twenty promising candidates out for a romp including Cliff Randolph, a one-time familiar inhabitant of the oval, and Russell Stewart, last year's Sunday School League star moundsman. These two pitchers will likely compose the Plainfield twirling staff this year. Although Cliff is a trifle over weight he hopes to work this surplus off by some hard work and expects to be in old time form by the time the league season opens. Another promising candidate out was Frank Evans, a second base star in the Manufacturers' League last year, and it is quite likely that he will cover the keystone sack for Plainfield this year. Captain Craig put his charges through a stiff fielding drill dispersing many important points to the youngsters.

The First Presbyterians had a number of candidates out for drill on the field across from Hyde Oval and some good practise was obtained before the N. P. H. S.-Summit High School game started, but with this contest once underway the practisers thought better of viewing a good game than of drilling. Trinity candidates tried out on Cricket Field and the Jolly Sons' Club held their initial set-to on the Leland avenue diamond.

WEST ENDS WON THEIR ANTE-SEASON STRUGGLE

In their first workout of the season, which came against the Hope Chapel Sunday-school League team on Hope Common Saturday afternoon, the West End A. C. baseball nine scored an 18 to 10 victory. The game was an erratic one, both aggregations putting up an eccentric article of baseball. Many shifts were made in the lineups during the course of the game, both managers trying to get a line on their best material, and little was done by either aggregation in the way of trying to sew up the contest as a win, because of the fact that it was nothing more than a practice game for either.

Hope chapel presented a sorrowful appearance as Sunday-school League champons but with some hard work between now and the opening time set for the Sunday-school League schedule it is hoped, by those in charge, to round out a speedy aggregation with the large amount of material already on hand. It was plainly an off day for the Sunday-school boys and little can be garnered as to their relative strength from the final score.

Schott, for the lossers, and Dixon, for the West Ends, were satisfied in lobbing the ball over the platter and did not extend themselves at any juncture.

WEST END A. C. PLANNING FOR BUSY DIAMOND SEASON

Manager Bert Gleanzer, of the West End Athletic Club's baseball team, will open his season's schedule on Saturday afternoon, May 3, with a game against the crack Garwood A. C. aggregation. Judging from the material on hand the West Ends will have one of the best representative nines of its career as a sport promoter and should make most of the local aggregations of the same calibre hustle to keep in the running.

Games have been booked with teams all over the State including old rivals such as the Raritans, Cartarets, South Amboy, Garwood and North Branch. A few dates are still open and Manager Gleantzer wants to fill these with local combinations if possible. Address Bert Gleantzer, West End A. C., Plainfield, N. J.

DUTCHER AGAIN CHAMPION.

Ray Dutcher, a Plainfield High School graduate now attending New York University, successfully defended his title at amateur club swinging champion in the all around gymnastic championships held under the auspices of the A. A. U Saturday night. Dutcher represented the New York A. C. and is also a member of the New York University gym team for which he has been a sure point winner during the past season. He won the amateur title in 1912 and this makes his second term as title holder.

SUNDAY GAMES WANTED.

The Knickerbocker A. C., a fast junior team, would like to arrange Sunday games with teams averaging eighteen years. Address, Fred Hoffmister, 252 Jackson avenue, Netherwood, N. J.

NEWARKS' REGISTER FOURTH VICTORY

International League Leaders Keep Slate Clean by Defeating Buffalo.

Banging the horsehide for eight hits, totaling six runs, the Newark Eastern League baseball team continued its unbroken string of victories yesterday at Weidenmayer's Park, by defeating the Buffalo aggregation whose efforts netted them four runs. By mowing down the Bisons the fast hustling Tigers registered their fourth win since the opening of the season and are thus leading the league with a clear slate.

The Tiger bunch placed the game on ice in the fourth inning when they went to the bat resolved to grab the lead which their opponents held over them by the score of 3 to 1. Before they let up on Mr. Beebe, the Herd's flinger, five of the home team players had punctured the rubber plate. The fireworks started when Billy Zimmerman opened a single. Hefty swats by Swacina, Billy Zimmerman, Collins, Eddie Zimmerman, Gagnier and Bell were responsible for the galaxity of runs which sewed up the contest. One lone tally in the sixth inning credited to the Buffalos, ended the scoring.

VITAPHONE BALL TEAM WON ITS FIRST GAME

A 9 to 8 victory was scored by the Vitaphone A. C. in its initial game of the season against the Fanwood A. C. ball tossers yesterday afternoon. A feature of the contest was a home run by Bonizzi and the twirling of Fred Huff for the winners. He struck out ten men and issued but one free ticket.

The Vitaphone lineup: Chatel 3b, Sheback rf, Cogger ss, Bonizzi 2b, R. Chatel cf, Long lf. Fanwood A. C.: Jenson c, Emharetti 2b, Simon 3b, E. Simon ss, Beattie cf, Kremer rf, Lambertson 3b.

LOCAL GOLFER COMPETES.

Among those who competed at the Lakewood Country Club Saturday afternoon in the race for John F. Shanley Memorial Golf Cup, was H. M. Stockton, of this city. The winner of the trophy was Daniel S. White, one of the best known hotel keepers of Atlantic City. All of the competitors were greatly handicapped in their work by the strong wind blowing across the greens and many retired early in the contest to avoid sickness brought on by exposure.

SCOTCH PLAINS DEFEATED.

Playing at Scotch Plains Saturday afternoon, the Commercial High School baseball team, of New York, trimmed the Parish House ball tossers by a score of 9 to 3. Both teams displayed flashes of good ball playing at times, but the metropolitan school boys were handier with the stick and won easily on clean hitting. Frank Lee, a former Leal School player, twirled fr the lossers and Frank Hand, the former United States League backstop, did the catching.

ANOTHER MONEY RAISER.

Jack Torpey, manager of the High Bridge team, entered in the Central New Jersey Baseball League, has set about to raise money for the equipment of his team for the season and is meeting with ready response from charitably inclined fans and ball promoters. Considerable coin has already been subscribed for the purchase of uniforms, and the remodeling of the grounds for the opening of the season.

LIDGATE CAUGHT YESTERDAY.

Eugene Lidgate, the Scotch Plains' ball player and former Plainfield High School captain, pitcher and catcher, who is now sporting Baltimore woolens in the race for the International League title, caught part of the game for Orioles against the Philadelphia Athletics in an exhibition contest yesterday afternoon. Liddy's contribution consisted of two put outs.

NEW YORKERS AT 'PLAINS.

Manager Batterson, of the Scotch Plains Parish House baseball team, is arranging a schedule of games with High School teams of greater New York and the 'Plains aggregation will have one of the best game cards in this vicinity when it is completed. Batterson hails from New York and is familiar with the best school boy nines.

KIELY FOR Y. M. A. A.

James Kiely, the crack centre fielder and heavy hitter of the old Netherwood A. C. ball team, has signed a contract with Manager Conger, of the Y. M. A. A. nine and will hereafter appear in that team's woolens. He will prove a valuable asset to the Y. M. A. A. aggregation as his hitting has always been a prominent feature of his playing.

Y. M. A. A. RETURN GAME.

A return game between the Park Avenue Baptist baseball team and the Y. M. A. A. nine will be played at Parker Field July 4. The two teams met on the Y. M. A. A. aggregation's home diamond Saturday afternoon, Parks winning by the close score of 12 to 11 and the Independence Day card looks like an attractive one.

KNICKERBOCKER A. C. WON A LOOSE FIELDING GAME

Running wild on the bases yesterday afternoon, the Knickerbocker A. C. scored a 23 to 10 triumph over the Handville A. C. combination. A total of twenty-seven hits were tallied by the winners against seven for the losers and the bingles were accountable for most of the runs. Errors were prominent features on the part of both teams, Handville making twenty-three and the Knickerbockers twelve. Hansel made a home run, Hoffmister a three bagger and Hoff two two baggers and Caufield one of the same variety. The teams lined up as follows:

Knickerbocker A. C.—Caufield cf, Wall rf, Long lf, Stebol, 3b, Hansel 2b, Schinkel p, Denny ss, Hoffmister 1b, Dodd c, Sabino rf.

Handville—Mathiews 3b-p, Franks rf, Venitz p, Raffeniella c-p, Smith, 1b, Ross sf, Wolser p, Lambertson c.

TALKS ON THRIFT.

SAMPLES OF SUCCESSFUL MEN

"Teach economy, that is one of the first and highest virtues. It begins with saving Money."—Abraham Lincoln.

It is remarkable with what unanimity men of prominence and success say that they got their start by saving money.

And every one of these men has advised young persons to go and do likewise. Some of the foremost men in every walk of life have gone on record as to the great benefits of systematic thrift—Washington, Lincoln, Gladstone, Bismarck, Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson, Andrew Carnegie, John Wanamaker, John D. Rockefeller, James J. Hill, and scores of others of equal prominence and successful attainment have preached and practiced industry and thrift.

Read the experience-tested words of the great Chicago merchant, the late Marshall Field, a man who began life as a poor clerk:

"If you would succeed in business never spend a cent more than you earn. No matter how small your earnings, you should master this art. I use the word 'art' advisedly, as so many young men appear to fritter away, without so much as a thought, all their earnings."

The business career of John D. Rockefeller, generally believed to be the richest man in the world, had a very humble beginning in a rural section of New York State. This is what he said about saving:

"How can one be ready for the glorious opportunities ahead of him unless he has cultivated the habit of economy and prudence? He must save all he can in season and out of season."

James J. Hill, the railroad president and empire-builder, who was a farmer's boy in Canada and New York State; Frederick Weyerhauser, the multi-millionaire lumber man; H. L. Dougherty, the Columbus, Ohio, newsboy, who became a New York banker; Edwin Hawley, who died in control of several railroads, although his first job paid him only four dollars a week; Frank Woolworth, the Jefferson County, N. Y., farmer's boy, who got married on fifty dollars, and now owns 600 stores and the highest building in the world; Frank A. Vanderlip, the Illinois farm boy, who is now president of the biggest bank in the country; E. H. Harriman, A. H. Wiggin, and C. D. Norton, three sons of poor clergymen, who became, respectively, the greatest railroad magnates and presidents of two of New York's largest financial institutions—these are only a few of the great cloud of witnesses to the wisdom of thrift and saving from income for future needs and opportunities.

But, after all, it is not the testimony of the millionaires that counts so much as it is the consensus of opinion of the great number of modestly successful people in every community who owe their success to steady saving.

Every man, woman and child ought to save. That is the earnest and repeated exhortation of practically all the good and wise men who ever lived. To learn to save is really one of the most important lessons of life. Have YOU learned it yet?

TRENTON MAYOR TO SPEAK HERE

Fred'k W. Donnelly to Explain Commission Gov't Plan Thursday Night.

AT LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL

All Citizens Invited to Be Present and to Ask Questions Following the Mayor's Talk—How it Works in Trenton.

Frederick W. Donnelly, mayor of Trenton, where the plan has long been in force, will speak here on Thursday night on "The Commission Form of Government." He is one of the best posted men in the country on the subject and happily has practical experience since he is a member of the Trenton Commission.

Mayor Donnelly is a forceful and convincing speaker and has a faculty of presenting his argument in an entertaining manner. Following his address an opportunity will be given any one in the audience who so desires to ask questions.

The meeting will be held at the Plainfield High School auditorium and will begin at 8 o'clock. An invitation is extended to all citizens, voters and non-voters, advocates and opponents of the commission idea to be present.

Trenton, April 22.—The commission form of government has been in force in Trenton since August 22, 1911, and public sentiment here, outside of the ranks of the politicians and extreme partisans, is nearly unanimous that the change has been a good one for the city and has wrought many municipal reforms. This does not mean that all are satisfied with everything that has been done under the new form of rule provided by the Walsh act. It does mean, however, that the rank and file of the citizens generally feel that no mistake was made in voting for the change.

Mayor Frederick W. Donnelly and the other four commissioners, City Clerk Frank Thompson and others, who are ardent commission government advocates, all insist that the change has been a fine one for the city; that not only has politics been eliminated from the city government, but real business methods have been installed, bringing much greater economy and efficiency in the administration of city government.

Benefits Derived.

Here are some of the special benefits which the commission government people declare the city has received from the new plan of municipal rule:

Business is done in the open.

There is no shifting of responsibility.

Steps are constantly being taken in the direction of economy.

Graft has been eliminated.

Street conditions have been improved.

Favoritism no longer controls in the awarding of contracts, and the hiring of municipal employes.

The brewery interests have less control over the city government than under the old method.

It is now much easier to discover the reason for a municipal wrong, if one exists, and to place the blame upon the proper official.

Achievements.

City Clerk Thompson, who was an active campaigner for commission government all through the fight in this city, today gave the following outline for the achievements under the reform rule:

The first reform wrought was the reorganization of all city departments along business lines. Departments that were co-ordinance in their character were consolidated. This enabled the commission to eliminate a lot of political jobs and to bring the city government down to a business basis. For instance, the police, fire and health commissions were abolished and these departments were all consolidated in the Department of Public Safety. Formerly, the police commissioners and the fire commissioners were each paid a salary of $500, and although the health commissioners were not salaried, they had a lot of officials who were. By this consolidation responsibility has been centralized, money saved and efficiency promoted.

Similiarly, the departments of the City Comptroller, City Treasurer, Tax Assessors and the collection of taxes are all now centralized under the Department of Finances. The Board of Assessors has been decreased from five members to three while the assessors now only employ two permanent clerks. The three assessors give practically all of their time to the work and with their two clerks give better service for less money than was formerly the case with a separate board of five members and numerous clerks.

The Department of Revenue and Finance has also created the office of Collector of Delinquent Taxes and so closely have the taxes been col-

DUTCH ARMS BAND'S FIRST APPEARANCE

Forty Piece Organization Makes a Hit Playing Publicly for the First Time.

Making its first appearance at the monthly meeting of the Dutch Arms Club of Trinity Reformed church, last night, the forty-piece brass band recently organized by George Dufford, covered itself with glory. The music dispersed was a prominent feature of the evening's program and the work of the players found favorable comment on every hand. The musical program was preceded by a Biblical talk delivered by Herbert E. Parker, general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. Mr. Parker took the place of William H. Herrman, who was originally scheduled to address the meeting, but could not attend. Mr. Parker outlined the history of the Bible from its original writers and dwelt on the different versions which have been published. The speaker told how the history of the various foreign countries that have contributed to the literary or commercial progress of our country is taught to the present day student and told the direct influence of each of these nations on the Biblical writings and their contributions to religion in the way of ancient manuscripts and facts brought about by geographical discoveries.

The monthly meeting of the Dutch Arms Club was conducted during the evening and several new names were proposed for membership in the already flourishing organization. Immediately following the social program the good and welfare committee served refreshments.

THIS OLD FIRE HORSE KNEW THE FIRE SIGNAL

John H. Cose, of Spooner avenue, who purchased a horse from Lincoln Hose Company, Rahway, had a lively experience with the animal this afternoon, when an alarm of fire was sent in from Box 45. The horse was eating its noon-day meal out of a nose bag at H. B. Newhall's new home on Woodland avenue, where Mr. Cose as the roofing contract, and immediately upon hearing the fire whistle started on a dead run, across fields and over fences, with Mr. Cose in hot pursuit.

The horse reached Muhlenberg Hospital on Park avenue, before it was stopped by a passerby. Mr. Cose arrived on the scene soon afterward and took charge of the horse, which appeared to be none the worse for its lively run. The wagon was not even damaged to any extent. On several other occasions, the animal has tried to respond to fire alarms, but Mr. Cose has always been able to prevent a runaway.

WILLIAM M. TALLMAN DIES IN HIS 96TH YEAR

William M. Tallman, aged ninety-five years, one of the oldest residents in this vicinity, died of complication of diseases at his home on Tappan avenue, North Plainfield, this morning following a long illness. Mr. Tallman was for nearly a half century connected with the Washington Life Insurance Company, of New York, being considered one of the leading experts in insurance matters in this country. During his younger days he accumulated a considerable fortune.

Mr. Tallman was the oldest member of the Park Avenue Baptist church and for many years served as a deacon. Later he was made deacon-emeritus. Mr. Tallman was married twice. There was a large family of children, seventeen in all, of which only one, Charles Tallman, survives. The announcement of the funeral will be made later.

CITY TO PURCHASE AUTO-FIRE ENGINE

Bids for New Apparatus to Be Received on Monday, June 2.

Steps were taken at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council, last night, to purchased for the city an auto-fire engine, when a resolution offered by Councilman Fred Endress and adopted, authorized City Clerk J. T. MacMurray to advertise for bids for such an apparatus, to be of 900 gallon capacity per minute. The bids are to be received at the meeting of the Common Council, Monday night, June 2.

Robert C. Woodhouse, representing the Nott Auto-Fire Company, has offered to sell the city the kind of an apparatus it desires for $8,500, claiming that that price is $1,000 below that usually charged. but the company wants to place one of its engines in the metropolitan district and is willing to make a reduction in the price. However, the city is compelled to advertise for bids, giving anyone who desires a chance to join in the competition for supplying an apparatus.

FIND IT TOO COSTLY TO ABOLISH CROSSING

Mayor Tells Council Result of His Conferences With Railroad Officials.

Mayor Percy H. Stewart addressing the Common Council at its adjourned meeting, last night, told of the progress he had made in an effort to have the Rock avenue grade crossing protected, following the suggestion of that body. He said that he had taken the matter up with the railroad officials and had learned that at present it would be a difficult engineering problem to abolish the grade crossing, it being right at the top of a grade, where the pull is a long one for the heavy trains. To abolish this crossing the work would have to be extended to a point near Dunellen, and it would involve an expense of between $1,000,000 and $2,000, 000, according to the railroad officials.

The company is now engaged in taking a census of the travel over Rock avenue with a view of placing gates there and having a watchman on duty to protect the public. It is understood, Mr. Stewart said, that at some future time the crossing will be abolished.

The Mayor also reported that the company intends making extensive changes at the Eastbound raiload station in this city, providing a separate retiring room for the women and one for the men, where smoking will be allowed. It is further planned to replace the wooden floor in the station with one of tile.

"DRUMMERS" TO HOLD A BIG CARNIVAL HERE

Plainfield Council, No. 402, United Commercial Travelers, will hold a carnival during the week of May 5 on the grounds on West Front street, near Grant avenue, the proceeds of the affair to be the benefit of the councils in the west which suffered during the recent floods. The local council received many letters of appeal for help and it has decided to use the carnival as a means of raising funds.

The council has engaged "Krause Greater Shows," an organization highly recommended by other lodges. The shows have been wintering in this city, getting ready for the spring and summer months. There will be many novel features, including a contest for queen of the carnival, the winner to receive a diamond ring.

SAFE AND SANE 4TH MEASURE PROPOSED

F. J. Blatz Introduces Suggested Ordinance for George S. Clay.

An ordinance providing for a "safe and sane" celebration of Fourth of July was introduced at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council, last night, by Councilman Francis J. Blatz, for President George S. Clay. It was read once and on Mr. Blatz's motion copies of it were ordered sent to each member of the Council for further consideration.

The ordinance is essentially the same as the one introduced by Councilman F. L. Holt, last year, and which failed to pass on third reading. It prohibits the sale of fireworks, except for exhibition purposes, and requires the permission of the Mayor for such exhibitions. The ordinance also prohibits the discharge of fire arms or fireworks on the public streets, restricting this to private property. It is proposed to bring the ordinance up at the May meeting of the Common Council.

SOME TRANSACTIONS OF COMMON COUNCIL

Minor Matters Take up Time of the City Fathers at Adjourned Meeting.

Miss Emily B. Hartridge, of the Hartridge School, whose home is at "Oakwood," on Plainfield avenue, petitioned the Common Council last night to locate a fire hydrant near her property, and to also investigate the alleged report of low water pressure in that section of the city. She expressed a feeling of insecurity in case a fire should occur at her place, although she explained that she had installed fire extinguishers and other fire-fighting apparatus. Miss Hartridge recalled incidents at the Jewett fire, which she thought might be repeated unless better protection was afforded. The matter was referred to the fire and building committee.

The Century Rubber Company, of North avenue, requested the Council to improve better street lighting and to improve the conditions of North avenue, which at times is impassable owing to high water. This was referred to the street and lighting committees, as was also a petition for an electric light on Berckman street, between Second and Third streets.

The Public Recreation Committee, recently appointed to take up the social and educational work in the public schools through the introduction of dances, lectures, etc., petitioned the Council for an appropriation of $1,500 to meet expenses, the money to be expended under the direction of the Board of Education. This was referred to the finance committee, and later in the evening the sum of $500 was voted to be incorporated in the tax budget.

Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed gave an opinion to the effect that it had a right to refund to taxpayers on account of sewer assessment, all excess amounts paid under an original assessment, which was afterward changed, and later a resolution was offered and adopted to that effect.

The bid of Joseph Harrigan for furnishing oats, hay and straw to the city departments was accepted through a resolution offered by Mr. Endress and the Mayor and city clerk were authorized to sign the contract. Mr. Harrigan was the lowest bidder. Another resolution by Mr. Endress and adopted, authorized the city clerk to advertise for bids for furnishing the city with 250 tons of coal. The bids will be received Monday night, May 5.

An urgent appeal from Hamilton, Ohio, through a relief committee, for financial aid, was received and referred to the alms committee. The committee appeals for individual contributions of $1 to help meet the great losses in that city by reason of the floods.

Two two-way hydrants, one at West Fifth street and Stanley place and the other on West Fifth street, 200 yards east of Clinton avenue, were ordered installed through a resolution by Mr. Endress and adopted.

CAST REHEARSING FOR ANNUAL PRODUCTION

Members Rapidly Learning Their Parts for "Her Lord and Master."

Under the direction of Eugene M. Sanger, the coach who took charge last week, the members in the cast in this year's Park Comedy Club production, "Her Lord and Master," are rapidly getting the production into shape for presentation. The performance is to be given at the Plainfield theatre on Thursday and Friday evenings, May 8 and 9, and the cast will give nearly every evening until that time over to rehearsals under Mr. Sanger's direction.

One small change has been made in the cast since it was first announced. Miss Blanche Buttfield, who was cast for Mrs. Stillwater, and Miss Goddard who was to have taken the part of Kitty, will exchange places. All of the parts are said to be exceptionally well cast, and under the direction of Mr. Sanger the play gives promise of excelling any previous effort of the club. Mrs. Maxwell E. Perkins, who plays the leading part of Indiana, is said by those who have watched her in the rehearsals to outdo her former great success in "Trelawney of the Wells."

In addition to the list of associate members of the club which has already been announced, the following were elected at the meeting of the executive committee last night: Townsend Rushmore, J. P. Stevens, T. M. Day, D. J. Randall, Ernest R. Ackerman, Austin W. Andrews, E. P. Thomas, Mayor Percy H. Stewart, Lewis E. Waring, T. R. VanBoskerck, Edward H. Ladd, Jr., George Megrew, Stuart H. Patterson, D. W. Mulford, Augustus VanDeventer, C. T. Elliott, Robert H. Cox, Mrs. O. L. Jenkins, Miss Mary A. Faber, J. M. Charles.

A number of out of town box parties have been arranged for both evenings of the show, among them being groups of society people from Cranford, Westfield and New York.

EUCHRE TEAMS PLAY MATCH GAMES HERE

Tri-Cornered Tournament Will End at Social Hall Tonight With Final Contests.

Twelve representative euchre players from St. John's Parish, Dunellen, will play the teams from St. Joseph's and St. Mary's churches at Social Hall tonight in connection with the Holy Name Society's Euchre tournament now in progress. A series of three games has been arranged and the contests tonight will be the first of the set, each team having its strongest lineup on hand to inaugurate the tri-cornered tourney. In the last series played between these rivals St. Joseph's nosed out the Dunellenites by one game, the closeness of the series in the initial set has awakened a large amount of enthusiasm among the old time euchre players in Dunellen and they are out to regain their lost reputation in the second schedule. Many supporters of the three teams are expected to witness the games and the large amount of rivalry prevalent on every side will probably make the matches well worth witnessing. Dunellen expects to arrange a series of forty-five games at the end of this tournament in which the same contestants will likely be competitors.

CREDIT ASS'N MEMBERS MUST COME ACROSS TOO

One of the provisions of the new constitution and by-laws of the Plainfield Credit Men's Association adopted at a meeting held last night in the Frost building, is in effect that all members in arrears in the matter of dues will be dropped from the roster. Last night's session was well attended. Harry W. Marshall presided. The application for membership of J. H. J. Claus a grocer, was accepted.

The report of the treasurer showed the association to be in a prosperous condition. The treasurer was authorized to send $5 to the Citizens' Relief Committee, of Hamilton, Ohio, for the benefit of the flood sufferers in that district.

SCIPONE COLUCCI.

BROTHERS' BATTLE OVER HER ESTATE

They Attempt to Have Bequest to Medical College Declared Void.

The case of Willet F. Cook, executor of Josephine Griffith Davis, against the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania was heard by Vice Chancellor Lewis, at Jersey City, yesterday on construction of the will of Dr. Davis. By her will, Dr. Davis bequeathed to the Woman's Medical College the residue from the proceeds of sale of any and all of her real estate, with the provision that her nieces or their female posterity, if they should prove worthy be, given the preference in the scholarship, for which a fund was designated. The rest of her property, real and personal she devised to her executor for disposal.

The Woman's Medical College was represented by Howard M. Cooper, of Camden, and the executor of the will was represented by Lambert & Stewart, of Newark. William A. Coddington, of this city, represented the brothers of Dr. Davis.

Mr. Coddington contended that a bequest or devise to an executor for disposal, and that the power given to him by the will to distribute certain property among such benevolent or religious institutions as he might think fit, was void, because of its uncertain terms.

Mr. Coddington also claimed that the bequest to the Woman's College attemped to create a trust for the benefit of unknown persons and an unlimited number of persons, without regard to the amount necessary for such purpose, and that no person or body of persons was designated to pass upon the worthiness of candidates, and that the standards of worthiness were not defined, and that therefore this bequest to the Woman's College was also void, according to well settled legal precedents.

If Mr. Coddington's contentions are sustained by the court, then the entire estate, after payment of debts, will pass to his clients.

The Vice Chancellor adjourned the hearing to Monday, May 12.

THIEVES VISIT SAME PLACE FOR THE FOURTH TIME

For the fourth time within the past few months the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Disborough, of 119 Crescent avenue, was entered last night, the thieves succeeded in getting $25 in bills from a bureau drawer. Of this amount $10 was dropped in the front hall. Entrance was effected by climbing through a rear window which had been left open. As on the previous occasions valuable articles within easy reach of the thieves were left untouched. Captain Frederickson investigated.

STILL NEED $125 TO ADVERTISE PLAINFIELD

The necessary amount to advertise Plainfield at the Real Estate Show to be held May 3 to 10 in the Grand Central Palace, New York city, has been appropriated, with the exception of $125. Of this amount $100 will be paid to have moving pictures of this city taken and exhibited on a screen several times each day during the show. This was decided upon at a meeting of the arrangements committee, which met last night in the office of J. T. Vail, in North avenue. Frederick William Smith, treasurer of the New York show, explained full details regarding the enterprise and after hearing of the moving picture proposition, it was decided to add this feature to the scheme to advertise the city. To date $250 has been raised by personal solicitation through the efforts of these committeemen: Edmund Rushmore, chairman; Morris C. VanArsdale, treasurer; A. E. Force and J. V. E. Vanderhoef.

Any business men desiring to contribute toward the enterprise should send appropriations to Mr. VanArsdale.

OUR TAX BUDGET IS GREATEST YET

More Money Needed and as Told in This Paper Yesterday Tax Rate Will Soar.

THE ITEMS IN DETAIL

Following a Conference With the Mayor Proposed Budget is Passed to Third Reading by the Common Councilmen.

Prior to the adjourned meeting of the Common Council, last night, there was a conference of the members with Mayor Percy H. Stewart and Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed regarding the tax budget, which was later introduced in the form of an ordinance, the purpose being to see if some changes were not possible which might tend to lower the tax rate for the coming year. The councilmen explained to Mr. Stewart that every amount had been cut down to practically bare necessity, in fact the $50,000 allowed the street department, in the opinion of Street Commissioner A. J. Gavett would not properly care for the streets.

This statement led Mr. Clay to remark that unless the Council could give the department what was needed, it might as well withhold any appropriation as it would be throwing money away. It was originally planned to give the street department $57,000, but a cut of $7,000 was made. In the opinion of Mr. Reed a higher tax rate with a lower valuation was more to be desired than a lower tax rate with a higher valuation, for as the valuations increase so much more has to be given to the county and State for which there is no financial return.

Councilman A. D. Edgar was of the opinion that there are many large business and residential properties in the city that are assessed too low and at his suggestion the Council will hold a conference with the Board of Assessors, Monday night, April 28, for the purpose of making suggestions, and as one of the members expressed it for "strengthening the backbone of the assessors."

Several instances were cited where business properties are assessed for less than half the valuation and it was the opinion that there should be a change. It was stated that the increase in valuations for this year would aggregate nearly [illegible] million dollars.

When the Common Council convened, Councilman Charles C. Randolph introduced the tax ordinance, which was adopted on two readings and ordered advertised. The figures decided upon were exactly as published in the Daily Press of yesterday. Just prior to passing upon the ordinance, Mr. Randolph offered several resolutions, which were adopted, making appropriations of smaller amounts.

The sum of $2,000 was allowed the Shade Tree Commission with an additional $200 for the care of the city park. The usual $3,500 was given to Muhlenberg Hospital for the care of indigent patients, and $500 was given to the Public Recreation Committee. Councilmen Edgar, van-Herwerden and Clay voted against this appropriation. The sum of $300 was given for the free dental clinic and in response to a request $150 was given to Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., for the proper observance of Memorial Day. This is an increase of $50 over that of last year, on account of it being the fiftieth anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg. Councilmen Edgar and Clay voted against this appropriation.

The tax budget was then introduced. This provides that there shall be raised for general purposes, exclusive of school, library, poor, fire, county and State, $96,000, out of which the following appropriations are made:

Streets, $50,000; city proportionate share of street improvements, $8,000; Muhlenberg Hospital, $3,500; dental clinic, $300; interest on street improvement bonds, $1,350; interest on other street improvement bonds, $4,000; interest on police station bonds, $990; principal on police station bonds, $1,000; interest on brick pavement bonds, 1913, $500; street lighting, $18,000; principal on sewer bonds, $6,000; interest on obligations in connection with sewer bonds, $12,500; support of poor, $7,500; public library and reading room, $10,000; fire department, $50,000; police department, $35,000; interest on $15,000 fire house bonds, $675; retiring fire house bonds, $1,300; interest on school bonds, $18,370; principal on school bonds, $6,000; sinking fund in connection with $150,000 school bonds, $1,925; shade trees, $2,000; playground work, $1,500. This ordinance will be passed on its third reading at the May meeting of the Common Council.

FORMER COUNTESS WEDS.

St. Mary's, Ga., April 22.—The wedding of Mrs. Copley Thaw, who was formerly the countess of Yarmouth, and Goeffrey Gordon Whitney, of Boston, took place today at Plumb Orchard, Cumberland Island, the country estate of the bride's sister, Mrs. George Carnegie. The ceremony was attended only by relatives and a few intimate friends of the contracting parties. Mr. Whitney and his bride will depart in a few days for Europe to spend their honeymoon. They expect to return to this country in time to spend the latter part of the season at Newport.

BRIDE HARRY THAW'S SISTER.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 22.—Mrs. Copley Thaw, whose marriage to Geoffrey G. Whitnew, of Boston, took place today at Cumberland Island, Ga., is the daughter of Mrs. William Thaw, of this city, and a sister of Harry K. Thaw. In 1903 she was married to the Earl of Yarmouth, from whom she was divorced five years later. The wedding took place in this city and was marked by some stirring incidents. Among these was the fact that after the bridal party had gathered in the magnificent Calvary Episcopal church and the officiating rector was ready to perform the ceremony there was a long delay, this being caused by the ultimatum of the Earl that before he would allow the ceremony to begin he must receive $1,000,000 of the Thaw fortune. Finally the attorneys were called in and made an arrangement satisfactory to the principals. With the divorce in 1908 the Earl lost his financial interest in the marriage settlement. Since the divorce he has become the Marquis of Hertford.

"BUFFALO BILL'S" BIG SHOW.

With a newly arranged arena and tents painted to represent towering mountain scenery, the Buffalo Bill Wild West and Pawnee Bill Far East, Combined, will exhibit in Jersey City, Monday, May 12, and Newark, Tuesday, May 13, and excursion rates have already been arranged with the various railways to carry visitors to that point, where several novel and appropriate features will give the onlooker an agreeable surprise. The roster of the World's Roughriders will have additions to cover every style of equestrianism that the culling of the universe's most famed in the art can offer, from the Arab and Indian to the most finished four-legged graduates in Haute Ecole.

An old-time fox hunt with the Gerner-Kenny stud of high jumpers, led by the record-breaking pony "Stayaway," with a pack of hounds, all in the full spirit of the grand cross-country sport, will thrill the beholder.

HEAR MAYOR DONNELLY.

Mayor Frederick W. Donnelly, of Trenton, recognized as an authority on the commission plan of government for municipalities, will be the first speaker in the local campaign of education. He has consented to speak here on Thursday night and the Plainfield High School auditorium has been secured for that purpose. Here will be an opportunity presented to all the voters to obtain a clear understanding of the commission form scheme and to have answered any questions they desire.

It matters not whether you are in favor or opposed to the commission idea, as a public spirited citizen you should make it a duty to attend this meeting and hear what Mr. Donnelly has to say. The commission plan has been in force in Trenton for some time and the speaker will have some interesting things to tell of its workings there.

"C. O. D." PARCELS POST.

Another improvement in the Government parcels post system will be made on July 1, when a "C. O. D." scheme will go into effect. So important is this matter to the public in general that the Post Office Department has issued an official explanation of the plan which is herewith reproduced:

"On and after July 1 the sender of a parcel on which the postage is fully prepaid may have the price of the article and the charges thereon collected from the addressee, provided the amount does not exceed $100. The fee for each collection is 10 cents, to be affixed by the sender to the package in parcel post stamps, in consideration of which the contents will also be insured against loss without additional charge to an amount equivalent to its actual value not to exceed $50.

The sender will be given a receipt showing the office and date of mailing, the number of the parcel and the amount to be collected. A tag will be attached to the parcel showing the amount to be collected. The addressee will receipt for the package on this tag, which will serve as an application for money order. On receiving the amount due, together with the tag properly executed, the postmaster will deliver the parcel to the addressee and issue and remit to the sender a special money order for the sum collected."

AS TO ASSESSMENTS.

Would not it be a good thing to engage an expert to readjust the assessments on local property? It is an admitted fact that the assessments are not uniform. In recent years, property values have jumped considerably in some sections of the city while the assessments have not been increased proportionately. This simply means that one property-owner is paying taxes for another property-owner; that is, the man whose property is assessed at a high rate must necessarily pay for the man whose property is assessed at a low rate. This condition should be remedied and one of the feasible ways would be to retain the services of a concern whose business it is to do just that sort of work.

Before the summer is over, it is expected that the first piece of automobile fire apparatus will be installed in one of the local fire houses. The City Clerk has been instructed to advertise for bids for an auto fire engine and they will be opened on Monday, June 2. When installed, there should be a lowering in insurance rates for such reduction generally follows when the property is thus protected.

We thought there was no hope for a "safe and sane" Fourth of July ordinance so long as George S. Clay continued his opposition, but it seems that the able President of the Common Council has had a change of heart. Last night, Councilman Blatz, acting for President Clay, introduced a measure for that purpose, and now we may expect to see the ordinance adopted.

The Chamber of Commerce has a committee at work investigating systems of garbage collection and disposal with a view to co-operating with the Councilmanic public affairs' committee in having some sanitary system put in force here. HUMAN INTEREST STORY.

Child curiosity, inspired by a desire to see what was inside of a rat hole, was responsible for a fire in the woodwork of the house owned by Isaac Kunzman and occupied by James Turner at 650 South Second street, at noon today, doing damage that amounted to but $10 before it was extinguished by the fire department. A peculiar illustration of mother-love was evidenced at the fire when the mother rat dragged the nest out of the burning hole in an effort to save her young ones from the flames, the parent rodent being nearly overcome by heat and smoke when rescued by the firemen.

"The Tourists," a classy musical comedy with pretty girls, catchy music and beautiful scenery, is the headline attraction at Proctor's theatre. The scene is laid in Venice. Doris, comedian, has some funny stories and good songs and Elverton, the spinning marvel, is a wonder at spinning.

FANWOOD IS PLANNING FOR SCHOOL ADDITION

Providing present plans are carried out, a two-story "wing" will be constructed on the northern end of Public School No. 1, of Fanwood, to meet the demand of the constantly increased number of school children in that town. A committee composed of A. D. Beekan, T. Nichols and Dr. F. W. Westcott, held a conference yesterday with the architect of the State Board of Education, who, after visiting the building, endorsed the ideas of the committeemen.

The two-story addition to the present structure as proposed will have three class-rooms on each floor, equipped to accommodate from 250 to 300 children. The "wing" will probably be of such construction that additional stories can be erected in future years if desired.

NEW TARIFF BILL IN LOWER HOUSE TODAY

Washington, D. C., April 22.—The Underwood tariff bill was re-introduced in the House today, accompanied by an exhaustive report by the Committee on Ways and Means. The committee says that the protective tariff policy was the product of war circumstances, the situation resulting from fifty years of high protective rates gradually became intolerable. The report then compares wholesale prices of leading commodities in 1897 with those of 1910, showing an increase ranging from 24.2 per cent. on housefurnishing goods to 92.3 per cent. on farm products. The committee urges that there should be a gradual and insistent reduction of our tariff laws to a basis where the American manufacturer must meet honest competition; where he must develop his business along the best and most economical lines; where when he fights at home to control his market he is forging the way in the development of his substitutes to extend his trade in the markets of the world.

WOMEN BURY "CENTURY" CHEST

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 22.—A "century" chest, not to be opened for one hundred years, was buried here today as a feature of the Oklahoma Natal Day celebration. The Ladies' Aid Society of the First English Lutheran church originated the idea. The chest was buried in a vault beneath the church and is to remain there until April 22, 2013. In the chest were placed many of the common things of today for comparison with things one hundred years hence. Among them were articles of women's dress, man's apparel, copies of the present laws, and a message of greeting to the descendants of the Cherokee and Chickasaw Indians, who were the original inhabitants of Oklahoma.

THE FORUM.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

Your article in last Friday's issue headed "Assemblymen and Jury Reform" shows very conclusively the necessity of watching the record of the members of our State Legislature, and of making known to them the views of their constituents on important measures. Mr. McLoughlin justifies his opposition to the Jury Reform Bill advocated by the President when he was Governor, by saying he has not heard any desire expressed in Union county for jury reform so far as the public is concerned. He is further reported as saying, "I am for whatever the people want."

Mr. McLoughlin further is reported as saying that people do not pay much attention to platforms in most cases, and that the Assembly (meaning presumably those Democratic members who voted as he did) did not regard the last election of Democratic officials as an endorsement of the party platform in its entirety. Mr. McLoughlin forgets that this platform was not framed in accordance with the old-time machine dictated method, but that it was adopted by a convention organized in accordance with the Geran law, the purpose of which is to put the old machine leaders and bosses out of business. Governor, now President Wilson was a member with the holdover Democratic Senators and the Democratic candidates for Senate and Assembly, and that hence he was himself a member. Does he contend that he was not pledged to support the promises of the platform which he helped to adopt? Does he set his judgment against that of Woodrow Wilson and the majority of his fellow delegates? Mr. Griffin is not so outspoken; he is in doubt; he thinks he must have thought that jury reform could be best obtained through the committee substitute bill; whether or not he still thought so, he would not say. Verily, Mr. Griffin is not an assemblyman of whom his constituents can feel very proud. They certainly must want a man to have convictions and to have the courage to express them. It is evidently incumbent upon the voters of Union to advise Messrs. McLoughlin and Griffin of their views as to the desirability of supporting the measure favored both by Governors Wilson and Fielder and a large part of the Legislature. I say, the voters, meaning every voter, without regard to his party affiliation, for the question whether juries shall be selected by the sheriffs or by commissioners appointed by the court, is of equal interest to everyone, whether he be Democrat, Republican, Progressive, Socialist or Prohibitionist; and it behooves members of the Legislature who may contemplate presenting themselves again as candidates to remember that the ratification of the seventeenth amendment to the United States Constitution will leave voters far more independent in their treatment of State issues and in their support of Legislative candidates.

Now, what is this question of jury reform? At present, the sheriff filling an elective office much sought after, selects the grand juries, whose function it is to inquire into alleged violations of law, and when satisfied of such violation, to present an indictment charging the offender with the offense committed. It is not alleged that all the sheriffs in the State have used their power intentionally, to select grand jurors, who no matter how complete the evidence, would refuse to indict. But in certain counties this has been done, at the dictation of some ring or powerful boss, and the ends of justice have been defeated, crimes and offenses going unpunished—it being impossible to even bring the offender to trial. In one county, this condition was so notorious that wrong-doers simply laughed at all attempts to check them, openly bragging, and with the power to select the grand jury in the hands of the sheriff named by themselves they had no fear. And not until a fearless judge, appointed by an equally fearless Governor, who is now President of the United States, found a means of circumventing the criminal alliance of the sheriff with the wrong-doers, by taking from the sheriff under the term of an old law, the power to select jurors and placing it in the hands of two Elisors appointed by himself, did he bring fear home to the boastful criminals. It is notorious that in other counties it is impossible to obtain indictments against the will of powerful leaders.

In accordance with the platform pledge of the Democratic party, a bill was introduced in the present Legislature at its regular session, placing this power in the hands of two commissioners to be appointed by the court. Our courts have always been above suspicion—they know no bosses, and it is to be presumed that commissioners appointed by them would consider only the interests of society, and would not be under the control of hostile influences. While Mr. Wilson remained Governor, opposition to this bill was feeble, but when he resigned the bosses big and little stirred themselves, and in the Assembly some members began to look elsewhere than to the party pledges for their instructions. The bill passed the State Senate, but was defeated in the Assembly by means of a substitute bill which provided that commissioners could be so appointed in any county upon a referendum to the people, which bill was rejected by the Senate. Those Assemblymen who supported this bill have given us no good reason for their action, nor can they. The residents of any one county in this State cannot be indifferent to conditions prevailing in other counties—there is no question of home-rule. An offense is not against the people of a county, but against the people of the State of New Jersey, and indictments so run. The State is the plaintiff—the complainant in a trial. The purpose of this substitute is to allow the evil influences which have so long prevailed in certain counties which it is needless to name particularly, to exert themselves to defeat the application of the bill to these counties in a referendum, relying upon the well known apathy of voters at such elections, and knowing well their own power to marshall their followers in opposition.

The only remaining question is, are the voters of Union county indifferent in this matter? That they have no present ground of complaint is not to the point. They may have in the future. But they should think beyond their own county. Now I vigorously urge upon all voters in Union who favor the Wilson measure, who may read this letter, to write to Messrs. McLoughlin and Griffin, telling how they stand, so that these gentlemen may not go to the extra session without being advised as to the wishes of their constituents. Further, I urge that meetings be held, and delegations chosen to go to Trenton to impress upon the Assembly the views of the voters.

EDWARD C. PEARSON.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH TITLE.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

The Rev. Dr. Wm. T. Manning, rector of Trinity church, New York, preaching Sunday morning in that church, warmly advocated the correction of the legal title of the Episcopal church in order to make it conform to the creed of the church which is recited every Sunday and in which every churchman declares his belief in the "Holy Catholic Church." Dr. Manning said: "This cumbersome and ugly legal title (referring to the name Protestant Episcopal) ought to be changed because it is a modern innovation, because it misrepresents the church and misleads people as to her true character, because it puts the church in the light of a modern denomination instead of in its true light as a part of the ancient, historic Catholic church and because this narrow and limited title is out of harmony with the true name of the church as given in the creed, is a hindrance to our work among the multitudes of many races who are now coming to our country, and is also a most serious barrier as is well known to progress in some of our mission fields. Why should we (he said) want to fight for the word Protestant? It reflects the controversial spirit of a bye-gone age. We have progressed beyond it."

GENERAL H. G. OTIS AGAINST ALIEN BILL.

GENERAL HARRISON GREY OTIS.

General Harrison Grey Otis, editor of the Los Angeles Times, says:—"The situation in respect to Japan is unfortunate, needless and critical. The vice of the anti-alien land bills now before the Legislature lies in the fact that the discrimination intended is unwise plainly brutal and clearly unfair and unjust. Such legislation, to be right should be directed equally against all foreign land holders, whether Oriental or European, and even then it should be moderate, reasonable and demanded by existing conditions.

ETIQUETTE OF THE TABLE.

Luncheon For Spring Bride Elect Where the Decorations Were Delightfully Simple, Though Very Effectively Carried Out—Selecting Paper.

Dear Elsa—You asked me whether I enjoyed the H.'s' dinner. Well, to be perfectly frank, I was bored to extinction. I can't say I really dined with them. I ate with the H.'s would be putting it better. What was the matter? Perhaps I'm over fastidious, but it seems to me that one never really dines unless the table is well ordered and the family and guests, if there are many of the latter, indulge in a reasonably leisurely meal, with a little interesting conversation thrown in as an entree, so to speak. I am sure that you agree with me, and it is only between such good friends like you and me, dear, that I would run the risk of such a breach of etiquette as to discuss a meal at which I was an honored guest.

To begin with, the tablecloth was on crooked, and the lace centerpiece was fit for nothing save the ministrations of the laundress. There were no flowers, not even a fern dish, in the middle of the board, and I do like some greenery to look at, don't you? And then we didn't have a particle of time to talk. The family set the pace and positively raced through their food

You know my failing, dear, of getting in a story every now and then Well, there wasn't the slightest opportunity to tell even Woodrow Wilson's latest witticism, for I'd no sooner start to tell an anecdote than I'd look round and see that both my host and hostess had long ago finished that particular course and were impatiently waiting for me to make an end of it so that the maid could clear away the dishes. Naturally all there was for me to do was to put a short stop on my pet story, gulp down the last mouthful and lay down arms, alias fork.

And that's the way it went on all through the dinner. Can you wonder that I was disgruntled? The H.'s all acted as if they were trying to catch a train and had only the usual ten minutes for refreshments. But, my dear, when we got into the drawing room there was absolutely nothing to do. The family are not musical, they loathe bridge, and their conversational abilities seem to have rusted from want of exercise. I was too cross by this time to make an effort and help them out.

Now, what do you reckon makes nice people act like that? You say perhaps that some of us get into the habit of rapid eating and don't stop to think about others. Possibly, but it would be a fine plan to get out of the practice, especially when there are guests present.

Mother always said that one's breeding showed itself more quickly at table than anywhere else, and I think she was right. A man or woman may have a fine mind and refined instincts, and yet through ignorance commit all sorts of gaucheries at the table, but there was no excuse on earth for the H.'s acting as they did.

Now, I am going to tell you about a bride elect's luncheon I attended, which was charming in every respect. The table decorations were simple yet very effective, consisting of a shallow silvered basket filled with lilies of the valley, delicate ferns and a few pink rosebuds. This basket was placed on a circular mirror in the center of the table, and the frame was concealed with a wreath of ferns, lilies and pink rosebuds dotted here and there in the greenery.

At each plate was a small bunch of valley lilies with one pink rosebud tied together with silver gauze. The bride elect's place was designated by a wreath of pink rosebuds and ferns, and at the back of her chair, tied with the gauze ribbon, was a similar bunch of rosebuds. Pink candles in silver candlesticks were used, with white shades wreathed with pink rosebuds. Rolls, croquettes, ices and cakes were in heart shapes and heart shaped cases of pink and white held bonbons and nuts. This floral decoration would be pretty to use at your club luncheon.

So you are going to redecorate your living room and want me to select the paper! Well, it's a great responsibility, but as I can easily shed worries here goes for better or worse. By all means use an oatmeal paper. It is a rough effect in paper that is being much used just now, and when a plain wall covering is desired there is nothing better in comparatively cheap papering than the oatmeal.

For your room I would use oatmeal in a deep gold, but should you prefer it a soft wood brown color would be restful, but it would make the room darker. Do not use a border, but stop the paper at the picture molding. The space above and the ceiling should be tinted a tone or two lighter than the oatmeal paper. This is a Whistler "I'm not arguing with you; I'm just telling you" sort of way of discussing the living room refurnishing, but you won't mind, as the advice comes from dictatorial MABEL.

To Restore Wet Shoes.

Wet shoes may be prevented from becoming hard by rubbing them with vaseline after cleaning them and setting them away for a day. This also prevents the leather from cracking.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

By JUDIC CHOLLET

Here is a stunning little model for a girl's school dress that is simple and up to date. The little V shaped panel in the skirt and the chemisette in the bodice allow effective use of a different material.

The sleeves are of the one piece order, joined to the blouse at the drooping shoulder line, and they can be made short if desired, while the neck may be either round or high with a stock collar.

The frock pictured is of fine blue French serge, with blue and white trimmings, but the model is just as pretty for crepe de chine, which the girls are wearing so much. It would be charming developed in cotton crape

COLORED EASTER EGGS.

WITHOUT colored eggs Easter will not seem like Easter to the children.

Care should be taken to use dyes that will not be unwholesome if the eggs are eaten. Vegetable dyes are the best. A little cochineal, which makes the shells a brilliant red, will do no harm.

Gayly Tinted Shells.

Yellow Eggs.—Saffron will color eggs a beautiful yellow. A "greenery yallery" tint is given to eggs by boiling in water in which a teaspoonful of curry powder has been dissolved.

Red Eggs.—An exquisite bright red may be obtained by boiling the eggs in water in which a bit of cochineal has been placed, or if pink is desired put in less cochineal.

Green Eggs.—For a beautiful green use spinach. The coloring matter is made by boiling the vegetable rapidly for ten minutes, then pressing out the juice through a fine sieve, adding a small quantity of water to the juice and boiling the eggs in the mixture.

Eggs With Patterns.—Another easy way is to tie the egg firmly in a piece of colored material, drop into boiling water and the colors of the fabric will appear on the egg after having boiled slowly for half an hour. Pieces of cloth on which there are fancy patterns are the best for the purpose, as the patterns transferred to the eggshell give it a handsome appearance.

Name on the Shell.

Decorated Eggs.—Decorated eggs are even more fun than plain ones. One of the simplest ways of ornamenting eggs is to write on it the child's name and the date or to draw some simple design with the end of a match that has been sharpened and dipped in grease. This is done before the egg is put into the coloring matter. The grease will not take color, so that the name or design will appear white after the egg is colored.

Blown Eggs.—For blown eggs a small hole may be made at each end of the eggs and the contents forced out with the breath. Rinse clean. Draw a narrow ribbon through double from one hole to the other, tying in a bow at the lower end and leaving a loop or corresponding bow at the upper end. Decorate the shell in water colors, tracing small flowers or ecclesiastical designs.

PEACE DAY FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

May 18 is Date Set for Day Observance of Which is Spreading.

Peace day will be widely celebrated in schools throughout the United States this year. Although introduced but a few years ago, this special school day in behalf of international peace is now regularly celebrated in many American schools, and the indications are that its observance this year will be extended to thousands more.

Since May 18, the day set aside as peace day, falls on Sunday the schools will probably hold their exercises on the nearest school day

Realizing the growing importance of the peace movement among school children, the United States bureau of education has just issued a peace day bulletin for 1913 containing, besides a suggested program for the day, a number of interesting short articles on different phases of the international peace movement, accurate and comprehensive information about the various organizations working for peace and a collection of appropriate poems and prose quotations by famous peace lovers of many nations.

The material was compiled for the bureau by Mrs. Fannie Fern Andrews, secretary of the American School Peace league and a world known worker for peace.

The Temple of Peace at The Hague, the centenary of peace between England and the United States, the cosmopolitan movement in the colleges and universities and what it signifies for universal peace, the work of The Hague tribunal and other peace agencies—these are among the important topics gathered together in the bureau's bulletin, "The Promotion of Peace."

That the sentiment for observance of peace day in the schools is not confined to the United States, but is distinctly international, is shown in the words of M Buisson of Paris, quoted in the bulletin. He says:

"Peace day Let it shine one day in the year among all nations The whole year is consecrated as it ought to be, to the promotion of love of country, to teaching our duties toward our native land, even to the extent of sacrificing ourselves for her

"On this special day, however, it is in order not to forget our country, but to see her transfigured in the future to see her lead in the movement which binds one nation to all others making a sort of higher country the federation of the United States of the civilized world."

SCOOP HAS MORE PATRIOTISM THAN APPETITE

SCORE KEEPERS DO NOT ALWAYS AGREE

This Fact is Substantiated by a Comparison of Certain Records Published.

Ever since the local high schools opened their respective baseball seasons there has been a crying need for efficient score keepers and in most every case, where box scores have been submitted for publication, the reports of the home and visiting game keepers have differed perceptibly. In some instances the scorers have turned hits into errors, some have even overlooked the worst kind of misplays and still others have made the hit column resemble a walk away for one aggregation or another when, in reality, the contest was close as far as pitching and hitting was concerned.

A notable example of the different box scores and the slip-ups which have occurred comes from the borough, the scorer over there having gone so far as to mention wild throws in the summary without registering errors for them in the misplay column. Then again, an N. P. H. S. record keeper, has put down a wild pitch for a man playing right field which is an utter impossibility, the twirler being the only member of the team who could be guilty of this infraction.

In the Plainfield-New Brunswick High School box score turned in by the P. H. S. scorer yesterday, the local nine is credited with six hits by him, while the Brunswick scorer gives them but three safties, one by Heron, Rosenson and Coughlin; Carty's two and Grisley's one, turned in by the local scorer, being entirely omitted. The Plainfield error column profited somewhat by the record of the Brunswick official, the locals being credited with but two errors, one by Heron and one by Coughlin, while the Plainfielder gives them five, none by Coughlin, but two by Carty, one by Heron, Good and Grisley. This wide divergence of opinion should be remedied before the season grows much older as some players are probably not getting their just dues while others are receiving little gifts on the side.

LEALS AND N. P. H. S.

Coach Wardlaw and his team of Leal School baseball players, including Schneider, the $11,000 beauty, will appear on Hyde Oval tomorrow afternoon to lineup against the North Plainfield High School combination in a game for the Interscholastic baseball title and trophy, the latter being put up for competition by Paul R. Collier. This is the first meeting of these two scholastic rivals on the diamond this season and it will be the boroughites' initial contest in the Interscholastic League, although Leals has already played one game, having lost to the city High School boys. Much depends on the outcome of tomorrow's game for both teams and the result will be watched with keen interest by all concerned.

N. Y. AND N. J. LEAGUE CIRCUIT.

At a meeting of the managers of the New York and New Jersey Baseball League at Poughkeepsie yesterday the season's schedule was adopted, the playing season to open May 22 and close Sept. 7. The final selection of teams composing the league includes Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Middletown, Kingston, Long Branch, N. J., and Danbury, Conn. The umpires will be named by President R. M. Cox, of Middletown.

INTERCLASS BALL AT P. H. S.

Playing their first game of the interclass baseball league championship race, the Plainfield High School sophomores took the field as follows this afternoon: Pitchers, Mann and Denny; catcher, Cantor; first base, Randolph; second base, Linke; third base, Hirsh; short stop, LaRue; left field, Pollock; centre field, Warden and McNamee; right field, McAfee. Gerald Linke has been chosen as captain, Benjamin Rosenson having resigned to play with the first team.

P. H. S. TEACHERS AS CAMP LEADERS

Charles R. Bostwick and Henry R. Hubbard Directors of Camp Kineo.

Plainfield boys who annually spend their vacations in Camp Kineo, in the Maine woods and White Mountains, will have as their associate directors this summer, Charles R. Bostwick and Henry R. Hubbard, two Plainfield High School instructors well known to the boys of this city. Mr. Bostwick is a graduate of Yale University where he was a prominent athlete having held the club swinging championship of that university, and last summer acted as director of Parker Field. He resigned this position to take up his work in the Maine camp and the large number of Plainfielders planning to visit this camping ground during the coming summer will be interested to learn of his connection with the project. Mr. Bostwick is also known as a leader in scoutcraft having been appointed one of the scout masters in this city.

Mr. Hubbard is a Harvard graduate and he, like his colleague, is also an active worker among boys. He has conducted summer excursions for local boys which have been taken in the nature of canoe trips through the Maine woods, Mr. Hubbard being an expert woodsman and student of nature. As an added feature this year, Camp Kineo will have a special department for girl campers and the popularity of this new idea has already asserted itself by the large number of applicants. The camping site affords all of the facilities for an out of door vacation, being situated in the heart of the Maine woods about forty miles from Portland on Long Lake. This body of water is eleven miles long and from one-half to two miles wide. A baseball field, tennis courts, athletic field, jumping pits and everything else required by the young American is afforded at this stopping place.

TRINITY WILL NOT HAVE LEAGUE TEAM

But Will Play Independently on Local Diamonds This Season.

Preparations are underway among the Trinity Reformed church Sunday-school members to organize a baseball team to play independently on local diamonds during the spring and summer months and a fast combination will probably be turned out in a short time. It was originally planned to enter the Sunday-school Baseball League but the material on hand did not warrant the officials making arrangements of an extensive nature and it was decided best to play with an independent schedule of games.

The material on hand is abundant and promising and a fast little contingent will probably represent the Trinity Sunday-school on the diamond this season. The initial call for practise has been issued and the manager is now ready to book games with aggregations of like strength.

MORRIS MANN ENTERED.

Plainfield will be represented in the Metropolitan Senior Athletic Meet conducted by the East Side Branch of the Y. M. C. A. of New York City, Thursday night by Morris Mann. Mann is planning to compete in the standing broad jump and is hopeful of landing a first place and the silver loving cup that goes with the position.

AMERICAN WHO LOST HYDRO-AEROPLANE CUP AND HIS FRENCH RIVAL

MAURICE PREVOST

The first run at Monte Carlo for the Coupe Internationale d'Aviation Maritime Jacques Schneider was won for France by Maurice Prevost, on a Deperdussin hydroaeroplane of 160 horse power, with a Gnome motor. The race therefore, will be run in France again next year.

There were four competitors—Mr. Prevost, Roland Garros and Gabriel Espanet, representing France, and Charles T. Weymann the United States.

Mr. Weymann's failure was due to the fact that he did not carry sufficient lubricating oil and his tank was not filled before the start.

S. S. LEAGUE WILL OPEN SEASON MAY 17

Five Teams to Compose Bible Organization This Year—4 of Last Year's Nines.

Permanent organization was effected at the meeting of the Sunday-school baseball league held in the Y. M. C. A. parlors last night, the applications of five Sunday-school nines being accepted and they were entered as contenders as follows: Hope Chapel, First Baptist, First Presbyterian, Park Avenue Baptist and Monroe Avenue M. E. All of these teams, with the exception of the First Presbyterians, were members of the organization last season and are familiar with the routine of league work carried out which will be practically the same this year. Hope Chapel, the winner of the league championship and silver loving cup last year, is back again in full force and the enthusiasm expressed on every hand at last night's meeting assures the organization of another successful season.

All of the five teams complied with the organization committees request for the appointment of a member of the Sunday-school selected by the superintendent to represent it on the governing board and the following were present last night: Hope Chapel, James Penny; First Presbyterian, F. O. Dunning, Sr.; Park Avenue Baptist, John Van Winkle; Monroe Avenue, Robert McCormick, and First Baptist, John M. McLaughlin. An election of officers followed resulting as follows: President, F. O. Dunning, Sr.; vice president, John McLaughlin; secretary and treasurer, James Penny. Robert McCormick and John Van Winkle were appointed as a committee of two to draw up a five team schedule and have it ready for presentation at the next meeting.

The Sunday-school League season will open Saturday afternoon, May 17, and each team will play the other four rival contenders four times each, making a total of sixteen contests for every contender. An important ammendment was made to the constitution at last night's meeting making any candidate attending Sunday-school next Sunday as a regular member eligible to play in the league representing that Sunday-school of which he is a member.

SCOTCH PLAINS IN COUNTY BALL LEAGUE

Regulations Issued by the Secretary to All Contenders in the Race.

Grammar school baseball players of Scotch Plains who are entered in the Union County Grammar School Baseball League have been handed with certain rules and regulations by Principal E. W. Rozelle of the Garwood schools, who is secretary and treasurer of the county league. Scotch Plains has an exceptionally strong team and expect to put up a red hot brand of competition for the league title and trophy.

The following rules, which were adopted to govern the leagues, were received by the Plains team:

No pupil is eligible to play on any team unless he has an average of at least 70 per cent., is an elementary grade pupil, and has been on the roll of the school for at least three days prior to the date of the game. Official ball—Koenig or Spalding. The team to supply one ball in 'h condition for each game. Each team to pay its own traveling expenses. Teams postponing games without the consent of the president of the league forfeit the game.

In case of inclement weather or wet grounds the home team must notify the visiting team by 2 p. m.

Two umpires, one representing each team, are to be used in each game. Umpires must be approved by principal or coach of the school represented.

All postponed Friday games to be played on the following Monday. All other postponed games as directed by the president.

Teams must be on hand to start the game at 3 o'clock or forfeit same. No called games to count after seven innings have been played.

The champions of the league will be awarded a pennant. Each team has been assessed $1.00, payable to the secretary-treasurer before May 1, to provide for purchasing the same.

PRIEST WHO IS A DEALER IN ISLANDS VISITS AMERICA ON WAY TO PARIS

Father Rougier.

Father Rougier, a French priest and dealer in South Sea Islands, has just arrived in San Francisco, Cal., by way of Honolulu on his way to Paris. It is said that Father Rougier knows more about the strange islands that jut above the bosom of the Pacific south of Honolulu than any other man who has been in those waters. He knows the location of every one of them and has visited the majority of them. The islands of Christmas and Fanning were sold recently by him to a British syndicate.

HOME

The average man spends half his life at Home. That takes into account the nights at the club, at lodge, at the theatre, or sitting up with a sick friend. It also takes into account the fellow who sees home often enough only to establish a voting residence. He is balanced off in averaging up by the man who spends a good deal more than half his life at Home. The Newark Sunday Call has figured this all out and says that the statement that more than half of life is spent at Home cannot be disputed. If there is any doubt about it, keep a time schedule for a week or so. The Average Women? Bless you, three-quarters of her life is spent at Home! And that includes the working woman, too, the real NEW WOMAN.

Home shapes up as a pretty big proposition, considering all that. The world realizes it, too, for most of the world's efforts go toward providing homes. Right down at the bottom of things, you come up against that great big reason for it all—"Home."

There was a poet who said that Home was not merely four square walls. That was the absolute truth. Home is what you make it, whether you call it palace, villa, flat, cottage or hut. Some people can make a hall bed-room more homey than others can with a $300,000 marble mansion. It is wholly up to the individual. But as half a life time is to be spent at Home, it is worth trying to make it a success. A real homey Home is life's biggest success.

The poet's four square walls idea, however, should not be taken wholly at its face value. Most truths should not. There is always that little exception to the rule lurking in the background. Accept the truth, but also dig out that little exception and digest its meaning. Then you will get the full value out of the truth. Four square walls do not make a Home. But they help. The better those same walls are the better chance of making a successful Home. Be careful in choosing a setting for the jewel—the home jewel. Remember that you must use that setting half your life. Pick some thing that will wear. See that it is good. That means be careful in choosing your abode. Whether it be a house, a flat or a room, choose it carefully. Whether you buy or rent, remember you are selecting a setting for the biggest thing in life—Home.

The Plainfield Daily Press

thinks a lot about Home. That is natural, for Homes form its destination when it leaves the presses ready for distribution among its thousands of readers. The Daily Press likes to take part in home making and it does all it can to further that end in what it prints. It can aid you in selecting your setting for your Home—the dwelling, whatever form it may take.

The owner of a house who wishes to sell or rent the house goes to an agent—if he be wise and wants results. The agent gives publicity to the owner's desire, attends to the troublesome incidental business, and accomplishes the desired results.

The agent has the assistance of another agent—a very powerful agent for this sort of work. This other agent is the RELIABLE NEWSPAPER, the newspaper that reaches the kind of people the owner would want to sell or rent to. The DAILY PRESS is such an agent. It reaches this desirable clientage and is used by responsible agents. Look at the names of the agents who advertise real estate for sale or to let and note the high character of these advertisers. their agent because it reaches the kind of people They, in turn, have chosen the DAILY PRESS as they want for clients.

Choose your home setting carefully. Study the For Sale and To Let advertisements in the DAILY PRESS. Make notes of what appeals to you, write to the agent or the owner, and inspect the property. You are dealing with established business concerns who can aid you in this big work of Home-Making. They, the agents, are seeking your patronage because you are the kind they want dealings with—the kind who can be reached through the DAILY PRESS.

STREET WIDENING REPORT ADOPTION IS POSTPONED

The Common Council resolved itself into a committee of the whole, last night, to take up the question of widening Madison avenue, and to act upon the report of the commissioners, Elliot T. Barrows, Howard Tracy and Michael Rimmer. Leighton Calkins was made chairman of the meeting. After the report of the commissioners was read, Mr. Endress moved that it be confirmed.

Mr. Blatz said that as he had had no previous knowledge that the matter was to come up at this meeting, he was not ready to vote to either confirm or reject the report. He stated that he had prepared some figures showing that the assessments were not equitable in his opinion, and in view of the protest made by the Dreier estate he was not prepared to vote on the question. On the other hand he thought the commissioners had undoubtedly made the assessments with a great deal of care.

Mr. Randolph wanted to know whether by approving the report the city would be bound to make the improvement. This brought out the information that an ordinance for the proposed widening was passed in 1893. Mr. Clay said that he felt satisfied that the commissioners had made a fair assessment and he was ready to vote to approve the report. In view of Mr. Blatz's objections, the Council decided to report progress in the matter and Mr. Blatz will be given an opportunity to present his arguments later.

MAYOR TO SPEAK HERE

lected, that for the first time in the city's history the fiscal year will be closed with a revenue equaling the expenditure.

This situation needs some further explanation. For the present fiscal year all about $15,000 of the entire tax assessment was collected by December 20, last, the day on which the tax discount period ended. In former years the city came up to December 20 with from $60,000 to $80,000 in delinquent taxes. Under the new business method much of the delinquent taxes have been collected, and in 1914 when the city will be permitted to sell real estate under the Martin act to enforce the collection of taxes in those cases where tax-payers absolutely refuse to pay, the city will have received as much money if not more, as was spent for the city government for the fiscal year of 1913, just ended.

All construction work of the city has been consolidated under the Department of Streets and Public Improvements, including street, paving, sewer building, city building, etc. The Department of Parks and Public Property now has entire control of all city buildings and other city property. This is exactly in line with the way a big business corporation would handle similar work.

Thousands Saved.

Through open specifications on new street paving, commission government has saved Trenton $15,000 on $140,000 worth of improvements.

By installing business methods in the purchase of supplies at the Almshouse, $6,000 has been saved. The City Poor Department, by buying drugs in bulk for administering needed medicines to indigent people, has saved $1,500. A City Dispensary has been opened and treatment is administered by three city physicians. A clerk is maintained in the office of the Poor Department permanently, permitting the Overseer of the Poor to drop much of the routine work and give necessary attention to directing his department and doing outside work. Through these business methods the prescriptions for the city poor have been reduced in price from three to ten cents, instead of fifty cents and upward under the old methods. Notwitstanding these improvements this department costs less than formerly.

The new form of government has effected a big saving to the city in official advertising.

The saving in salaries of city officials and employes has been more than $25,000 annually.

In closing this brief sketch of what commission government has done, City Clerk Thompson said:

"These are actualities and every item can be shown from our official books."

The city budget this year is $60,000 more than last year, the present total being about $1,200,000. Practically all of the increase of $60,000, however, it is pointed out, is for public schools and other permanent improvement and interest on bonds which represent permanent improvements. The commissioners claim that this is only the natural increase that would be expected in any business where an equal amount of business is transacted to that done by the city.

Miss Luelia C. Harris, of Elizabeth, for many years soprano soloist at the First Baptist church, visited in Plainfield, yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Newhall, who have been spending several weeks in this city, left their apartments in Truell Inn today for their home in Littleton, N. H. Mr. Newhall was at one time prominently connected with the local Health Department.

FRIEDMANN SERUM BRINGS BENEFITS

Several Patients Say It Cured Them.

RESULTS SEEM MAGICAL.

People Who Were Cripples When the Remedy Was Administered Are Reported Able to Walk With Ease. Some Had Been Helpless For Years. Many Improved.

While the medical profession and countless tuberculosis patients in this country anxiously await definite knowledge about the efficacy of Dr. Franz Friedrich Friedmann's turtle serum remedy, results that seem almost magical have been reported by persons the young German physician treated in New York.

The final judgment of the so called "cure" probably rests with the United States government; hence all statements regarding results from the use of the remedy at the present time must be taken for what they are worth.

It is known that in some cases the serum failed to produce benefit. Dr. Friedmann's friends contend, however, that such cases were hopeless when the remedy was administered.

Some of the verdicts favorable to the remedy come from patients Dr. Friedmann treated at the New York Hospital For Deformities and Joint Diseases.

A New York reporter who had been present when the remedy was administered at the clinic called at the hospital recently and inquired about the condition of the patients treated with the serum.

Dr. Henry Frauenthal, head of the hospital, told the reporter he could not make a statement regarding his observation of the cases except through the columns of a medical journal, in accordance with professional etiquette.

"But inasmuch as you were here before," added Dr. Frauenthal, "I can see no objection to your going through the hospital and making such observations of your own as you are able to make from your memory of the patients you saw under treatment."

Former Cripple Walks.

The first patient the reporter recognized was Maurice Starr, a middle aged man who had been crippled by tuberculosis of the hip joint. He was taken to the hospital in a carriage just before the clinic and, being unable to walk, was carried up the stairs by his own physician and an attendant. At the clinic Starr said that he had not been able to sleep with his leg straightened out for year and that he suffered continuous pains.

Maurice Starr walked across the room and shook hands with Dr. Frauenthal and the reporter. When told that the visitor had been present at the clinic he laughed and said: "Don't look much like the same man now, do I? I have no more pain. I can keep my leg straightened out. I can climb stairs even."

Another Friedmann patient was an extraordinarily beautiful girl. She was brought to the hospital, unable to walk without assistance. Her right leg was swollen until the knee was nine inches in diameter. She could not use the leg. She came walking toward the reporter with perfect ease.

In the case of this girl a large abscess had formed on the affected knee after Dr. Friedmann's cultures were forced into the veins of neck and thigh. This caused some alarm, but when the pus was removed from the abscess by lancing she began to mend rapidly.

Many Report Improvement.

Another older woman who was described at the clinic as one who had not been able to move her leg for five years was on her feet. Supporting herself by a doorjamb she swung the formerly helpless leg through an arc of two feet and bent her knee.

"I have no more pain," she said. "It was terrible before the doctor gave me the medicine. I did not want to live sometimes."

Her face which had been drawn with lines of pain at the clinic was clear and peaceful.

These were the more remarkable cases. Not a patient was found among the thirty treated by Dr. Friedmann for bone tuberculosis at that clinic who was an exception to the general rule of better general appearance and reports of the disappearance of pain and the limbering of restricted joints.

The man Starr said that he had been carried to Mount Sinai hospital when it was first announced that Dr. Friedmann was to demonstrate there and after an examination had been told by the physicians that he ought not to take the Friedmann treatment as his case was so far advanced that it could not possibly do him good and might do him harm. He persisted and was treated at the other hospital.

Sophia Berger, a patient at St. Joseph's hospital in Providence, R. I., was the first person to whom Dr. Friedmann administered his treatment in America. She had a bad case of tuberculosis of the knee, and before the German physician gave her treatment she could not move her leg.

Recent reports from the hospital were to the effect that the use of the leg had been fully restored and that the patient was not only able to walk without limping, but to skip the rope.

COMMENCEMENTS TOO ELABORATE

Asst. Commissioner of Education Deplores the Apeing of College Customs.

IT IS NOT DEMOCRATIC

Girls' Dresses, Boys' Evening Clothes, Gifts of Flowers and Other Features Come In For His Comment —His Advice.

Trenton, April 23.—Assistant Commissioner of Education A. B. Meredith yesterday issued a pamphlet recommending simplicity in dress and the eliminating of extraordinary expenses in connection with the graduating exercises of the High Schools soon to be conducted throughout the State. The pamphlet has the endorsement of the members of the State Board of Education and will be generally circulated throughout the schools of the State.

In his suggestions regarding High School graduation exercises Mr. Meredith says in part:

"At this time of the year High School teachers and the members of graduating classes turn their thoughts toward the closing exercises of the school. In view of this fact, may it not be well to consider plans for making these exercises less expensive, less ostentatious and more truly representative of actual High School work? At the same time would not the democratic spirit which should pervade all public school activities tend thus to become more strongly emphasized?

"The growing tendency to imitate college customs has, in some cases, resulted in transforming simple High School graduation exercises into elaborate and showy commencements. In such instances, expenses become so heavy that some pupils, and parents particularly, look ahead with considerable anxiety to the time of graduation, and to the monetary demands which the exercises make upon them.

"In the case of girls, the question

RICHARD H. HOOD WON ON A MINOR POINT

Paragraphs in Answer to His Suit to Recover Personal Effects Stricken Out.

Richard Haden Hood, who is being sued by Mrs. Frances Sparks Hood for divorce, while himself suing both to establish his ownership of the Hood home and to recover possession of about $50,000 worth of personal property in the house, scored over Mrs. Hood on a minor point yesterday, when he objected to certain paragraphs in an answer to his suit.

In Mr. Hood's bill reference was made to his having been served with papers in a divorce suit upon his return from Europe last October. Mrs. Hood, in her answer, charged that her husband went abroad with another woman, and that the misconduct charged in the divorce petition took place on that trip. This allegation, Mr. Parker urged, was "impertinent, scandalous and irrelevant," and asked that it be stricken out.

The vice chancellor at Trenton agreed with Mr. Parker that the reference to the trip had no rightful place in the answer.

"What you set up you may prove, but to prove that allegation would be trying the divorce issue," was the way the vice chancellor put it. He directed that the averment objected to be stricken out.

Mr. Parker further objected to the answer on the ground that it did not sufficiently answer the complainant's allegation, anent his exclusion from the house. George U. C. McCarter who appeared for Mrs. Hood, contended that the wife's statement in her answer, that she had permitted her husband to come to the house and take away what was his, was a sufficient answer on that point.

LOCAL EUCHRE TEAM WON THE MOST GAMES

Holy Name Society Tournament Taken up Again at Social Hall Last Night.

With 150 euchre enthusiasts on hand to witness the first of the second tri-society euchre tournaments held under the auspices of the St. Joseph's, of North Plainfield; St. Mary's, of Plainfield, and St. John's, of Dunellen, Holy Name Societies, the local players managed to nose out their borough rivals with a score of seventeen victories. The playing was unusually close and the spectators were kept constantly on the alert applauding brilliant moves by one player or another and the star moving was pretty evenly divided up among the members of the three representative teams in the race. St. Joseph's finished two games behind the winners and St. John's pulled up in the rear with thirteen wins.

Thirty-six players took part in the games, playing at nine tables in the Social Hall on Liberty street and matches last night were a set of the most interesting yet played.

DR. PRINCE TELLS MUSIC'S HISTORY

He Sketches Development of Both Vocal and Instrumental Music.

ILLUSTRATES REMARKS

Former President of Senate and Professor of Science of Languages at Columbia Delivers Highly Instructive Address.

The origin of music, both vocal and instrumental, and its development, from the primitive age to the grand opera, were discussed in an original and highly instructive manner last night in the Congregational church by former State Senator John D. Prince, of Passaic county, professor of the science of languages at Columbia University, New York, and former president of the State Senate. He appeared here under the auspices of the Men's Club of the Congregational church who had issued a special invitation to the women to attend and many did so. The speaker was introduced by Charles Arthur Rice, president of the club, as "former Senator Prince who served as Governor of New Jersey fifteen times."

"Music is connected very strongly with language," Prof. Prince began his discourse, "and is the art of expressing one's feelings by rythmatic sounds." He reviewed the progress made in the construction of musical instruments since the savage tribes of the primitive age would stretch portions of animal membrane across pieces of wood which developed into the tambourine and the drum of the present age; the "wind" instrument developing from a whistle, and thence into a perforated reed, from which the musical octave developed, and finally into the church organ, flute, cornet, bagpipe, and various other instruments commonly used in brass bands, and the third form of musical contrivance, viz.: the string instruments. The last form of instrument, he said, was the result of an accidental discovery by some savage, that a piece of gut string stretched taunt would give a "musical twang," when "picked" with the finger. From this discovery developed the one-string violin, and later the present form of violin, guitar, banjo, mandolin, bass-violin, piano, etc., he said.

After describing the various stages in the development of vocal music and musical instruments, Prof. Prince gave numerous vocal illustrations. They included the savage song of the American Indian; Turkish, Spanish and Italian love songs and grand opera as sung by the artists of today. His rendition of the Arabian chant, "Call to Prayer," in native tongue was most interesting. When he had completed a Turkish love song called, "Oh! When I Walk With My Beloved in the Garden," he was requested to sing the same selection in English, which he did and the unusual performance was the signal for much applause.

Other selections rendered were. "Hymn of the Wind Goddess," a gutteral selection sung by the Apache Indians; "Love Song of the Nile," an Arabic selection; Spanish ballet songs; Slavic songs and Hungarian hymns.

HEBREWS WILL PRESENT THE OPERA "DAR-KOCHBA"

Somewhat of an innovation will be made at the local amateur theatricals tonight when the Young Men's Hebrew Association presents its opera, "Dar-Kochba," for it will be the first time that a play written and acted in the Hebrew dialect has been staged here and a big audience is expected to witness the production at Reform Hall on West Second street.

Rehearsals have been held regularly during the past few weeks under expert coaches and the twenty members of the cast are well adapted to their respective parts, this being possible because of the large number of aspirants who tried for positions in the cast. The costumes are unusually elaborate. A special musical concert has been arranged for with a professional leader from New York city in charge and an orchestra will render popular Hebrew tunes at intervals.

CIVIC ASSO. ENTERTAINMENT.

The West End Civic Association is planning to give a high-class entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night, May 6. The talent will be the same that appeared at the annual entertainment given by Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. & A. M., several weeks ago at the Park Club.

MISS MARGARET HAYS DR. C. D. EASTON'S BRIDE

Miss Margaret Hays, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayes, formerly of this city, but now of New York, and Dr. Charles D. Easton, of Newport, R. I., will be married in St. Thomas' church, New York, today. Miss Mildred Innis Stewart, who will be one of the attendants at the wedding, gave a dance at her home in New York, last night.

The Hays family resided on Park avenue, this city, for several years. Following the loss of the Titanic, Miss Hays gained world-wide attention when she took charge of the two French children, who were passengers on the boat and who became separated from their father. The children were later restored to their mother.

W. N. RUNYON TO SPEAK AT FLY-SWAT MEETING

William N. Runyon will speak at the anti-fly crusade mass meeting at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium tomorrow night. The information to be given will be valuable to every householder.

Plainfield housekeepers have become familiar with the movement by means of circulars and other descriptive literature circulated by the committee in charge. An automobile parade with machines appropiately decorated to advertise the campaign is planned and it is expected to have thirty-five or forty cars in line. In order to make it a success those in charge have called for volunteers to lend their cars with their drivers on this occasion. Each machine will bear an anti-fly banner.

IRVING STEWART NOW A BENEDICT

He Takes Miss Lucille D. Rockwell as His Bride at Home Ceremony.

DR. ZELIE OFFICIATES

His Brother, Mayor Percy H. Stewart, Best Man—Miss Nora L. Rockwell Maid of Honor—Couple to Reside in Canada.

Miss Lucille D. Rockwell, daughter of Mrs. William Rockwell, of East Front street, and Irving Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Stewart, of West Seventh street, were married at 8 o'clock, last night, at the home of the bride's mother, by Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Nora L. Rockwell, as maid of honor; Miss Ida Stewart, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid, and Miss Elinor Stewart, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Percy H. Stewart, and niece of the bridegroom, as flower girl. The best man was Mayor Percy Hamilton Stewart, brother of the bridegroom. The ushers were Bertram Stanley Rockwell, of New York, and Sidney Jerome Rockwell, of this city, brothers of the bride.

The bride's gown was of white satin, trimmed with point applique lace. She wore a veil of tulle and old lace and carried bride roses. The maid of honor's gown was of pale pink charmeuse, with pink chiffon and silver irredescent trimmings. She carried white carnations. The bridesmaid was gowned in white brocaded crepe trimmed with lace and chiffon, draped, and rhinestone beading and she carried pink carnations. The flower girl was dressed in white chiffon. She wore pink roses and carried a basket of pink rose petals, which she scattered in the pathway of the bride. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, William Rockwell, of Montclair. Mrs. Rockwell, mother of the bride, was gowned in black silk, trimmed with duchess and rose point lace, and Mrs. Stewart, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of lavendar colored charmeuse with pearl beaded trimmings.

The wedding march and the music for the reception which followed was furnished by a three-piece orchestra, harp, violin and 'cello, which added greatly to the pleasure of the guests. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart received congratulations and supper was served. Later in the evening they left on a honeymoon. They will reside at Copper Cliff, Canada, where the bridegroom is connected with the Canadian Copper Company. The bride received a wealth of wedding gifts from relatives and friends.

The home was attractively decorated for the affair. In the drawing room the colors were white and green, palms and daisies being used. The color scheme in the dining room was pink, while in the library yellow and white were the prevailing colors.

Both the bride and bridegroom are well-known here among the younger set. The former is a graduate of the Plainfield High School, while Mr. Stewart is a graduate of John Leal's School, following which he engaged in business.

PROF. PRINCE THROWS HIS HAT INTO THE RING

"I'm a candidate for the Republican Gubernatorial nomination, and expect to wage an active campaign," said former State Senator John D. Prince, of Passaic, to a Daily Press reporter last night at the Congregational church where he gave a lecture on the origin and development of music. He seemed confident that he would receive the G. O. P. nomination. At present few Republicans have "thrown their hat into the ring," or have openly expressed a wish or desire to run for Governor.

Former Senator Prince, who is professor of the science of languages at Columbia University, explained that he has served his party as State Senator three times; was speaker of the House, and during part of Woodrow Wilson's term of Governorship was President of the Senate and acting Governor when Wilson was absent from Trenton waging his campaign for President of the United States.

Prof. Prince stated that the long absence of Wilson from Trenton during these trips forced him to reside at the State Capital City to properly perform his duties. On each occasion, contrary to all precedent, he took the oath of office. Thus, Prof. Prince has the distinction of having taken the oath of office of Governor of New Jersey fifteen times, which breaks all records in this respect.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Emmons have leased their home on Leland avenue, and will remove to Orchard place.

MFG. PLANT AFIRE; LOSS ABOUT $5000

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the entire east section of the Atlas Mineral & Machine Company's plant at Lincoln last night, despite efforts of the Lincoln Hose Company and the Beechwood Heights fire department. The blaze was discovered by workmen at 11 o'clock in the section of the plant adjoining the main building. The quick response of the fire-fighters saved the works from probable total destruction. The damage is estimated at about $5,000.

The Lincoln fire apparatus was first to arrive on the scene and soon had two lines of hose pouring streams of water into the flames. The water pressure was good. Many citizens assisted in checking the progress of the fire. The Beechwood Heights company stretched its water hose from the hydrant near the postoffice. The work of the firemen was made dangerous by the collapsing of the floors which hurled tons of valuable machinery among smouldering ruins.

M. F. Wirtz, of Beechwood Heights, owner of the plant, said he was at a loss to determine how the fire could have started but expressed the opinion that crossed electric wires was probably the cause.

In 1911 he received the degree of Master of Arts at Columbia University. In June he will receive his Ph. D. degree from New York University. He is a graduate of Bucknell University and of Oswego Normal School.

HOW APPARATUS WILL BE HOUSED

Planning to Rearrange Fire Fighting Equipment in the Near Future.

NO DEFINITE ACTION

New Auto Fire Engine Likely to Be Placed at Headquarters—May Sell No. 1 House and Build One In the West End.

Now that the Common Council has decided to purchase a high power auto-fire engine, plans for a re-arrangement of the present fire apparatus are being discussed. There is a possibility that the city may sell its West Second street property, where the steamer and No. 1 hose wagon are installed, and later on take the proceeds to build a fire house at Clinton avenue and West Front street, to give ample protection to that rapidly growing section.

The Councilmanic fire committee has discussed one plan which would furnish ample fire protection for the whole city. According to this plan the new auto-fire engine would be placed at headquarters. The chemical engine now at headquarters, which is motor-driven, would be placed in fire house No. 4, in the Netherwood section, and the steamer would be removed to No. 3 house in the West End. This would take two crews from the West Second street house and they would be available for duty at the other fire-houses, thus doing away with the necessity of employing additional men.

The West Second street fire-house is badly in need of repair, the rear of the building being in a dilapidated condition. It is said that it would require several thousands of dollars to put it in first-class shape. In view of this it seems that it would be advantageous for the city to sell the property and use the money in the erection of a building in the extreme West End, where greater fire protection will be needed.

HELD A SURPRISE PARTY FOR MRS. GEORGE LUHR

Mrs. George Luhr, of West Front street, was given a surprise party at her home last night. The affair was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. William Mack and John and Howard Parry, neighbors. During the evening the guests sang popular songs, played cards, danced and enjoyed refreshments. Vocal and instrumental music were furnished by John and Howard Parry and Miss Jeanette Neal.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. H. B. Dalley and son, Mr. and Mrs. Robert York, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Clawson, Mr. and Mrs. Bert L. Wilson, Mrs. L. Dalley, Mr. and Mrs. James Neal, Miss Jeanette Neal, Miss Marjorie Neal, Mrs. Rose Blimm, Miss Marion Blimm, Miss Madeline Blimm, Mrs. John Coffey, Miss Ella McVey, Mrs. Harry Hoffman, Clarence Hoffman, Miss Winifred Coons, Mrs. Anna Decker, Mrs. Herbert Gleantzer, Mrs. Charles Glaentzer and Miss Mamie Deck.

FORMER PLAINFIELDERS OHIO FLOOD SUFFERERS

The women of Warren chapel have undertaken the work of packing a box of clothing, etc., to be sent to Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Taylor, formerly of Plainfield, but now of Coal Run, Ohio, who were among the sufferers from the recent floods in the Ohio Valley. Any one wishing to assist in this work can send articles to the chapel or to J. W. Gavett's china store on West Front street.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor while not suffering any personal injury, did suffer greatly from the loss of their belongings, including all their fine chickens. They were able to save ten very valuable horses, two of their own and eight that they were boarding on their place.

TO GIVE A "SOCK SOCIAL."

Under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. a "sock social" will be held at the rooms on Madison avenue, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The proceeds from the affair will be used to pay the union's share of expense for the National W. C. T. U. convention to be held at Asbury Park. Mrs. William Peal has arranged an attractive program for the affair.

BUSINESS CHANGES HANDS.

G. O. Keller, who has conducted a cleaning and dyeing business on Park avenue for a number of years, has sold out to Messrs. T. Burke and Y. de Dood, of New York city, who have had twelve years' experience in this line of work. The change was effective April 19.

ARE TO ELABORATE

of dress is often a serious one, when the elaboration and extension of graduating exercises lead a girl to think that she must have more than one dress in order to be properly graduated. It is not necessary that her clothing should be cheap or inappropriate, but it should be such that no other pupil need be made to feel the embarrassment of a less expensive dress.

"While there is not so much probability of ostentation in the dress of boys, yet the general principle of simplicity and consideration for the circumstances of the entire class should be maintained. If such were the case, pupils wearing formal evening dress would not be seen at High School functions.

"In the exercises of graduation it is suggested that both essays and orations be upon subjects within the range of the pupils' interests and within their capacity to understand and interpret. It has been the experience of many High School principals that essays and orations of the argumentative type are most pleasing to an audience and at the same time are most likely to be original with the pupil. The audience at once becomes interested in the speaker, and his point of view. All essays and orations upon profound subjects, remote in interest and encyclopaedic in character, are extremely undesirable. Such exercises stand for no reality of school life and are liable to be mere semblances of wisdom and ability.

"Even if we ignore the heartaches produced by having some one seemingly belittled by wearing plain attire, even if we overlook the strain on the family purse to keep up appearances, and the burden which these exercises place on teachers and mothers, are we justified in sending out the High School graduates under false pretenses of wisdom or under a false impression of their importance and ability?

"The hiring of carriages for graduates is often an unnecessary expense, and should be discouraged. Manifestly the use of the cap and gown, distinctly a college and university custom, has no place in connection with public school exercises. The practice of sending flowers and gifts to the graduation platform should be prohibited. Such tokens of interest and affection will have a greater value if given privately.

"It would probably be unwise for a Board of Education, or any other body, to take formal action in the direction of restricting a pupil's private expense for graduation; but it does seem wholly in keeping with the democracy of our public school system, for school officers, teachers, parents associations, and womens clubs to do all possible toward creating and preserving in the community a sane and wholesome sentiment on this phase of graduation. The growing practice of having the pupils in the domestic art classes design and make their own graduation dresses is significant of the sentiment in some of the larger High Schools. This movement is to be highly commended.

"The graduating exercises should be typical of the actual work done in the school and demonstrate the power developed in the pupils. Let the program show what the pupils are able to do themselves instead of what they do somewhat automatically at the suggestion of the teachers, through persistent drills.

"In the small school it is probable that all the graduates will have some part of the program, while in the large schools this will not always be possible. When a selection has to be made it may be either on a basis of superior skill in speaking, or in such a manner as to represent the various activities of the school.

"There is a wide limit in the number of representative exercises which could be given at a graduation. The music could be furnished by the school orchestra without prolonged drill, rather than by a hired organization; an exhibition could be given of what the pupils can accomplish in drawing by doing actual work in the presence of the audience; statements may be made by pupils concerning the contest of the various curricula offered in the school, or about some particularly interesting phase of a subject dealt with in class; experiments in physics and chemistry may be performed before the audience, with explanations and applications; the choral music may be by the High School glee club; demonstrations from the school print shop could be given; in fact, all the expressive activities of pupils might be brought into play to show how their powers have been developed."

He closes by showing several specimen programs in New Jersey High Schools.

FARMING SOLUTION TO HIGH COST OF LIVING

"Teach the women of the United States, especially the immigrants contantly arriving here, that the farms of the West and Middle West offer better, more wholesome, more productive and more scientific means of living than the close quarters of the factories in the large cities and you will introduce the most potent factor for lowering the cost of living and raising its standard," said Mrs. Kate Trimble Woolsey just after she had received from Governor Sulzer, of New York, her commission as one of the two delegates to represent New York State at the General Assembly of the International Institute of Agriculture in Rome next month.

IN PLAINFIELD.

The Evidence Is Supplied By Local Testimony.

If the reader wants stronger proof than the following statement and experience of a resident of Plainfield, what can it be?

Mrs. S. Driscoll, 1009 South Second street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "There was a dull pain across the small of my back and in my sides that clung to me constantly and any hard work made me worse. I was subject to headaches and dizzy spells especially when stooping or lifting and I felt weak and run down. I tried plasters and various other remedies but nothing helped me until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Randolph's drug store. They made a lasting cure. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills just as highly today as I have been for the past five years."

AMERICAN BRINGS PERSIAN LAMB SECRET HERE FROM THE FAR EAST

DR. YOUNG'S CARAVAN LEAVING TASHKENT, WEST TURKESTAN

DR. YOUNG IN COSSACK DRESS

As the result of two long, hazardous trips, during which he many times risked his life and at all times faced death through the terrible diseases which ravage those of the Central Asian land, Dr. C. C. Young, of Belen, Texas, physician and breeder of fancy sheep, is in possession of the secret of the breeding of the lambs from which is taken the Persian lamb fur.

Dr. Young began his work at the instigation of the United States Department of Agriculture. To-day there are seventeen animals of the right kind distributed among the ranches of Dr. Young, Captain Charles de Bremond, of Roswell, N. M., and the government experimental station.

In five years, Dr. Young declares, American women will be wearing Persian lamb skins raised in their own country, and in a few more years America will be exporting the skins.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

It is not a small thing to be nominated and elected a real genuine "Queen of Vaudeville." Nevertheless this distinction has been the lot of Miss Leila McIntyre, the remarkable comedienne, who once appeared in a sketch called "The Quakeress," assisted by her husband, John Hyams. These two clever people are now being starred by Jos. M. Gaites in the successful musical play, "The Girl of My Dreams," which will be seen at the Plainfield theatre, Saturday afternoon and evening, April 26. The supporting company playing in the "The Girl of My Dreams" is really a splendid one including Alice Hills, Irving Brooks, Francis Gaillard, Della Niven, Neil Burns, Silvia De Frankie and Frank McEwen, to say nothing of a handsome dancing and singing chorus. The piece was written by Wilbur D. Nesbit and Otto Hauerbach, with music by Karl Hoschna, composer of those successes, "Three Twins," "Bright Eyes" and "Madame Sherry." The story which has so fine a musical setting is said to possess absorbing interest, and humor and wit are the chief elements of the piece with touches of romance and adventure.

Patrons of the show put on by the "Honey Boy" Minstrels, who, headed by the peerless George Evans, himself, comes to the Plainfield theatre, Monday night, April 28, may rest assured that the production they will witness is absolutely new in its entirety, not a vestige of last year's successful and delectable offering, albeit it was replete with a galaxy of splendid and highly entertaining features that would still transcend those programmed by the majority of minstrel shows, remaining. Other impresarious may be content to simply refurnish their productions, but not the inimitable "Honey Boy." This matter of creating annually a brand new show amounts to almost an obsession with this talented little leader of minstrelsy. Cognizant of the fact that the road to continued success is by the pathway of popularity, which is now his enviable portion, he steers clear of the shoal on which so many ventures have been wrecked—the the forcing of a frayed and worn production on audiences. Even at the present time, when the season is still in the embryonic state, he is already laying his plans for a brand new "A-1" show for next season. He experiences great difficulty in securing the talent sufficiently strong for the putting on of the "Evans' brand" of a minstrel show, and to do so he is compelled to make heavy inroads on vaudeville and musical comedy. At all times he has out his dragnet to ensnare into the meshes of his company of high-class and versatile comedians, songsters and dancers, regardless of expense and the other countless barriers that hamper him in the consummation of his laudable aim—the giving of its money's worth to his theatrical clientele—and a great deal more. This costs a pretty penny, and, as a result, the salary roll of his company is one of the highest of any production on Broadway en tour.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

"The Purple Road," Joseph M. Gaites' highly artistic musical success, will enter upon the fourth week of its engagement at the Liberty theatre on Monday night with what gives every promise of a long run into the summer before it. Such a mass of beauty has seldom been seen upon any stage as this romantic operetta with its Napoleon, its Empress Josephine, its peasant girl and its glamour of feminine loveliness, delightful historic love story and wealth of musical gems. The cast is one of the best that has been seen in an operatic production in this country. There is Valli Valli, Harrison Brockbank, Janet Beecher, Eva Fallen, Harriet Burt, Hal Forde, W. J. Ferguson, Edward Martindel, Richard Van Norden and those sweet girls whose names the management has not been kind enough to place upon the program. However, it all goes to form a veritable love's Paradise. Seats are selling four weeks in advance.

RESCUER A BRIDE.

New York, April 23.—Miss Margaret Hayes, the wealthy young woman who figured prominently in the public prints a year ago as the rescurer of the two French children, Michael and Edmond Navratil, who were saved from the Titanic, on which their father was lost, today became the bride of Dr. Charles D. Easton, of Newport. The wedding took place in St. Thomas' church, the Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stires officiating, and was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayes, in West Eighty-third street.

SHAKESPEARE'S MEMORY.

London, April 23. In accordance with time-honored custom the 349th anniversary of the birth of Shakespeare was observed today at Stratford-on-Avon, the birthplace of the immortal bard. The old-world town was the mecca for hundreds of representatives of Shakespearean societies throughout the United Kingdom, among the number being many celebrated literary and dramatic lights.

MR. MEREDITH'S CENSURE.

Among many people there is a growing feeling that the public schools today are not what they were primarily intended to be. The original purpose of the American system of free education was to teach the rudiments and thereby to prepare every boy and girl to go out in the world and earn his or her living. But now, it does seem, that in many places the "Three R's" are considered old fogyeism in educational work and the thing to do is bend every effort to make the high school course the most important matter, and the high schools today, or some of them at least, are run as preparatory schools for college. But the average pupil leaves school before he reaches the high school grade, and he starts in life handicapped by not having a mastery of the "Three R's."

And anothed thing. There are many right thinking citizens who believe that the public shcool is not the democratic institution that it was planned to be. The average graduation day exercises furnish some illustrations in this respect. The girls must wear the most elaborate sort of frocks and the boys are supposed to appear in dress suits. Many a parent, who cannot afford to do so, feels compelled to have his daughter appear as well dressed as the other girls, and many a parent, who is really unable to go to such expense, sees that his son has a dress suit for the very same reason. This condition is all wrong. Assistant Commissioner of Education A. B. Meredith calls attention to it and to other abuses. His comments are contained in a letter addressed to superintendent and high school principals, which is reproduced in our news columns in this issue. We commend his remarks to all our readers. Mr. Meredith, by the way, was at one time a member of the local high school faculty.

JAPAN & THE UNITED STATES.

The proposed legislation in California, which it is feared may prove offensive to the Japanese Nation, is unfortunate, to say the least, at this time. There is no doubt of the fact that the Japanese desire to be on friendly relations with the United States. Those who have traveled in Japan have returned home impressed with the friendly attitude of the Japanese people. But while this is true it is equally true that they are a sensitive people, easily offended. They are also a proud people. Their victory over Russia has, possibly, given them an exaggerated idea of their prowess. They, generally, know little of us or of the great power and wealth of this Republic. Their officials know us, of course, because the vast majority of them have either been educated here or have traveled here or have business interests with us. But, can they control their people?

Outside of California there exists practically no feeling against the Japanese either coming or owning land here. To most of us their coming is welcome. If they become citizens they make good ones and it is much to be regretted that there is any hesitancy about making them citizens. The talk of the yellow peril is the most foolish of all jingoism. We need them. They are good workers, skilled agriculturists and most efficient men of business. There is not the slightest justification for creating strife between us. Our interests from a trade standpoint are quite mutual, and the one happy event should be to see the Stars and Stripes and the Sun of Japan control in the bonds of friendship the commerce of the Pacific. A conflict between the United States and Japan would be little short of an international crime.

President Wilson has given notice that on May 2 and 3 he will speak twice in this State, at Paterson and at Jersey City, on jury reform. The President is coming to try to enforce upon his party its duty to keep political promises. He will do it in a masterful way, and if all we hear is true, will speak out with no uncertain meaning. He is likely to call names. He knows who are responsible for the failure of jury reform at the regular session of the Legislature just closed. They are the same class of men in the Democratic party, who, in the Republican party, stood in the way of keeping political promises during Governor Fort's three years as Governor. In plain words, they are the old political gang who not only wish to keep control of the party machinery, but also to dominate the administration of criminal justice, through the grand jury, in the courts. In these days the party which fails to keep its political promises is sure to meet with the condemnation of the people. This is as it should be. There is no reason why a political promise should not be held as sacred as a business agreement. A representative who breaks faith with the people should be as sure of defeat as a criminal should be of punishment. There is little difference, morally, between the two.

When Mayor Frederick W. Donnelly, of Trenton, addressed the people of New Brunswick on Monday night on the advantages of the commission plan of government, some of his audience had planned to "heckle" him, but it transpired that his presentation was so masterly and thorough that there was no occasion to ask him questions. Mr. Donnelly will speak here tomorrow night on the same subject. It will well repay you to hear what he will have to say, particularly if you confess that you are not well informed on the commission government law and its practical workings.

JACK MARTIN REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN RELEASED

A well founded report was circulated in this city this morning to the effect that Jack Martin, the local shortstop who went south on the Yankee training trip this spring, has been returned to the Rochester team of the International League by Manager Frank Chance of the Yankees.

Persons who seem to know said this morning that Martin received a telegram from Chance yesterday afternoon requesting him to report at once to Rochester and as he could not be located here this morning it is more than likely that he has already packed up and left for Rochester. Mantin played with this team last season after he was let out by the Yankees and was recalled in the latter part of the season to play short for the New York club.

WEALTHY CEMENT MAN TAKES LIFE IN HOTEL

J. Berre King, president of the J. B. King Plaster and Cement Mills at New Brighton, S. I., was found dead in the bathroom of his apartment in the Hampton Hall Hotel in Cranford, yesterday afternoon with a bullet wound in his right temple. A revolver and a box of cartridges were found near the body.

Following the sound of the shot several hotel attendants were sent to investigate. They burst open the door of Mr. King's suite and found him. When a doctor arrived he found he was too late and the police declared death was self-inflicted. County Physician Westcott gave permission for the removal and burial of the body.

At the hotel it was said that Mr. King has been stopping in Cranford for the last year and that his wife and daughter were at the present time in Europe. He has two sons at Cambridge. Mr. King has been in ill health for the last few months and was under the treatment of physicians. The cement mill, of which he was chief owner, is one of the largest plants in the country.

Japan Civic Bodies to Urge Pres't Wilson to Prevent International Ill Feeling.

Sacramento, Cal., April 23.—Behind closed doors today Governor Johnson called into conference leaders from both the Senate and the House of California. While no information was given out, it was reported that the Governor was talking over the advisability of inviting Secretary of State William J. Bryan to California, as suggested today in a telegram from President Woodrow Wilson.

Tokio, Japan, April 23.—A resolution to telegraph to President Wilson and other influential persons in the United States begging in the cause of good relationship between Japan and the United States, to oppose passage of the California alien land ownership bill, was passed today by representatives of forty-five chambers of commerce of Japan.

COMPROMISE EXPECTED IN JAPANESE ALIEN BILL

The announcement that President Woodrow Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan are making efforts to bring about a compromise in the proposed California legislation with respect to the Alien Land Ownership bill and that Governor Hiram Johnson is opposing the bill has softened Japanese ire, and public opinion has now become more optimistic.

Count Okuma, former Minister of Foreign Affairs and leader of the progressive party at home, ironically said recently that Japan owed its first lessons in foreign humanitarian principles to the United States. "Now the duty has devolved upon Japan," he added, "to teach the Californians the same principles."

The arrangement committee in charge of the entertainment to be given in the Parish House, Saturday night, for the benefit of the baseball teams, is planning to accommodate a capacity audience. Local people possessing talent have responded generously and as a result, it is probable that the array of amateur entertainers to appear will eclipse that of any previous event ever given in the 'Plains. The "University Four," of Plainfield, a quartet composed of John Ricketts, Charles Kregar, John Hallard and Thomas Apgar, accompanied by Frank Putnam, pianist, will give several selections and the local "Floradora Sextet," led by Willard Marston, with Miss May Buckley taking the leading parts, will sing a number of new songs. However, the fact that the Trentonians are playing on their home court may prove too great a handicap for the locals to overcome.

Summer Warmth in Winter Weather

BOYNTON Square Pot Furnaces give such genial, gentle, all-pervading heat—and do it so persistently—that you forget Jack Frost is abroad till you stick your nose outdoors.

With a "Square Pot" it's possible to experience balmy June conditions in bitter January.

It's all in the square firepot. This is a wonderful furnace improvement. It gives much more radiating surface than round firepots do, and for that reason a comparatively little coal goes a great way farther in it. This square firepot never clogs, but keeps a live, blazing fire with very little attention. All in all, the Square Pot is the ideal heater.

Ask the nearest dealer to show you Square Pot Furnaces and Boilers.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

Raleigh, N. C., has adopted the commission plan of government.

Harry St. George Tucker has withdrawn from the Virginia gubernatorial race.

Oregon has its first woman mayor, Miss Clara Munson of the town of Warrenton.

S. P. Brooks, president of Baylor University, is announced as a candidate for the seat of United States Senator Culberson, of Texas.

James Hamilton Lewis, the new United States senator from Illinois, was at one time a longshoreman in San Francisco.

Friends of United States Senator Culberson, of Texas, believe he will be appointed by President Wilson to the first vacancy on the United States supreme bench.

Philander C. Knox, Secretary of State in President Taft's cabinet, is said to be a candidate for the United State senate to succeed Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania.

Ex Mayor George W. Guthrie, of Pittsburgh, who is chairman of the Pennsylvania Democratic State Committee, is said to be slated for an important diplomatic post.

Equal suffrage will prevail the whole length of the Pacific Coast after June 21, when the bill giving women full suffrage in Alaska will come into effect.

J. L. Thurman, of Ohio, grandson of Allen G. Thurman, who was the Democratic candidate for Vice President in 1888, is slated for the post of Collector for the Department of Commerce.

Present indications in Alabama are that Representatives Underwood, Clayton and Hobson will engage in a three-cornered contest for the seat of United States Senator Johnston, whose term will expire in 1915.

Thomas J. Walsh, the successor of Joseph M. Dixon as United States senator from Montana, is regarded as one of the country's foremost experts on the subjects of irrigation and land laws.

Leading merchants of Boston are said to have approached George von L. Meyer, who was Secretary of the Navy under President Taft and who has been American ambassador to Italy and Russia, and have asked him to allow the use of his name as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of Massachusetts next fall.

The Constitutional amendment providing for the direct election of United States Senators is expected to have its first try-out in Georgia. Senator Bacon, of that State, was renominated at a direct primary last year and would have been re-elected by the legislature next June. The change in the Constitution will force the calling of a general election when the legislature assembles, and Senator Bacon's name will be submitted to the people for direct approval.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

PALATABLE HASHES.

To make good hash you must select good materials. While it is true many odds and ends may be used up in this way, materials which are in the last spoiled will not do.

Cold cooked meat does not need more cooking. For this reason hash should not be stewed. Those who stew a hash usually use too much liquid, and, whether this is cooked away or whether it remains for the pieces of meat and vegetables to float about in, it makes the hash unattractive.

Chop Thoroughly.

After the hash is ready—and nothing excels the old fashioned chopping bowl and big chopping knife for getting it ready—put the butter or drippings into the hot frying pan, shake about, then put in the hash. If you have no cold gravy add boiling water, a little at a time, until just enough has been added to make the hash smooth.

If too much water has been added it is never best to pour it off, but to thicken it with flour.

Lamb Hash.—Put one tablespoonful butter and tablespoonful flour into a saucepan and melt without frying; then add a small half pint of milk and stir until it boils. Add a saltspoonful of salt, a good pinch of cayenne, half a teaspoonful of onion juice and a cupful of cold cooked lamb chopped fine. Stir this until thoroughly mixed and add a pinch of nutmeg. Put on toasted bread and put a poached egg on round of each and serve.

A Novel Method.

Hash a la Charlotte.—Make a half pint of brown sauce, season with pepper, salt and chopped parsley. Cut mutton into thick slices and leave them in the sauce in a vessel at the side of the range for an hour. Poach some eggs and put each one on a round of fried bread. Dish the hash and serve the eggs as a garnish, or if only two or three eggs are used place them in the center with the hash round.

Corned Beef Hash.—Take a cupful of chopped corned beef, a cupful of mashed potatoes, a half teaspoonful of onion juice and the white of one egg. Season the hot mashed potatoes and beat until light, add the onion juice, corned beef and the beaten white of an egg. Mix well, form into balls and fry in deep fat. Serve while hot. This hash may be baked if preferred.

back is stitched flat for its entire length, but the stitching can be carried to any preferred depth and the plaits left free below. The trimming of buttons and buttonholes is an attractive and fashionable one, but buttons can be used in almost any way this season—in groups without the buttonholes or, in fact, in any preferred manner. The shape of the side gores that are lapped on to the front gores is exceedingly smart.

Five and a quarter yards of material twenty-seven inches wide will make this gown for a medium sized woman.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes from 22 to 32 inches waist measure. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7815, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

It has been asserted both by suffragists and anti-suffragists of late, that the recent temporary defeat of Woman Suffrage in Michigan was caused by the militant methods of the so-called "Suffragettes" in England. I believe that this was but a minor one of several unfortunate circumstances, chief of which was the concentrated opposition of all the vicious elements in the large cities and town, and the difficulty of securing the favorable rural vote because of bad roads and spring planting.

During the last week, the writer and others in the Plainfield Equal Suffrage League, have been asked by letter and verbal request to use their influence to secure official disapproval from the national, State and local suffrage organizations, of the militant methods employed by Mrs. Pankhurst and her followers in England, on the ground that it is seriously injuring the cause in America. I met Dr. Anna Shaw in New York last week and talked with her on the subject. She declared emphatically that she would never officially condemn the English women, partly because it was an interference that the English people, men and women, would rightfully resent, and also because it had nothing whatever to do with the American situation and with the great principle of equal justice for which we are contending. Referring to the recent letter of Mrs. Andrew D. White, in the N. Y. Times, she said, "Mrs. White, to my knowledge, has never given an hour of her time nor a dollar to the suffrage cause, nor has she written us privately concerning the matters which she condemns in the public print." The writer must conclude that the suffrage sympathies of Mrs. White and Mrs. Tod have never been very deep nor their convictions of its justice very profound, else they would rather have called attention to the persuasive, progressive methods of the American suffragists and thus sought to help them in the constructive work that they are doing, than give aid and comfort to our opponents by public condemnation of things scarcely germane to the situation here.

The president of the New Jersey W. S. A., Mrs. E. F. Feickert, has been heard to say repeatedly that while she has little doubt that the English militants are giving a temporary hindrance to suffrage in America, and possibly elsewhere, she believes that in future years monuments will be built to Mrs. Pankhurst, not for her mistaken methods, but for her noble self-sacrifice in a great cause.

Interviewing Mrs. C. L. Riley, the gentle, tactful president of our local league, I found her aroused almost to anger by the suggestion that she officially condemned the English militants. "I shall resign first," she declared. "What has the s one throwing of a few English women to do with us and our methods? Have we not given a good account of ourselves all over the United States, either in seeking the ballot or in using it? If an English husband and wife should publicly quarrel and should do and say dreadful things so that the newspapers are full of it, would that condemn the institution of matrimony?" Referring to Mrs. White's letter of wholesale condemnation of our sex, she said, "I consider it an intolerable impertinance for any one to suggest that we women must prove ourselves 'worthy' of the ballot before it can be granted us. The burden of proof should be upon the anti-suffragists to show why women who are intelligent, law-abiding citizens of a great democracy, should be deprived of the ballot." The writer believes that suffragists, as a rule, are not extremists in dress. Their leaders are nearly all women active in other great reforms, giving liberally of their time and money for the betterment of humanity along many lines. It would seem a natural conclusion that women undertaking new responsibilities would simplify their dress and habits to meet added demands, and there is abundant evidence among business women to prove that this is being done.

Alice Stone Blackwell, the editor of the Woman's Journal, says in the issue of April 19:

"The recent acts of the militants are not only wrong, but, so far as we at this distance can judge, they are also a mistake in tactics. But the devotion they show to what they believe to be their duty may well be a lesson to those of us what have never in our whole lives been called upon to manifest as much courage as Mrs. Pankhurst did in her nine days' hunger strike. There are better objects for indignation than women who are fighting the battle of freedom unselfishly and at the risk of their lives, however, mistaken their methods may be. The American public does not need to be told that it is wrong to destroy letters and blow up empty buildings. It understands that as well as we do. What it does not understand and does need to have explained is the long course of Parliamentary chicanery and of stupid persecution that has led a section of the English suffragists to conclude—not hysterically, but coolly and in all seriousness—that the only way to cut the knot of red tape which has obstructed them for 40 years is to create an intolerable situation. We shall continue to rub into the minds of our readers what needs to be rubbed in, rather than what does not. American suffragists do not need to be cautioned against militancy. They have not the slightest wish or temptation to resort to it.—A. S. B."

Personally, I do not favor the use of violence or war, by either individuals or nation. I believe, with Miss Jean Gordon, of New Orleans, that "When more women of America vote, reason and not bullets will govern the land in all matters," but I cannot forget that men for centuries have set us an example of warlike methods, and have lauded and built monuments to Joan of Arc, Mollie Pitcher and other women who have fought for the cause in which they, the men, were instigators and leaders. One is tempted to believe that it is rebellion of woman against man's injustice that is reprehensible, and not her imitation of his methods.

But to return to the English suffragists: Let us not lose sight of the fact that they are making people think and talk about suffrage, and as Maude Adams recently remarked, "When women begin to use their brains and think for themselves, they believe in equal suffrage." This question "Shall women vote?" will not "down;" too many earnest, thoughtful people are asking it. Righteousness and truth are sure to prevail in the end, which we suffragists believe is not now far distant.

MANY PRIZES FOR METROPOLITAN GOLF

Twelve Altogether and Title Winner Gets Leg on Cup Besides Medal.

Twelve prizes will be played for in the annual championship of the Metropolitan Golf Association at Fox Hills, May 21 to 24. A list of these trophies and the playing conditions appear in the official programme sent out last night by Frederick H. Thomas, the secretary. To the winner of the tournament will go the championship gold medal. There is also the championship trophy presented by Daniel Chauncey, a former president of the National and Metropolitan associations.

This prize must remain the property of the M. G. A. until it shall have been won three times by the same player, playing from or representing the same club, when the trophy shall become the property of such club. Until permanent possession of the trophy passes from the association as indicated, it shall be held in the custody of the organization whose representative shall have won a leg on the trophy at the last championship.

The name of the winning player and the club he represents shall be engraved on the trophy each year. Jerome D. Travers of the Upper Montclair Country Club has won the metropolitan title for the last two years.

At Fox Hills there will be a thirty-six hole stroke competition to start with, the top thirty-two players earning the right to continue for the championship. Those making the third and fourth sixteens will qualify for minor prizes. Match rounds will consist of eighteen holes except the finals, which will be thirty-six holes. All entries must be accompanied by a $2 fee and sent to the association's secretary not later than Saturday noon, May 17.

Phil McGovern in action is almost an exact counterpart of his famous brother, "Terrible Terry."

Tommy Ryan, the former middleweight, has organized a new boxing club at Syracuse, New York.

Young Jack O'Brien, who went to England some months ago expecting to get a battle with Freddie Welsh, has returned home.

Bob Moha, who has been making a great showing of late, will box Jack Dillon at Milwaukee the latter part of the month.

WORLD BOWLING RECORD.

A world's tournament record for individual bowling was established yesterday afternoon, the last day of the National Bowling Association's seventh tournament, at Rochester, N. Y., when George Kumpf, of Buffalo, rolling in next to the final squad, spilled 712 pins. His games were 224, 234, and 254. This figure beats both the National Bowling Association and the American Bowling Congress mark of 705. Rolling in the American Bowling Congress tournament in Detroit in 1910, Tom Haley, of Detroit, toppled 705 pins, and, in the National Bowling Association tournament in Baltimore the same year, Tony Prior, of Brooklyn, registered 705.

CENTRAL LEAGUE MAGNATES.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 23.—Under conditions that appear to be anything but encouraging, the Central League of Baseball Clubs bravely lined up today for the start of the championship season. Weather conditions seriously handicapped every club of the league in the spring practice work, while one or two of the plants were all but destroyed in the recent floods. Notwithstanding these drawbacks President Heilbroner and the club owners take an optimistic view and predict that the league will pull through the season successfully.

TWO TIGER SPORTS PAY THEIR FREIGHT

Football and Baseball Make Enough to Keep Other Lines Going.

That football and baseball are the only two moneymaking sports at Princeton and that they pay a large part of the expenses of the other branches of athletic activity was made known the other night through the publication of the annual report of the general athletic association.

The total receipts of the football season amounted to $56,299. Expenses were in the neighborhood of $23,600, leaving a net revenue of $32,699, to be used toward the expenses of the minor teams. Of the total receipts $31,220.28 was taken in at the Yale game,, $15,614.22 at the Harvard game and the remainder at the smaller contests. The largest expense item was $5,584.15 for salaries and traveling expenses of coaches.

The baseball season showed total receipts amounting to $27,801.13 and a net revenue of approximately $9,000.

The track team was the heaviest loser, with a deficit of almost $5,000, more than half of which was for transportation and equipment. The crew was next, with a loss of considerably more than $3,000. Part of this deficit, however, was made up by the private subscriptions of some of the Princeton alumni who are interested in the revival of rowing here.

The only minor sport to approach being self-supporting was the hockey seven, which had a deficit of only $95. The basketball team lost almost $2,000 and the freshman athletic association almost $3,000.

The upkeep of University Field cost $7,000 and the general running expenses of the association including salaries of the treasurer and the trainer amounted to twice that sum.

LEALS PLAY FRIDAY.

Leal School baseball players will lineup against Cartaret Academy here Friday afternoon. These two schools have always been close rivals in all branches of sport and the contest is expected to be a hotly contested one.

"MAC" SAYS

More rain as a side dish for the baseball menu carded for this afternoon. And after the Leal team has gone through such a routine of practise in preparation for the N. P. H. S. meeting.

Jim Nash, the guardian of Leal athletics, claims that the environment of training for an interscholastic clash is as tenacious and gripping in its after-effects as heredity. In order to obtain the main essence of both duration and palpitation he has started out on a milk diet. Daily strolls into the Canadian wilderness about 5 p. m., are the most appetizing portion of the training diet. Stick to it, Jimmy, they'll make a man out of you yet.

Nash's latest dirge: "I'm looking for a number eight."

Baseball players sporting the P. H. S. woolens are evidently resting up this week in preparation for the Commercial High School game at Parker Field, Saturday afternoon. The Commercials put up a classy exhibition at Scotch Plains last Saturday. The local boys are probably looking forward to a hard run.

Not taking any side in the imbroglio, but it seems to us as though some of the Plainfield baseball club's holdouts ought to be induced to sign contracts before the season gets much older. It seems kind of lonesome without Driscoll around these parts.

The fact that Chance would rather have Martin on the bench than in the vicinity of the shortfield, when he does the stunt of playing Hal Chase in centre field, himself at first, Hartzell at short and Midkiff at third seems to bear some significance. It does not appear as though the local shortstop was being given an opportunity to shine.

Referring to a recent article in this paper when a certain player was referred to as "Home Run" ——— when he won the game for his team Saturday morning, with a home run in the ninth, a rural reader wants to know why we call him by this nick-name.

We know of no reason under the sun except that such players always strike out with men on the bases.

"Nibs" Hand played with the Scotch Plains Parish House youngsters Saturday afternoon, with emphasis on the word PLAYED.

Hope Chapel and all others: "The ambition of the baseball uniform manufacturers this summer is to get tight pants on a bow-legged player. It is said that tight trousers will be the prevailing style this summer and it is more than likely that this habit will creep into baseball.

Baseball players should take a lesson from the oyster. It never talks.

Baseball umpires are the greatest of orators. They do not say much, but what they say always comes true. So different from campaign orators.

—You may have to read and answer a lot of "help wanted ads" before you find "THE" one—but it's highly worth while!

"TY" COB'S CASE MAY BRING ABOUT ANTI-BASEBALL TRUST INQUIRY

"TY" COBB.

"Ty" Cobb's contest with Manager Navin, of the Detroit American League baseball team, may lead to an investigation by the Department of Justice into baseball contracts to ascertain whether they are in violation of the anti-trust law.

Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, has become interested in the Georgia player's case and has wired to Mr. Cobb for a copy of his contract.

BASEBALL NOTES

That left-handed second base playing of Hal Chase has the fans sitting up straight with their lamps trained on the speedy Yankee.

In order to keep their whips in shape, Manager Griffith has his pitchers work out under the grandstand on rainy days in Washington.

The St. Louis Browns have landed a promising young catcher in Agnew, who comes from the Vernon team, of the Pacific Coast League.

This season's schedule of the Three-I League calls for 140 games, the opening to take place April 21 and the closing games to be played September 7.

Mowing down American League batsmen in one, two, three order shows that "Big Ed" Walsh, of the White Sox, has started the season true to form.

It is said that Connie Mack will have the largest pitching staff in the major leagues this season. His corps of hurlers will comprise ten muscular gentlemen.

Samuel James Tilden Sheckard, recently flung to the Cardinals by the Cubs, has started his sixteenth season on the big circuit and is still able to wait at the plate for four bad ones.

Evidently Bill McKechnie didn't like the Indian's head tatooed on the shirts of the Boston Braves. He played but one game with the Stallings crew and was then released to the Highlanders.

Jimmy Viox has been playing swell ball at short for the Pirates. Trying to fill the shoes of the great Wagner is some try, but Jimmy went to it and delivered some real big league stuff.

Fred Falkenberg, the Cleveland pitcher, looks like a real "comeback." The "Human String" twirled for the Toledo team last season and his great work with the Mud Hens caused the Naps to recall him this spring.

A number of experts claim that the Detroit Tigers have their hands on the latch of the cellar door, and that even Cobb, if he returns to the fold, will not be able to help them. May be so. But a glance at the figures for the past few years shows that the "Georgia Peach" was some help.

In order to carry out the new salary-limit rule of the International League, all the players were compelled to make affidavit that the full and entire amount of compensation or remuneration, including salary, gift or anything else by whatever name, that was received directly or indirectly from the club, did not exceed the amount shown on the face of their contracts.

"WARRY" AT DUNELLEN.

Contrary to reports coming from various places, "Warry" McLaughlin will not play in a Scotch Plains uniform this year, at least, not on Sundays. This information was supplied by Joe Alberts, the 'Plains manager, this morning and according to Alberts, McLaughlin is slated to twirl for the Dunellen aggregation once more. Alberts says he will have a big leaguer do the mound duty and is very optimistic over gathering in the league bunting this year.

LYNCH AMUSED AT PLAN OF CONGRESS

National League President Ridicules Rumored Probe and Explains.

President Thomas Lynch, of the National League, ridicules the idea of a Congressional investigation of the so-called baseball trust because of the Ty Cobb salary case. Mr. Lynch laughingly maintains that there is no such thing as a baseball trust and that there couldn't possibly be one.

"Getting down to cases," said the National League boss yesterday. "Ty Cobb is suspended according to some reports, but he really isn't, and he wouldn't need to seek reinstatement from the National Commission if he adjusted his troubles with the Detroit club. The rules state a player must sign his contract during the first ten days following the opening of the season. Cobb could play with the Detroits during that time without signing his contract, but if he attempted to play the eleventh game without signing it he would be thrown out. Cobb was declared ineligible by the Commission, and he doesn't need to be reinstated.

"The reserve clause in the players contract around which so much talk has developed is the foundation of baseball," continued Mr. Lynch. "It is protection for both club and player. The idea that a club could use that clause in restraint of trade is ridiculous."

RESULTS OF GAMES ON THE BIG CIRCUIT

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

The first extra inning game of the season on a home field was played at the Polo Grounds yesterday between the Giants and Phillies. It ended in a tie, and as the Pirates beat the Cardinals the former gained on the New York team half a game. The Brooklyns, who frequently break losing streaks, broke on in Boston and passed St. Louis. Ginger Joe Tinker's ginger is fast turning to gall and wormwood, for the Cubs heaped up another defeat on the oft defeated Reds.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Chance returned to his post at first base for the New Yorks and also shook up the team. The Chance men were beaten by the Athletics, but appear to have put up an improved game. The Athletics took first place, the Washingtons meeting the Red Sox and losing their first game. The White Sox braced and trimmed the Tigers and the Browns checked Cleveland's spurt.

David Barry was elected captain of the New Brunswick Stars' baseball team, entrants in the Central New Jersey league, at a meeting of the club held Monday night. Joseph New, who has been looking after the Brunswick interests in the league organization meetings, will act as manager, and Frank Jefferies was elected as secretary and treasurer. Messrs. Barry, Geiger and New were selected as a committee to attend the meetings of the Central New Jersey League.

"LAWRENCE" WILL COMPETE.

Russell Lawrence Beatty, a former Leal school athlete and one of the greatest shot-putters the country has ever known, will compete in the event at the Penn relays to be held at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, Saturday afternoon. Beatty, or Lawrence as he was known when he lived here, attracted much attention in scholastic athletic circles, having won many firsts in broad jumps and other leaps beside the shot-put.

LOCAL STALLION ON LICENSE LIST

Dr. Cooley's "Radmore" One That Passed State Board of Examiners.

The directory of Licensed Stallions recently issued by the Stallion Examining and Registration Board for the year of 1913, contains the names of Dr. J. H. Cooley's "Radmore," 3d Percheron, of this city, and G. Q. Baird's "Samson," G. Draft, of Somerville.

The last 15 examinations in as many different counties were held during March, and the results have been tabluated and will soon appear in the regular report of the Live Stock Cimmission of the State. By an act of the Legislature of the State the examining board consists of the professor of animal husbandry of the Experiment Station, the veterinarian of the Live Stock Commission and a prominent breeder of live stock, who must also be a member of the State Live Stock Commission. The board at present includes Professor F. C. Winkler, of New Brunswick; Dr. Matthew A. Pierce, of Paterson, and Ephraim T. Gill, of Haddonfield.

In the forthcoming report the board will show that in 1908 fully 69 per cent. of the stallions examined were grades, while in the last examination only 31 per cent. were grades, and this in spite of the fact that the total number of stallions has greatly increased. A "grade" is a horse only one of whose parents is a pure-bred animal. The number of pure-bred stallions in the State has trebled during the last three years, making a gain of over 300 per cent. in that time.

Only licensed stallions are permitted to be bred in the State. The decision of the examining board is final in granting certificates, and a penalty of $50 for the first offense and $100 for each subsequent violation of this act is fixed by law.

"FITZ" AGAIN IN LIMELIGHT.

"Bob" Fitzsimmons, the former heavy weight pugilistic champion, now residing on his farm in Dunellen, got his John Hancock before the public once more yesterday afternoon, by consenting to umpire a game of baseball played between the Majestic Stars and the Nutley team at the latter place May 3. This will be the occasion of the opening of Nutley's new ball park and a brass band will assist the ex-fighter to make things hum.

LIDGATE HOME ON THREE HOUR LEAVE

Baltimore Backstop Makes Flying Trip Bearing Encouraging News.

Eugene Lidgate, the Fanwood boy trying out for a catcher's berth on the Baltimore, International League, team, visited friends here for a few hours this morning. It was only a flying trip, however, and those who saw him (in company with somebody else) on the streets here this morning will have their pangs of sorrow somewhat softened by the announcement coming direct from him to the effect that he is slated to stick and is making good with the leaguers.

This is the first time "Liddy" has visited the Queen City since he left on the training trip and the husky portsider appears to be in excellent condition. He is much tanned by the action of the sun's rays in the sunny clime and is the picture of health. He will return to Baltimore this afternoon and is hopeful of getting a chance to show his skill behind the bat at once.

FIELD WILL BE REMODELED.

Through the efforts of William Conger, manager of the Y. M. A. A. baseball team, work has been started on the Centre street baseball field in an effort to remodel it into an up-to-date ball park. Conger wants to get another local manager to play home games on the field when his team is traveling so as to assure a game being played at that place every Saturday afternoon and would like to hear from any local leader desiring to make these arrangements.

STAR BATTERY FOR Y. M. A. A.

Manager William Conger, of the Y. M. A. A. baseball team, received word from Thorn, the Roselle High School star moundsman, this morning, to the effect that he would be on hand with his regular catcher next Saturday afternoon. The addition of these two heavy hitting pointmen will be a great help to the Y. M. A. A. aggregation.

SCHOOL BOARD GETS LOW BIDS FOR COAL

Much Rivalry Shown Among Dealers and City Will Thereby Save $1,000.

Bids for supplying the Plainfield public schools with 805 tons of coal for the coming year were received by the Board of Education at a special meeting, last night. In all five bids were received from the following dealers: Boice, Runyon & Co., Consumers Coal Company, Joseph Harrigan, George O. Stevens, Dunellen Coal and Supply Company and Wadley & Goodenough.

Some of the dealers bid for furnishing coal to all the schools, while others sbumitted bids to supply the schools nearest to their yards. It is estimated that the city will save about $1,000 on the total supply this year, owing to the low bids. Some dealers, it is said, have allowed as low as five, ten and fifteen cents for cartage. The specifications calling for coal equal to the best Lehigh makes it impossible to use an inferior quality.

Boice, Runyon & Co. submitted the following bids for all schools: Egg stove and nut, each $5.50 per ton; pea, $4.25 per ton. Wadley & Goodenough's bid for all schools was: Egg and stove, each $5.30 per ton; nut, $5.40 per ton, and pea, $4.25 per ton.

The Consumers Coal Company's bid was: Egg, stove and nut, each $5.50 per ton; pea, $4.40 per ton.

The Dunellen Coal and Supply Company submitted a bid of $3.94 per ton for furnishing pea coal to the Irving and Jefferson schools in the West End. George O. Stevens' bid was $4.26 per ton for pea for the two schools, while Joseph Harrigan's bid for furnishing coal for the Bryant and Lincoln schools was: Pea, $4.20 per ton; egg, $5.40 per ton.

The difference indicated in the bids shows that there is no "combination" here among dealers, and as a result the taxpayers are sure to benefit, it is said, to an extent at least of a saving of $1,000. The Board of Education made no decision last night as to awarding contracts, but it is understood that they will be divided up among several dealers, according to a right reserved.

NOW ON THE TRAIL OF THE MISSING HEIRESS

New York, April 24.—Miss Ramona Borden, the seventeen-year-old daughter of Gail Borden, of New York, the millionaire condensed milk manufacturer, who was reported as kidnapped late yesterday afternoon from the W. C. Adams Sanitorium, Pompton Lakes, N. J., according to another rumor from the sanitorium has returned to that institution. Miss Borden was taking the "rest cure" at the Adams place and while walking with a nurse was invited by two handsomely gowned to take a ride in their automobile. The nurse accompanied them. One of the women answers the description of Mrs. Borden. Mystery surrounded the whole affair.

The machine containing the girl, her nurse and the two women drove direct to Hotel Navarre, in Newark. At that place, Miss Borden avoided the trio and was last seen going in the direction of Jersey City. The Newark police do not believe the rumors that the girl has returned to the Pompton Lake institution and say that Mr. Adams, in their opinion, is trying to hide some of the true facts of the case. There has been numerous denials to the rumor that the martial relations of Mr. and Mrs. Borden have been disturbed.
